SOMETHING'S WRONG

What was the cause of the pitiable attendance at the school class meeting Thursday night? If the handful of students who did attend represent the class of 1931, something is radically wrong with the class itself or those who arranged the meeting.

A GOOD DEFINITION

The new definition of the duties of the campus patrol as set forth in a pamphlet issued from the President's office last week should bring to an end objections which have been voiced by students concerning curtailment of their individual privileges by the patrol.

COME UP FOR AIR

There seems to be no legitimate reason for the murky and dirty state of the atmosphere about the State College business district caused by clouds of soft coal smoke belching daily from numerous chimneys.

THE CAMPUSEER

—BY HIMSELF—

It is with high blood pressure that we await the piece de resistance of the Penn State football season; namely the forthcoming bone-bruising, turf-tearing gridiron duel between the COLLEGIAN's Gentlemen of the Press and the FROTH's would-be humorists.

Interesting sidelights concerning this coming battle of the Ages have been unearthed. It was at first decided that an inter-publication league be formed but Froth objected on the grounds that the La Vie, Engines and Farmers were not publications.

Captain Noleier, of the Froth Pun Punters, who was alleged to have received $1.34 for managing the Fresh-Soph football setup in '27, was declared to be a professional but investigation by the American Football Association brought to light the fact that he found the said sum in a pair of knickerbockers he borrowed for the game.

Manager Cutting, of the COLLEGIAN Bears, has instituted a rigorous training schedule for his boys—not more than six cups of coffee, only two packs of cigarettes during nights of issue, no dates between 4 a m and 4 p m, and no stiff collars forty-eight hours before the game.

By the Grace of God, the disposition of the elements, and the fighting ability of the Froth Pun Punters, the game will take place at the hour of two and one half, Saturday, November 22 in the year of Our Lord 1930 at that beautiful spot situated in the kidney of the Nittany mountains, commonly known as the New Beaver Practice field.

Speaking of Froth reminds us of an incident that occurred a short time ago in one of the Greek Temples, out Lower Lane way. A wearer of a brand new pledge pin sent a copy of our so-called humorous magazine to the lady of his heart.

No, Esmeralda, Santa Claus didn't leave those Christmas trees in front of Old Main.

Important changes have been made in the by-law of the Rosebud club, which is so rich in tradition, and history. All pledges hereafter will wear a sprig of poison ivy in their coat lapels.

About the Campus—Practice teachers are coming back to the little kingdom of Stettsculch opens its arms to its native sons and daughters. Those people who wear black and white sport shoes so unfashionably late in the season.

My Kingdom for A Montgomery Suit!

Valiant Knights of olden days fared forth, wearing much armor and a horse to conquer worlds for lady loves.

The modern knight forsooth, needs naught more than Montgomery Clothes for then success is a foregone conclusion.

EDITOR ADDRESSES CHAPEL AUDIENCE

Dr. Stanley High of New York Declares Utopia Expectation For Approaching Ages

That utopia is expected, but not during the present generation was asserted by Dr. Stanley H. High, editor of the Christian Herald, in his address to the chapel audience in Schwab Auditorium Sunday morning.

That God now is an academic hypothesis instead of an act, was the speaker's contention. Changing a sinner, he said, is unpopular in present day society and the word sin is avoided as much as possible.

Communism in Soviet Russia has a purging every year and those found to be delinquent in missionary work are dismissed from future service, Dr. High stated. In contrast, the speaker explained that such a serious religious attitude is absent from American churches.

ALUMNUS TO ACT AS JUDGE OF ESSAYS ON FARM TOPIC

A head of the chemical engineering division of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils in the United States Department of Agriculture, David J. Price '25 has consented to act as one of three judges in an essay contest on the farm-fire hazard.

Mr. Price, specialist in farm-fire control, says that reports indicate farm-fire losses have increased about 25 per cent during the current season of drought.

Graduate Directs Building of Canal

Canal builder, judge, soldier—these are the occupations which have kept Sam M. Dean '12, mechanical engineering graduate, busy in the employ of the International Famine Relief Commission in China since June.

Supervising his canal construction gang from a bullet-riddled truck, serving as a court of high appeal for the 5000 workmen under him, and dodging bullets from the guns of Chinese bandits, Dean has complete confidence that the project will be finished as scheduled despite the chaotic condition of the country around Peking.

Although his construction camp is protected by high sand bag walls, Dean has had many experiences with the Chinese bandits. With knowledge only of the experimental engine that was formerly housed near the engineering units, Dean on one occasion made his escape from marauding bandits in an engine in which the fireman and engineer had been killed.

On another occasion, at the drowning of one of the company workmen, Dean was obliged to hold court in order to avoid attack by thirty Chinese river boats. With the fining of those implicated in the drowning and proper reimbursement to the victim's family, the boatmen departed peacefully.

THE BEST NATURED MAN

UNDERNOURISHMENT and a pleasant disposition don't mix. The "best natured man" of the senior class isn't the one who spends his time smiling through a series of minor ills.

Shredded Wheat is the natural breakfast for good-natured college men. It supplies all the vital food elements that keep their spirits high. It's easy to digest and provides the bran to keep the system clear. If you want to start the day with a cheerful outlook eat two Shredded Wheat biscuits every morning with good rich milk and plenty of fruit. It clears away those dark mental clouds in a hurry.
