

Gridmen Face Powerful Maroon Foe as Booters Play at Bethlehem

Sidelines

Coach Bob Higgins has never lost to a Lafayette football team either as a player or as coach. In 1914, 1915, and 1916 the present Lion mentor, then an undergraduate, played for an eleven that smothered the Leopards by such scores as 17-to-0, 37-to-0, and 10-to-0. Last year, in his first season as coach at his Alma Mater, Higgins' machine was held to a 0-to-0 deadlock at Easton.

In the thirteen grid contests with Lafayette, Penn State has won nine games to three for the Leopards, while last year's scoreless tie was the only one of its kind between the two institutions.

Lafayette will engage Lehigh University next week and the following Saturday, November 28, Penn State is scheduled to meet the Bethlehem eleven at Franklin field in Philadelphia in a benefit game. Dopesters will have an opportunity for making a close prediction concerning the outcome of the charity game by observing the Maroon machine tomorrow and next week.

Jerry Miller of Wilkes-Barre, aspiring sophomore back for the Lafayette Leopards, is still an infant in arms in the gridiron firmament. He is playing his third year of organized football.

"We'll win them all," said Dr. Clifford Carlson, coach of Pitt's basketball team, as he looked over the 32-game schedule for his Panther contingent at the Stadium pavilion Monday afternoon, when he began intensive practice for the opening game with Temple on December 12. It's interesting to note, however, that this is Carlson's usual prediction.

For the second consecutive week Lion gridmen will engage a Maroon eleven. Andy Kerr's, Colgate Maroon machine journeyed to State College on Saturday and tomorrow the Lions face Herb McCracken's Lafayette Maroon team at Easton.

When Nate Cartmell sends his halibuts into the Intercollegiate at Van Cortlandt Park on Monday afternoon, he will send a team to retain the record established last year by the Lion hill and dales. The score of twenty-nine registered last fall was the lowest team total recorded since 1912, when Cornell scored an eighteen.

Ken England, a sophomore runner who placed sixth in the freshman cross-country intercollegiate last year in which the Lion plebes gained seventh position, is an added threat for Coach Cartmell's hill and dales at the Intercollegiate on Monday.

In the annual Manhattan run at Van Cortlandt Park course, George H. Baker, a junior at N. Y. U., broke the 6-mile course record with a time of 29:15, just twenty-one seconds faster than the previous record. Chamberlain, last year's intercollegiate champion, negotiated the 6-mile course in 30:19.

Fred Kane and Doc Conn, regular guard and quarterback respectively on Coach Bob Higgins' grid machine, will omit the trip to Easton in order to give their injuries a chance to mend for the West Virginia game next week.

Penn State will seek its fifth cross-country title in six years in the Intercollegiate at Van Cortlandt Park course on Monday. The Lion runners held the title in 1926, 1927, and 1928, but lost to Penn's halibuts in 1929 only to regain the title again in 1930.

Murray Meiselman, right halfback on last year's soccer team, is now attending Glasgow University, Glasgow, Scotland, as a medical student and is playing with a Glasgow soccer team.

Commenting on a statement made in The Spectator, daily student publication at Columbia University, that college athletics are semi-professional, Chuck Voohees, columnist for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, pointed to the athletic policies of Penn State and Lehigh as fallacies in the Columbia supposition.

LIONS DEPART FOR LAFAYETTE TODAY

Victory over McCracken's charges two weeks ago. Aside from these two defeats the Maroon eleven has managed to keep its goal line unbreached. With a total of 143 points against their opponents' 19, the Leopards are one of the eight ranking teams in the country from a defensive viewpoint. The six teams which played against Lafayette this year have managed to score an average of slightly more than three points each.

Vanderbush Will Not Start

Captain Walter Vanderbush of Dover, N. J., has not taken his right tackle assignment in any games played thus far by the Maroon eleven because of the recurrence of an old leg injury. Vanderbush asked to renounce his captaincy, but his teammates refused to accept the resignation.

Coach McCracken, a former Pitt backfield star, intends to start the same lineup that took the field and defeated Rutgers by a 22-to-0 score on Saturday. Of this group, seven senior lettermen faced the Lions last year, while the other four are ambitious sophomores.

At the ends McCracken will start two seniors, Wainwright and Sullivan, a former halfback Cook, who kicked the Lafayette field goal in the 1929 clash on New Beaver field, will start at left tackle. His running mate will be Ambrose, a sophomore. The guards on either side of Center Reuter, a senior, will be the veteran Ed- and a sophomore named Haas. Quarterback Marsh and Halfback Wilcox will hold down the positions they have kept for the past two seasons tomorrow and two sophomores, Wright and Fox, are destined to fill the other halfback post and the line plunging task.

The Lion party departing this morning will include Brewster, Slusser, Grimshaw, Rosenboig, and McCracken, ends, McMillen, Stempeck, Berry, Sheldis, and Cole, tackles, Curry, Hesch, Bedoski, and Wall, guards, Anderson and Zawacki, centers, Snyder, Macnelly, and Thomas, quarterbacks, Collins, Moonves, Harner, Long, and Lantz, halfbacks; Captain Lasich, Wanthouse, and Kohut, fullbacks. Coaches Higgins and Bedenk along with Manager Jack Page and first assistant managers Malley, Rinehmet, and Stern will complete the group.

COLLEGE GYMNASIUM TEAM STARTS REGULAR PRACTICE

A squad of about thirty-five men, two-thirds newcomers, is practicing twice weekly for the College gymnasium team under the direction of Coach John Rammenet.

Although no schedule has been decided upon, the squad will continue practices as at present until the end of the month, when the group is to be cut down, and practice held regularly every night.

Runners To Compete in All-College Contest On New Beaver Field

Cindermen will compete tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in an All-College track meet on New Beaver Field.

The runners will contend in the 100, 220 and 410-yard dashes in addition to the half and mile runs. Competition will also be held for the four undergraduate classes in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles.

This will be the last meet held on the cinder track this fall. During the winter the varsity and freshman track candidates will workout on the one-eighth of a mile wooden track which will be set up early next month. Points scored in the meet tomorrow will not count towards numerical awards.

BOLTON WINS CO-ED TOURNEY

Winning the freshman women's tennis tournament, Dorothy Bolton defeated Margaret W. Kinloch by a 6-2, 6-2 score in the finals played on Thursday on the Women's building courts. In the semi-finals of the tourney, Kinloch won from Katherine M. Goiman, while Mildred L. Rupp forfeited to Bolton.

Bedenk Answers 'Babe's' Praise of Sandloters in Organized Baseball

Answering Babe Ruth's assertion in metropolitan newspapers recently that professional baseball must depend on sandlot players almost exclusively for its future stars, Coach Joe Bedenk of Penn State's Triangular Association champion baseball nine predicted yesterday that the usual number of college-trained players will find their way to the organized pastime.

"More and more, big league managers are learning that the college-trained baseball player is more brawny and keeps himself in better condition than the average professional athlete," the Nittany mentor declared. "For that reason, they are glad to have him on their teams, and he will continue to play on them in at least as large numbers as in the past."

Coach Bedenk pointed out that Ruth's declaration that college men no longer were interested in baseball because of the emphasis on football was true only of college men in general, because those who actually play the game are just as interested in it as football players are in the gridiron sport. He said that the players on the College nine are an effective proof of this statement.

"It is true that the college player has the disadvantage of being forced to discontinue his season just when he is rounding into his best form, while the sandlot player can be in the game from April to October," Coach Bedenk conceded. "For this reason, the semi-professional can make contacts and receive opportunities which aid him considerably. However, I am convinced the college graduate will more than hold his own."

LION SOCCERMEN TO MEET LEHIGH

Undeclared Nittany Aggregation Will Encounter Weaker Steel City Team

An undeclared Nittany soccer team under the tutelage of Coach Bill Jeffrey will meet an inferior Lehigh eleven at Bethlehem tomorrow afternoon.

Fifteen members of the Lion squad will leave State College at 10 o'clock this morning for the Steel City where they will engage the Brown and White booters at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow.

The encounter will hardly prove close because Coach Harry Carpenter's team has lost three out of four league games this year. The Lehigh soccer men were victims to Haverford by 4-to-1 on October 3 and to Penn by 5-to-4 the following week, while the Swarthmore aggregation defeated them two weeks ago at Bethlehem by 1-to-0.

Lehigh Downs Princeton The single league victory was quite impressive when they won over the mighty Princeton booters by 2-to-0 Saturday. The Brown and White squad, however, registered victories in non-league games with St. John's College by 3-to-2 and with Delaware by 7-to-0 earlier in the season.

The center forward position will

1932 Owl Grid Card Lists Lions Nov. 12

Penn State's 1932 football team will meet Temple at Philadelphia November 12 next year, according to the announcement of a tentative Owl schedule in Philadelphia newspapers Wednesday.

The game will come next to last on both teams' schedules, the Lions resuming their Thanksgiving series with the Panthers at the Pitt stadium for their final tilt and Temple planning to conclude its 1932 schedule against Villanova on either November 19 or Thanksgiving. The Penn State-Pitt Turkey Day game was announced some time ago by officials of the latter institution.
