

Sidelines

When the Mountaineer wrestlers come here Saturday to open Penn State's 1931 season, three footbal stars will be among the probable lineup. Schweitzer, 155 pounds, Schweitzer, light-heavyweight, and Flier, 165-pounds, are the football men who may start. Other matmen scheduled to start are Herod, 115 pounds, Fletcher, 125 pounds, Wotting, lightweight, and Hando, 145 pounds.

Four courtmen of the Navy quintet that will meet Lion invaders at Annapolis tomorrow, are new to the team this year. The quartet of passers were plebes last season, and Captain Freshour, forward, is the only upperclassman in the lineup.

Lion boxers and wrestlers will have a tough day when they meet the Army and Navy squads, respectively, on March 7. The Navy has lost only one man from the undefeated team of last year that handed the Nittany grapplers their only setback. The midshipmen defeated Toronto 34-to-0 Saturday. The West Point boxers always provide strong opposition and have a veteran team this season. Defeating Temple 6½-to-½, Saturday, the Cadets won every bout except the 145-pound class when Rollet, Army, fought a draw with Kuttner, of Temple.

Elliot Loughlin, a second-year man at the Academy, is leading scorer of the Annapolis squad. He led the scoring columns in each of Navy's early victories, and the Blue and Gold's first defeat came in his absence.

Two former Punxsutawney boys will meet and renew old friendships when they pilot their respective teams here to oppose the Lions this week. The West Virginia wrestling team is coached by Steve Hartrick, of Punxsutawney, former football, wrestling, and baseball star at the Mountaineer institution, and Colgate university's basketball team is coached by Lloyd Jordan, also of Punxsutawney, and former football and basketball player at Pitt.

Because of injuries received when he stumbled and fell down the steps in the West Virginia School of Medicine building, Paul "Tony" Meyers, veteran Mountaineer wrestler, may not appear in the lineup when his team encounters the Lion mat squad Saturday afternoon. Dick Wotting, 135-pounder, has been elected acting-captain to replace the injured leader.

Three members of Colgate's basketball squad have established their versatility in sports by obtaining three major letters. Anderson, Orr, and Thivier all engage in three sports.

FINAL SELECTIONS FOR FIRST MATCH UNDECIDED

Determined to start its 1931 campaign with a win over a hard, well-seasoned Mountaineer wrestling squad, Penn State's grapplers will face a stiff test in their opening engagement of the year against the University of West Virginia's matmen at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Recreation hall.

Coach Charlie Speidel announced his tentative lineup yesterday although he is still undecided as to what men will get the call in several divisions. Maize, classy bantamweight veteran from last year's squad, will officially open the 1931 season in the first bout of the afternoon. However, Seely has been rounding out form and the wrestling director may change his decision when he makes the final selections tomorrow.

175-Pound Berth Undecided Hoenei and Davenport are warring a hard-fought battle for honors in the 175-pound division but the latter has a slight edge at present. Gillner is providing Stein with stiff opposition for the lightweight berth while in the 145-pound class Kaiser and Lorenzo are very evenly matched, honors depending upon which one secures the first winning hold.

For the 155-pound berth Turnbull, interclass winner, easily out-hines all other contenders and will make his debut into intercollegiate competition against the Mountaineer matmen Reybitz, middle-weight interclass title holder, will make his first appearance in the 165-pound division when he holds down the varsity post left vacant by Paul Long.

The 175-pound class is proving to be the most keenly contested division on the entire squad. A wealth of good material is available with six or eight men very evenly matched. Roetenberg, Metzger, McClure, Landis, and Wahl are among the outstanding candidates and it will depend upon the results of the next few days who will receive the position.

In the heavyweight class Captain Ed Pearce has outdistanced all competitors. In case Coach Speidel is still confined in bed due to his contraction of a severe case of influenza, Pearce's two years of varsity work will prove of great benefit to the team, which lacks the acid test of dual competition. West Virginia will bring a team which has been whipped into mid-season.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA WINS MIT TROPHY

Phi Epsilon Pi, Pi Kappa Alpha Gain Second, Third Place In Intramurals

Phi Kappa Sigma, amassing a total of nine points with first and second places in the 145-pound class and third place in the 135-pound division, won the intramural boxing tournament, the finals of which were held in Recreation hall Saturday afternoon.

Totalling eight points, Phi Epsilon Pi placed a close second with first place in the 125-pound class and second in the 160-pound group. Pi Kappa Alpha, with two second places, totalled six points and finished third. Five groups tied for fourth place when Phi Kappa, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon, and Sigma Nu each scored five points. Beta Theta Pi annexed one second place and two third place winners while the remaining four fraternities won a first place, respectively. Non-fraternity men totalled six points, but were not entered in the tournament as an organized group.

Annapolis Quintet Wins 7 Encounters in 9 Starts

MAROON WILL OPPOSE LIONS HERE SATURDAY

After seeking to halt a powerful Navy quintet at Annapolis tomorrow afternoon, Lion courtmen will face Colgate's speedy five in their second Triangular League contest in Recreation hall Saturday night.

Reinforced by the return of Jack Mazess to the lineup, the Nittany five will invade Annapolis in their quest of success with a revised floor combination. Mazess will pair with Moser at forward. Fred Brand will probably start at center, with Captain Sol Saltzman and Charlie Blowers as guards.

Kept from the squad since the start of last season, Mazess has at last secured his parents' permission to play regularly. Although he displayed lack of practice in his first appearance against Syracuse the speedy Blue and White forward has rounded into form quickly during the last week.

Navy Wins 7 Games. Facing the possibility that Brand may be handicapped by a knee injury sustained in scrimmage Saturday, Coach Dutch Hermann has met a lack of center material by shifting Charlie Hammond to the pivot position. Mont Macomb has been kept from drill.

recently with an injured ankle. With Davis and Meyers to support the starting forwards, frequent shifts in the attacking combinations are certain. Williams and McMinn, a new addition to the varsity squad, will make the trip as substitute guards.

Faltering in their victory stride only after they had defeated six teams, Navy floormen have scored seven triumphs in nine starts. Virginia, Rutgers, George Washington, Western Maryland, Lafayette, and William and Mary all bowed to the Annapolis passers before Duke ended the long winning streak.

After regaining its supremacy against Randolph-Macon, the Blue and Gold was again set back when an already badly-crushed Penn five recovered from its slump to check Navy, 28-to-26, Saturday.

Coach Lloyd Jordan will bring a mediocre Maroon quintet to Penn State Saturday intent on annexing his first victory in the Triangular League race. The Colgate five, registering only mild success so far, has defeated Fordham, Toronto, and Clark-on Tech. Columbia, now leading the Eastern Intercollegiate league, conquered the Maroon in its first contest. Michigan State downed the New Yorker twice during an invasion of the East, and Temple accounted for their fourth defeat.

REKERS REGISTERS FAST TIME IN WINNING RACE

McDowell, Fullerton, Flenniken Gain Firsts in Meet Saturday

Holding the lead the whole distance, Paul Rekets led Charlie King and Chuck Meisinger to the tape in the first time of nine minutes and thirty-seven seconds to win the two-mile race.

in the second winter track meet held on the board track Saturday. The first event of the meet, the fifty yard high hurdles, was won by McDowell in six and four-fifths seconds, with Hill second and Punka third. Fullerton chalked up a win in the seventy-yard dash, while Sam Flenniken beat Dutton in the quarter-mile handicap. A two-mile relay team composed of Sleskey, Matz, Wolfe, and Hughes outtraced another varsity team and a team composed of freshmen in eight minutes and thirty seconds.
