

Cross-Countrymen, Yearling Gridders, Booters Will Face Syracuse Tomorrow

HARRIERS TO RACE STRONG HILL TEAM

Lion Distance Men Will Defend Record Between Halves Of Football Game

Pitted against one of the strongest teams in the East, Penn State's harriers will defend an unblemished record of no defeats in four years of dual competition when they meet Syracuse cross-countrymen over the vaisty course tomorrow afternoon.

Football fans will be given an opportunity to see the runners in action as the meet is scheduled to take place during the Lion-Orange grid clash. The harriers will start from New Beaver field while the second quarter is in progress in time to finish at the starting point between the halves.

Captain Paul Rekers, Dick Detweiler, Chuck Messinger, Bill Space, Ralph Robinson, Sunny Glassburn, and Charlie King are the men upon whom Coach Nate Cartmell is basing his hopes of victory in the race tomorrow.

Has Impressive Record
Syracuse will present a well-balanced team in Captain Dean, Gehring, Streeter, Belange, Harper, Johnson, and other Bouton or Lameyay as seventh man. This combination has turned in perfect scores against Hobart, Columbia, and Pitt this season and will undoubtedly force the Lions to put forth their best effort to win.

With Rekers and Detweiler in fine fettle Penn State's chances have been brightened considerably by the showing of Bill Space, a sophomore who has been forging to the front in recent trials runs. Although Chuck Messinger has not as yet reached the peak of condition, he can always be depended upon to give a good account of himself when the competition is stiff.

Robinson, Glassburn, and King have been improving steadily since the beginning of the season and will be ready to match strides with the New Yorkers in tomorrow's race.

The Orange contest will enable Coach Cartmell and Tom Keane, the Hill mentor, to judge their teams' chances in the intercollegiate this month. Both Syracuse and Penn State are considered leading contenders in an unusually strong field for the IC-IA title.

Every meet between the Nittany harriers and the New York runners in recent years has been closely contested. Last year Penn State nosed out the Hillmen on the visitor's course 21-to-21 and the Orange cross-country men fortified by four regulars from last year are anxious to avenge the defeat.

FRATERNITY TEAMS OPEN GRID SEASON

Introduce Policy of Playing 2 Contests Each Night—500 Watch First Game

While approximately 500 spectators looked on Penn State's intramural football league began the first round play-offs on the lighted vaisty practice field Monday night.

In the initial encounter of the tournament, Pi Kappa Alpha defeated Kappa Sigma, 7-to-0. Introducing the policy of playing two games each night, Alpha Chi Sigma defeated Delta Sigma Phi, 18-to-0, while Phi Sigma Kappa was victor over Pi Kappa Phi by a 7-to-0 score Tuesday night.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Vaisty Hall game Wednesday night ended in a scoreless tie. A meeting of the Advisory board early next week will determine the status of these teams in the tournament, according to Leo E. Carter '31. Although scheduled to play the second game Wednesday night, Theta Chi and Delta Tau Delta postponed their game because of inclement weather.

With the announcement that an all-mural team will be selected and that the Athletic Association has offered a prize for the leading team among those defeated in their first game, the tournament has taken on added impetus in the opinion of Carter.

It is present plans materialize, the all-mural team will play either the vaisty or the freshmen team, added Carter. The prize offered for the lower division teams will be similar to the full-sized silver football to be awarded the team winning the tournament.

FRESHMAN ELEVEN EAGER FOR OPENER

Light, Speedy Plobes Encounter Heavy Hill Team Away In First Game

Eleven Lion cubs, united but eager for combat, will encounter a Syracuse freshman team hand-picked by three contests in their opening game of the season at Syracuse tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Larry Conover will send the same lineup against the Orangemen that has accumulated as the first team for the last six days, with few changes from the original selections made two weeks ago. To eighty-one yearlings will make the trip.

A fast-moving backfield will carry the Penn State attack into hostile territory. Morrison, speedy Philadelphia halfback, has consistently proven his ability at ground-gaining in recent drills. Snyder, former Sunbury back, will function as his running mate. Kliska, stocky Bradnock gridder, will take the fullback assignment, and Tripp will call signals.

Slusser and Rockey are expected to play against Syracuse in the wing berth. Zawacki and McKee will take the tackle positions, with Shaffer and Collins, pairing as guards. Anderson will play in the pivot position.

The Nittany yearling line, although it is far from heavy, has demonstrated speed in practices so far, and an alert offense may counteract the edge which the Hill plobes have in weight. The Orangemen, with experience from three games, have demonstrated early-season powers in spite of two defeats.

After they had rolled up a twenty-point lead in the first half, the Syracuse freshmen finally succumbed to a slashing Wyoming Seminary attack in the third quarter, losing their first game 23-to-20. In the second game with Hobart yearlings, the Hillmen amassed twenty-five points early in the game, holding their opponents scoreless. Cook academy trounced the Orange gridgers 20-to-0, Friday. Fumbles and weak scoring power contributed to the Hill defeat.

Lion-Hill Grid Tilts Net Only 80 Points

In the eight games contested between Syracuse and Penn State since the season began in 1929 only eighty points have been tottered by the combined scoring powers of both elevens.

The Orange team has amassed fifty-three in this total, while the Lions have scored twenty-seven. The average for each is less than a touchdown per game.

Neither team during a single game has accounted for more than one touchdown. Ten points is the largest number ever acquired by a Syracuse team against Penn State, while nine points made by the Blue and White in 1927 was the largest score tallied by a Lion eleven.

PLEBE WOMEN DEFEAT SENIORS IN HOCKEY, 6-1

Miss Walton Scores for Freshmen Team During Tourney Game

Maintaining its lead in the women's inter-class hockey tournament, the freshmen defeated the seniors 6-to-1 Tuesday afternoon on Holmes Field.

With Ruth P. Walton scoring all the goals, the freshmen had the ball in their opponent's territory for the greater part of the game. Three goals for the seniors were placed by F. Romano Chapman, and one by E. Louise Hoffeditz.

ABOLISHES LACROSSE DRILLS

Fall lacrosse practice was abolished at Colgate university this year. In announcing the change, Coach Ballantine gave no reason for confining the practice to the spring.

Bare feet on damp floors may give you

"ATHLETE'S FOOT"

On the floors of showers and locker rooms, there the little ringworm parasite that causes "Athlete's Foot" is right at home. Tinea trichophyton is the name, and in colleges as far apart as California and Pennsylvania it has been found that 50% of the men have it. Again, the U. S. Public Health Service reports that "at least half of all adults suffer from it at some time."

"Athlete's Foot," golfer's foot, toe itch, double-toe—there are many names for the same thing, and the symptoms are redness between the toes, with it-itching—or a thick, moist skin condition—or a dryness with little scales. The danger signals vary, but authorities agree that they are all traceable to the ringworm germ, tinea trichophyton.

It lurks in the very places where we all go for cleanliness and health—on the edges of swimming pools and showers—in gymnasiums—on locker and dressing-room floors. In spite

Absorbine Jr. kills the germ of "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

Tests in a famous New York "lab" have revealed that Absorbine Jr. penetrates flesh-like tissues deeply and that wherever it penetrates, it KILLS the ringworm germ.

It might not be a bad idea to examine your feet tonight. At the first sign of the symptoms mentioned, douse on Absorbine Jr. And keep a bottle handy in your locker as a preventive. Use it after every exposure of bare feet on damp floors. At all drug stores—$1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.
