GROUP INSURANCE PROGRAM AWAITS STAFF'S APPROVAL

Employees, Faculty Will Vote On Proposal at Sessions Beginning Monday

75 PERCENT OF TOTAL MUST SANCTION PLAN

College, Policy Holders To Pay Premiums With Salaries As Financial Basis

A program of Group Insurance will become effective April 1 if seventy-five percent of full-time college staff members approve it at regular meetings beginning Monday. The plan has already received the sanction of the Board of Trustees.

With premiums to be paid jointly by the college and the policy holder, the system is on a contributory basis for all full-time college employees who wish to accept it at the meetings next week. All persons who join the college staff after the group insurance policy is in effect will automatically be included in it by their acceptance of a full-time position.

Provides 2 Services

A life insurance and a permanent disability clause are the two services of the plan now pending. Providing policies ranging from one to ten thousand dollars, amounts for individuals will be decided on the basis of salary. In case of total or permanent disability from disease monthly payments will be made to policy holders after a six month period of idleness. The proposed system is not accident or compensation insurance since such protection has been effective here for some time under State requirements.

The contract for the Group Insurance has been let to the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States which has held a similar insurance arrangement with over one hundred members of the agricultural extension staff for several years. Through merger of the contracts, this number of full-time employees will go toward the seventy-five percent necessary for the establishment of the system here.

Follows Faculty Appeal

Although frequently discussed by faculty members previously, the first definite step for Group Insurance was made two years ago when President Ralph D. Hetzel appointed a faculty-administration committee to study the system. The proposed plan makes use of the most modern developments brought out in revisions in policies in the major educational institutions and is similar to the modernized plans now in effect. Following investigation by Dr. Hetzel's committee, a committee of the Board of Trustees made further inquiry and finally the insurance program was passed by the Board at its January meeting.

If the measures are accepted in the meetings next week, members of the college staff will be covered for life and permanent disability under the new policy as well as for accident insurance under the older State provisions. Study of a method for providing retirement annuities is now under way, according to College officials.

DATA ON NEW STUDENTS TO FACILITATE RUSHING

Marquardt Will Supply Information Regarding Transfers Here

Transfer students, long neglected by fraternities and sororities, are put on a par with freshmen in rushing opportunities through a new information service established by Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, college examiner.

Lists of transfer students have been placed in Dr. Marquardt's and the Registrar's offices, and will be available for inspection by anyone. The list includes students who registered here last fall and at mid-semester. "Transfer students register after freshman week," said Dr. Marquardt, in discussing his new plan, "and have long been overlooked in rushing season. Their number is increasing every year."

Keyes will pair with Margaret Connolly, of Seton Hill, to advocate legislation providing for the centralized control of American industry, while Myers and Kathryn Droom, of Seton Hill, will uphold the negative by attacking the idea of centralized control.

Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., will furnish the forensic opposition in a debate on the same question here March 19, with Penn State supporting the negative. A debate with Lincoln University will take place in Philadelphia on March 23.

Letters of Needy Students Seeking Aid Bring Response From 2 Persons

Two persons have offered to make loans from their own private funds to needy students after seeing the plight of some of the men on the campus as revealed in their own letters published in the COLLEGIAN.

A teacher in the College, having already given generously to the faculty unemployment fund two months ago, offered to lend from personal budget $100 for some student because the letters revealed an urgent need.

A similar offer came from a man and woman in the town who are not connected with the College. They were willing to arrange to help some student who needed a loan.

The student body will contribute its share to the loan fund through the student loan fund to be held Wednesday night. Orchestras and entertainers will give their services to help the

LION WRESTLERS SEEK CROWNS AT SYRACUSE TODAY

5 Nittany Grapplers Appear as Championship Material in Annual Tournament

REYBITZ WILL COMPETE FOR 155-POUND HONORS

Lorenzo Receives Welterweight Berth—Turnbull Advances To Heavier Class

By R. D. HETZEL Jr. '33

The Lion wrestlers carry with them to the Intercollegiate at Syracuse today and tomorrow hopes for a second or third place among the Eastern teams.

Eight Lions will enter the eliminations today and five bear placing threats on their jerseys. Captain Maize rates just as high as any 119-pounder in the league, while Bob Ellstrom has less outstanding competition and may collect a second or third place in the 128-pound class.

Rosenberg, whose only defeat this year was by a close decision at Navy, stands out among the leaders in the 135-pound class weight. Lorenzo, shifted down to the 145-pound class, is another of the placers—may-be. Charlie is also putting confidence in Reybitz, who will battle in the 155-pound division for the first time this year.

8 Teams Entered

The grappling will be particularly fierce in the 165, 175, and unlimited classes this year and the Lion doesn't have much chance of nuzzling in. Turnbull, Jackson, and Cole will take the three classes.

The league, made up of eight Eastern teams, does not include the Navy, which defeated the Lions so disastrously and which manhandled the 1931 champions, Lehigh, in so surprising a fashion early this year. Columbia, Cornell, Lehigh, Princeton, Penn, Syracuse, and Yale are the opponents of the Lion today and tomorrow.

Among Maize's closest competitors are Bigwood of Yale, defending champion, Captain Forward of Syracuse, and Maxwell of Lehigh. Ellstrom can figure rough stuff from Dalling of Lehigh and Hurwitz of Cornell in particular.

Reybitz To Fight 135

Shaw, defending champion in the 135-pound class, may go into the 145-pound weight where he has been working so far this season. Even if he does, Fiske of Princeton, Red Anderson of Syracuse, and Margolis of Cornell will bring plenty of trouble for Rosenberg.

Lehigh's Bishop will probably work-out in the 145-pound class where Lorenzo is seeking a look-in. Silverstein of the Navy took an extra period decision from Bishop this season and fund which has been heavily depleted. This is a typical letter, of which there are nearly a hundred and fifty in the dean of men's office:

Dear Sir: I wish to borrow from the student loan fund to cover expenses for the coming semester. I am a Junior.

There are no other prospects of my securing money. My father, who is a coal miner in Pa., has been out of work for some time, and my only brother, who is married and has a family, works in the mines, but must support his family and my parents from his income.

I myself work part time in a fraternity house. I've sold my insurance policy, and now it seems that my only hope of getting money is from the student loan fund. I hope you consider me favorably.

'35 CUSTOMS VOID AT BENEFIT DANCE

Women Given Social Privileges For Student Loan Affair Wednesday Night

Women will have a free social function and freshmen will not be required to keep customs when they attend the student loan dance Wednesday night.

Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray said that a special arrangement will be made so that women will not lose social functions by attending the dance. Karl K. Rush, head of Student Tribunal, announced that the Tribunal would not consider it an offense if freshmen took customs off when attending the dance.

Distribution of tickets for the dance will begin today. Fraternity men may secure them through a man in each house who will handle the sales. Women students and non-fraternity men will also be given the opportunity to buy the tickets. Student Union office will have them on sale.

Bands Contribute Services

"Every ticket means a contribution to the student loan fund. Every cent of the money will go to that fund. This is the chance the students have to show what they can do to help their friends who need money. That's why everybody will be asked to buy a ticket whether or not he or she is going. The faculty, the parents, the alumni have contributed. Now is the students' chance," Francis L. Mathews '32, head of the committee, said.

Four student bands, the Varsity Ten, Bill Bottorff's orchestra, the Blue and White, and the Campus Owls will provide the music at the dance and have agreed to give their music free of charge. Special entertainment acts, including singing and dancing, are being arranged.

FIRE SIGNALS CHANGED FOR BOROUGH, CAMPUS

Sigworth Announces Alarm System Put Into Effect Saturday

A new fire alarm system, revised to eliminate confusion caused by the expanding boundaries of State College, became effective Saturday, Robert Y. Sigworth, fire marshal, announced.

Under the new plan, the residential section east of Allen street and south of the campus will be designated by one long and one short blast of the whistle, and the business district in the same territory by one long and two shorts. The business district west of Allen street and south of the campus is one long and three shorts. The residential section of the same territory, as well as the campus fraternity houses, is one long and four short whistles.

The new signal for College heights is one long and five shorts, and campus buildings east of Allen street are two longs and one short. Buildings on the campus west of Allen will be designated by two longs and two shorts. Two longs and three shorts announces fire on the College farms, while three long blasts is the out-of-town signal. One continued whistle signifies distress, and one long blast announces that the fire is out.

STUDENTS, FACULTY SANCTION DAYLIGHT SAVING MOVEMENT

85 Men, Co-eds Interviewed in Survey Approve Proposed Time Advancement

WARNOCK, BISSEY CITE ADVANTAGES OF SYSTEM

College Scheduling Officer Sees Great Opportunity for More Recreation

Daylight saving time for State College and the campus is favored by students and faculty, a random questioning of ninety-three students and twenty faculty members by the COLLEGIAN shows.

Upon asking men and women students selected at random on the campus their attitude on daylight saving time for State College, it was found that all but eight considered that daylight but eight considered that the change would be a distinct advantage. All members of the faculty questioned said that they thought it would be for the good of the majority of people here to have the earliest time during the spring, summer, and early fall.

Dean Warnock Approves

Cyrus V. D. Bissey, College scheduling officer, said that there seemed to be no objection from his department and that it would be a great thing for student recreation opportunities. It was also pointed out that classes could be held during the cooler morning hours in summer season.

"Personally I would like very much to see it tried," Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock said. "The system has advantages for both the townspeople and the students and faculty of the College."

Objections voiced by dissenting students were varied, including loss of study time and the necessity of rising from bed an hour earlier. Another man said that since there were no large industries in State College, the system would be of no use.

DUMONT TALKS ON CAREER OF VILLOU

Romance Languages Head Discusses Life of French Poet in Third Liberal Arts Lecture

Speaking on "Francois Villon," famous French poet, Dr. Francis M. Dumont, head of the department of romance languages, gave the third lecture of the Liberal Arts series on Tuesday night in the Little Theatre.

"Until Villon was fourteen years old he lived in a time of plague and poverty," Dr. Dumont said. "This life left on him a great impression and was the source of many of his realistic works on death."

Later Villon succeeded in getting his A. M. degree from the University of Paris. From then on he lived a varied life, twice being committed to prison for murder and burglary. He was sentenced to be hanged, but the degree was changed to banishment, during which period he passed out of sight, the speaker explained.

Kyser, Peyton Bands Signed for I. F. Ball

Bryan '32, Dance Head, Announces Orchestras To Play Here April 15-35 Houses Will Support Affair

Music by Kay Kyser and Doc Peyton will furnish continuous dance rhythm for Penn State's fraternity men when they hold their annual Interfraternity Ball on April 15 in Recreation hall, Charles G. Bryan '32, committee chairman, announced Wednesday.

Thirty-five fraternities already have signified that they will participate in the dance this year. Thirteen fraternities and clubs have entered the intramural debating contest which will begin during the week of April 4, according to Prof. John H. Frizzell, director of debating, who is in charge of the tournament.
