LIONS DEPART FOR ENGAGEMENT WITH SYRACUSE ELEVEN

Bob Higgins To Revamp Lineup Of Nittany Team Against Orange Gridders

VIC HANSON WILL START VETERAN COMBINATION

Hillmen Held Favorites in Tenth Meeting—Low Scores Rule Previous Contests

In an attempt to gain a winning stride, Lion gridmen will entrain early this morning to engage a veteran Syracuse eleven in Archbold Stadium at 2 30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon

Unable to put his full strength against Coach Vic Hanson's high scoring Orangemen, Coach Bob Higgins will present a revamped lineup in an effort to continue the low scoring tradition that has characterized Penn State-Syracuse grid battles for the last nine years.

Only eighty points have been amassed between the two institutions since football relations were begun in 1922. The Orange have scored fifty-three points, while the Lions have gained twenty-seven. Never have the New Yorkers acquired more than ten points in any one game. The Nittany eleven have scored nine points for their highest single tally against the Orange.

Close Game Expected Despite the odds favoring the Orange again this year, the Lion mentor believes that his eleven will duplicate last year's showing on the basis of their team play which has shown itself already this season. He anticipates a close and hard fought battle.

Since the Dickinson setback Coach Higgins has been driving his men in an effort to surprise the Salt City gridders. The Lion mentor has scrambled his squad twice during the week in order to remove some of the tough spots that were evident Saturday.

Because of injuries to his players the Nittany coach has experimented considerably about a starting lineup

BALTIMORE RABBI TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Morris Lazaron Will Discuss Work Of Religion in Society at Chapel Services

Rabbi Morris S Lazaron, of the Baltimore Hebrew congregation, of Baltimore, Md., will be the Sunday morning chapel speaker in the Auditorium. Although he has selected no definite topic, the Rabbi intends to treat the work of religion in modern society.

Educated in the public schools of Savannah, Ga., the University of Cincinnati, and the Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio, the speaker was ordained in 1916. At this time he received his first pulpit at Wheeling, W. Va., leaving it in 1915 to take up his present charge.

During the World War he served for a time with the Jewish Welfare board, directing the work at Camp Merritt, N. J. Commissioned as a chaplain in the regular army, he was one of the four that officiated at the burial of the Unknown Soldier, at which he represented the Jewish people.

Rabbi Lazaron has been a regular chapel speaker at the College since his first appearance in 1924. He addressed chapel-goers last April, but his 1930 visit was cancelled because of a festive celebration in his church.

Collegian Calls New Editorial Aspirants

Sophomores wishing to do editorial work on the COLLEGIAN and who have not already reported should be present at a meeting of all candidates in Room 311 Old Main at 7 o'clock Sunday night. Reporting work and headline writing will begin immediately for all new candidates. Sophomores will compete for positions on the Junior Editorial Board, elections for which are held in March.

WILL SEND Orangemen Against Lions Tomorrow.

COLLEGE INSTALLS RADIO EQUIPMENT

WPSOC Receives Apparatus for Transmitting Recorded Victrola Music

New apparatus for transmission of recorded music was installed in the studio room of WPSOC, College radio station, on Wednesday.

The equipment represents the latest developments in the field of radio and makes use also of devices perfected in the Engineering School laboratories under the direction of Gilbert L. Crossley, instructor in radio engineering.

When used to broadcast recorded phonograph records Wednesday afternoon, the new apparatus brought greater sound reality, Herbert Koeppe, director of the programs, said. It will be valuable in presentation of recorded symphonies, he added.

A private collection of records of symphonies and operas has been made available for broadcasting by Dr. Oswald P. Boucke, professor of economics. The collection includes one hundred sets of the works of great composers, and is probably the most extensive in the state, according to Director Baker.

A new feature of the extended radio program will be the presentation of complete compositions of noted musicians during the 4 o'clock broadcasts on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. WPSOC now goes on the air fifteen hours each week.

As part of the educational series, Dean Charles W. Steadman of the Liberal Arts School will speak on "College Radio and Culture" this afternoon. The series was opened Monday by a talk on "College Radio as a Service to Alumni," given by Prof. J. Orvis Keller of the engineering extension department. Dean Will Grant Chambers of the Education School discussed "College Radio and American Education" on Wednesday.

5 DISTRICT ENGINEERING SCHOOLS BEGIN CLASSES

Offer Mechanical, Civil, Electrical, Aeronautical, Textile Courses

With a faculty of forty-three, five branch schools of the engineering extension department have reopened. Courses are being offered in aeronautical, civil, electrical, industrial, mechanical, and textile engineering.

The five classes where the schools are located are Allentown, Erie, Reading, Scranton, and Wilkes-Barre. Special classes of ten or more students have been organized in Altoona, Boyertown, Chester, Clarion, Coity, Erie, Greensburg, Harrisburg, Jeannette, New Castle, and Philadelphia.

Prof. J. Orvis Keller, head of the engineering extension department, reports that, although registration in several of the main branch schools has fallen off a little this year, more have enrolled in the special courses than ever before.

7 STATES WILL PARTICIPATE IN AGRICULTURAL CONCLAVE

Representatives of seven states will assemble here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, when the School of Agriculture sponsors the Regional Agricultural Outlook Conference of the Appalachian States.

P.S.C.A. CAMPAIGN MAY REACH QUOTA OF $3500 TONIGHT

Division Leaders Report $1700 Wednesday in Annual Financial Drive

'KICK-OFF' DINNER OPENS CAMPAIGN MONDAY NIGHT

Most Students To Pay Pledges With Registration Fees For Second Term

With division leaders reporting $1,700 Wednesday night, Clarence E. Christian '32, chairman of the financial committee, said, that in all probability the annual financial campaign of the Penn State Christian association would reach its goal of $3,500 by tonight.

The financial drive officially opened with the "kick-off" dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn Monday night at which time ninety-nine division leaders and captains pledged over $300. Tuesday night division leaders reported additional pledges of $800, an amount slightly lower than that reported at the same time last year.

May Select Prospects "The pledges may be paid in cash or charged to the second semester student fees," Christian said. "A subscription of $3.00 entitles the subscriber to a membership card which is good in all Y. M. C. A.'s, while a pledge of less than $3.00 is good only in the local Christian association."

Student contributors may check the project which they wish to support with their pledge. These projects do not include the salaries of the secretaries. Among the projects listed are the Andy Lytle cabin, an employment bureau, speakers, fireside sessions, discussion groups and a library.

To Solicit Faculty, Active solicitation in the financial canvass will conclude tonight and it is expected that at that time the goal will have been reached. Captains headed by thirty-five division leaders have conducted a room-by-room canvass of the student body for three days, visiting fraternities, dormitories, and rooming houses.

The annual drive among the faculty for $900 will begin next week, Harry W. Seamans, secretary of the Penn State Christian association, announced.

WOMEN WILL GIVE FUNCTION SUNDAY

Co-ed Organizations To Sponsor Tea In Second Floor Lounge Of Old Main

Women students and faculty members will be entertained at tea from 3 until 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the second floor lounge of Old Main by the W. S. G. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the W. A. A.

Receiving the guests will be Miss Ralph Dr. Hetzel, Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, Mrs. Harry W. Seamans, Miss Marie Handt, directors of physical education, and Miss J. Ellen Burkholder, assistant dean of women.

Elizabeth C. Bell '32, president of the W. S. G. A., Elizabeth Everett '32, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Marie E. McMahon '32, president of the W. A. A., will also receive the guests. Harriet R. Henne, president of the junior class, will introduce the guests to the evening line, while members of Archonua and Owens will serve.

The presidents of the four women's classes, M. Lydia Hallett '32, Miss Henrie, Virginia B. Springer '34, and Martha Brung '35, will preside at the tea tables. Musical entertainment in which Miss Marion Kerr of the music department, Majorie W. Fisher '32, Hazel P. Neuffer '33, and Eva M. Blechfeld '31 will take part, has been arranged by Dorothy W. Cummings '32, chairman of the music committee. Other committee chairmen include Miriam E. Gauge '32, in charge of food, and Marion P. Howell '33, publicity head.

ARCHITECT VISITS COLLEGE

On a tour of the leading architectural schools of the country, Mr. Charles C. Zantzeig, chairman of the American Institute of Architects, inspected the department of architecture Tuesday.

Bulletins Will Trace Syracuse Grid Game

A fifty-word summary of each quarter of the Penn State-Syracuse football game will be posted during the course of the game in front of Graham and Sons store on Allen street through the courtesy of the COLLEGIAN.

The progress of the game will be traced through four dispatches from the Archbold stadium, one at the close of each quarter. As soon as the bulletins are received by the COLLEGIAN, they will be made available to the public. No telephone or radio accounts of the game, which will start at 2 30 o'clock, will be sent out.

TROUPE TO ENACT 2 SHAKESPEAREAN PLAYS TOMORROW

Ben Greel's Actors Dramatize 'Comedy of Errors' for 3 O'clock Matinee

WILL PRESENT 'HAMLET' AT NIGHT APPEARANCE

English Company on Tour Gives 17th Century Atmosphere By Special Scenery

Enacting Shakespeare's plays in the fashion of his time, the English Players of Sir Philip Ben Greel will perform in Schwab auditorium tomorrow afternoon and night.

Coming here under the auspices of the Penn State Players, the company will stage "The Comedy of Errors" at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. At 8 o'clock the same night they will dramatize the first quarto of "Hamlet."

That version, reputed to be the first one written by the author, is only half the length of the second quarto which sometimes extends for five hours. Although none of the actual drama is omitted, the writing is more direct and to the point and the action is faster.

Has Acted for 50 Years Ben Greel's Players are a well-known company of English actors who present the Shakespearean plays in the simple manner of the early seventeenth century. The simplicity of the scenery is based on the theory that the stage should stimulate and inspire rather than relieve the imagination. Contrary to the custom of the cast of a typical Shakespearean play, several women will perform in the productions here. From twelve to fifteen members comprise the company.

For fifty years Ben Greel has been presenting Shakespeare and the classics and during that period he has made numerous tours through the United States and England. His last appearance before a Penn State audience was in 1917. In recognition of his work in the cause of dramatics, he was knighted by King George V.

Greel Will Enact Polonius Russell Thorndike will take the lead role in "Hamlet" while Ben Greel will enact the part of Polonius. Rex Walters will probably appear as Horatio and Enid Clark in the role of Ophelia.

Commenting on a recent production of the company, J. Brooks Altkorn, critic for the New York Times, said "Mr. Greel's style of producing brings Shakespeare very close. He has shaken his actors in the forgotten art of speaking words."

HETZEL'S APPOINTMENT LAUDED BY NEWSPAPER

Governor's Choice for Commission Head Praised in Editorial

Lauding the choice of President Ralph D. Hetzel as chairman of the Greater Pennsylvania Commission, an editorial in Monday night's Harrisburg Telegraph says that the appointment "not only takes to the position a thoroughly capable man, but once was in England. His last educational institution closely with a body that must of necessity be educational."

The editorial, which is entitled "A Popular Choice," continues, "If the Council under Dr. Hetzel's guidance shall be as successful as Penn State has been under his leadership, it will be all the Governor and its executive secretary, Dr. Charles Rettell, are hoping it will be the great opportunity for public service of the commission. The comment urges that the work be hastened in order to show definite results before the next regular session of the legislature."

I. F. C. PRESIDENT REPORTS NO RUSHING CODE VIOLATIONS

No violations of the rushing code were reported to the last meeting of the Interfraternity Council, according to Francis L. Mathews '32, president of the Council.

"This record speaks very well for the present rushing code," said Mathews, "and although certain changes are undoubtedly necessary, the code will probably retain its present form."

Stunt Night Rites Undergo Revision By Student Board

Freshmen Will Entertain Upperclassmen Next Friday Night With Acts—May Offer Individual Performances

Ring down the curtain on the old days of paddle swinging, bone breaking, and molasses slinging, freshmen will entertain upperclassmen at Stunt Night next Friday under an entirely new plan, approved by the Student Board Tuesday afternoon.

Although definite plans have not been decided upon as to how the individual performances are to be assigned, it is probable that various groups, fraternity and non-fraternity, will be called upon to arrange acts. Each act will take place on a stage in the center of the main floor of Recreation hall, viewed from above by upperclassmen.

FINANCIAL REPORT REVEALS BALANCE

Auditing of Interclass Budget Shows $45,673 Received, $39,005 Expended

With receipts of $45,673 for 1930-1931, the Interclass Budget financial statement recently audited shows expenditures of $39,005 on the same year.

Senior Ball having receipts of $1,720 last year was the only dance which did not pay for itself, recording expenditures of $2,518. Junior Prom and Soph Hop had respectively receipts of $5,887 and $3,870 while their expenses were $5,841 and $3,605.

Senior Class Richest The balance of the entire system, including balances from the classes of 1930 and 1931, totals $20,770. The present senior class is recorded as the richest with a balance of $8,453. The class of 1931 follows with $7,004 and that of 1931 with $3,569.

Approximately $25,000 was received in all the classes as dues to form the principal source of income. The 1931 class with expenditures of $12,117 was the greatest source of expense. It was financed from class dues with the exception of $1,275 which were recorded as its receipts.

Expenditures for class sports totaled $1,900 and for band, $1,461. Pajama parade damages amounted to $116.51 according to the statement.

QUARTET TO TAKE PART AT CONCERT

1923 Group Will Appear in Concert For Student Loans Next Saturday Night

The Varsity Quartet of 1923, one of the outstanding vocal groups Penn State has had, will appear at the student loan benefit concert to be presented by combined glee clubs of the past ten years next Saturday night in Recreation hall.

Director Richard W. Grant of the department of music received word yesterday that each one of the four members will be present for the concert. The quartet consists of Clifford Finley '21 of Dayton, Ohio, first tenor, M. Donald Bauer '24 of Philadelphia, second tenor, P. U. Moore '23 of Drexel Hill, baritone, and Earnest Hill '23 of Berwick, bass.

In addition to the 1923 group, the successful quartet of last year will give renditions of popular numbers. The feature event of the night will be the singing of several numbers by the combined glee clubs. James A. Lynden '31, composer of "Victory" and the "Nittany Lion," will direct his songs in person.

The entire proceeds of the concert will be turned over to the student loan fund. With increased requests for aid because of the depression, the fund has become badly depleted, and, unless it is bolstered by the proceeds of the concert, many upperclassmen who need temporary help will be forced to leave school.

In order that the alumni may be on time for the annual elder party in the Armory that night, the musicale will begin at 7 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale all next week at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

CLUB NAMES DRUCKMAN HEAD

RADIO STATION ISSUES CALL FOR APPRENTICES

Amateur License, Passing of Test Stipulated as Prerequisites

Student interested in radio may obtain positions on the staff of WPSOC, College broadcasting station, by serving a two-year apprenticeship, Gilbert L. Crossley, instructor in radio engineering, has announced.

Requirements for the radio-minded applicants include possession of a first class amateur operator's license and the successful passing of a test to be given by the WPSOC staff. Applicants must submit their experience and license grade to Mr. Crossley by letter before Wednesday.

DR HASEK PRESENTS PAPER AT REAL ESTATE MEETING

Dr. Carl W. Hasek, head of the department of economics and sociology, presented a paper on the "Economic Background of Real Estate Practice" before members of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association at Skytop Lodge in the Poconos, Wednesday, Tuesday afternoon.

Having returned to Scranton the day before, Dr. Hasek addressed a Presbyterian Church supper group on the present economic situation Tuesday night.
