The Panther quintet will be the third team to face the Lion passers this year with a co-captain system. Eddie Baker, who usually starts at guard to wear down the enemy, shares the leadership with Willie Arture, who replaces him as a scoring ace after the game is well under way.

Pitt's leading scorers on the basketball floor are all midgets. Lawry, W. Kowallis and Arture all measure between five feet six inches and five feet eight inches. On the other hand, Albright, center, stands six feet four inches tall.

Optimism is an outstanding quality with Dr. Carlson, Pitt court mentor. At the start of the season he predicted an undefeated team, and prior to the disastrous encounter with CCNY he announced his expectation to take the remaining games on the schedule.

Comparative scores conflict in Pitt and Penn State court records. Although the Panthers have defeated two quintets which faced the Lions, they barely eked out a victory by a two-point margin over West Virginia and only met with a moderate win over Syracuse, victors over the Nittany team, 31-to-28.

In the 126, 135 and 155-pound classes, Princeton mat candidates have shown poor form throughout the season, according to a report from the Tiger stronghold.

Couch Leo Houck is pleased with the showing of his matmen this season. Although four of the lineup in the first two meets this year were fighting their first year of intercollegiate competition they succeeded in downing West Virginia and deadlocking Western Maryland, both veteran teams.

Football seems to have become a stabilized sport if one considers the decision of the rules committee to retain the present code for 1931 with only one minor change for the coming year. This change involves the removing of the arbitrary point award after touchdown, making the penalty for offside the same as when committed during regular scrimmage.

North Carolina will be a tough nut for the Lions to crack in the ring tomorrow, judging by the season record. The Tar Heels, have defeated South Carolina 5-2, V. M. I. 6-to-1, V. P. I. 6-to-1, and Virginia 1-to-3.

TO CONTEST TIGER WRESTLERS HERE

Visitors Will Prove Formidable Test for Grapplers in Recreation Hall

With the 1931 dual season half over, Penn State's varsity wrestlers will face the first of their three hardest opponents of the year when they grapple a powerful team from Princeton university in Recreation hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Couch Charlie Spedel will use practically the same line-up as in the previous meets, with Marze, Davent, Stein, and Lorenzo getting the call in the first four weights. Due to the scholastic ineptitude of Turnbull, the 155-pound berth is undetermined but the post will be filled by Ray, Colmer, or Tiansue. Roy-Wahl or Rotenburg in the 175-pound weight and Captain Ed Pearce in the heavyweight berth will complete the Nittany line-up.

Princeton will present a formidable test for the undefeated Lions. The Tiger matmen have shown great strength in the past several weeks, and although their record is marred by two defeats and one tie contest, their five matches have been with teams of outstanding ability.

Tigers Down Army, The Navy. Opening their season with a close 14-to-16 defeat at the hands of North Carolina, the Nassau grapplers took the next match from Rutgers 23-to-15 and dropped their third contest to Lehigh 13-to-19. After downing the Army decisively by a 21-to-11 score, the Tiger matmen showed their best form when they tied the Navy 16-to-16. Up to this match the Midshipmen had a two year unbeaten, untied record in dual competition.

Captain Colmore will give Marze a stiff battle in the opening bout of the evening. The Princeton captain has gained five victories in as many meets this season. Thrug will fill the 125-pound berth for the visitors, while Fisk will meet Stein in the 135-pound class. The return of Lowndes, undefeated freshman captain last year, to the welterweight division has materially strengthened the team.

In the 155-pound class Royster will receive the call and Hooker, one of the best league wrestlers last year, will fill the middleweight post. Billings who has won three out of five of his matches this season will grapple for Princeton in the 175-pound class. One of the most interesting matches of the year will close the meet when Rutherford of the Tigers meets Captain Ed Pearce in the heavyweight bout. Both men are undefeated at the present time.

Panthers Win 14 Out of 18 Starts—Bow to C. C. N. Y.

Undaunted by a formidable Pitt quintet which has swept to the top in Eastern basketball by crushing fourteen opponents in eighteen starts, Nittany courtmen will invade the Panther's floor in Pitt stadium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

With hopes of continuing the auspicious spirit evidenced in its last two victories, the same court combination which first carried Blue and White colors into the winning columns will seek to wrest triumph from their traditional western rivals.

Walt Mosei will pair with Jack Mazess at forward, with Fred Brand at center. Doc Cann is slated as Captain Sol Salzman's running mate in the guard assignments. Although Mazess has been handicapped in practice with a bad foot, he is expected to play.

Pitt Whips Army. After losing the first game of the season to Western Reserve, the Panthers lounded into form to conquer all but two western opponents before swinging into an eight-game winning streak which was broken by City College of New York Monday night.

Carlson's charges, defeating NYU, Fordham, West Virginia, Carnegie Tech, Notre Dame, Washington and Jefferson, and Army in succession, were started on their way to supremacy in the east when the CCNY passers crushed them hope, 18-to-16.

Creighton college and Indiana college were the only other two fives which have succeeded in turning back the Panthers. In early starts, the Pitt floormen subdued Ohio State, Marquette, Nebraska, Dartmouth, Syracuse, and Purdue.

Waging a close race for high scoring honors, Lawry and W. Kowallis, veteran Blue and Gold forwards, are nearing the century total in their records. Arture, co-captain of the Panthers, is a close rival in the scoring columns. Eddie Baker, who usually starts at guard, is paired with Smith and Albright jumps center for the Panthers.

In addition to the first team, Coach Dutch Heermann will take seven reserve courtmen on the trip.

GOLFERS TO MEET 4 LINK OPPONENTS

Tentative Tennis Schedule Includes Matches With Navy, Cornell Away, Bucknell Here

Four golf matches for the 1931 season were approved by the Athletic Board of Control and announced yesterday by Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics.

The Nittany linksmen will enter the intercollegiate, probably dated for June 15 to 20. Other matches are Swarthmore at Swarthmore, May 1; Army at West Point, May 2; Lafayette at home, May 9; Colgate at home, May 21.

The tennis team opens the season with Gettysburg during the first week of May. Two trips follow the opener, the first with Dickinson and Navy, and the second with Cornell and Syracuse. The team will probably close with Bucknell here.

MITMEN FACE TEST IN SOUTHERN FOE

Heavyweight Entries Remain in Doubt for Meet—First 4 Weights Unchanged

Penn State's undefeated ringmen will attempt to end the winning streak of the veteran North Carolina boxers in Recreation hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

With three lettermen as a nucleus for a well-balanced team, Coach Leo Houck is endeavoring to whip several inexperienced candidates into shape to oppose the strong North Carolina ringmen. The Tar Heels will bring a team of veterans to meet the Blue and White matmen after winning their first four meets decisively.

Four of the entries for the southern school in the meet tomorrow have undefeated records for this season, and three of these men faced the Lion boxers last year. The Carolinians have had at least two knockouts and as many as three in each of their last three meets, and will enter an experienced and outstanding performer in every class but the bantamweight Heavyweights in Doubt.

To oppose the Tar Heels, Coach Houck will send the same men into the ring who fought the last two meets in the four lighter divisions, Davey Stoop, 115 pounds; Captain Julius Epstein, 125 pounds; Johnny McAndrews, 135 pounds; and Al Lewis, 115 pounds, will defend the Blue and White at these weights.

Final selection of the entries for the remaining bouts will not be made until tonight, but Fred Babb will

GYMNASTS ENGAGE IN LAST TRYOUTS

Prepare for Opening Meet Against Temple Next Saturday—Team Rounds Into Shape

The keenest rivalry is being displayed in the tumbling class in which Harry Davidson is competing with Mel Forsythe and Whitey Host for the call next year. Davidson is also performing Matty Hesch, horizontal bar performer, a stiff race for honors.

Although encountering serious competition from Hesch on the parallel bars, Bob Thraasher, versatile senior, will probably represent the Blue and White in this division. Bill Thompson and Charlie Horslock are outstanding on the rings. The rope climbing assignment will probably go to Tommy Hauch, while Hesch has outdistanced all competition on the side horse.

Miller May Enter Ring. In the welterweight division Lewis will face Dail Holderness, who although a newcomer to the lineup has won two bouts this season. Babb will try to turn in his first victory, when he meets Obie Davis, Tar Heel 160-pounder, who has two knockouts and a decision to his credit for this season. Joe Miller may enter the ring for his first intercollegiate bout against either Hugh Wilson or Platt Landis, Tar Heel 175-pounder, although Alex Lucas may return to the lineup at either this weight or the 160-pound class. If Skobene's hand is in contention he will fill the unlimited position against John Warren, North Carolina heavyweight star.
