FOULKE GAINS FIRST PLACE IN R.O.T.C. RIFLE MATCH

Making a high score of 73, Arthur T. Foulke '34 was named first place winner in the freshman rifle match conducted by the department of military science and tactics recently.

Herbert E. Manning '34 and Richard North '34 placed second and third respectively. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the winners, as well as a five-percent increase in their semester grades.

WILL HOLD MEETING HERE

Directors of the State Chamber of Commerce will hold their spring business meeting at the College May 26 and 27.

Senate Group To Act On Women's Visiting

The Faculty Senate Committee on Student Welfare will consider the recent action of W.S.G.A. and the fraternity presidents' committee concerning women's visiting in fraternity houses when it meets tomorrow afternoon.

The committee is composed of Dean Arthur R. Warnock, chairman, Dean Charlotte E. Ray, Prof. L. V. T. Simmons, Col. William B. McCaskey, and Joseph P. Ritenour. If passed by the group, the ruling will allow women to visit fraternity houses Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights providing there is a minimum of three couples present.

SHELLEY '32 WINS IN PROM CONTEST

Designs Poster Receiving First Prize—Soper '33 Takes Second Award

Donald A. Shelley '32 was the winner of first prize in the Junior Prom poster contest and Harriet E. Soper '33 was runner-up.

With the date of the dance but three days away, the committee is actively engaged in making final preparations for the affair.

A blue Dutchess purse is the favorite selected this year. It is made of blue karakul sheep leather with the Penn State seal embossed in silver.

A blue and white powder puff and white silk handkerchief will be contained in the purse, which is similar to the Soph Hop favor last year.

A detachable key case, a compartment for calling cards, and a change purse on the back of the favor are other innovations.

Green, gold, and white drapes, producing a pleasing effect will feature the decoration plans for the Prom.

The committee in charge of plans for the exercises is composed of Professor Light, Prof. Julius E. Kaufmann, Eugene H. Lederer, town burgess, Robert E. Pannell, Capt. Raymond P. Cook of the department of military science and tactics, Prof. Madison M. Garver of the physics department, R. E. Minshall, and Col. Theodore Boal of the National Guard.

THESPIANS OFFER SHOW SATURDAY

Specialty Acts Feature Staging Of 'Reels and Truly' as Prom Production

Featuring four specialty numbers, the Penn State Thespians will sing, dance, and act a musical comedy, 'Reels and Truly,' in Schwab auditorium at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Tap and soft shoe dances in duo teamings will be handled by James J. Brennan '33 and Irving Weiner '33 in one pairing with Charles S. Halper jr. '31 and Kenneth M. Roman '32 appearing together.

Close harmony will be the aim of a women's trio composed of Dorothy W. Cummings '32, Marjorie W. Fisher '32, and Harriet E. Soper '33.

Principals in the cast include Muriel E. Bowman '32, H. Grace Baer '34, and Dorothy M. Johnston '33, who take parts in a Thespian production as the first co-eds to do so in several years.

Minor parts will be played by Dorothy H. Boehm '32, and James F. Aber '31, along with Kenneth L. Holderman '31, Frank F. Morris '31, and Ralph Radcliffe '31.

With a book by Holderman and lyrics by Julius Epstein '31, Holderman, and Prof. Hummel Fishburn, the music is the creation of Professor Fishburn, Holderman, Leon Cohen '34, and Nevin Decker '34.

Ritenour attends conclave of the College health service, attended the national conference on college hygiene in Syracuse last week.

Dr. Ritenour is a member of the subcommittee on clinical questions in the section on health service and on the subcommittee on staff and equipment.

MILITARY LEADER WILL SPEAK HERE ON MEMORIAL DAY

Major General Fries, R.O.T.C. Association Head, To Talk In Annual Exercises

COMMITTEE SENDS OUT FRATERNITY INVITATIONS

Speakers' Platform, Reviewing Stand Moved for Benefit Of Seeded Grounds

Major General A. Fries of Washington, D. C., head of the Reserve Officers Training Corps association, will speak in the annual Memorial Day exercises here May 30.

The visiting speaker was head of the chemical warfare department when he retired from active service last year.

Paternalism and non-fraternity groups have been invited again this year to place groups carrying their flags in the annual Memorial Day parade which will take place at 10 o'clock on the morning of the twentieth.

In addition, individual students who are not members of the R. O. T. C. corps have also been requested to parade in the procession.

To Change Stands Besides the fraternities, corps, and individual students, veterans of the Spanish-American war and members of the G. A. R., American Legion, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Town Council, School Board, and public schools will be in the line of march.

A detachment of cavalry from the National Guard post at Boalsburg will also take part in the parade.

To inaugurate college seeding projects, the speaker's stand will be placed this year on Holmes field near the Stone House instead of on front campus as in recent celebrations.

For the same purpose, the reviewing stand will be moved from its usual position at the College gates to a location near the intersection of McAllister street and College avenue.

The committee in charge of plans for the exercises is composed of Professor Light, Prof. Julius E. Kaufmann, Eugene H. Lederer, town burgess, Robert E. Pannell, Capt. Raymond P. Cook of the department of military science and tactics, Prof. Madison M. Garver of the physics department, R. E. Minshall, and Col. Theodore Boal of the National Guard.

$85,000 SPENT HERE ON LANDSCAPING

Grounds Superintendent Announces Extensive Seeding Projects For College Grounds

Over $85,000 has been spent for improvements alone on the College grounds in the past two years, George W. Ebert, superintendent of grounds and buildings, revealed.

We are trying this spring to seed all campus areas where it is possible for students to keep off and give the sod a chance to get a footing.

Cutting unnecessary paths and driving automobiles on surfaced ground were cited by the supervisor as the most expensive to repair.

New walks have cost the College at least $2,000 in the past two years. Last fall a crew of over 200 men was kept busy preparing for the Anniversary celebration.

Other new officers include Mary L. McFarland '31 as vice-president and Elizabeth A. Lewis '34, secretary, while Harriette Woodward '34 will serve as treasurer.

MADISON TO VISIT EUROPE

Prof. Lawrence C. Madison of the animal husbandry department will leave for Europe tomorrow.

He will study agricultural problems in several countries.

County Hospital Drive To Begin Here Today

The annual drive for contributions to the Centre county hospital will start in State College today, with fifty-four residents of the borough taking charge of the canvass.

Seventeen Penn State students received treatment at the hospital during the past year, spending a total of 268 days under the care of the institution.

All but two of these cases were of a surgical nature, and one was an emergency appendicitis case.

INDUSTRIAL HEADS CONFER TOMORROW

Annual Session of Educational, Business Group Delegates To Close Friday Night

With meetings beginning tomorrow morning and extending to Friday night, representatives of business and educational organizations will meet here for the twelfth annual Industrial conference sponsored by the School of Engineering.

The general topic for the conference will be "Stabilization of Technical Personnel in Industry." Following committee meetings and registration at the Nittany Lion inn tomorrow morning, Dean Robert L. Sackett of the School of Engineering will address the first session at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Tomorrow night, an informal dinner will be held at the Centre Hills Country Club. The College department of music under the direction of Prof. Richard W. Grant will offer entertainment at this time.

David L. Fiske, secretary of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers will speak on "A Platform for American Engineering" following the musical program.

Among the speakers listed for Thursday are Charles E. Denny, president of the Erie railroad, Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the College, J. Franklin Shields, president of the Board of Trustees, and Dr. Alfred D. Phin, director of the General Foundation in New York city.

Friday's session will open with a memorial speech to Prof. Arthur J. Wood by William Elmer of the Pennsylvania railroad. A report of the committee on contacts between colleges and industries will be read at this session by A. M. Dudley of the Westinghouse company.

Following a luncheon session at 12:30 o'clock, the conference will be brought to a close.

PASTOR SHOWS DECLINE OF PULPIT DOMINANCE

Sockman Concludes Mothers' Day Program With Chapel Talk

"People do not want a minister to dominate them from the pulpit," stated Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Madison Avenue Methodist church in New York city, in his address to Mothers' Day chapel goers in the Auditorium Sunday morning.

In discussing "Men and Their Shadows," Dr. Sockman pointed out to the audience that upon making a new appraisal of the church, press, and home, all three may be found to be stronger than ever before and to be casting their shadows with a remarkable influence.

"An individual has to think," the pastor continued, "of the atmosphere he radiates and the shadows he creates, for without a sense of honor and social regard he cannot assist in the making of a greater democracy and better Christianity."

Panhellenic Council Adopts Open Bidding in New Code

Rushing Revisions Include Budgeted Account For Unorganized Parties, Use of Automobiles During Season

Under the old system, women's fraternities had two formal periods when they might extend bids to any student who had been enrolled in college at least two semesters, or in case of senior women who had transferred from other colleges, after they had attended Penn State for at least one semester.

The new code stipulates that no implication of a bid be given to a rushee by a fraternity woman at any time. A third innovation in the new code permits women's fraternities to spend three dollars on unorganized parties, and thirty dollars on the formal rushing function.

All complaints for violation of any of the laws of the rushing code must be written and signed by the person tendering the accusation and handed to the Panhellenic chairman of the rushing committee. The council as a whole will note out punishments to offenders.

Dr. George A. Buttrick, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church of New York city, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the 1931 graduating class at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of June 7.

"Fading Ourselves," is the topic upon which Dr. Buttrick has chosen to speak. Following the well-known Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin as head of the Madison Avenue institution, Dr. Buttrick has the reputation of being one of New York's outstanding preachers, according to Adrian O. Morse, executive secretary.

Born in England, the New York cleric was educated at Lancaster independent college at Manchester, England, where he received his degree of doctor of divinity at Hamilton college in 1927.

His first church was the Union Congregational of Quincy, Ill., where he stayed from 1915 until 1918. From there he went to Rutland, Vt. Two years later he took charge of the First Presbyterian Church of DuPont, Del. He is the author of "The Parables of Jesus."

STUDENTS TO VOTE ON A.A. REVISIONS, 1932 HEADS TODAY

Consider Constitutional Change Of Cheerleading System At All-College Poll

WILL BALLOT BY SCHOOL IN REGULAR CLASS HOURS

Brand, Lasich, Lewis, McMillan, Martz, Stempeck Compete For Presidential Post

Amendments to the Athletic association constitution will be submitted to the student body during regular class hours today.

A second election will be held from 8 to 3 o'clock Thursday if a majority is not reached in today's balloting. Results of the vote today will be posted so that students may know if a re-vote will be necessary.

The head cheerleader, according to the proposed change, would be elected from the junior assistants by a committee composed of the director of athletics, graduates manager, football coach, director of music, president of the Athletic association, and head cheerleader. He would issue a call for sophomore candidates at the beginning of the first semester. These aspirants would act as assistants until after the winter sports season, when three would be selected from the group by the committee, acting with junior assistants.

The proposition specifies that the senior cheerleaders shall wear white flannel trousers and a white round-necked sweater with a two-inch band of blue encircling the neck. The head cheerleader will be awarded a four and one-fourth inch black letter "S" and his senior associates a four and one-fourth inch circle letter "S" if the vote is favorable. Junior assistants would be awarded class numerals.

The new amendment proposed is that a four and one-fourth inch black letter "S" be given members of the gym team who take part in at least half of the regular meets. The suggestion provides that this shall occur only if there are at least four meets.

Students will also decide at the polls whether or not the section on athletic insignia shall be changed to make any member of the wrestling squad who participates in at least four intercollegiate dual meets, or sores in the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling championships eligible for a regular four and one-fourth inch black letter.

Candidates for the presidency of the Athletic association who will also be voted on today are Frederick C. Brand, George T. Lasich, Alfred L. Lewis, William W. McMillan, William V. Martz, and Stanley O. Stempeck. Jack C. Myers and David A. Stoop are competing for the secretaryship.

DEAN ANNOUNCES 2 SUMMER POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES

Because of better library facilities, two courses in political science will be offered in Harrisburg this summer as a part of the regular summer session program of the College, according to Dean Charles W. Stoddard, director of the School of Liberal Arts.

The courses, which include comparative and Pennsylvania government, will be taught by Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, assistant professor of political science. Classes will be held in the Pennsylvania State Education association building.

LEGISLATORS USE WEAVER'S STUDY ON RURAL TAXATION

State legislators this year sought advice in the framing of tax bills for the coming biennium from Dr. Frederick P. Weaver, head of the sociological economics department, who has been making a study of rural taxation throughout the state.

Seeking advance copies of Dr. Weaver's results published as a bulletin of the Agricultural Experiment station, the members of legislature called the economist to Harrisburg for a conference immediately before the present session began.

BUTTRICK TO TALK AT BACCALAUREATE

New York Pastor Will Address Senior Group at Sunday Services June 7
