Phil Page, former Nittany south-paw pitcher, will have his second try-out in major league competition when he reports at the Detroit training camp next month.

The North Carolina boxing team, always a leading contender for the Southern Conference championship, opened their season auspiciously with a 5-to-2 win over Washington and Lee last Saturday.

Doc "Win 'em all" Carlson, Pittsburgh's basketball coach, seems to have hit several snags in the difficult schedule which his team has undertaken this year.

Johnny Sheaffer, a member of the regular Lion freshmen basketball team two years ago, is now holding down a position on the plebe five at the Naval Academy.

Apparently Colgate is holding some sort of jinx over Syracuse. Last fall an undefeated Orange eleven was downed by the Maroon team and again last Saturday the jinx asserted itself when the Hillmen, with a basketball team which had scored impressive victories over leading college teams in the east and middle west, were nosed out by the Colgate outfitmen, 18-to-17.

Pete Undergrove, freshman boxer, won a decision in a three round amateur bout at Harrisburg last week. Undergrove will be eligible for varsity competition in February and it is our prediction that he will furnish competitors in the 165-pound class with plenty of opposition before the season is over.

Spurred by the possibility of a trip to Los Angeles for the ICA-A meet this summer, varsity track candidates are working out daily on the board track erected on the football practice field. Track is one of the few sports at Penn State which is carried on during the entire year.

A knee injury which he received in a practice session Wednesday afternoon, will keep Walt Moser, flashy Lion forward, out of the remainder of the practices this week. Coach Hermann, however, expects to have Walt back in shape for the Penn game next week.

Canogie Tech, long the doormat for their opponents' basketball teams, has come out with a smooth working, well drilled five this year that ranks with the best in Western Pennsylvania.

Four men will be participating in their first intercollegiate wrestling matches tomorrow night when the Nittany grapplers meet the University of Chicago.

MATMEN TO MEET CHICAGO; SOCCER CARD ANNOUNCED

Open Season With Maroon Grapplers Tomorrow Night

4 Veterans Included in Initial Nittany Lineup

The first fire of competition will test the metal of the wrestling team, which has promised so much to pre-season observers, when the University of Chicago grapplers appear on the mats at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Chicago wrestles Western Reserve University at Cleveland, O. tonight and will be smarting under the lacing they took Saturday from Iowa State Teachers, rated one of the country's best on the mats.

Last year the Mid-westerners constantly threatened on the mats, but fell by a 21-to-11 margin. Only two of the men who invaded the Recreation hall last year will appear again.

The lineup is open for lightning changes at the last minute in the heavyweights, but seems certain in the lighter ranges.

Ell-stom, conqueror of Maize in the interclass tourney, is slated to meet Sol Feldman, who appears on the Chicago lineup for the first time this year.

Cole Slated for Bout. Alex Turnbull, a Western man himself, will have his mind on wiping out the fall which Dyer presented him last year when he meets Howard, an experienced man in the 145-pound bout.

Coach Verres moved up Heide, a sophomore, into the 165-pound class from the 155-pound division for the season tour. Either Ted Reyzitz, skilled veteran, or Bub Byers, a clever newcomer to the mats, will take this class.

Cole is expected to make his mat debut tomorrow night in the unlimited class where he will meet Shapiro, new man for Chicago.

CHI OMEGA WINS TOURNEY. Chi Omega won the women's intermural basketball tournament by defeating Giange dormitory, 45-to-22, in the final game played Tuesday night in the Armory.

Theta Upsilon Omega edged a 12-to-10 victory over Tau Sigma Phi in the Tuesday night games, while Chi Phi nosed out Tau Kappa Epsilon, 22-to-19.

LION COURT FOES DISPLAY PROWESS

13 Games Remain for Cage Five In 1932—Moser Injured Knee in Practice

It's an old adage in the coaching game to look around the bend when you come to a turn in the road.

With the Lion cage team idle until its important game with Penn Wednesday, Coach Dutch Heilmann is doing just that as he gazes down the stretch of thirteen games which still await the courtmen before they hang up their tog.

Right now, the Lions are riding the crest of the wave, undefeated in their two starts, and, except for the recurrence of Walt Moser's knee injury in practice Wednesday, in good condition to fight for the best Penn State court record in recent years.

After the fray with the Quakers, State will play host to Syracuse. The Orange is not as strong as last year, but they have beaten Penn and Pitt and have held Cornell, Colgate, and Dartmouth to close scores.

From February 10, when the Lions play host to Juniata here, it can truthfully be said every game is with a team which has proved itself one of the most formidable in the East.

"What round did you knock him out in, dear?" is the first question Mrs. Steve Hamas asks her husband when he calls her up after each fight.

"On nights when Steve is fighting I sit in the living room at home and play the piano and listen to the music on the radio. He has the habit of calling me up as soon as he can get hold of a telephone after a fight," she stated.

Six games have been arranged on the Lion soccer schedule for this fall including contests with Lafayette, Harvard, Springfield, Harvard, Syracuse, Army, and Springfield to Harvard and D. Fonz '33, manager of the 1932 booters.

Lafayette will open the six-game schedule here on October 8. The following Saturday, Coach Jeffrey's team will journey to Cambridge, Mass., where they will meet the Harvard eleven on the same day that the Nittany football combination meets the Crimson.

Plan Game With Alumni. This year's champion team in the intercollegiate soccer association will be met for the first time in a league game next year when the Lions engage Springfield College at Springfield, Mass. on Monday following the Harvard game.

Lafayette, which placed third in the association this year, is scheduled for October 29 at Haverford, Penna. The remaining two games will be at home with Syracuse on November 5 and Army on November 19. A game with Alumni soccermen is planned for Alumni Homecoming Day on October 22, which date is open on the schedule.

CINDERMEN HOLD FIRST MEET ON BOARD TRACK. Compete in All-College Run Saturday At Football Practice Field. Competing for the first time this year on the boards, trackmen contested in an all-College meet Saturday afternoon on the board track on the football practice field.

In the competition among varsity men Jackson and Hill each won a heat in the 70-yard hurdles, while Aldrich won the 70-yard dash. Van Kouran won the 220-yard dash, and England came from behind to lead miles to the post.

Green defeated other freshmen runners in the 70-yard dash, and also captured the yearling 220-yard dash. Harvey won the mile run.
