

Sidelines

When Harry Want-house, substitute fullback, replaced Tom Slusset at end late in the fourth quarter on Saturday afternoon, those spectators who are well acquainted with the personnel of the Blue and White eleven became acquainted with the condition of the shortage of ends.

Under the present system of holding collegiate boxing and wrestling meets, in the State, the privilege of collecting five percent of the gate receipts has been authorized by the attorney general of the Commonwealth.

In Pittsburgh last week at a meeting composed of representatives from Penn State, Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Wayneburg, and Duquesne, the officials informally decided to support a bill before the State legislature in an effort to remove the Commonwealth's control of the scholastic and collegiate end of wrestling and boxing.

Forty-two Penn State alumni are listed among the members of the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Football Officials, in the Spalding football guide for 1931. Of this group, probably the best known is Dexter W. Very, '23, of Pittsburgh.

Lehigh, Western Maryland, and Penn State have veteran soccer teams this fall. In fact, the lineup for each team is practically the same as last year. The Lion booters meet both of these veteran elevens during the 1931 season.

Renewing grid relations with Dickinson College after twenty-four years, the Lions will seek their twelfth victory in seventeen contests. In 1888, the first game, the Carlisle school tied the Lions, while all other games ended as shutout victories.

The military huddle may dominate the intermural football games this fall as some fraternities have begun practice already and are employing the new system that Coach Bob Higgins has instituted this year for the Lion varsity.

In the Stanford Daily, published by the students of Leland Stanford University, Captain Lasch gained a half-tone cut last week. Evidently Penn State has some admirers on the Pacific coast.

That Coach Bob Higgins has found a triple threat man for his varsity backfield is now a certainty. Judy Lasch has developed into a consistent punter, his kicks averaging 49 yards each on Saturday, he is a threat as a passer, and in addition he has shown his ability as a line plunger as well as an exceptional defensive fullback.

Lafayette has begun the task of pointing for Washington and Jefferson College gridmen when the Presidents' journey to Easton on October 21. Coach Herb McCracken's proteges have not turned back W. and J. since 1926.

Coach Jock Sutherland's reserves rolled up three touchdowns against Greasy Neale's West Virginia eleven at the Panther Stadium on Saturday afternoon. The best that the Blue and Gold varsity did in three quarters was a total of two touchdowns.

Gridmen Hold Heavy Temple Eleven, 12-0

Owl center, but his eighty yard chase proved useless. Opening the second half Coach Miller's eleven began their only offensive that ended with a touchdown. This march of sixty-five yards was completed when Bonner replaced the oval beyond the Lion goal line. Whitlock's second attempted dropkick was wide.

Begin Last Offensive

The play was between the thirty yard lines for the rest of the third period and most of the fourth, but the Owls finally got started and worked the ball, with the aid of a penalty because of interference with the catches of a punt, to the Lion fifteen yard line.

A forward pass caught the Lions off their guard after they had held through the line. With the oval on their own four-yard line and in Temple's possession the Blue and White linemen stopped the last Owl offensive less than six inches from the final chalk mark. Alertness on the part of the Nittany forwards, together with direction for the defense given by Captain Lasch were responsible for the gallant stand which drew the applause of the 20,000 in attendance.

"The State team deserves a world of credit," Lud Way, former coach at the University of Pennsylvania, said after the game, "for, led by Captain Lasch, they refused to quit and fought doggedly against a more experienced and far stronger opponent."

Our Opponents

Although a successful goal kick spelled defeat for Dickinson, the Carlisle gridmen revealed potential strength in holding Ursinus, conference champions, to a 7-to-6 score. The Bearcats found a stubborn defense greeting the same plays which upset Lehigh two weeks ago.

Syracuse Bill Orange surprised even his most enthusiastic followers by displaying a consistent and relentless drive against Ohio Wesleyan to emerge on the long end of a 48-to-7 tally. It looks like a battle of fullbacks when the Lions invade Archbold stadium a week from Saturday, for Dick Fasel, Hill fullback, was the star of the game, crossing the Bishops' line three times.

Pitt-West Virginia Two State opponents met on Saturday, and after the battle was over, there was no doubt left that the Panthers are the more formidable. Heller and Reider of the Blue and Gold backfield were the main cogs in rolling up the 31-to-0 score.

Lafayette-Colgate The Maroon of Colgate was triumphant over the Maroon of Lafayette Saturday, but the 16-to-0 score was far from the 41-to-0 rout of last year. The game revealed a sophomore star for the Easton school in the person of Irwin, who will probably be much in evidence against State on November 14. The Keitmen incidentally, have lost none of their cunning and deception, although their backfield has suffered through graduation.

NAMED PLEBE SOCCER HEAD Gordon C Wolf was elected captain of the freshman soccer team at a meeting of the first-year booters Thursday afternoon.

FALL PRACTICES TO AID CO-ED ARCHERY TEAMS

Will Instruct Women for Tournaments Next Spring—90 Try Out

Fall archery practice, beginning this week, will be held to instruct women for the spring tournaments, according to Miss Marie Haudt, director of women's athletics. Winners of the spring contests will be eligible to enter the Intercollegiate telegraphic tournament.

Ninety women have already enrolled in the eight sections which meet regularly twice a week on Holmes Field, and will receive instructions from M. Harnet Allen '34, archery manager. She is assisted by Mary M. Westrick '33, E. Elizabeth Rutledge '33, Dorothy M. Acker '34, Mary A. Fredericks '34, Frances S. Inman '34, Jane C. Laird '34, and Dorothy Ward '34. Instruction will be provided for those wishing to learn archery. Women who prove themselves capable will be given credit points by the W. A. A. Schedule lists are posted in McAllister hall lobby.

HARRIERS WILL SEEK SECOND CONSECUTIVE CHAMPIONSHIP

Nittany harriers will be seeking their second successive championship when they enter the Intercollegiate cross country run at Van Cortland Park, New York city, November 16. In winning the title last year the Lions had one of the lowest scores ever recorded in the Intercollegiate meet. The Blue and White runners have won the championship four times in the last five years.

TERROR BOOTERS EXHIBIT STRENGTH

2 Members Lost from Last Year's Formidable Club—12 Veterans Lack Coach's Training

As the opening soccer game with Western Maryland Saturday looms near, reports from the Green and Gold school show that they have lost but two members of last year's aggregation, which won all but three contests.

The Green Terrorers were defeated by only Navy, University of Pennsylvania, and the Nittany booters, while they scored victories over Franklin and Marshall, Blue Ridge College, Dickinson and Maryland State Normal School, the latter two schools having been defeated twice.

Up until early this month, the Western Maryland team has been greatly handicapped by the lack of a coach to supervise their training. The school is looking toward valuable material in the freshmen class, as soccer is the major sport in neighboring high schools.

Twelve seasoned men of last year's Terror squad have returned in the person of Capt. Herneck, N. Woolley, Townsend, Chandler, Noble, Etzler, Martin, Letich, Cross, George, Rouston, and Buzzard.

'35 BOOTERS TIE BOALSBURG

Two goals by Hallman, inside left on the freshman soccer eleven, enabled the yearlings to tie Boalsburg High School, 2-to-2, in a game played on the College field last Thursday.

SYRACUSE SELECTED FOR RING INTERCOLLEGIATES

Heavyweight Division Dropped from Tournament by Association

Syracuse was selected as the site for the 1932 Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing championships at a meeting of association representatives in Philadelphia last week.

The resignation of the Naval Academy was accepted and it was also decided to eliminate the heavyweight bout from the tourney. Seven classes, ranging from 125 to 175, will constitute the bouts this year.

With the withdrawal of the Navy the league will consist of Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Western Maryland, Massachusetts Tech and Penn State. Although Major Philip Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, attended the meeting as a guest, nothing definite was done to substantiate the rumor that Army would replace the Navy in the association.

NAMED HOCKEY MANAGERS

B. Anne McPherson '32, Doris E. Hazelton '33, and Janice Colt '34 were named class hockey managers at a meeting of the Women's Athletic Association in McAllister hall Saturday. Miss Marie Haudt, instructor in physical education, will choose the freshman manager later in the season.

1935 GRID PLAYERS DRILL FOR OPENER

Freshman Eleven To Encounter Dickinson Seminary Team Here on Saturday

With its opening game only four days away, the freshman football team is hard at work preparing to subdue the powerful offense of a strong Dickinson Seminary eleven.

Coach Conover has been holding almost daily practices until long after the big flood lights have been turned on, and he hopes to have the yearling eleven at its highest fighting pitch when the opening whistle blows Saturday. Hard work will probably continue through tomorrow's workouts, after which the team will begin the tapering off process for the important fray with the Williamsport gridmen.

The big problem at present is at center, a position for which the yearling mentor is grooming Woolbert, who shone in the backfield against the varsity. Douglas' injury has also left a vacancy in the backfield, although Hunter and Boring have been playing hard for this post.

Nemi, all-season guard from Monessen, has clinched this position with Conover's first-string aggregation, replacing Coskern, while Parks has taken Davis' position at tackle. Rodham and Fletcher are waging a battle for one of the end positions with the former in the lead at the present time. Allen is doing good work at the other terminal post.

Offensively, Sigel and Skemp are leading the backs. The Bellevue star is a fast ball-carrier, and his broken-field running makes him a constant scoring threat.

Coach's Soccer Skill Attested in Article

Mute evidence of Coach Bill Jeffrey's long career of soccer playing is found in the Leith Observer, Edinburgh, Scotland, of June 16, 1906, which tells how Coach Jeffrey started in cup competition the previous day.

The article states "The final tie in the competition for Leith Schools' Cup was played at Hibernian Park Easter Road, last night, the finalists being Lochend Road School and Victoria School, Newhaven. The latter won by three goals to nil, the scorers being Jeffrey (2) and Stenton. . . the ceremony of presenting the cup was carried through amid scenes of unbounded enthusiasm. The victorious team ascended the stand—their appearance being signalled by a few bars of "See the Conquering Hero" from the Newhaven Silver Band, which was in attendance. . ."
