

Library 3 COPIES

Henn State Collegian

Guy Lombardo Signs Contract To Play at Junior Prom May 15

Panas '32 Will Consider Choice of Second Orchestra

CANADIANS BROADCAST ON NATIONAL NET-WORK

Dutchess Pocketbook of Blue Karakul Leather Named As Dance Favors

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians were obtained to play in their first appearance at Penn State for Junior Prom May 15, William W. Panas '32, committee chairman announced yesterday.

The selection of a second orchestra for the affair will be announced after Easter vacation. The committee is negotiating with Fletcher Henderson now playing in Harlem, New York, and with McKinney's Cotton Pickers at present touring the country.

Outbidding the Yale university Junior Prom committee in their efforts to secure the recording and radio artists for the same date, the committee had succeeded in arranging for the appearance of the original eleven-piece band, including Guy and his three brothers, Carmen Lombardo will be the featured singer of the orchestra.

Select Purse as FAVOR Two commercial accounts totaling thirty weeks of broadcasting one night a week were recently booked for Guy Lombardo, one of which was a renewal while the other is signed with a new contract.

WPCS WILL START NEW RADIO SERIES

College Broadcasting Station Begins Second Group of Programs Tomorrow Afternoon

Piano solos by Miss Marian J. Kerr, of the department of music, will begin the second series of five radio programs under the direction of the department of engineering extension lecture bureau over College radio station WPCS, from 4:30 to 6:45 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

A talk by Miss Helen M. Savard, of the department of applied arts, on "Decorations of the Modern Home," will be followed by music by Prof. Hummel Fishburn of the music department, and J. Edwin Kennedy Penn State Players have planned to present a one-act play.

In addition to dinner music played by a string trio under the supervision of Director of Music Richard W. Grant, Veto A. Aluisse '33 will give selections on the accordion. A dance orchestra and vocal selections by Miss Helen McKain '32 have been selected to add to the musical part of the broadcast.

Prof. Harney W. Stover, of the economics department, will give a talk on "Modern Trends in Advertising," while Herbert K. Baker, of the department of public speaking, has been selected to do the announcing.

AUTOMOBILE WRECK INJURES WOMEN STUDENTS SATURDAY

Two Penn State students were injured as the result of an automobile accident in Tyrone Saturday night. Miss Pauline F. Young '34 is being treated in the Altoona hospital for injuries about the head, while Miss H. Winifred Kaschnka '33 is in the College infirmary with bad bruises.

SIGNS Guy Lombardo's Band for Junior Prom

WILLIAM W. PANAS '32

UNION PLANS DRIVE FOR LINGNAN FUND

Will Undertake Campaign to Aid Canton Christian College After Vacation

To uphold the Penn State tradition of liberal support of the Canton Christian college in Lingnan, China, a drive will be made for donations from students after the Easter holidays, according to J. Richard Smith '31, appointed yesterday by Raymond A. Bowers '31, president of Student Union, to direct the appeal.

To Start April 13 Edna R. Roderick '31 and Helen Buckwalter '31 will direct the campaign among the women students, while Frank Diehl '31, Raymond A. Bowers '31, and David C. McLaughlin '31, along with Smith will handle the drive among the men.

Room to room canvases of the student body will be made April 13, 14, and 15 with a man appointed in each fraternity to secure donations. The drive will seek to equal the amount that has been sent to China in past years, leaving Penn State a reputation as one of the most generous givers, Smith stated.

Students Show Ignorance Of Own Governing Bodies

Men, Women Fail in Distinguishing Functions Allotted to Council, Board, Union, Co-ed Legislative Groups

That Penn State students are ill-informed concerning the organizations and functions of the various units of student government here was revealed after a questionnaire was submitted to approximately one hundred students by COLLEGIAN reporters.

What is the difference between the Student Council and the Student Board? What are the chief functions of each? Only nine students answered this question correctly. What is the Student Union and what is its purpose? Of the hundred students surveyed, only fifteen knew the correct answer to this question.

2 DEBATERS OPEN FORENSIC TOUR OF SOUTHERN STATES

Lightstone, Hitchcock Engage Georgetown Speakers as First Opponents

ORATORS WILL MEET 7 COLLEGE TEAMS IN TRIP

Herpel, Saybolt, Hoch Receive Judge's Decision Against Lincoln on Friday

Engaging seven college teams, a Penn State debate group composed of Harry W. Lightstone '31 and Orville A. Hitchcock '31 began a two weeks tour of Southern institutions Sunday.

Defending the affirmative of the unemployment insurance topic, the team will meet William and Mary college orators tonight in an Oregon style debate. In the first engagement of the trip the debaters held a contest with Georgetown women over a government trade question.

Lightstone and Hitchcock will face the North Carolina State college representatives at Raleigh on the affirmative of the free trade question tomorrow night, and on Friday they will defend the same topic at South Carolina university. They will meet Rollins college orators at Winter Park, Florida, on Saturday.

Defeating the trade question, the team will meet University of Florida speakers at the Florida College for Women at Tallahassee Monday night, and will conclude the trip against Georgia Tech orators on the unemployment insurance question, Tuesday night.

Both speakers making the trip, together with Prof. Joseph F. O'Brien, of the public speaking department, are experienced debaters, members of Forensic council and of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debating society. In addition to being president of the council and of Delta Sigma Rho, Hitchcock holds a College debating award and Lightstone will be eligible for one at the close of the present season.

In the debate Friday night against Lincoln university orators, a Penn State team of Coleman Herpel '32, F. Weston Saybolt '32, and John A. Hoch '33 received a critic judge's favorable decision.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA CHOOSES DEAN CHAMBERS PRESIDENT

Dean Will G. Chambers, of the School of Education was elected national president of Kappa Phi Kappa, national professional educational fraternity, at the sixth General Assembly of that organization at Syracuse, N. Y., Thursday to Saturday.

In addition to being the founder of the Penn State chapter, Dean Chambers has been a national counselor for Kappa Phi Kappa for several years. Other Penn State delegates to the convention were Robert P. Wray, graduate student, Donald S. Klopp '31, and C. Arthur Sloughly '31.

BEGIN Tour of 7 Colleges on Southern Trip

ORVILLE A. HITCHCOCK '31 HARRY W. LIGHTSTONE '31

DR. PIKE WILL GIVE PSYCHOLOGY TALK

To-Speak on 'Unconscious Mind' in Chemistry Amphitheatre At 7 O'clock Tonight

Speaking on "The Unconscious Mind," Dr. Horace V. Pike, clinical psychiatrist at Danville State hospital, will begin a series of five lectures on "Abnormal Psychology and Mental Hygiene," in the Chemistry amphitheatre at 7 o'clock tonight.

The remaining four lectures will take place on Thursday nights, beginning next week and continuing through April. The final lecture of the series will be given at the Danville hospital Saturday, May 2. In addition to serving at the hospital, the lecturer speaks regularly at several State teachers colleges and other educational institutions throughout the State.

His lecture here are a part of a State-wide program of health education and mental hygiene provided by the Pennsylvania Board of Health.

Emphasize Mental Disease The series of lectures at the College is sponsored by the School of Education, and represents the eighth time that Dr. Pike has conducted a course here, although he has served as a lecturer at numerous summer sessions.

KENNADY RECEIVES 1932 EDITORSHIP OF 'FARMER'

Publication's Board Elects Ambler As New Business Manager

John W. Kennedy '32 has been elected editor-in-chief of the Penn State Farmer for next year, according to an announcement by the publication's executive board yesterday.

The posts of managing editor and campus editor will be filled by Howard W. Carter '32 and John S. B. Bamford '32, while George K. Davis '32 and Elmer L. Horst '33 will serve as alumni editor and grant editor, respectively. Miss Alice E. Merry '33 has been elected to the position of home economics editor with Miss Helen L. Nell '31 as her assistant.

UNION TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE FOR SENIORS NEXT S TUDRDAY

Student Union will hold an open house for seniors, faculty who have seniors in their classes, and administrative men in Old Main Saturday night following the Easter vacation, according to Raymond A. Bowers '31, president of the body.

Anne E. Mellinger '31 Named May Queen; Elizabeth Bell '32 Wins Presidency of W. S. G. A.

Winstead '32 Gains Boxing Managership

J. Fred Winstead '32 was named to manage Penn State's boxing team during the 1932 season at a meeting of athletic officials late yesterday afternoon.

Willard P. Hueter '32, Walter S. Fortney '31 and Edwin S. Malmel '33 were named to serve as first assistant managers during the next season at the same meeting. Associate boxing managers will be Herman C. Weber '32 and Paul Henderson '32.

PLAYERS ANNOUNCE CAST FOR CONTEST

MacKnight '31 Will Take Lead in 'Prayers For Pascal' Here April 16

Headed by Jesse M. MacKnight jr., '31 as the leading role, the Penn State Players will seek victory for the second successive time in the contest of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Dramatic association to be held here April 16 and 17. The cast for the contest play, "Prayers for Pascal," was announced by Prof. Arthur C. Cloetingh, director, yesterday.

As the Reverend Wells, MacKnight will attempt to convert the dying sinner, Old Man Pascal, to be played by John L. Voorhes '32. The setting of the play is a prayer meeting of a Mid-Western sect of "Holy Rollers."

Pascal's daughter, Miss Hantsen, will be enacted by Ruth I. Bennett '31 while Benjamin L. Wise '33 is cast as her husband. The daughter of this couple will be characterized by Myrtle H. Webb '32 and Lillie A. Kell '33.

STATE GRANGE DELEGATES MEET HERE THIS WEEK-END

Under the auspices of the College, local and county representatives of the Pennsylvania State Grange will meet here Thursday to Saturday, for a short course in lecturing.

President Ralph D. Hetzel will deliver an address of welcome to the delegates in the Little Theatre in Old Main Thursday night at 7 15 o'clock. At the same meeting, Dean Ralph L. Watts, of the School of Agriculture, will talk to the groups on "Rural Leadership."

Richard W. Grant, head of the music department, said yesterday that the "Star Spangled Banner" was unsuitable and not suited to the human voice because of its wide range in tone. Sentiment in favor of the anthem would cause a national reaction against changing the song, Director Grant went on to say.

In commenting on the "Star Spangled Banner" Hummel Fishburn, assistant professor of music, stated that he did not think that the true national anthem has yet been written. He added that when it is written it will take at least twenty years to become

Marie McMahon '32 Elected W. A. A. Head in Co-ed Balloting—Elizabeth Everett '32 Chosen Y. W. C. A. Leader

Elizabeth C. Bell '32 was elected president of the W. S. G. A., and Anne E. Mellinger '31 was chosen May Queen, with Margaret E. Barnard as Freshman attendant, in the final balloting by women students Saturday.

Jean E. Simmons '32, who was defeated for presidency of W. S. G. A. by 23 votes, automatically becomes secretary of the organization under the ruling recently passed by the W. S. G. A. Senate. In the balloting for May Queen, Miss Mellinger received 188 votes to 121 for Mildred J. Wentz '31, while Miss Barnard secured 45 tallies over L. Sue Allen '31 for the position of freshman attendant to the May Queen.

Elect W. A. A. Officers Presidency of the W. A. A. went to Marie E. McMahon with 158 votes to 157 for her opponent, Muriel E. Bowman '32. The YWCA president will be Elizabeth Everett '32, whose margin over L. Louise Marquardt '32 was 33 ballots.

ANNE E. MELLINGER '31

PATTEE WILL BEGIN LECTURES APRIL 20

Emeritus Professor To Return For Second Annual Series On Literature Topics

Dr. Fred Lewis Pattee, professor emeritus of American literature at Penn State and special lecturer at Rollins college, Florida, will return to the College April 20 to present his second annual lecture series. The general topic for his talks will be "The Literature of Today."

The lectures will be given in the Little Theatre, Old Main, at 4 15 o'clock each afternoon beginning Monday, April 20, and closing Friday, April 24. For his first topic Dr. Pattee has chosen, "Phases of the Novel Dressed."

This lecture will be followed by "The New-Paper Column as a New Literary Evolution," while on the following day he will speak on "The Nobel Lewis." As his next subject, he will discuss "The Poetry of the Future." Concluding the series, he will give a criticism on "The New Generation."

Prior to his resignation for a part-time position at Rollins college in 1928, Dr. Pattee served as head of the English department here in thirty-four consecutive years.

Dr. Pattee's latest book is "The New American Literature," published last year. Among his other books are "Tradition and Jazz," essays, "American Literature Since 1870," and numerous volumes on "Philip Freneau," "Century Readings in American Literature," written by Dr. Pattee, is now in use at the College as the text book for English literature I.

Professors Disagree on Worth of 'Star Spangled Banner' as Anthem

The action taken by Congress in selecting the "Star Spangled Banner" as the national anthem has evoked wide-spread criticism among members of the faculty and music department.

Miss Julia Hill of the English department believes that Congress was justified in its choice of the "Star Spangled Banner." Miss Hill pointed out that, although many people do not know the words to the song, they traditionally respect it

21 GROUPS ENTER SPEECH CONTEST

Name Honor System of Examinations As Question for Competitions Beginning April 20

Twenty-one organizations have registered for the intramural debating competition which will begin April 20, John S. Fittzell '31, in charge of the contest, sponsored annually by the Forensic council, announced yesterday.

Following a meeting of representatives Sunday, team pairings were drawn up for those who have entered to date and by unanimous vote the question was set as "Resolved That Penn State Should Adopt the Honor System of Holding Examinations."

Single critic judges, chosen from members of the faculty by the public speaking department will give the decisions in the contests, for which two awards are to be made. A Delta Sigma Rho cup, offered permanently by the debating society to the organization securing three wins, will be held by the winner for a year. A second trophy is to be presented annually by the Forensic council.

Individual pairings show Alpha Omicron Pi scheduled to meet Sigma Phi Alpha; Sigma Phi Sigma, Delta Upsilon, Phi Lambda Theta, Pi Kappa Phi, Phi Epsilon Pi, Pi Kappa Alpha; and Sigma Tau Phi. Chi Omicron will meet Kappa Delta Rho, Phi Kappa Sigma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Chi Rho, Beta Sigma Rho, Omega Epsilon, Theta Kappa Phi, and Tau Phi Delta. Omega Nu did not draw a bye.

'KKEE TO SPEAK TOMORROW

"Extension and Use of Electricity," will be the subject of J. M. McKee at the weekly lecture sponsored by the School of Agriculture in Room 100 Horticulture Building at 4:10 o'clock tomorrow. C. R. Butler, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries, will speak next Wednesday.

(Continued on fourth page)