HUSTON SEES NEED FOR COMMITTEE ON ACADEMIC AWARDS

Sophomore Class Nominates 30 Scholarship Candidates at Meeting Thursday

1932 PRESIDENT DECRIES UNREPRESENTATIVE VOTE

Juniors Will Name 25 Aspirants To White, Carnegie Honors In Assembly Tonight

Urging that a student committee supplant class nominations for scholarships, Earl A. Huston, president of the sophomore class, expressed disapproval of the scanty attendance at an assembly to name undergraduate academic candidates Thursday night.

Stressing the lack of representative voting at the meeting, Huston declared:

"The fact that only 113 students, one-ninth of the total sophomore enrollment, assembled to select nominees for scholarship awards is proof that correct selection is unlikely under the present system."

Juniors To Make Selections

"It is my belief that a student committee working in conjunction with the faculty board could name the most accurate list of scholarship winners"

Five nominees for John W. White awards and twenty-five candidates for Louse Carnegie scholarships were elected at the meeting of the class of 1932

Sophomores nominated for the John W. White scholarship are Milton I. Baldinger, Myrtle H. Bingham, Carolyn E. Jones, Charlotte L. Summers, and John A. Wood.

Class candidates for the Louse Carnegie scholarships include Robert A. Abramson, Arthur R. Anwyll jr., Frank G. Benford, Ruth Crowthers, L. Russell Cook, Abraham Frankel, Albert H. Hobbs, and Marion P. Howell.

Paul R. Gerts, James B. Goyno, Elizabeth M. Kalb, Shuman H. Moore, Carlton R. Parce, Fred A. Pachter, Carl O. Person, Anna E. Preston, Manley Rockman, Joseph Rubin, Emma B. Rutledge, Karl H. Strohl, Louise M. Suckfield, Mabel L. Thompson, Mildred P. Travis, Donald B. Wilcox, and Martin A. Zions complete the list of candidates for the Carnegie scholarship.

Nominations for similar awards will be made at a meeting of the junior class in the Chemistry amphitheater at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

GERMAN DEBATERS USE INTERPRETER

Ernest Koch To Aid Foreign Forensic Team in First Encounter at College December 13

To assist the German debaters, Mr. Herbert Koch, of the German department, will serve as interpreter at the Penn State feature contest with the Continental team, in Schwab auditorium December 13.

Hans Juergen Graf Blumenthal and Herbert Schaumann, who are representing the National Union of Students of Germany, have requested an interpreter to clarify intricacies of the English language which may arise when they meet Orville A. Hitecheck '31 and Harry W. Lightstone '31, the Penn State representatives.

With the foreign team supporting the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That the Present Policy of Military Preparedness be Abandoned," the contest will be conducted on the O'Connell plan with twenty-minute speeches and a single rebuttal for each side.

Capt. Blumenthal attended school at Potsdam and at Mecklenburg and later studied law at the University of Munich and at Konigsberg. The count has been active in student affairs and is a member of the Deutsche Studentenschaft, honorary German college fraternity.

Herbert Schaumann attended school at Innsbruck and is at present studying philosophy at the University of Berlin. As a member of the International Debating team he won second prize in a contest held several years ago.

ADDRESS MANUFACTURERS

Prof. Edward L. Keller, Mr. Willis J. Jennings of the engineering extension department, and Prof. Harvey W. Stover of the department of economics, spoke at a meeting of the Nanticoke Manufacturers' Association at Nanticoke on a proposed "Buy at Home" campaign recently.

Diedrich Predicts Fraternity Support of Recreation Plan

I. F. C. President Forsees Willingness To Delay Evening Meal Until 6 O'clock for 2-Hour Activity in Sports

"That two-hour recreation period beginning at 4 o'clock will win the support of the great majority of fraternity men," Frank Diedrich '31, Interfraternity Council president, confidently predicted yesterday.

The council executive cited the benefits of a more convenient time and added equipment which would accrue to interfraternity athletes under the proposed plan as one of the reasons for Greek support.

"If the proposal goes through I'm sure every house will be willing to set the evening meal back until 6 o'clock," declared Diedrich. "It only means half an hour's delay. Then, too, the boys will be able to eat that much more."

Benefit Non-Fraternity Men The non-fraternity men would reap the benefits just as fully in the I.F.C. head's opinion. He pointed to the projected expansion of the intramural sports program, which would be facilitated by the recreation period, to support his assertion.

"Of course we mustn't forget that both fraternity and non-fraternity men will welcome an adequate and convenient time to better their physical condition in enjoyable competition," he continued, emphasizing each point with an admonitory wave of his pencil. "The prospect of eating a warmed-over meal after a strenuous workout isn't very inviting, as I discovered the first day I went out for football. That's what deters a good number of men from getting in some exercise now with classes running until 5 o'clock."

Changing the classes scheduled for the 4 o'clock afternoon hour, Diedrich

LEWIS SEEKS 1934 CLIQUE RESTRICTION

Will Petition Student Council To Ban Political Groups in First Semester

A proposal to make the formation of freshman cliques during the first semester a Tribunal offense will be presented by Alfred E. Lewis, junior class president, at the next meeting of Student Council.

"Organization of first year men into political groups is entirely unnecessary, if not harmful," declared Lewis in his capacity as freshman class advisor, "and immediate steps should be taken to abolish such practices."

In censoring the political activity of the lowerclassmen, Lewis pointed out that although no class election will take place until the second semester, freshmen have been busy drawing up slates and making campaign plans since the opening of school.

Organization Inevitable "The office of freshman class president is a relatively unimportant one," he said, "and that so much time and effort is being expended on such an insignificant election is to be deplored. Especially is this true in view of the fact that only a few will receive any benefit thereby."

"While the formation of cliques among upperclassmen can be justified because of the necessity of distributing committee appointments," contends the junior class president, "there are not enough freshman appointments to make organization effective."

Lewis believes that the most effective means of discouraging this unwarranted political activity is to make participation a Tribunal offense. With this idea in view he will bring such a proposal before Student Council. He also is of the opinion that upperclassmen instigating freshmen cliques should be reprimanded.

Junior Prom Head Names Committee

William W. Panas, chairman of the Junior Prom committee, has named the following group to assist in completing arrangements for the all-College function which will be held May 8.

Y.M.C.A. TO HOLD CONFERENCE HERE

Dr. Curry Will Open Meeting Of Delegates from 20 Colleges Dec. 5

Opening a three-day conference with a public mass meeting in Schwab auditorium next Friday night, the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. will present Dr. A. Bruce Curry, professor at the Union Theological Seminary in New York city, to an audience including delegates from 20 colleges in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and West Virginia.

Dr. Curry is described by the Christian Century as "probably the most successful interpreter of the Bible appearing at student conferences in this country."

Following the mass meeting next Friday night, all-day conferences will take place in 405 Old Main next Saturday and Sunday during which the speaker will discuss "Student Life Today" and "The Way of Jesus." Although fees are being charged representatives from other colleges, Y.M.C.A. officials have announced that the meetings will be free to Penn State students.

Colleges Invited

Among the colleges to which invitations have been extended to send delegates are University of Pittsburgh, Dickinson college, Salem college, Salem, West Virginia, Waynesburg college, Bloomsburg State Teachers college, Carnegie Institute of Technology, and Washington and Jefferson college.

Ursinus college, Geneva college, Dickinson seminary, Gettysburg college, Glenville Normal college, Glenville, West Virginia, Wilson college, Juniata college, Pennsylvania college for women, and Grove City college also received invitations.

DEAN WARNOCK TO TALK AT FRATERNITY PARLEY

J. Richard Smith '31 Will Represent Local Chapters at Meeting

Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock will address the annual Interfraternity Conference on the "Chapter Visitation Officer from the College Administration's Viewpoint" at the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York city Friday.

J. Richard Smith '31 will be present at the gathering as the representative of the local Interfraternity Council. Following the conference, Dean Warnock will address the Eastern Association of Deans of Men at the Washington Square division of New York University Saturday. Explanation of the "Plan for the Use of Old Main" will be his topic.

KELLER TALKS TO FOREMEN

Prof. J. Ovis Keller of the Engineering Extension department addressed the foremen of the United States Aluminum company on "Employee Attitudes" at New Kensington Tuesday.

PI DELTA EPSILON SPONSORS SCHOOL JOURNAL CONTEST

Honorary Fraternity To Conduct Newspaper Competition in Pennsylvania

375 STATE PUBLICATIONS INVITED AS PARTICIPANTS

Society Will Award Citations for Outstanding High School Magazine Editors

Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, will sponsor the fourth state-wide high school journalistic contest here this year. Three hundred seventy-five secondary schools from all parts of Pennsylvania have been invited to enter the competition.

Cooperating with the engineering extension department, Pi Delta Epsilon has sent letters of invitation to all high schools eligible to participate. Although no acceptance, have been received, the sponsors of the competition expect a large number of entries due to the interest that was shown in the three former contests. The State journalistic contest was inaugurated at Penn State in 1927 and continued for two years, in 1928 and 1929. Last year, due to the holding of the national convention of Pi Delta Epsilon here, the contest was abandoned.

Editors To Receive Awards

Three cups will be awarded to the winners of the contest, which is divided into magazine and newspaper competition. A cup will be given to the best entry in each division with the third cup, a progress award to be given to the high school publication which shows the greatest improvement since the inception of the contest. This prize will be an incentive for the smaller schools to enter the competition.

Citations will be awarded to the editors of the newspaper and magazine receiving first prizes, as well as the publication winning the progress award. The rules for the contest are practically the same as those governing the three previous competitions.

Each school entered in the contest will submit to the judges a copy of every issue published this year. They will be graded and the winner will be selected on the basis of these ratings. Registration in the contest closes January 31 and the cups will be awarded the outstanding high school publications at their respective high school commencement in June.

A committee, composed of Prof. Merritt M. Harris, of the English composition department, Wm. C. McElvain '31, and John W. Lindsey '31 is arranging the plans for the journalistic contest. Prof. Franklin C. Banne, Prof. William F. Gibbons, Prof. Herbert M. Hoffer of the journalism department, William K. Ulrich '31 and William C. McElvain '31 will act as judges of the newspaper.

The junior representative of the national fraternity next in founding to the preceding fraternity will act as vice-president, automatically becoming president in her senior year. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be filled by any association members from local or national groups. Penalties on clubs violating the constitution on the by-laws will be punishment by the association, and reports will be sent to the grand president of the fraternity and the National Panhellenic Congress explaining the infraction of rules.

O'NEILL TO HEAD ANNUAL PENN STATE CLUB DANCE

Organization Names Lauth, Dornier, Beck, Knecht on Committee

Edward F. O'Neill '31 has been appointed chairman of a committee to make arrangements for a Penn State club dance which will be held in December. The committee includes Charles E. Lauth '31, Irvin R. Beck '31, Edward J. Dornier '31, and Karl E. Knecht '31.

This committee will meet following the Thanksgiving holidays to decide on arrangements for the all-College function. The date, orchestra, and decorations will be chosen at that time.

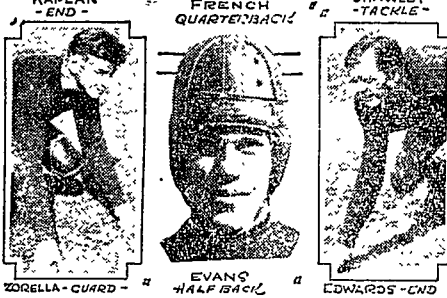

A membership committee composed of Howard W. Luels '32, Kenneth B. Mallory '33, David C. Smith '34, and Jacob E. Wertz '31, was also appointed at a recent meeting of the club.

PRESIDENT HITZEL ATTENDS CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON

President Ralph D. Hitzel returned Sunday from the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Association of Land Grant colleges and universities, which was held at Washington, D. C. last week.

President Hitzel has been a member of the executive committee of this organization for the past eight years. He served in this position at the last meeting of the Association.

To Play Last Game for Lions

Rally, 'Penn State Night' To Supplement Pitt Game

Blue Band Will Broadcast Concert Over KDKA Tomorrow—Alumni Arrange Dance

Heading the list of social events which will make up the annual Thanksgiving program for the Pitt-Penn State football classic, the Pittsburgh Penn State club will hold its traditional rally and smoker in the Urban dining room on the seventeenth floor of the William Penn hotel at Sixth avenue and William Penn way tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

President Ralph D. Hitzel will extend anniversary greetings to alumni and friends of Penn State, while Bob Higgins, football coach, and his assistants will give short addresses. The Penn State Blue Band will present musical features and will give College yells which will be led by Charles S. Harper '31, head cheerleader.

With an audience nation-wide in its scope, the Blue Band will present its annual "Penn State Night" over KDKA in the William Penn studios from 11:15 o'clock until midnight tomorrow night.

In its seventh annual Thanksgiving broadcast, the College band will spend the three-quarters of an hour devoted before the microphone playing Penn State songs, football songs, concert numbers and marches. Individual selections, offered by members of the Glee club, will intersperse the program.

President Hitzel and Bob Higgins will send messages during the broadcast, serving the double role of greeting the College alumni and friends in all parts of the world, and making the occasion a football rally preliminary to the annual Turkey Day gridiron battle.

Opening with a medley of college songs, the Band will dedicate "Radio Pioneers" to station KDKA, the oldest radio broadcasting station in America. William H. Stone '33, member of the Glee club and Varsity quartet, will sing a baritone solo, and the Blue Band's brass choir will give a selection.

As the concluding social event on the holiday calendar, alumni from the western part of the state will hold the annual Penn State dance on Thanksgiving night at the Varsity Tavern, furnishing the rhythm for the second consecutive year, the hop will be held in the ballroom of the Scienley Hotel from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Pitt-Penn State football game have not included the chartering of a special train. Neil M. Fleming, graduate in number of athletics, expressed the fact that the number going to the game would not warrant the running of a special train between State College and Pittsburgh on account of the four and a half days' vacation.

PANHellenic BODY FORMS NEW CODE

Women's Clubs Determine Order of Priority in Elections, Rules Governing Violations

The president of the women's Panhellenic association will be chosen from representatives of national groups in order of their fraternity installation at Penn State, in accordance with the constitution adopted by the group last week.

The junior representative of the national fraternity next in founding to the preceding fraternity will act as vice-president, automatically becoming president in her senior year. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be filled by any association members from local or national groups. Penalties on clubs violating the constitution on the by-laws will be punishment by the association, and reports will be sent to the grand president of the fraternity and the National Panhellenic Congress explaining the infraction of rules.

The new constitution also provides that any girl who has broken her pledge to join in other for one calendar year. Two advisors chosen from the State College Panhellenic Association with one elected each year will serve for a two-year period.

ATTENDS OIL, GAS CONCLAVE

Mr. Kenneth B. Bines, research worker for the geology and oil and gas production, attended the oil and gas conference for the Western Society of Engineers at the William Penn hotel in Pittsburgh last week.

LIONS, READY FOR COMBAT, FACE PITT ELEVEN THURSDAY

11 Seniors Will Play Last Game In Annual Invasion of Panther Gridiron

BLUE AND GOLD ENDS DECLARED INELIGIBLE

Zorella, Edwards Rejoin Nittany Forward Wall—DeCindes To Play Center

With every regular hit for action against a powerful and confident Pittsburgh eleven, Penn State's football squad will depart for the Panther lair at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning to battle the Blue and Gold Thursday afternoon, in the thirty-thru gridiron encounter between the rival schools.

When the Lions take the field in this traditional Thanksgiving Day contest, seven of the probable Nittany starters will line up for their last game. Four more Blue and White warriors who are almost certain to be used in the encounter are also seniors to be graduated in June.

Captain Diedrich, French, Kaplan, Edwards, Shawley, and Zorella are the regulars who will take leave of the gridiron, while Lavery, Miller, and Balfour are the substitute players who will see service on the Blue and White eleven for the last time.

Work Against Pitt Plays

For the first time in several weeks Coach Bob Higgins will have all of his varsity material in playing condition. The return of Edwards and Zorella to the Nittany lineup has considerably bolstered the forward wall. Ed McMillen has been kept out of recent practices because of a minor injury, but is expected to be able to take his place at right tackle as Cal Shavley's running mate. Ed DeCindes will probably gain the center assignment, having a shade the better of Kane and Bateman.

Lack of heavy scrimmage work has characterized Lion practice sessions lately. The coaches have emphasized a defense against Panther formations, and a third team has been well drilled in Pitt plays. Each afternoon after a long spiral drill, the team, with each member designated as a particular Blue and Gold player, is pitted against the Nittany varsity.

The headquarters of the Pitt athletic association will be the home of Penn State's football party tomorrow and Thursday. The Lions will arrive in Pittsburgh at 1 o'clock tomorrow and the time will call for a workout at the Pitt stadium in the afternoon. The game will start at 2 o'clock instead of 2:30 as was originally scheduled.

I. F. C. COMMENCES REVISION OF CODE

Issues Questionnaire To Ascertain Chapter Opinion Concerning 1931 Ruling Period

As the first step in revising the ruling code, a committee appointed by the Interfraternity Council distributed a questionnaire to fraternity delegates Thursday night to ascertain chapter opinion on modification of the code.

Chapters were asked to indicate whether they were able financially to stand a rushing period between Thanksgiving and Christmas, if they preferred a two week period beginning the first day of freshman week, or if they favored deferring the season for two weeks.

They were also asked to express their opinion as to the desirability of a gradual deferment of the period to end with second semester, pledging three years hence.

Results of the survey will be compiled by the code revision committee consisting of J. Richard Smith '31, chairman, Nelson E. Bauwendigert '31, William G. Davis '32, and Reginald R. Keaton '32 for further discussion at the next Council meeting.

ARCHITECTS LECTURE HERE

Prof. Roy C. Jones of the University of Minnesota, and Prof. Frank H. Bosworth of Cornell University, spoke on "Constructive Imagination" at the weekly Engineering lecture in the Chemistry amphitheater last week. The speakers were members of a committee canvassing the schools of the country in a Carnegie Foundation survey of architectural education.

College Plans Free Pitt Game Returns

Students and faculty will be admitted to the telegraphic returns from the Pitt-Penn State game Thursday upon presentation of their athletic association cards.

Returns from the Thanksgiving Day battle will be received in the auditorium beginning at 2 o'clock Thursday, according to Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics. This will be the first time that no admission has been charged for the play-by-play returns.
