

Boxers Conquer Dartmouth, 6-1; Courtmen Down Waynesburg, 37-33

Sidelines

Army boxers chased their way to an opening victory even more overwhelming than the Nittany Lions' 6-1 shellacking of Dartmouth. M. I. T., usually regarded as a team to be feared, went down before the Kaydets by a score of 6½-1½, with only a whitewash. Both teams will be met in the intercollegiate, and Army appears to be well on the way towards taking the place of the late lamented Middles from Annapolis.

Penn State wrestlers and their girl friends, and fraternity brothers will be in for a thrill when the movie, "College Grapplers," part of Grantland Rice's Sportlight film, is shown on local screens tomorrow and Thursday.

While on the subject of wrestlers, it might be noted that some of our opponents have been stealing a march on the season. Chalking up three falls, Lehigh pummed Princeton to the mat, 21-0-6, and Syracuse recorded five losses in an eclipse of Columbia's matmen, 31-0-3. Four grapplers of the City College of New York felt their shoulders on the canvas when Lafayette administered a 23-10-11 defeat to the men from Manhattan.

Incidentally, the Lafayette match and the Lehigh tussle were transferred across the river to Jersey, in order politely to thumb the nose at the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission and its many yards of red tape that had been held in waiting to tangle up the works.

Although the rules of the Athletic Board are irksome enough, the real bugaboo that is tearing its head to frighten little colleges, is the thought that the commission, if it succeeds in boxing and wrestling, will turn its unwelcome attentions to football. There, the five percent cut that is taken in boxing and wrestling receipts would amount to a tremendous figure that could hardly be regarded otherwise than as pure graft.

A careful perusal of the records, reveals the startling fact that Penn State's athletic teams have not suffered a defeat this year. It sounds swell, but don't get too excited. There have only been three.

Pitt's basketball coach, Doc Carlson, complained recently that his team would not stand the gaff of a hard contest. That he was not broadcasting through the stetson was eminently shown when a quintet from little Duquesne upset the Panthers. Among the eleven former football players who have responded to Carlson's plea for men made of sterner stuff was Paul Redda, next year's grid captain.

Mike Kaplan, who made a thorough job of playing end on State's football team last year, has a brother who is making good on Western Maryland's boxing squad. He held the hard-hitting heavy of Dartmouth, Captain Brister, who looked pretty fine here Saturday, to a draw last week.

PLUMBING AND HEATING

Albert Deal & Son

117 S. Fraser St. Phone 163

Is Your Fraternity Going on the Rocks?

Absolutely not! Far from it. Why our finances are good, the boys are out for activities, we've got six hat men... Yes, we know all that. And the reason you've got a good fraternity here at State or are coming up fast is because of the alumni who formed your chapter and helped it through the tough years. Don't forget them now. They are interested in the active chapter and they like to hear about it. And the best way to link the house with alumni is a good, newsy chapter paper, which looks like a chapter paper, not a handbill sent around by the Little Wonder Window Washing company.

Now instead of working out on the caterer next meeting, instruct the chapter editor to drop in at the Nittany Printing and Publishing company and make arrangements to have published a fraternity paper. Then your alumni will remember they belonged to a fraternity when they went to college and know it's not just a country club now.

INVADERS BOW TO SUPERIOR MITMEN

Big Green Saved From Shut-Out By Brister's Single Win In 175-Lb. Class

By ROBERT E. TSCHAN '33

The effectiveness of straight lefts was certainly proved for all time to any doubting ring follower in the Lion's 6-1 rout of a Dartmouth boxing team, weakened from its tie engagement with Western Maryland two nights before.

Nearly every bout Saturday night was an object lesson in Coach Leo Houck's pet punch. "Use your left," he has incessantly exhorted his charges in practice bouts. It seems to have made an impression in the form of three technical knock-outs, three decisions, and a close loss by decision. Captain Davey Stoop disappointed us a little in his rather tepid duel with Veres of Dartmouth in the 115-pound class. Usually drawn out only by stiff competition, he gained the decision after a decisive series of body blows followed by a row of lefts to the head. Veres tired quickly after holding Davey fairly even in the first round.

3 Knockouts in Row

Johnny Napoleon, with a kangaroo hop that carried him in to land his blows and out again to safety, showed his superiority over Janjjan, of Dartmouth throughout the 125-pound fight. Lots of blows to the body were exchanged and after a struggle against the ropes, Referee Bryan Hayes stopped the bout after a minute and twenty seconds of the second round.

Some of the most awkward positions in the clinches were attained by Johnny McAndrews and Rabinovitz of the Big Green. Johnny rushed the Dartmouth 135-pound boxer pretty hard and dropped his opponent with a straight left to the chin and the fight was stopped in the middle of the second round. The Lewis-March bout went for one minute and five seconds before it was stopped after the Lion intercollegiate welterweight champion landed a hard left following it with a right and left.

Brister Gains Decision

The Gritsavage-Kahn full time fight had us on the edge of our chair more than any before. Gritsavage had the Dartmouth 165-pounder floored in the first round with a straight left to the chin when the bell sounded on the fifth count. The second saw several more hard lefts landing and ended with both men groggy. Kahn made a last stand with a flurry of blows in the opening minutes of the third but was again dropped by Gritsavage. Kahn waded up to mid and the bout ended with both contestants dead on their feet. Gritsavage gained the decision for the Lions.

Ed Polak gained a three-round decision from Sarajian of Dartmouth after a fight where more blows landed than in any other encounter. Ed

Fall Sport Standing

Sixteen organizations amassed more than one hundred points each during the fall sports season in intercollegiate and intramural competition. A list of all teams scoring points is posted in Recreation hall. Those with more than one hundred points are as follows:

Organization	Points
Kappa Sigma	345
Sigma Nu	299
Phi Kappa Sigma	255
Chi Upsilon	216
Phi Delta Theta	200
Phi Lambda Pi	185
Delta Tau Delta	185
Delta Upsilon	185
Alpha Gamma Rho	145
Lambda Chi Alpha	130
Beta Theta Pi	120
Sigma Pi	115
Theta Chi	110
Phi Sigma Kappa	110
Sigma Chi	100

SOPHOMORES WIN CLASS WRESTLING

31 Grapplers Clinch Meet Crown As Cole Defeats Byers in Saturday Matches

Sophomores clinched the interclass wrestling meet with 27 points when Cole took a slight time advantage over Byers in the last bout of the tournament Saturday afternoon.

Second place went to the Juniors with a score of 24 points, while the seniors and freshmen tied for third place with 13 points each. Ellstrom took the championship in the 115-pound class, winning over Maize and Seely by time advantages.

The 125-pound class went to Mazer, a promising freshman grappler. Rosenberg took the 135-pound division with a fall in the preliminaries and a large time advantage in the finals. Turnbull gleaned the championship in the 145-pound weight.

Lorenzo easily gained the supremacy in the 155-pound class, winning over Fletcher with a time advantage of more than 9 minutes in the finals. Rebut' hurried through the ranks of the 165-pounders gaining two falls in a total wrestling time of less than 7 minutes.

Jackson picked up the 175-pound title with two falls registered in less than eight minutes of wrestling time. The heavy eight division fell to Cole who defeated Byers in the final bouts by a time advantage of less than two minutes.

gained the first round decisively with a continued stream of lefts and in the remaining rounds Sarajian came back a little but opened himself to Ed's left repeatedly at most inopportune moments.

Although he had Brister, Dartmouth Captain and light-heavyweight, puffing at the end of the first round, Slusser lost by decision at the hands of the more experienced boxer. The Dartmouth veteran took punishment, but outpointed Slusser in the last two rounds.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS

For Breakfast—

- BRANER CORN MUFFINS
- PECAN TWISTS
- CINNAMON BUNS

Must Be Ordered the Day Before

THE ELECTRIC BAKERY

West Beaver Avenue BOUND TO PLEASE Phone 603

FOR THAT NEXT DANCE

HAVE YOUR FULL BRESS LINENS LAUNDERED NOW

Penn State Laundry

Phone 124 320 West Beaver

FIRST SHOWING

Penn State's Own Movies

"College Grapplers"

Grantland Rice Sportlight Recently Completed Here

WEDNESDAY

NITTANY Thursday

LION CAGERS GAIN WIN OVER JACKETS

Superior Foul Shooting Plays Deciding Role in Second Victory of Season

By SIDNEY H. BENJAMIN '33

Unless we're very much mistaken, the lesson that Frank Wolf will teach the Waynesburg basketball team this week is "Convert those foul shots."

For it was by the margin of four successful free throws that State nosed out the Jackets Saturday night, 37-33, for Penn State's first athletic victory over Waynesburg. Both teams tossed in twelve goals from the floor, but the Lions' superior ability in converting thirteen out of eighteen foul shots while the Jackets were able to make only nine out of seventeen count put the game on the Nittany side of the ledger.

The game was undoubtedly one of the most thrilling yet seen in Recreation hall, and the constant roaring of the crowd as the lead seceded back and forth indicated that the cure for waning basketball interest here is nothing else than good basketball. Both teams gave an exhibition of fast passing and spectacular shooting which provided few dull moments.

Meyers Out On Personals

As expected, Waynesburg had a smooth-working combination which would do credit to most schools twice its size. Avery and Currie, forwards, and Janosik, center, presented a triple offense hard to stop, for when McMinn and Conn would succeed in bottling up the forwards, the husky center would slip through for run-cuso, too, hung up two field goals, while holding Davis scoreless from the floor.

The Lions, on the other hand, didn't seem as cool an aggregation as the

Two in a Row

PENN STATE (37) FG	F-T	TP
Davis, f	4-4	4
Moser, c	2-4	2
Currie, f	2-3	12*
Meyers, f	0-0	0
Janosik, c	0-0	0
Conn, f	0-0	0
McMinn, f	0-0	0
Wolf, f	0-0	0
Byers, f	0-0	0
Totals	12	13-18 37

WAYNESBURG (33) FG	F-T	TP
Avery, f	0-3	0
Currie, f	4-7	8
Janosik, c	2-7	12
Mosier, f	0-0	0
Ufema, f and c	0-0	0
Patich, f	0-0	0
Spickoel, f	0-1	1
Totals	13	6-17 33

Referee, Lance Umplie, White

CO-ED I. M. CAGE TEAMS REACH TOURNEY FINALS

Victors of Yesterday's Encounters To Meet in Armory Tonight

Defeating Flazer street dormitory by a score of 36-11 Thursday night, Kappa Alpha Theta advanced to the semi-final round of the women's intramural basketball tourney.

Semi-finals of the tournament were held last night when Kappa Alpha Theta met Grange dormitory and the McAllister Hall-Chi Omega game was played. The finals will be held tonight in the Armory at 9 o'clock.

BEZDEK SPEAKS AT SMOKER

The Penn State club held its annual College smoker for students and faculty members in the Old Main Sandwich Shop at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night. Director Hugo Bezdek of the School of Physical Education addressed the gathering.

On Wednesday night an all-freshman McAllister Hall team defeated Kappa Gamma tappers, 32-26, reaching the semi-finals against the Chi Omega team which had won from the Town Girls by an overwhelming score of 51-10-9 on Tuesday night.

COMING!

The Military Ball

Friday, Feb. 19th. Rec. Hall

Show Your Penn State Spirit

And Support the Student Loan Fund

"I play safe by sticking to LUCKIES"

OH, WHAT A GAL IS MARY!

She's one of the genuine beauties that even the camera cannot flatter. Sorrow and professional bad luck followed her for years. Now she's a bride... the studios clamor for her... the public loves her... and the Hollywood news is shining. Her new RADIO PICTURE is "MEN OF CHANCE". Here's to you, Mary Astor! We're glad you smoke LUCKIES and we're grateful for that statement you gave us without a cent of payment.

"I can't afford to take chances with my voice. So I play safe by sticking to LUCKIES—they're always kind to my throat. And I'm doubly grateful for your improved Collophane wrapper which opens so easily with that clever little tab."

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough
And Moisture-Proof Collophane Keeps that "Toasted" Flavor Ever Fresh

TUNE IN ON LUCKY STRIKE—60 modern minutes with the world's finest dance orchestras and Walter Winchell, whose gossip of today, becomes the news of tomorrow, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. networks.