When Coach Nate Cartmell enters his candidates in the Penn Relays Friday and Saturday, it will be as a Division A team. From all the institutions represented in these classics each year every school receives a rating on the basis of past showing. The Nittany trackmen were raised last year from Division B to the first rank.

Three members of the present Gettysburg baseball squad, which met Penn State Saturday, have big league offers. They are Haas and Utz, pitchers, and MacCloy, third base. Last year Cloy batted an average of .197 in eighteen games. Utz has signed with the Baltimore Orioles, and the other two men will probably try out with a major league club.

Steve Hamas '29, intercollegiate boxing champion and versatile athlete of Penn State, and his brother, Mike Hamas '27, former Nittany basketball captain, were in town over the week-end. According to Mike, ring manager of Steve, the former Nittany boxer has scored nine consecutive knockouts on the West coast.

Penn State will meet Army in three different sports events at West Point this Spring. Nittany athletes will engage the Cadets in golf May 2, in baseball May 9, and in lacrosse May 22.

The four-mile relay championship event at the Penn Relays this week-end should prove most interesting. Penn will attempt to defend the title with three of the four men who won it last year. Among the challenging combinations are Penn State with its team intact, New York university with two veterans, and Cornell, one

The Pitt basketball team is planning one of the most extensive schedules for next year ever attempted by a college floor team. A western trip will be made during the Christmas vacation in order to have the players miss as little school as possible.

LIONS WILL MEET ST. FRANCIS NINE

Batsmen Score 10-6 Win Over Bullets in Opening Home Contest Saturday

Fresh from a decisive 10-to-6 victory over a strong Gettysburg nine in their first home game Saturday, Nittany batsmen will meet St. Francis at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Beaver field.

Coach Bedenk announced last night that Moonves, reserve hurler, and Swan, sophomore catcher, will form the starting battery against the Loretto team. As the visiting nine is not expected to give the Lions much trouble, Bedenk hopes to try out several promising men in tomorrow's contest.

Slugging in mid-season form, the Blue and White batsmen subdued a late Bullet rally to pile up an early seven run lead and emerge on the long end of the score in Saturday's encounter. Meade, pitching his first intercollegiate game, showed promise by giving but six hits in seven innings, although his wildness gave Bullet hitters eight free tips to first base. Stokes finished the game for Penn State.

Lions Open Scoring
The Lions hammered Lefty Haas, the Battlefield ace's pitching ace, for thirteen hits before he was relieved by Ernest in the eighth inning. The Nittany "murderer's row," Diedrich, Smith, and Saltzman, divided seven hits and six runs among themselves, while McCloy and Morris started at the stick for the visitors with a home run apiece. Penn State's infield fulfilled advance expectations, while the outfield handled six chances without an error.

Doubles by Diedrich and Smith and a triple by Saltzman started the Nittany scoring in the second inning. Three more Lion runs were chalked up in the fourth on Smith's single, added to errors by Stone and Enders, and two more one-baggers from the bats of Drill and Hoopes coupled with Meade's sacrifice bunt.

Again in the fifth inning, Nittany batsmen clouted Haas hard to make the score 7-to-0. Singles by Livezey, Diedrich, and Smith resulted in Blue and White failures. In the seventh two more Penn State runs were scored when Diedrich singled and stole second, Smith walked, Saltzman doubled, and Young registered a one-bagger. Captain Livezey scored the last Lion run in the eighth on singles by Musser and Diedrich.

After McCloy banged a home run to open Bullet scoring in the sixth inning, the Battlefield nine added two more tallies in the seventh on doubles by Enders and Morris, Boughter's walk, an error by Musser, and McCloy's single. Another home run in the eighth by Morris brought Gettysburg within three runs of the Lions, but ended their scoring for the day. The four-base hit came after Utz, pinch-hitting for Haas, had gone to first on a wild pitch and Enders had singled to short-stop.

TO CONCLUDE TOURNAMENT

The semi-final and the final rounds of the interfraternity bridge tournament will be played this week. The winner of the Sigma Phi Sigma-Phi Kappa Tau match will meet the winner in the game between Beta Theta Pi and Phi Gamma Delta.

45 ALUMNI FOLLOW COACHING VOCATION

Survey Shows Former Nittany Athletes Hold Posts at Many Institutions

At least forty-five college and high school athletic coaches claim Penn State as their Alma Mater, a recent survey shows. Only half of this number hold positions on college or prep school coaching staffs, while the others direct teams at various high schools throughout the country.

In addition to Bob Higgins, Joe Bedenk, Dutch Hermann, and Larry Conover, such men as Dick Harlow and Skip Stahley, both of Western Maryland; Harold Barron, University of Arizona; Bert Batten, Swarthmore; Hal Frank, Gettysburg; Ben Cubbage, Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college; Red Griffith and Marty McAndrews, Dickinson; were graduated here before taking their present positions.

14 LION TRACKMEN TO ENTER RELAYS

Coach Cartmell Announces Tryout Winners as Representatives For Friday, Saturday

Selected on the basis of their showing in Saturday's tryouts, fourteen Nittany trackmen will journey to Philadelphia to represent Penn State in the Penn Relays on Franklin field Friday and Saturday, Coach Cartmell has announced.

In the special field events, Edwards and Shawley will be entered in the hammer throwing division, while McDowell and Hill will get the call for the 120-and high hurdles. Sigel will carry the Blue and White hopes in the javelin throw, and Palmer in the high jump. Shawley and Sigel will throw the discus.

Dale, Fullerton, Kennedy, and McDowell make up the quarter-mile relay team, while in the corresponding half-mile event it is probable that the same men will receive the call. The Lion four-mile relay group will be composed of Captain Mersinger, Rekers, Detwiler and Bill King, with Charlie King as alternate.

Musser will throw his lot with the Lion batsmen, this weekend, although it is probable that he will hurl the javelin against Syracuse the following weekend, according to Coach Cartmell. Penn State's hopes are largely centered in the four-mile relays, the coach pointed out.
