

7 STUDENTS HERE WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Donovan Gains Barclay Award As McConnell Receives Rogers Memorial

In addition to more than 450 senatorial scholarships, equivalent to an exemption from the incidental fee of $50 a semester, seven awards have been granted recently to Penn State students.

George Donovan '35 received the Charles F. Barclay scholarship from Cameron county. This award is valid for four years and grants $85 annually. The George T. Rogers memorial scholarship was given to John McConnell '35 and brings $50 a year.

Five McAllister scholarships valid only in the freshman year and providing $60 a semester were awarded to incoming members of the class of 1935. These awards are assigned annually to the five counties of the State showing the highest ratio of students in attendance here to the population of the county.

Recipients of the McAllister scholarships were Grace C. Rohe, of Sullivan county, Mary Battin, of Wyoming county, Mary Freeman, of Center county, Philip J. Walter, of Pike county, and Rex Wright, of Fulton county.

Present retainers of the Barclay scholarships are Elmer R. Nordberg '32, Eugene P. Larson '33, and Theodore Rogers '34, while Collin E. Fink '32 is the sole possessor of a Detwiler memorial scholarship for $250.

42 MAIL COURSES OFFERED IN NEW COLLEGE CATALOG

Forty-two courses in agriculture and home economies are listed in the new catalog of correspondence courses released recently. Offered first in 1899, the correspondence courses have enrolled more than 42,000 students to date. Last year about 4,000 students submitted 13,000 reports on their studies.

Eight of the courses offered this year are in general agriculture, eight in animal industry, eight in horticulture, six in dairying, five in home economies, and seven in miscellaneous subjects, including bee-keeping, forestry, farm buildings, agricultural chemistry, farm management, and marketing.

ALLOWS GAMES FOR CHARITY NEBRASKA FOLLOWERS HAPPY

Big Ten conference football games for the benefit of charity were authorized for the first time in history yesterday at a meeting of faculty representatives and athletic directors of the Big Ten schools.

The University of Nebraska football followers are singing the praise of three sophomores and a senior around whom Coach Dana X. Bible, of the Cornhuskers, has built a triple threat machine.

ATTEND TRUSTEES MEETING

Prof. Pauline B. Mack, of the chemistry department, and J. Fred Osterling, studying here under a Pennsylvania Laundryowners' Association fellowship, are attending a meeting of the board of trustees of that organization at Harrisburg today.

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE ARRANGES CONFERENCES

Meetings Planned Include Fertility Conclave, Dairy Exposition

In view of the successful potato conference held here in June, which was attended by approximately five thousand Pennsylvania farmers, the School of Agriculture is arranging for two meetings of similar importance to be held at the College.

A dairy industries exposition is planned for next August when the new dairy husbandry building will be dedicated. Features of the affair will include exhibitions and addresses by prominent dairy scientists.

On the twenty-fifth anniversary of the College experimental orchards in the following year, the school will sponsor an orchard fertility conclave.

EDITOR TO GIVE JOURNALISM LECTURE COURSE THIS YEAR

Fred Fuller Sheeld, editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, will again give a lecture course in journalism this year. The course is intended as an introduction to the study of journalism for sophomores.

Mr. Sheeld will also join Prof. William F. Gibbons in teaching upper-classmen in an advanced course in the writing and interpretation of editorials.

CURRY WILL SPEAK HERE

Acting in conjunction with the borough churches, the Christian association will present a life work week in March, with Dr. A. Bruce Curry, of the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, as the principle speaker. In addition, a week will be devoted to the discussion of problems of human relations.

PLANS ALL-DAY FIELD TRIP

Prof. Chesleigh A. Bonine, head of the geology department, is planning a special all-day field trip which will be held under the auspices of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary mining fraternity, and the faculty on October 10. The trip will include the territory that students from Cornell, Princeton, Harvard, Ohio State, and West Virginia University cover every summer. The trip will be made by buses and at a nominal cost per person.

PENN STATE CONSIDERED FOR BENEFIT GRID TILT

Nittany Lions Mentioned as 1 of 11 Prospects for Chicago Game

Penn State is mentioned as one of eleven teams considered for invitations to participate in a benefit football game for the Illinois Department of Disabled Veterans of the World war at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, Saturday, November 21.

The invitation would be out of the question, however, as the Lions are scheduled to meet West Virginia at Morgantown, W. Va., in the last game of the season on that date. Carnegie Tech, which was another of the teams under consideration, has turned down the offer because they meet New York University on Thanksgiving, while Washington and Jefferson will be unable to play, as they are scheduled to meet Western Reserve on the twenty-first.

Other teams invited to participate include Ogdenhorpe, Princeton, Alabama, Cornell, Tennessee, Colorado, Utah, and Vanderbilt.

ATTEND COMMITTEE MEETING

Representing the Penn State Christian Association, Charles P. Smith '32, president, and Harry W. Seaman, association secretary, are attending an executive committee meeting of the Middle Atlantic Field Council held at Philadelphia today, tomorrow and Sunday.
