Carrying throughout his career the athletic success achieved at Penn State, Coach Johnny Reed of Scott high school, North Braddock, has molded football, basketball and baseball teams during his four year regime which have put fear into the hearts of rival schools.

Jack Mazers, veteran forward, who has been kept from the court lineup since 1929 because of ill health, will probably be able to return to Lion basketball ranks in the near future.

Bucknell gave added impetus to its college sports calendar by appointing Joe Reno, professional middleweight performer, to the post of boxing coach this week.

Penn State's foul-shooting against Lafayette accounted for more tumbles than baskets craved from the floor. The Lions netted ten free chances, but succeeded in scoring only three two-pointers.

The old adage "It runs in the family" is being ably carried out on two college athletic teams. Johnny McAndrews, brother of Marty, who captained last year's intercollegiate football team, is making a try for a berth on the same squad.

It is evident that more space should be given to bystanders at the intramural boxing and wrestling meets now held under the balcony of Recreation hall.

Plans for a gymnasium to cost $1,500,000 are being completed by Yale university officials. It is estimated that this building will take three years to complete.

Handball may now be considered a dangerous sport, at least by two members of the coaching staff. Nate Cartmell is sporting a stiff leg as a result of an accidental spiking by Larry Conover while the mentors obtained their daily workout on the college courts.

Harvard's 1931 quintet has a successful precedent to equal in its court campaign. Last year's Crimson five captured a greater record than any other previous basketball team from Cambridge, winning nine in thirteen sets.

Larry "Moon" Mullins has been added to the long list of grid mentors who received their football training at Notre Dame. He was recently selected as coach of the University of Missouri backfield.

NITTANY PASSERS TO FACE HARVARD

Will Invade Crimson Court in First Game Away—Maroon Downs Lions, 27-16

Undeclared on their home court Harvard floormen will face the first Penn State basketball five that has ever travelled to Cambridge, Mass. at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

After defeating Holy Cross, 35-to-21 in the opening game, Cambridge passers swamped Boston university under a 43-to-27 score. C. G. N. Y. piled up a 31-to-12 margin against the Crimson team, and Army eked out a 31-to-27 victory against them.

Frequent shifts in the Blue and White lineup are probable for the Harvard encounter. Although Coach Dutch Hermann has ordered no practice before the trip, the squad is expected to go through a short workout at Cambridge.

In a game marked by unsteady playing, Lafayette downed the Lion courtmen, 27-to-16, Wednesday night. Foul goals played a large part in the scoring, since neither team succeeded in shooting accurately from the floor.

By tallying three double-doubles, the Leopard passers secured a 12-to-9 margin at the half, with thirteen points of the combined score accounted through free chances. Fred Band accounted for the sole Lion two-pointer on a one-handed shot at close range.

Widening the Maroon lead, Lafayette found the basket with more regularity during the remainder of the game, and although Macomb and Hammond added two tallies, the Nittany total never approached that of the Boston floormen.

Runners To Compete In All-College Meet

An all-College track meet will be held on the board track of New Beaver field, 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. This is the first of a series of meets to take place Saturday afternoons throughout the winter.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA WINS MAT TROPHY

Sigma Nu Grapplers Carry Off Second Honor—Phi Sigma Kappa Places Third

The intramural wrestling trophy was won last night by Alpha Chi Sigma, with Sigma Nu second and Phi Sigma Kappa third, as the finals in the 175 and 155-pound classes were fought, bringing the competition to a close.

In the unlimited class, Kenneth E. Storch '31, of non-fraternity group No. 1, gained the heavyweight championship when he won by a fall in 2 minutes, 30 seconds.

The 165-pound division was headed by Martin J. Hesch '33, Chi Upsilon, winning by a fall in 2 minutes, 10 seconds. Alex D. Turnbull '33, Alpha Chi Sigma, gained a fall in 5 minutes to top the 155-pound class.

Seely Wins Featherweight. Harold Rosenberg '31, Sigma Tau Phi, won a time advantage of 5 minutes, 29 seconds in the 145-pound class.

Last night the championship of the 175-pound class was established in a match between Paul D. Metzger '35, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Clyde H. Cole '31, Phi Delta Theta.

In the 135-pound division, John M. Cooper '32, Delta Tau Delta, battled for supremacy with Giant E. Stein, '31, Alpha Gamma Rho.

WRESTLERS STAGE MEET TOMORROW

Inter-Class Tournney Will Provide Varsity Candidates With First Real Test

Providing Coach Charlie Speidel's 1931 wrestling squad with their first real test of the season, the inter-class wrestling tournament will begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Recreation hall.

With the basketball squad traveling to Cambridge, Massachusetts, to meet Harvard on Saturday, the annual inter-class grappling contest will provide weekend visitors for the Senior Ball with the only varsity athletic event here this week.

The competing matmen will weigh in for the tournament at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Anyone is eligible to compete in the all-College affair, although each class is allowed to place but one entry in each weight.

The Freshmer have been scheduled to meet the Juniors and the Sophomores will vie with the Seniors. Two rounds will be staged, the second and final round immediately following the preliminary bouts.

Coch Speidel's varsity squad will, in a large measure, depend upon the outcome of the interclass tournament. The tournament will give him an insight as to whether his material, which is good but inexperienced, can stand the strain of match competition. Even if a varsity candidate loses his bout in the weigh in which he entered, he may try for another varsity division. Often a light, fast wrestler will prove more competent than a slow, heavy one.

In addition to aiding Coach Speidel in selecting his varsity, the interclass fray will give his candidates much-needed experience. All of the Lion's opponents are carrying lighter but longer schedules, and most of them have already begun their dual seasons. The Nittany grapplers need this pre-season competition in order to round them out for their more seasoned opponents on a hard, six-week schedule which contains no set-ups.

CO-ED RIFLE TEAM TO START SEASON

Open Card With Telegraphic Meets Against George Washington, South Dakota Today

In its first match of the season, the women's rifle team will meet George Washington university and the University of South Dakota today.

Target scores will be telegraphed to the contending universities, where judges will tally the results. The George Washington university team held the girls' rifle championship last year and has defeated Penn State for the past several years.

Members of the team opposing the two universities are Muriel E. Bowman '32, Anne E. D'Olier '32, Helen M. Hammon '32, Kathryn L. Hayes '32, Kathryn E. Kurtz '32, Lillian A. Mack '32, Myrtle H. Bingaman '33, Helen A. Hoover '33, M. Catherine Little '33, and Mildred P. Travis '33.

During the week of February 13 the team will meet the University of Pennsylvania and DePauw university teams, and two weeks later, Drexel Institute. The week of March 20 has been set as the approximate date of the match with Carnegie Tech, while the following week the team will contend with the University of Michigan.

By selecting his varsity, the interclass fray will give his candidates much-needed experience. All of the Lion's opponents are carrying lighter but longer schedules, and most of them have already begun their dual seasons. The Nittany grapplers need this pre-season competition in order to round them out for their more seasoned opponents on a hard, six-week schedule which contains no set-ups.

BOXERS CONTINUE RING COMPETITION

Intramural Mitmen To Hold Fight In Intermediate Weights at 1 O'clock Tomorrow

With bouts in the intermediate weights continuing tomorrow, the intramural boxing tournament will come to a close next week, according to Albert J. Zilligen '31, tournament head.

Scraps were staged at 7 o'clock each night this week, while tomorrow's competitors will open at 1 o'clock. Fights in the 125, 135, 145, and 160-pound set-ups will be run off in tomorrow's engagements.

Thirty percent or more of those originally entered in the tournament later forfeited their fights. Some of this number could not make weight, while others failed to pass the preliminary physical examinations.

In the heavyweight division, all five bouts scheduled for this week were forfeited. More men have qualified in the 115-pound class than in any

DID NOT FENCE WITH GENEVA. Contrary to a notice issued in Tuesday's COLLEGIAN, the Penn State fencing team did not make their mutual appearance against Geneva college, Wednesday night. Although negotiations have been under way for a meet nothing definite has been scheduled.
