he'd only learn how to Dress!

He certainly spent enough money on clothes, but ready-made suits just couldn't fit him. Some day he'd notice the new Imported Harris Tweeds shown by the Edward Tailoring Company and he'd order a made-to-measure suit for $31.75.

Or, possibly he'd prefer a jacket and trouser combination — the jacket of Harris Tweed, at $21.50, to be worn with Gray Flannel slacks, at $7.50. Whatever he chose, his clothes would really fit him.
