COLLEGE WILL EXTEND RULE ON AUTOMOBILES To Restrict Use of Cars in Borough by Students Living Here

Students at the College who reside in or near State College will have to have a special College permit in order to operate automobiles within the community this year, according to a new regulation announced yesterday by Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock.

Only students residing in or near State College who commute from their homes daily or reside in State College will be permitted to operate automobiles within the community bounds. Permits for these students must be sponsored by their parents and approved by the dean of men and the superintendent of grounds and buildings.

"Because of numerous accidents and abuse of the student automobile privilege last year, the College will take stringent measures this year to enforce the automobile regulations," Dean Warnock stated.

Classes Will Begin At 1:10 Tomorrow

First semester classes will start at 1:10 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All students are held responsible for attending classes from this time on.

Drop and add cards must be executed within the two-week period following opening of classes. If a student changes courses after this limit he receives a -2 for the subject dropped, according to a College regulation.

'Is American College Mass Production?' Fraulein Asks

Dr. Ella Drescher, Leading Group of Foreign Students on Visit to Penn State, Finds School Different

"Oh, Penn State, it is just wonderful, but isn't it maybe—what you call it—mass production?"

"Dr. Ella Drescher, doctor of laws at Heidelberg university, in Germany, leaned excitedly over her cup of black coffee. For twenty hours she had examined all of Penn State that she could.

"There are so many here. Can they all be students, thinkers? It does not seem to be so. And I find that here they spend the first two years in what you call high school work. It is not like our universities."

Fraulein Drescher came to State College Friday afternoon with eleven other students from foreign universities whom she was "mothering." Touring eastern colleges under the auspices of the International Student Service, she goes next week to New York city to study in the New York School of Social Work as an exchange student. She wants to be a juvenile court judge.

"And the arts, they are the life blood of us. To be without music, for me it would be not to live. Yet here you have stopped the fine musicians from coming here in your Artists' course because too few listened to them. To me, it is impossible, to think of."

"Your students too do not seem to

Women Groups BEGIN RUSHING AT NOON TOMORROW

Fraternities To Seek Members From Sophomore Class In Annual Period

MRS. ERNEST B. FORBES WILL EXPLAIN NEW CODE

Panhellenic Council Sanctions Use of Automobiles for Carrying Rushees

Rushing by women's fraternities will open at noon tomorrow, when fraternity women will begin an organized search for new members from the sophomore class.

To acquaint the rushees with the revised Panhellenic code, a sophomore women's class meeting will be held at 6:45 o'clock tomorrow night. Mrs. Ernest B. Forbes, advisor to the Panhellenic Council, will discuss the prohibitions and permissions of the new regulations and distribute pamphlets containing data relative to the fraternal organizations.

An informal party is defined in the code as a gathering at which no more than six rushees and six fraternity women are present. With the amendment of the code, cars may be used to transport the rushees to and from formal and informal parties. Rushees may be entertained overnight in women's fraternity houses during the entire rushing period.

Formal Parties Arranged

Uncomplimentary talk about fraternities by fraternity women or rushees is condemned by the code, which stipulates that not more than three dollars may be spent on informal gatherings. Reports of violations of the code must be written and signed by the accuser and presented to the rushing chairman. The Council as a whole will mete out punishment.

Letters explaining the importance of observing the regulations have been sent to the presidents of the women's fraternities by Miss Eleanor M. Hill '32, president of Panhellenic Council, and Miss Dorothy W. Cummings '32, chairman of the rushing committee.

The series of formal rushing parties will start at 6 o'clock Monday night, and continue until the following Friday. Two parties will be held each night, the first from 6 to 8 o'clock and the second from 8 to 10:30 o'clock.

Executive Committee Appoints 6 Officials to Function For Coming Year

I. G. Gordon Easter '04, of Philadelphia, was elected president of the Alumni association at a meeting of the Executive board of the organization in Old Main Saturday morning. He, as well as the other new officers, will serve for one year.

Mrs. Ethel C. Sparks '16, of Ruthersford, N. J., will act as vice president, along with H. W. Montz '07, of Wilkes-Barre, and Earl E. Hewitt '30, of Indiana. Dr. Ralph L. Watts '09, dean of the Agriculture school, was elected secretary, while Edward K. Hixson '09 will continue as executive secretary.

Council Elected Each Year

The Executive board also considered plans for Alumni Homecoming and activities for this year. Work of district alumni clubs and organization of clubs in those districts which now are unorganized also was discussed. The board meets on an average of four times a year to consider matters of general alumni interest.

Officers of the Alumni association serve also as officers of the Executive board. Members of the board are chosen each year by the Alumni Council, which is made up of representatives elected by the members of each alumni district. Council members also are elected for one-year terms.

CASHDOLLAR, MILLER REPORTED IMPROVING

Recover From Injuries Sustained In Automobile Accident

Howard L. Cashdollar '31 and Kenneth N. Miller '32 were reported as improving yesterday from injuries in an automobile accident in which Miss Helen F. Brooks and Robert M. Hipple '31 were killed near State College on July 29.

Cashdollar, who suffered a fractured skull, has been in serious condition for a long time and his improvement has been only recent. Miller sustained severe injuries and, like Cashdollar, did not regain consciousness for some time after the accident.

The occupants of the front seat, Miss Brooks and Hipple, were killed almost instantly. The former, a graduate of Wilson college, would have received her Master's degree while Hipple would have completed work for his Bachelor's degree in time for Summer Commencement.

Pittsburgh-bound passengers must use the local State College-Tyrone buses, boarding the new line at Tyrone. The buses will leave Co-op corner for Scranton at 4:03 p. m. and 3:53 a. m., while the Pittsburgh bus will leave at 2:41 p. m. and 2:56 a. m. Extra buses will be run on occasions when student demands exceed the ordinary amount.

President Hetzel Will Address College Convocation Tomorrow; Student Enrollment Nears 4700

1130 Freshmen Register During Regular Period

ATTENDANCE INCREASE GREATEST IN HISTORY

50 Matriculate at Mont Alto; Graduate School Shows Slight Advance

Resident students at the College will total 4,700 at the close of the regular registration in Recreation Hall this afternoon, according to a forecast by Registrar William S. Hoffman. This would be the largest number for any semester up to the present.

Surpassing last year's total by four, 1,130 first year students had registered up to 5 o'clock Friday, when the regular freshman registration ended. This number is exclusive of late registrants, who are expected to bring the freshman aggregate to 1,260.

Over fifty first year men were scheduled to matriculate at the Mont Alto forestry school yesterday. This number, which was expected to exceed last year's by at least five, is included in the estimated 1,260 grand total.

Changes Cause Tardiness

Special and transfer students register along with the three upper classes at regular registration. Mr. Hoffman stated. There is a smaller percentage of this type of students here than in perhaps any other college in the state, he said.

Omission of taking the photographs of registrants, as in former first semester registrations, is the only difference in the routine of registration this year, Mr. Hoffman stated.

Late registration by freshmen is explained on the basis of changes in curriculum and late acceptance by the College. As freshman schedules are made up by the College scheduling officer before the opening of Freshman Week, a change in curriculum necessitates complete revision of the schedule.

Graduate Students Increase

"Business conditions at the present time are favorable to large college enrollments," Registrar Hoffman said in confirming a recent statement by him which appeared in a Philadelphia newspaper. "When an unfavorable employment situation exists, persons turn to education. This is shown by the fact that 2,200 applied for admission to the Penn State freshman class this year, the highest number on record."

More students will enter the Graduate School this year than in any previous registration, according to Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, College examiner.

Graduate students will register in the office of the dean of the Graduate School rather than at the regular place of registration.

THEOLOGIAN GIVES CHAPEL ADDRESS

Van Dusen Asserts College Offers Students Historic Outlook, Controlling Purpose

That college gives a student a historic perspective, a personal perspective, and a controlling purpose was asserted by the Rev. Harry P. Van Dusen, associated professor of systematic theology and the philosophy of religion at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, before an audience composed almost entirely of freshmen in the Auditorium Sunday morning.

"The first essential of a general education is a historic perspective," the speaker said. "It is gained in college, a period of moral stability, and is acquired when studying historical subjects."

In discussing "What College Does To Us," the speaker explained that personal perspective is confidence in one's own inner self while a steady, dominating, controlling purpose may be defined as one's insight or interest in reform today.

COMPLETE INSPECTION TRIP

Juniors and seniors in the landscape architecture curriculum returned from an inspection trip in which they visited Philadelphia, Atlantic City, and points in Delaware and Maryland. Prof. John R. Bracken, of the horticulture department, accompanied the students on the tour.

DEAN ARTHUR R. WARNOCK

A. A. WILL EXCHANGE FOOTBALL COUPONS

Students May Receive Colgate, Pitt Tickets Following Game Saturday

The coupons attached to the athletic cards which students received at registration yesterday and today, may be exchanged for tickets to the University of Pittsburgh and Colgate games at any time after the beginning of the football season Saturday, Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, has announced.

Athletic cards for 1931-32 will not contain the student's picture as in the past two years. The graduate manager said that the picture did not prevent other students from using the card. The size and shape of the card have not been changed.

Seating Assignments Made

Tickets for the Temple, Syracuse, Lafayette, and West Virginia games will be on sale during the entire football season and may be purchased from the Athletic Association in Old Main during office hours. The athletic cards are only good for games on the campus.

The usual allotment of fraternity tickets has been set aside and drawn for these sections will be held after the opening of College Juniors and seniors will sit on the West side of New Beaver Field, while freshmen and sophomores will sit on the East side.

Influences Arising Here Constitute Topic For Speech

WARNOCK TO PRESIDE AT OPENING ASSEMBLY

Invocation by College Chaplain Opens Service—Blue Band Prepares Program

New forces moulding Penn State will be defined and examined by President Ralph D. Hetzel at an all-College convocation in Recreation Hall at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock will preside at the meeting. Prof. John S. Frizzell, acting College chaplain, will open the ceremonies with an invocation.

The president will devote part of his speech to an explanation of new influences which are shaping the future of the College. The passing of the five thousand mark in resident enrollment, the new athletic policy, the building of fifteen new units under a revised plan for physical plant, the expansion of the Graduate school to a major College concern, the new role of the alumnus in College affairs; all these topics will be discussed by the president.

The old traditions which may be held over into the future Penn State will be outlined by the speaker. Those thoughts and practices which must be discarded in the forward progress of the College will be brought to the audience's attention.

Blue Key To Usher

Penn State songs will ring through the beams of the big hall when Prof. Richard W. Grant, director of music, leads the entire assembled College in familiar music. The Blue Band, crack student musical organization, will make its first appearance of the coming year.

The freshman class, seated in the north balconies, will sing their class song accompanied by the newly organized freshman band. The convocation will end with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Arrangements have been made for the faculty to be seated facing the audience on the right side of the platform, while the Blue Band will be placed on the left side. Juniors and seniors are assigned to the seats on the main floor of the hall. The south balcony is reserved for the sophomore class.

Blue Key, junior campus society, will usher. This occasion is the only time throughout the semester at which the entire student body and faculty is gathered together as a unit. College officials believe that this convocation offers an outstanding opportunity for students to gain a true impression of the whole Penn State.

WPSC WILL BROADCAST HOME FOOTBALL GAMES

Chapel Services Included in Year's Expanded Radio Program

All varsity football games taking place at State College will be broadcast this year, officials of WPSC, College radio station, announced yesterday.

Descriptions of the Waynesburg, Lebanon Valley, and Dickinson games will start at 2:15 o'clock on the afternoons of the contests. Including accounts of pre-game activities, broadcasts of the Pittsburgh and Colgate encounters will begin at 1:45 o'clock.

Plans for this year's expanded radio service also include the broadcasting of College chapel services each Sunday. They will go on the air at 11 o'clock every Sunday morning.

FILLS NEW FACULTY POST

Dr. Raymond E. Murphy, formerly of the Wisconsin university, was recently appointed the College's first economic geographer. In this position, Dr. Murphy will make a survey of conditions in the state which is expected to be of great benefit to localities which are at present depending on a single industry or natural resource.
