

Penn State Collegian

ESTABLISHED
1904

COMPLETE CAMPUS
COVERAGE

VOL. 28, No. 55

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 19, 1932

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Co-Ed Fraternities Excel Scholastically, Ray Says

Women's Organizations Surpass Other Groups In Grades, Dean Shows--Men Students Lower, Warnock Explains

Fraternity women as a group will always excel non-fraternity women scholastically, according to Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray, although Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock believes that fraternity men probably always will be lower than non-fraternity men in this respect, in commenting on the scholastic ratings released last week.

Dean Ray, in explaining why non-fraternity women average lower than fraternity women, pointed out that freshmen women, who are the lowest scholastically of all classes, are a part of the non-fraternity group, since pledging by fraternities is not permitted until after one year of residence here.

"Women's fraternities also require a one average before initiation," added Dean Ray, "and with the one-year residence rule, the result is a fraternity group of high level--scholastic and otherwise. Women's fraternities at Penn State, furthermore, lay much more stress on good scholarship than they used to."

"In the fraternity group there are more distractions for the man who isn't seriously interested than in the non-fraternity group," said Dean Warnock. "Also, transfers from other colleges, because they are very carefully selected, average higher scholastically than students who have started as freshmen here, and not an equal proportion of these join fraternities."

Reasons given by Dean Warnock for the decrease in the all-College average from that of the second semester last year were that the first semester is broken up more than the second semester, that a number of low grade students drop out before the second semester, and that freshmen are getting adjusted.

"It is interesting to note that fraternities are moving up and down rather generally," the dean added. "Of the lower ten for the first semester

(Continued on page two)

I.F. Ball Attendance Estimated at 1700

Estimated results from the Interfraternity Ball show that fraternities received 1,800 tickets, and that approximately 1,700 attended the affair, according to Charles C. Bryan, chairman of the committee.

Forty-nine houses took part in the third annual fraternity men's dance. The Silverstein Decorating Company, decorators for the function, donated fifty dollars to the Student Loan Fund.

STUDENTS OFFERED VOCATION GUIDANCE

Psycho-Education Clinic Widens Service To Include Study Of College Cases

Extension of the scope of the School of Education's psycho-educational clinic to include guidance on vocational and personality problems of students was revealed yesterday by Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, assistant professor of psychology and director of the service.

Intelligence and aptitude tests and methods to determine the vocational interests and personality traits of students are now a part of the clinic's program, the director said. Speech defects, personality adjustments, and problems of study and of friendships are among the difficulties troubling the students who come for help, he added.

Work Extended Recently

"Our work has been largely centered in the public schools heretofore, but recently we have been extending this service to college students," Dr. Bernreuter explained. "Until a short time ago we did not have adequate facilities for the work."

Over thirty students have come to the clinic with their problems during the past month, the psychology professor said. He explained that students come voluntarily and that all interviews are strictly confidential.

"If we can demonstrate that there is great enough need for this work on the campus, we will enlarge the facilities still more next year," he declared. Dr. Bernreuter's office is in Room 34, Education building, and his office hours are from 9 to 12 o'clock every day of the week. Afternoon hours are from 2 to 4 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday.

HARTMANN TO END L. A. SERIES WITH LECTURE TONIGHT

Psychology Professor Will Talk On 'Geometry of the Mind' In Little Theatre

PLANS GESTALT THEORY EXPLANATION AS THEME

Speaker Holds Philosophy Title From Columbia--Studied At Berlin University

Concluding the twenty-second annual Liberal Arts lecture series, Prof. George W. Hartmann, of the psychology department, will speak on "The Geometry of the Mind," in the Little Theatre, Old Main, at 7 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Hartmann will discuss Gestalt psychology, a new idea of thinking which arose in Germany about 1912, and tell how this psychological theory differs from behaviorism, vitalism and introspectionism. He will also explain the effects of this mode of thought in the solving of problems in physics, metaphysics, biology, and sociology.

Visited Russia

The speaker was graduated from Columbia University in 1928 with the degree of doctor of philosophy, and taught psychology there and at Dartmouth before coming to Penn State. During last year he was the research fellow of the Social Science Research Council, and studied under the chief exponents of Gestalt psychology in Germany.

While at the University of Berlin, Dr. Hartmann made a brief visit to Russia to study conditions there, attending the Seventh International Conference of Psychotechnologists in Moscow as well as visiting Leningrad. He attended the Moscow conference as a member of a group of psychologists and one of three Americans invited by the Soviet government.

6 Talks in Series

The psychology professor has written a book entitled "Precision and Accuracy" and is author of another book on psychology. He is also a member of two American and one German psychological society, and in 1929 lectured before the International Congress of Psychologists. Last year he appeared before the Personal Research conference and has written numerous articles for technical magazines.

The program of six talks in this year's series was arranged by a committee headed by Prof. Mason Long, of the department of English literature, and composed of Dr. Harold F. Alderfer of the department of history and political science, and Prof. George F. Hatch, of the department of economics and sociology.

April 30 Definitely Set as Move-up Day

April 30 is the date definitely set for Move-up Day by Student Board at a meeting Thursday night, according to an announcement released by H. Aubrey Myers, senior class president.

A committee for the traditional exercises will be announced within a few days. Several innovations are planned this year, Myers stated.

PLAY TO FEATURE LIGHTING EFFECTS

'Electra' Set Will Follow Greek Arrangement--Plan Use of Drapes As Scenery

Special lighting effects will be employed in the presentation of "Electra," to be given by the Penn State Players in Schwab auditorium Saturday night, according to Clayton R. Page '33, electrician for the production.

Lighting effects will be obtained by the use of small spotlights, which will be focused on the principal groups on the stage, with the choicest and most characters shadowed in the background. Lights of various colors will be used to produce additional tone for the drama.

To Use Draperies

The stage set, in charge of David D. Locke '31, will be featured by a series of three platforms. The chorus of twelve women will occupy the first level while the main action will take place on the two raised platforms.

Following the Greek plan of little or no scenery, draperies will be used exclusively as a background for the set. A blood-red diaphragm, portraying the tone of the drama, will be flanked by somber blue hangings to form the scenery.

Additional effects will be produced by elaborate costuming. Helen A. Hoover '33 is in charge of costumes for the production with J. Clyde Reuban '31 as property manager of the show.

Cliques Submit Lists Of Group Alignments

1933 Independents Number 30 Organizations As 38 Affiliate With Locust Lane For Elections Next Week

With class elections only a week away, cliques submitted their group alignments to the elections committee Sunday night.

In the 1933 race, the Independent party numbers thirty organizations, while the Locust Lane clique counts thirty-eight groups as its adherents. Twenty-eight fraternities and clubs are affiliated with the 1934 Campus organization, thirty with the 1934 Locust Lane group, twenty-five with the 1935 Campus clique, and twenty-eight with the 1935 Locust Lane body.

The 1933 Independent party, supporting Charles W. Shaeffer for class president, claims as its supporters Aeneas, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Zeta, Chi Phi, Commons Club, Delta Tau Delta, Eta, Kappa Delta Rho, Omega Phi Psi, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Nu, and Phi Kappa Tau.

Additional fraternities and clubs in the party are Phi Mu Delta, Phi Sigma Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Tau Phi, Tau Sigma Phi, Triangle, Blue-White Club, Frear Hall, Gillespie Club, Lorenzo Club, Musser Club, Penn State Club, Ramblers, and Valetty Hall.

Fraternities which have pledged themselves to support the 1933 Locust Lane clique, with John A. Wood as presidential candidate, include Alpha Chi Rho, Alpha Chi Sigma, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Kappa Pi, Alpha Phi Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Kappa, Beta Sigma Rho, Chi Upsilon, Commons Club, Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Theta Sigma, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Omega Epsilon, and Phi Epsilon Pi.

Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Lambda Theta, (Continued on page four)

Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Lambda Theta, (Continued on page four)

LAMER WILL END LECTURES TONIGHT

Columbia Professor To Deliver Last Address of Annual- Priestley Series

Speaking on acidity in non-aqueous solvents, Dr. Victor K. Lamer, of Columbia University will give the last of his lectures in the sixth annual Priestley series in the Chemistry Amphitheatre at 7 o'clock tonight.

MAXWELL CHOSEN P. S. C. A. PRESIDENT

Association Selects Thompson, Maritz, Weaver To Hold Posts Next Year

Robert M. Maxwell '33 was elected president of the Penn State Christian association for next year succeeding Charles D. Smith '32 at a meeting of the old and new cabinets, Thursday afternoon.

COMMITTEE PICKS CO-EDS FOR CHAIN

Selects Senior Women in Hemlock Retinue for Annual May Day Procession

Senior women, who will compose the Hemlock Chain, through which the May Day procession passes, have been chosen by the co-chairmen, Marjorie G. Grant '33 and Harriet E. Sorner '33, with the assistance of Lillie A. Kell '33, chairman of ceremonies, and Miss Marie E. Haidt, faculty advisor of the May Day committee.

FREAR SETS DEADLINE FOR 'BELL' MANUSCRIPTS

Next Issue of Magazine To Contain Contest Winner Announcement

Manuscripts for the May issue of Old Main Bell must be submitted by Sunday, Hugo K. Frear '32, editor of the magazine announced yesterday.

DAIRY BUILDING DEDICATION TO TAKE PLACE AUGUST 26

Dedication of the new dairy building will take place here August 26, as a part of a two-day dairy education program, Prof. Andrew A. Borland, head of the dairy department, announced yesterday.

Cranberry equipment will be moved to the new structure next month, according to Professor Borland, while classroom and laboratory equipment will not be transferred until after College closes in June.

CURRIER WILL CONDUCT SERIES OF DISCUSSIONS

Student Volunteer Leader To Visit Penn State April 21, 23, 26

Sponsored by the Penn State Christian association, Dr. Raymond P. Currier, educational secretary of the Student Volunteer movement, will conduct a series of discussions and interviews here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

WARNOCK TO GIVE LECTURE

Speaking on the subject, "Men and Ideas," Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men, will present the last lecture in the series to senior engineers, in the Chemistry amphitheatre at 4:10 o'clock Friday afternoon.

PENN STATE POLITICIANS TO MATCH WITS IN MODEL NATIONAL CONVENTION HERE MAY 16

Penn State politicians will get an opportunity to display their abilities as plans for a national "Republican" national convention, modeled after the regular conventions, continue this week.

Sponsored by the department of political science, the project will be entirely under the control of 420 students in fourteen political science classes. Early reports indicate that various unofficial groups which are interested in particular candidates are already striving to get control of the political machinery.

With the four weeks of campaigning culminating in the national convention in Schwab auditorium May 16, several steps in the program have

300 WILL ATTEND PRESS CONCLAVE

State Association To Hold Annual Convention of High School Publications Here

More than 300 high school students and teachers connected with school publications will attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania School Press association, which will be held here Saturday.

PI DELTA EPSILON CHOOSES HARRIS NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Prof. Merritt M. Harris of the department of English composition, was elected national president of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, at a convention of that group at Washington, D. C., Thursday. Prof. Harris served as national vice president the past two years and presided over the Washington convention in the absence of the national president.

WARNOCK TO GIVE LECTURE

Speaking on the subject, "Men and Ideas," Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men, will present the last lecture in the series to senior engineers, in the Chemistry amphitheatre at 4:10 o'clock Friday afternoon.

MILITARY SOCIETY HONORS UNIT HERE

Local Chapter of Pershing Rifles Chosen Headquarters for Fourth Regiment

In recognition of the work it has done since its induction into "Pershing Rifles," national honorary R. O. T. C. society, the Penn State unit was appointed headquarters of the fourth regiment of the organization last week, according to a report by Commanding General Vernon D. Coidell.

BLUE BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

Under the direction of Bandmaster Wilfred O. Thompson, the Blue Band will present an open air concert on the front campus next Tuesday.

BIERSTEIN NAMED 'ENGINEER' EDITOR

Senior Staff Selects Page '33 As Business Manager of Student Magazine

Paul W. Bierstein '33 was elected to serve as editor of the Penn State Engineer for next year and Clayton R. Page '33 was named business manager at a meeting of the outgoing senior staff Thursday night.

87 VISITORS JOIN SUMMER FACULTY

Bulletin Lists Instructors From Other Institutions Who Will Teach Here

Eighty-seven teachers from other institutions will be members of the Summer Session faculty this summer, according to the 1932 catalog just released. Thirty-one of these were not listed in the catalog last year.

Among newcomers to the Summer session faculty are Dr. Francis M. Beckman '33, campus editor, and S. Donald Althouse '33, extension editor. Marx D. Moller '33 was named to serve as alumni editor.

MANY TO RETURN

Two staff members of the State Department of Public Instruction, Harold L. Holbrook, assistant director in charge of guidance, and Helen L. Markell, supervisor of home and school visitors, also are included among the new members of the faculty.

JOURNALISM FRATERNITY TO INSTALL GROUP HERE

Returning instructors this year include Dr. J. Lynn Barnard, of Ursinus College, Dr. James F. Bogardus, of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Herbert M. Diamond, of Lehigh University, Dr. W. Elmer Eckstein, of Clark University, Prof. Frederic Ernst, of New York University, and Dr. Albert Farmer, of the University of Grinnell, France.

OTHERS ARE: DR. GEORGE H. FICKES, OF LAFAYETTE COLLEGE, RENE GUET, OF SMITH COLLEGE, C. VALENTINE KIRBY, OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, AND DR. GEORGE A. WOOD, OF LAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

SACKETT ADDRESSES ALUMNI

Speaking on the "Athletic Policy of the College," Dean Robert I. Sackett of the School of Engineering addressed Penn State alumni at Wilkes-Barre last Monday night, following an address given at the commencement exercises of the Wilkes-Barre branch school of the engineering extension department Monday afternoon. Dean Sackett also spoke before high school groups and the Rotary club of that city Tuesday.