I.F.C. Sponsors Fraternity Conference for Discussion

National Executives Will Address Sessions of Organizations Here in February

A conference of Penn State fraternities, featuring talks by men prominent in the administrative work of national organizations, will be held here in February, Francis L. Mathews '32, president of Interfraternity Council has announced.

This will be the third time that Penn State has been host to officers of national fraternities. The last conference was held here in February, 1930, when the main topic of discussion was "Hell Week." The purpose of the conference is to provide an opportunity for fraternities to discuss their individual problems with national authorities.

Authorities To Speak Paul W. Henderson '32 has been named general chairman of the committee arranging for the conference. Individual groups meeting in various fraternity houses will discuss problems relating to caterers, chapter presidents, chapter treasurers, and scholarship chairmen. In addition, the entire group will probably assemble for a mass meeting.

The individual groups will be addressed by speakers who have specialized in their particular phases of fraternity problems. Local groups as well as the national organizations will cooperate in sponsoring this conference.

Officials To Lead Groups Although fraternity executives have not yet definitely accepted invitations to attend the conference, many of the national Greek letter leaders who spoke at the last convention are expected to return. Among the principal delegates who attended the last conference were Samuel W. McGinness, representing Theta Upsilon Omega, and Harold P. Flint, executive secretary of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

In addition to fraternity executives, a number of discussion groups were led by prominent members of the faculty. Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, President of the College, and Arthur R. Wainock, Dean of Men, will welcome the delegates to the conference.

Invitations to attend the conference have been extended to Dr. Joseph C. Nats, former national president of Sigma Chi, Dr. Francis Shepherson, national president of Beta Theta Pi, and other fraternity officials. A representative of the National Interfraternity Council probably will speak here.

David E. Hayllar '32 and Reginald R. Kearton '32 will assist Henderson in formulating preliminary arrangements for the conference. The committee will arrange for informal lunches to be served at fraternity houses and, if the system used at the last conference is followed, a banquet for the entire group will probably be held. Two years ago this banquet was held Friday night and officially opened the two-day conference.

DEAN AT OBERLIN TALKS IN CHAPEL

Dr. Graham, Director of Theology Graduate School, Criticizes Man's Materialism

"The man who does things merely for the material rewards will find himself in constant trouble," declared Dr. Thomas W. Graham, Dean of the Graduate School of Theology, Oberlin College, at the Sunday morning chapel services in Schwab auditorium.

Speaking on "The Parable," Dr. Graham told of a person who had attempted to quell human strife and sufferings, but was unsuccessful because no one would listen to his teachings.

Believing that education was something that prepared one for life and that individualized each student, this same person to whom the speaker referred, was surprised to find on investigation that college men and women were even more standardized than an average group of people. Dr. Graham explained this by saying that at schools and colleges of today are guilty of merely teaching people what to think instead of teaching them how to think.

"The universe is built on friendliness and cooperation," Dr. Graham said. He concluded by saying, "The greatest life is love—love never fails."

QUEER CONTRIBUTES ARTICLE

The November issue of the Heating, Piping and Air Conditioning Magazine, contains an article by Elmer R. Queer, of the engineering experiment station, on the use of metallic sheets as heat insulators.

LIBRARY MAKES 3 SYSTEM CHANGES

Officials Will Assess Fines on Students Keeping Reserve Books Over 2 Hours

Three changes in the routine at the Carnegie library were announced recently. Reserve books may be taken out of the library for two-hour periods only, beginning immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays; a schedule of hours during which the library will be open over this week-end and during Christmas vacation was announced; and a new service to give information on debates was instituted.

Books now on reserve will be given out from a new desk in the basement, where a time stamp is to be placed on the book when withdrawn. If the book is not returned within the two-hour limit, a fine of fifty cents for the first hour and ten cents for each additional hour overtime will be imposed on the borrower.

Change Reference Room During the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, the library will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon on week-days, and from 9 o'clock to noon on Saturdays. Books due for return during the period of Christmas vacation are to be automatically renewed, according to a recent statement of Willard P. Lewis, College librarian.

Over the week-end, current newspapers are to be placed at a special desk in the basement. The room now occupied by the papers is to contain all the books now located in the reference room.

Before the Fries-Page debate last week, the library put on display pamphlets, magazines and references bearing on the "Preparedness" question. This service is to be continued for all future debates held at the College.

CO-ED VARSITY QUARTET NAMED BY WILLIAMMEE

Bowman '32, Wiest '32, Moyer '31, Christine '31 Appointed

The women's Varsity quartet as announced by Miss Willa Williammee, of the music department, following the tryouts last week, includes two of last year's members.

Muriel E. Bowman '32 was chosen as first soprano and Grace L. Moyer '34 as second soprano. Frances Christine '34 was selected as first alto and Louise O. Wiest '32 as second alto. Miss Wiest has been a member of the quartet for the past three years, while Miss Christine was selected as first alto last year.

The quartet will sing with the women's glee club when they present their first concert in the series of Sunday afternoon programs arranged by the music department. Miss Maryanne J. Kerr, of the music department, will accompany the quartet.

OUTING CLUB PLANS SERIES OF NATURE STUDY LECTURES

Plans for a series of indoor meetings, at which the club will be addressed by authorities on nature study and other phases of outdoor life, were outlined at a meeting of the Outing club Tuesday night. A program of recreational activities for the winter was also laid out.

Twenty-five members attended the first meeting of the organization, and ten new members were accepted. The next meeting will be held next Tuesday, when other students wishing to join will be received.

RAILWAY HEAD TO LECTURE

The engineering lecture December 11 will be given by J. M. Fitzgerald, vice-chairman of the Committee on Public Relations of the Eastern Railroads, Eastern President's conference. Mr. Fitzgerald has selected as his subject "The Backbone of Transportation."

Okeson Asks Support For Lehigh Grid Tilt

"Lehigh and Penn State," according to a letter received yesterday by the editor of the COLLEGIAN from Walter R. Okeson, of the Eastern Association for Selection of Football Officials, "lead off in this section of the country, playing the first of a series of games for unemployment. If this game is a success, it will have a very fine effect on those which follow."

"It is a great opportunity," the letter continued, "for the undergraduates at State and Lehigh to lead the way and show by their united action that these games have unlimited possibilities in providing relief for the millions of our fellow citizens who are facing a winter of dire distress."

PLAYERS CAST FOR SHOW IN FEBRUARY

Will Produce 'Holiday' by Barry As Second Play—Vincent, Meek To Appear

With the casting of all of the principal characters completed, work on "Holiday," a comedy by Philip Barry to be given by the Penn State Players on February 16, is well under way, according to Frank S. Neusbaum, of the department of English composition, and director of the play.

Barbara Vincent '33 is cast in the leading feminine role, playing the part of Linda Seton, while Peter G. Meek '32 will enact the part of Johnny Case, the leading male character. Both have appeared in previous productions of the Players, although Miss Vincent will be seen in her first major role.

Make First Appearance Supporting Miss Vincent will be Lilla A. Kell '33 as Julia Seton, Sylvia M. Mullin '32 as Laura Cram; and May T. Baer '35 as Susan Potter.

Reginald R. Kearton '32 as Edward Seton, Robert C. Ayres '32 as Ned Seton; William G. Carr '35 in the role of Seton Cram; and James S. Norris '32 as Nick Potter, complete the list of main characters.

Miss Baer and Carr will be making their first appearances before a Penn State audience. Ayres and Norris will be seen for the first time in a Players production, although both have taken part in Thespian shows. Ayres will act as assistant director.

More than 900 people attended the open debate between Major General Amos A. Fries, militarist, and Kirby Page, pacifist, in Schwab auditorium Thursday night, an unofficial estimate by Aaron Druckman '33, president of the Social Problems club.

Druckman said that the success of the project insures the scheduling of similar events later in the year. While present plans are vague, he indicated that another debate between two nationally known figures might take place in March.

Kirby Page Believes League Will End Manchurian Strife

Pacifist Author Foresees Diplomatic Pressure To Bring About Compromise

"The League of Nations will prove its worth by settling the Manchurian dispute," Kirby Page, who debated on the question of armed preparedness here Thursday night, said in an interview to the COLLEGIAN.

That the League will bring China and Japan to peace through diplomatic pressure was the opinion of the editor and pacifist. Some sort of compromise will be effected so that each country will get a portion of Manchuria, in Mr. Page's opinion.

"Both China and Japan think they are in the right," the speaker said. "Both are acting on the same theory. It is just as if the United States were to send an army into Nicaragua to protect American citizens there."

Turning to the coming Disarmament Conference, Mr. Page said that the outcome was too problematical to be judged at present. He favors the greatest possible arms reduction that can be agreed upon.

CARL ROLLE GAINS JOHN WHITE PRIZE FOR SCHOLARSHIP

15 Awards to Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores Approved by Senate Thursday

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES CARNEGIE AID WINNERS

Pepple, Josephson, Sommerville, Bell Named Recipients of Financial Grants

Carl Rolle received the senior John W. White scholarship and fifteen other student awards were approved at a Senate meeting Thursday night, following selection by a committee on academic standards and approval of the President.

Four senior Louise Carnegie awards were given to Elizabeth C. Bell, Lavanda N. Pepple, Horace R. Josephson, and James L. Sommerville. Emma E. Rutledge was the recipient of the junior White prize, while Milton F. Baldinger, Leon R. Cook, Andrew C. Mehel, and Benjamin L. Wise were awarded the Carnegie grants allotted to the junior class.

Give 6 Sophomore Awards A sophomore White scholarship was given to Lena M. Tomasselli. Mary L. McFarland, William D. Baltas, William T. Hebel, Herbert J. Minch, and Raymond F. Wagner received Louise Carnegie scholarships for sophomores.

Following nominations in class meetings for five times as many candidates as there were scholarships, Deans of each school selected an additional nominee for each award. A Senate committee on academic standards headed by Dr. William S. Dye, of the department of English literature, then selected the recipients, who were approved by the President and College Senate.

Carnegie Prizes Worth $100 Additional members of the committee making the awards were Prof. Chesleigh A. Bonner, of the geology department, Prof. Harold A. Everett, of the mechanical engineering department, Dr. Bruce V. Moore, of the department of psychology, and Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, College examiner, who was ex-officio member.

Made on the basis of need, scholarship and general desirability, the Carnegie awards are valued at $100 each and the senior White prize at $200. The junior and sophomore White grants are $150 and $100 respectively. Formal awarding of the prizes will be made at Scholarship Day exercises, which will be held early in May.

DENY TRUSTEE APPOINTMENT

The re-appointment to the Board of Trustees of Jesse B. Warriner, of Lansford, which was reported in Philadelphia newspapers last week, was denied by Hairsburg officials who said that Governor Gifford Pinchot has not yet appointed a second member for this year. The appointment of Miss Florence Diebert to the Board was announced last week.

Barnhart '33 Heads Junior Dance Group

Appointment of Adam B. Barnhart to serve as Junior Prom chairman was announced yesterday by Harry A. Bauder, president of the junior class.

Barnhart, who is a junior in the department of architecture, will announce the committee to work with him in drawing up plans for the dance, following the Thanksgiving recess.

DEBATERS TO MEET WILLIAM AND MARY

Will Argue Socialism-Capitalism Question on December 17 At Williamsburg, Va.

Penn State's forensic team will meet representatives of William and Mary College in a split-team debate on the socialism-capitalism question at Williamsburg, Virginia, on December 17. Under the split-team plan, one Penn State debater will pair with a member of the William and Mary team in advocating socialism, while a Penn State man and a William and Mary orator will oppose the proposition. Negotiations are being carried on with American University, at Washington, D. C., for a debate on the same trip.

Plan Northern Trip

The annual debate with Dickinson College is scheduled for February 26. A radio debate with an unnamed opponent will be broadcast over WPSU, the College radio station, on February 28.

Further plans call for a debating trip through the New England states and the southern part of Canada. Professor John H. Frizzell, coach of the team states "If negotiations materialize, the trip will be made during the Easter recess."

Tentative arrangements for debates throughout the year have been made with Bowdoin College, the University of Dayton, and Georgetown University. The contests with a Lincoln University team will probably be continued this year, also.

CO-EDS WILL VOTE ON RUSHING CODE

Panhellenic Council To Submit Newly Revised Rules for Pledging Transfer Students

Advocating the newly revised rushing code, which provides for the bidding of senior, junior, transferred, and graduate students after one semester's registration, Panhellenic Council submitted suggested revisions to the women's groups for their approval.

The proposed revision that all transferred students should be eligible for fraternity membership after they had attended College here for one semester, was overruled at the Council's last meeting.

According to the code under consideration, date cards would be issued allowing a rusher no more than 18 dates. A fraternity would not be permitted more than four dates with any one rusher, and would not be allowed to make more than two of their four allotted dates on the opening day of rushing. The suggested code allows the fraternities $45 for combined formal and informal rushing parties.

Shortening the silent period, is another suggestion. If accepted, the lists of women receiving fraternity bids would be in the hands of the chosen disinterested party by 11:30 o'clock on the Friday night of the last formal party.

BURGESS LEDERER DECLARES OUTSIDE RELIEF NOT NEEDED

"There is no unemployment stress in State College and consequently no outside assistance is required," Burgess Eugene H. Lederer said yesterday. "We have reported to President Hoover's Committee on Unemployment Relief that the situation here can be handled adequately by local authorities."

The Burgess stated that a poor tax has furnished sufficient funds to alleviate any suffering that might exist in and around State College. Unemployed transients have been taken care of over night, but in order to prevent a collection of tramps, they have been told to leave town the next day, he said.

Lion Eleven Begins Practice for Lehigh

Prepares To Play Post Season Charity Game At Franklin Field Saturday—Gridders Defeated by West Virginia

Having completed their regular football season, Lion gridmen began preparation yesterday for a post season game with Lehigh at Franklin Field in Philadelphia on Saturday, for the benefit of the unemployed.

The game, announced October 20 by President Ralph D. Hetzel, was the outcome of Owen D. Young's recent appeal to the nations' colleges and universities for aid to unemployment relief. After expenses of the

ENGINEERS LEAD IN TOTAL ENROLLMENT

School of Liberal Arts Places Second—1857 Register For Courses Here

The School of Engineering leads the enrollment list this semester with a total of 1,145 students registered, according to the latest figures from the office of Registrar William S. Hoffman. The School of Liberal Arts ranks second with 990. The Schools of Agriculture, Education, Chemistry, and Physics, Mineral Industries, and Physical Education follow in the order named. Entire enrollment was 4,857.

Thirty-five states are represented in the student body, as well as Canada, Cuba, and nations in Africa, Europe, and South America. New Jersey rates first among the states, having sixty-four enrolled here. New York is second with fifty-seven representatives.

Centre County Leads The greater proportion of student-professors to be members of the Presbyterian church, Methodist, Lutheran and Roman Catholic denominations rank in the order named, according to number of students enrolled who belong to these faiths.

Almost twenty-five percent of the students' parents are employed in industry. A close second is the artisan class of labor, followed by mercantile, professional, agricultural, clerical and official occupations. More than 28,000 parents' tasks were classified as miscellaneous.

Centre County has the largest number of representatives in the student body, according to a classification as to counties. Philadelphia County holds second place.

Nine hundred students are nineteen years old, making this the most common age. A range of twenty-eight years, however, is represented in the extremes of ages of undergraduates, fifteen and forty-three years being the extremes.

LIBRARY WILL DISPLAY LEWIS CARROLL BOOKS

First of Literary Series To Appear On Exhibition Here December 2

An exhibition of Lewis Carroll lore, the first of a series to be presented here by the College library, will be displayed in Room A, first floor of the library building, beginning December 2, Willard P. Lewis, College librarian, announced yesterday.

Containing early and late editions of Carroll's novels, "Alice in Wonderland," "Through the Looking Glass," "Sylvia and Bruno," and other stories and verse written for children, in addition to mathematical works, songs from "Alice in Wonderland" photograph albums, games, autographed letters and many other relics relating to Mr. Carroll, the collection is believed to be the largest of its kind in America.

Owned and lent by Morris L. Parrish, of Philadelphia, the exhibit will come to Penn State from Middletown, Conn., where it was displayed at the Wesleyan University Centennial. The local exhibition will close December 20, and the collection will be on display at Columbia University in January.

Who's Dancing

contest have been met, the net proceeds will be divided equally between Philadelphia, Bethlehem, and State agencies for charitable distribution to the unemployed.

With victories over Muhlenberg, Pennsylvania Military College, and Princeton, the Brown and White eleven has fallen before Upsilon, Johns Hopkins, Penn. Brown, Rutgers, and Lafayette. In the sixtieth game with the Lafayette Leopards Saturday, the Bethlehem eleven showed a strong defense and an offense that was hampered only by lack of sufficient reserve power.

Will Start Regulars On the second visit to the Quaker City this fall, Coach Bob Higgins will start the same lineup that faced the Temple gridmen on October 10, with one or two exceptions. There is a possibility that Anderson will get the call over Zawacki at center and that Conn will displace Bob Snyder at quarterback.

The remainder of the Nittany lineup will consist of Gimshaw and Brewster, ends, McMillen and Stempel, tackles, Curry and Kane, guards, Collins and Moonves, halfbacks, and Captain Lusch, fullback. If Brewster is unable to start the game, Tom Slusser will begin the contest.

Lions Due to West Virginia Captain Allen Ware, tight halfback, will lead the Bethlehem eleven Saturday, while the same eleven that faced Lafayette is expected to meet the Lions. This group is composed of Clark and Rauch, ends, Hirschberg and Baker, tackles, Stein and Suvalsky, guards, Dumarest, center, Short, quarterback, Halsted beside Captain Ware, and Doering, fullback.

In one of the slowest contests this year, Lion gridmen fell prey to the

GROUP WILL HOLD LOAN FUND DANCE

Co-Eds Attending Function Tonight To Receive Extended Hours in Dating Privileges

A subscription dance will be held tonight at the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity house, part of the proceeds of which are to be donated to the student loan fund for the aid of deserving Penn State men and women.

Co-eds attending the dance have been granted 1 o'clock permission, according to Angelin Brewster '33, vice-president of the W. S. G. A. who is managing the women's details of the dance in the absence of the president, Elizabeth C. Bell '32. The affair, however, has not been classed as a free social function.

Since the dance has received sanction as an all-College event, freshmen will be permitted to attend with feminine escort. Karl K. Rush '32, president of Student Tribunal, has ruled "The fast-year men attending the dance will also be allowed freedom from dress customs."

Bill Botton's orchestra, Campus dance band, has been secured to provide music for the dancing. The committee in charge has announced. This group is composed of Charles I. Botton, Thomas M. Rutherford '33, and Edward C. Wagner '32.

WEAVER ATTENDS MEETING OF TAXATION COMMISSION

Dr. Frederick P. Weaver, of the department of agricultural economics, is attending a meeting of the Mineral and Forest Land Taxation Commission at the Governor's home in Harrisburg today.

This commission, which is holding its first meeting to plan and organize a program of investigation, was authorized by the State legislature at its last session. Appointments to the commission were made by Governor Gifford Pinchot.
