

LION TOSSERS TO MEET SUSQUEHANNA HERE TOMORROW

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

The newspaper reports that Penn State and Washington and Jefferson are to resume football relations as soon as scheduling arrangements can be made.

These old footballs in the basement of Varsity Hall testify to the bitter battles that have marked State's gridiron encounters with W. and J. in the past.

Our triangular association champions opened another season in an auspicious way with their 9-to-8 defeat of the Swarthmore nine. While the cold and windy weather wasn't exactly a help to flawless play on the part of either team, the Lions did show that they can come from behind, and that's what helps to win ball games. Dave Meade recovered after a bad start in the first inning and proved that he is likely to be the mainstay of the Nittany pitching department by holding the Garnet to two hits in the remaining frames.

Incidentally, a new batting star came to the fore in Bill Kascak, Lion center-fielder. Bill only poked out a home run and two doubles in his first varsity encounter.

Saturday's diamond battles along the eastern front revealed formidable strength by two future Nittany opponents, while two others fell by the wayside. Army swamped Bucknell under an avalanche of base hits to win out by a fairly decisive 19-to-2 score, while Princeton showed a little more of the strength it displayed against the Philadelphia Athletics recently, in downing Daymouth, 12-to-9. The other Lion foe, Harvard, was held out by Columbia, 4-to-3, in a pitcher's duel.

And if it is track you're interested in, witness North Carolina's triumph over the strong Navy cadets, 65-to-61. Nate Cartmell's charges meet the Tarheels at Chapel Hill May 11.

We've no doubt quite a few reminiscent sighs will be heaved when former Lion athletic stars read of the passing of the Varsity Hall dining room. Some of their fondest memories were housed there. Hoops sat side by side with third-stringers. Immortal Lion figures once ate at the battle-scarred tables. Steve Hamas, Bill Cox, Al Bates, Johnny Ropke... and all the rest of the famed and lesser-famed who made Lion sports history. Well, they'll probably make a chess-room out of it.

And the tables might aid in the replacement of the benches along the third base line on the baseball field.

This and that... Joe Bedenk and Bill Ullery, Susquehanna's diamond mentor, played together once upon a time. Red Duvall went back over the week-end. The Cadets come here next week to play ball... And those lacrosse men start swinging sticks at each other again... Bob Higgins was one of those stein chaperones at the Ball.

TRIP GARNET, 9-8, IN OPENING GAME

Kascak, Meade, Lockard Star As Nittany Batsmen Win Over Swarthmore

Opening their season with a 9-to-8 triumph over Swarthmore College here Saturday, Nittany Lion batsmen will meet a strong Susquehanna University nine on Beaver Field diamond at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Susquehanna team, headed by "Lefty" Danks, a pitcher who hails from the home town of Coach Joe Bedenk, promises plenty of trouble for the Lion nine. A fourteen-hit attack featured an overwhelming 20-to-4 victory for the Crusaders over Elizabethtown College, in their opening game Saturday.

Brewster To Pitch Bedenk, who credits his fellow-townsmen as being a hurler with more than ordinary experience and ability, has indicated that he may shift the lineup somewhat to counter the skill of the Susquehanna southpaw. "Zev" Zawacki, who bats from the right side, may replace Swan, a left-handed batter, behind the plate, and Marsh, another orthodox hitter, may go to first base in place of Moonves, who swings from the left side.

Harold Brewster is the probable choice to oppose Danks on the mound. The footballer has shown his ability in early practice this season. Winn, another righthander, is another possibility for the assignment.

The Lion batsmen demonstrated that they can come from behind when the occasion demands in Saturday's game with Swarthmore. After spotting the Garnet four runs in the first half of the opening inning, they came back with four in their half, and collected three runs in the fifth to wipe out the visitors' two-run advantage and take the lead by single run.

Swarthmore tied the count in the seventh on a walk, a sacrifice and a pair of errors, but Lockard's single, a stolen base and a long single by Swan in the same frame again put the Lions in the lead.

Kascak Leads Attack After a bad start in the first two innings when Swarthmore collected six hits including two home runs in the first frame, Dave Meade left-handed the visiting batters into submission, holding them to a single and a double for the remaining seven innings. A heavy wind blowing over the diamond hurt his control somewhat, with the result that he walked seven, but he turned back ten on strikeouts, fanning at least one opponent in every inning except the second.

Bill Kascak, sophomore outfielder, featured the batting attack with a home run and two doubles in four tips to the plate. His home run came as the climax of the Lions' first inning rally with none on base, and his second double drove in Lohr with the first run in the fifth inning up-ising.

Lockard collected three singles and Captain Hoopes, Smith, Moonves, Swan and Meade had one hit each to total eleven bingles in all for the Nittany team.

GOLFERS COMPETE FOR TEAM BERTHS

Coach Rutherford Plans Elimination Tourney To Select Foursome Meeting Pitt April 30

With the varsity linksman making the rounds of the course daily, Coach Bob Rutherford is planning an eliminations tournament next week to select the members of the team to meet Pittsburgh here on April 30.

Captain Freddy Brand's fine form in the driving practice engaged in daily by the golfers will probably warrant his retention as the number one man while Bill Nacos as the number two appears as the logical second representative.

The other two positions on the first foursome is a toss-up with seven men, all of whom lack varsity experience, receiving particular attention from Coach Rutherford.

Although the linksman face a particularly stiff schedule of five matches this spring with Pitt, Colgate and Army looming as stern opposition, Coach Rutherford is confident of erasing last year's defeat at the hands of the cool Maroon team which broke the Nittany Lion record of two years without a setback.

STICKMEN TO OPEN SEASON SATURDAY

Coach Paul Prepares Lacrosse Squad for Game Against St. Johns Here

Preparing for the opening game of the season, Coach Ernie Paul is drilling the Lion lacrosse men daily for their encounter with the strong St. Johns team here Saturday.

Holder of the North American championship and national collegiate title winner for the last two years, the St. Johns twelve boasts what is probably the most formidable record of any college team. Getting off to an early start, the Annapolis stickmen have already defeated George Washington University 13-to-1, and Virginia 15-to-0 this year.

Attackmen Clever Rapidly moulding the Lion twelve into shape, Coach Paul plans to retain Guyann at goal, the position he held last year. Hesch, Kane, and Bob Snyder are making strong bids for defense positions, and although they have had little experience, should prove valuable additions to the team.

At center field, Ernie's one big problem this year, Zimmermann, a senior, and Dudd, Labedda, and Multhrop, all sophomores, are the leading contenders. Jake Edel, who played the center position on the 1931 team, may receive the second attack assignment, thus enabling Captain Carlson to move to third attack.

In the daily field scrimmages, Weber and Crooke have been displaying a clever brand of stickwork at the home positions. Antonson, Kielai, and Dick Smith have been waging a close contest for the one other attack position and any one of the three may receive this assignment.

FRESHMEN ANSWER CALL FOR 1935 BASEBALL SQUAD

One hundred and eleven yearlings answered the first call for freshman baseball candidates last week and will compete for positions on the final squad in a series of preliminary practices.

Held back by the cold weather, the yearling squad engaged in its first long workout Saturday afternoon. Coach Leo Houck is in charge of the practices with Albie Morrison and Victor Zana assisting him in handling the large group.

'Loughran Is Good, but I'll Knock Him Out Again,' Hamas Declares

Step into the ring against him and knock him out."

Steve, in giving the interview to the Philadelphia sports writer, took time out from a round of golf with his young bride and talked from New York over the long-distance telephone last week when he lost his first professional fight to Lee Ramuge, of San Diego Calif.

Graduating from Penn State in 1925, Hamas is the only Lion athlete that succeeded in winning five varsity letters in one year. As a boxer, he held the intercollegiate heavyweight title in 1927 and 1929.
