

Penn State Collegian

ESTABLISHED
1901

VOL. 28, No. 56

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1932

PRICE FIVE CENTS

COMPLETE CAMPUS
COVERAGE

CLIQUE TO STATE COST OF CAMPAIGN BY MONDAY NIGHT

3 Doubtful Alignments in 1933 Elections Race Settled By Investigation

1934 STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICE SEEKERS ADDED

Ballots This Year Will Not List Candidates' Affiliations Beside Names

With only four days remaining until class elections, polls open Tuesday afternoon, campaign expense statements must be submitted by all clique chairmen to Hugh R. Riley '32, elections chairman, by midnight Monday.

Three clique alignments in the 1933 elections, concerning which there had been a misunderstanding, were settled by investigation Wednesday. Common club juniors, which were listed in both cliques, are organized under the 1933 Locust Lane ticket, according to Ernest Zeto '33, junior representative of the fraternity.

Nominees Omitted
Phi Gamma Delta juniors, likewise listed in both divisions, are affiliated with the Independent party, Conrad Wunderlich '33, the representative, stated Juniors in Sigma Alpha Epsilon, who were also listed in both cliques, are included in the 1933 Locust Lane alignment, according to John C. Munch, junior chairman.

Nine candidates for 1934 student council seats were omitted in the list of nominees published in the Collegian for April 12. Henry K. Mouthrop, Locust Lane, will oppose Stanley L. Zawacki, Campus, for the single junior education position in the Council.

Ballot Changes Made
Campus clique nominees for three 1934 Student Council posts from the School of Engineering are William H. Cross '34, Daniel V. McCarthy, and Richard H. Shanaman. Robert K. Asplund, William S. Boyard, and Donald G. Brubaker are the Locust Lane candidates for the same positions, while Marvin A. Savland will run on a non-fraternity ticket.

Contrary to the practice in previous years, clique affiliations will not appear next to the candidate's name on the ballot. Likewise, provision for straight ticket voting in a box at the top of the ballot will not be made this year. All clique chairmen who have not received mimeographed copies of the elections code should secure them from the elections chairman at once.

DR. CURRIER WILL HOLD SERIES OF 8 DISCUSSIONS

Student Volunteer Head To Speak Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Under the auspices of the Penn State Christian association, Dr. Raymond P. Currier, educational secretary of the Student Volunteer movement and for ten years a member of the faculty of Judson College, Rangoon, Burma, will conduct a series of eight discussions here Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Dr. Currier will speak at the Baptist Sunday school on "Burma and the Burmese" at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and will address the congregation of the Episcopal church on "Creators of a New Society," at 10:15 o'clock. "Significant Projects in the World Mission of Christianity" will be his subject at the service of the Wesley League at 6:15 o'clock Sunday night. As a prologue to the one-act play, "Ba Thane," Dr. Currier will talk on "Burmese People" at 7:30 o'clock the same night.

Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in Room 304 Old Main, Dr. Currier will discuss "A New Fabric for Society." He will also lecture before two economic geography sections at 1 and 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, on "Ghandi" and "Asiatic Poetry" will be his final discussion topic when he speaks at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning before a comparative literature class.

ALDERFER WRITES ARTICLE

Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, of the history and political science department, is the author of an article entitled "The Fate of the Pinchot Relief Program" appearing in this month's National Municipal Review. The article concerns the legislative failure to pass Governor Pinchot's proposal to spend $120,000,000 in unemployment relief.

ANNOUNCES Speakers for 1932 Summer Session

DEAN WILL G. CHAMBERS

PATTEE TO RETURN FOR ANNUAL TALKS

Professor Emeritus Will Begin Third Series of Lectures Here on May 23

Dr. Fred Lewis Pattee, professor emeritus of American literature, will return to Penn State to give his third annual series of lectures, next month, Dr. William S. Dye jr., head of the English literature department, announced Wednesday.

The first of the series will be given Monday, May 23. Dr. Pattee will deliver the lectures, five in all, in the Little Theatre, Old Main, at 4:15 o'clock daily. He has not named his topic, Dr. Dye said.

Served 31 Years
Last year Dr. Pattee chose as his general theme "The Literature of Today." Topics of his lectures included the newspaper column, poetry of the future, the novelists Sinclair Lewis and Theodore Dreiser, and a concluding talk on "The New Generation."

Dr. Pattee served as head of the English department here for thirty-four years prior to his resignation in 1928 to accept a part-time position as lecturer at Rollins College, Florida. He is the author of several textbooks for literature courses and has written a number of volumes on Philip Freneau, American poet of revolutionary times. Among his works are "Tradition and Jazz," "American Literature Since 1870," and a recent book, "The New American Literature."

ADVERTISING MAN TO DELIVER TALK

Charles Curtis, of Allentown 'Call' Staff, Will Speak Tonight At 7:30 O'clock

Charles C. Curtis, advertising manager of the Allentown Morning Call, will give a talk on "Getting Your Money's Worth in Advertising" in Room 311, Old Main, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Curtis has had fifteen years' experience in the advertising field, serving as advertising manager of the Call for the past five years. The lecture is open to all students and faculty members interested in journalism or advertising. Before entering the advertising profession the speaker taught school during the World War, he served in the anti-aircraft corps, and is now a captain in the Pennsylvania militia. Testifying to Mr. Curtis' ability in his field, the Call is rated tenth in the country in volume of local retail advertising for morning papers.

Who's Dancing

Tonight
Town Club at
Lambert Chi Alpha
(Subscription)
Bill Bolton
Sigma Phi Epsilon
(Invitation)
Varsity Ten
Tomorrow Night
Delta Gamma at
Phi Delta Theta
(Closed)
Bill Bolton
Chi Omega at
Centre Hills Fraternity Club
(Invitation—Dinner Dance)
Varsity Ten

11 NOTED AUTHORS WILL LECTURE AT SUMMER SESSION

Major Thomas Coulson, Writer of 'Mata Hari' To Speak Here on July 11

MRS. PINCHOT CHOOSES 'SOUTH SEAS' AS TOPIC

Lawyer, Investigator Schedules 'Government by Gangland' Address Subject

Eleven prominent authors, critics, and lecturers will speak in the annual Summer Session lecture series this year, according to the 1932 general information bulletin.

Prominent among the speakers is Major Thomas Coulson, author of "Mata Hari," the biography of a notorious German woman spy. He will lecture on "Famous Women Spies" July 11. Three times decorated by his government for his services in counter-espionage, Major Coulson has served many years with the British Military Intelligence.

Mrs. Cornelia Blyce Pinchot, wife of the governor, will give a lecture on the South Seas voyage taken by the Pinchots several years ago. Illustrated with motion pictures taken on the trip, the talk is scheduled for July 12.

Psychologist To Speak
"Government by Gangland" will be the subject of a lecture by T. Ray Hansen July 27. Mr. Hansen, lawyer and investigator, was taken for a "ride" by gangsters several years ago when he was kidnapped from a hotel room near home. The ransom and punishment complete a tragedy that has been retold in countless stories and plays.

Play Minor Parts
Appearing in the leading role of Electra, daughter of Agamemnon, Phyllis G. Beidler '33 will lead the plotting against her mother, Clytemnestra played by Shirley Thorpe '34. Paul K. Hirsch '35 is cast in the part of Orestes, brother of Electra, who carries out the plots of his sister against Clytemnestra and her husband.

Minor speaking roles are played by Bertam Rosenthal '35, Roger H. Hetzel '35, Robert E. Hoove '35 and Benjamin J. Conrad '31. Leaders of the chorus, an important feature of the Greek drama, are Lillie A. Kell '33 and Mary B. Calvin '33.

Playing before an immediately following performance, the Players' orchestra will offer the ballet from "East" by Ground, Beethoven's "Lark March" and "Chanson" by Rudolph Friml.

MOUNTAIN ARTS ASSOCIATION TO MEET HERE TOMORROW

The Mountain Arts association, an organization of central Pennsylvania teachers, will hold a program of meetings and discussion groups here tomorrow.

Opening with section meetings from 10 to 11:30 o'clock, the program will continue with a luncheon meeting at which Dean Will G. Chambers of the School of Education will welcome the visitors in the Old Main sandwich shop.

COLLEGE GIVES LAMER CERTIFICATE OF HONOR

Priestley Speaker Concludes Sixth Annual Series Tuesday Night
At the close of the Priestley lecture series Tuesday night in the Chemistry amphitheatre, Dr. Victor K. Lamer, of Columbia University, was presented by the College with a certificate engraved on a sheepskin in honor of his being the sixth Priestley lecturer in the absence of President Ralph D. Hetzel, bore the seal of the College and the President's signature.

The lectures, each year dealing with the relation between physical chemistry and some other science, were sponsored this year by Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity, together with the department of physical chemistry and the department of biological chemistry.

FIRE DESTROYS AUTOMOBILE

Fire of unknown origin demolished a Ford sedan owned by Oscar Dummer, 3rd, early yesterday morning. The car was parked in front of the owner's rooming house at 1925 West Beaver avenue when the blaze was discovered. The conflagration was discovered within twenty minutes of the sounding of the alarm.

WILL TAKE Feminine Lead in 'Electra' Tomorrow

PHYLLIS G. BEIDLER '33

PLAYERS TO STAGE DRAMA TOMORROW

Beidler '33, Hirsch '35 Appear In Major Roles of Greek Tragedy 'Electra'

Tuning to the classical Greek drama for the first time since 1928, the Penn State Players will offer "Electra," Gilbert Murray's translation of the tragedy by Euripides, in Schwab auditorium at 8:20 o'clock tomorrow night.

"Electra" presents the story of the revenge of the children of Agamemnon over their mother who has killed Agamemnon, married a second husband, and has driven the children from her home. The remorse and punishment complete a tragedy that has been retold in countless stories and plays.

Plan Dinner Speakers
Plans for the '22 reunion are being arranged by James F. Kilm, of the agricultural extension department, Local A. D. Deming, of the same department, has charge of local arrangements for the '27 meeting.

At each class dinner there will be a speaker representing the College administration, according to Mr. Hibshman. Officers of each of the classes holding reunions are now sending out communications to all their classmates through the Alumni association office.

ORATORS WILL ENGAGE PITTSBURGH DEBATERS

Keyes, Fox To Uphold 'Centralized Control' in Contest Fought

Scott Keyes '34 and Samuel J. Klapp '34, composing a Penn State team, will meet representatives of the University of Pittsburgh in a straight, open forum debate in Room 105, Old Main at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The Penn State debaters will uphold the affirmative side of "Revolutions should enact central legislation providing for the centralized control of industry."

Prof. John H. Frazzell, director of debating and head of the public speaking division, will preside at the contest. This will be the final debate of the season, although several contests still remain to be completed on the women's schedule.

'Froth' Race Narrows to 5 Co-eds, 'Smoothies' as Spring Weather Aids

With beautiful spring weather making conditions exceedingly favorable for students to display all their originality and ingenuity in clothing themselves, the annual Froth contest assumes the appearance of a bitter fight as the leading contestants feverishly labor down the little stretch of the campaign which closes tomorrow.

Although the votes thus far have been very evenly distributed this year, five "smoothies" have pressed on a little ahead of the van of contestants. Arranged in alphabetical order these men are Aid G. Anderson '33, Emanuel Perkin '32, James W. Trullinger '32, J. Frederick Winstead '32, and Albert J. Zillgen '32. The possibility of a dark horse coming through this year is very great since no contestant shows an appreciable margin above the rest.

The race for title of most attractive co-ed has narrowed down to five leaders. Last minute votes will play an important part in determining who

8 CLASSES PLAN ALUMNI REUNIONS GRADUATION WEEK

Group of '92, '97, '02, '07, '12, '17, '22, '27 Arrange for June Meetings

MEMBERS IN FACULTY DIRECT LOCAL PROGRAM

Administration Representative Will Speak at Dinners, Hibshman Says

Eight classes, beginning with '92, will hold alumni reunions here June 1 and 5 as a part of the Commencement week, Edward K. Hibshman, executive secretary of the Alumni association has announced.

In addition to '92, the classes of '97, '02, '07, '12, '17, '22, and '27 have planned reunions for the week-end. The class of '82, which was graduated fifty years ago, has also been invited to attend the celebrations.

Local arrangements for the '92 reunion are being made by Milton S. McDowell, vice-dean and director of extension of the School of Agriculture, while Mr. Walter B. McCaskey is arranging plans for the '97 reunion. The '02 meeting is in charge of Prof. John E. Isenberg, of the electrical engineering department.

Prof. Thomas W. Mason, of the School of Chemistry and Physics, is directing local plans for the '07 reunion, while Arthur I. Tobias, of the architecture department is handling arrangements for the '12 meeting. The '17 reunion is under the direction of Prof. Jacob M. Fox, of the agricultural extension department.

Plan Dinner Speakers
Plans for the '22 reunion are being arranged by James F. Kilm, of the agricultural extension department, Local A. D. Deming, of the same department, has charge of local arrangements for the '27 meeting.

At each class dinner there will be a speaker representing the College administration, according to Mr. Hibshman. Officers of each of the classes holding reunions are now sending out communications to all their classmates through the Alumni association office.

ORATORS WILL ENGAGE PITTSBURGH DEBATERS

Keyes, Fox To Uphold 'Centralized Control' in Contest Fought

Scott Keyes '34 and Samuel J. Klapp '34, composing a Penn State team, will meet representatives of the University of Pittsburgh in a straight, open forum debate in Room 105, Old Main at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The Penn State debaters will uphold the affirmative side of "Revolutions should enact central legislation providing for the centralized control of industry."

Prof. John H. Frazzell, director of debating and head of the public speaking division, will preside at the contest. This will be the final debate of the season, although several contests still remain to be completed on the women's schedule.

'Froth' Race Narrows to 5 Co-eds, 'Smoothies' as Spring Weather Aids

With beautiful spring weather making conditions exceedingly favorable for students to display all their originality and ingenuity in clothing themselves, the annual Froth contest assumes the appearance of a bitter fight as the leading contestants feverishly labor down the little stretch of the campaign which closes tomorrow.

Although the votes thus far have been very evenly distributed this year, five "smoothies" have pressed on a little ahead of the van of contestants. Arranged in alphabetical order these men are Aid G. Anderson '33, Emanuel Perkin '32, James W. Trullinger '32, J. Frederick Winstead '32, and Albert J. Zillgen '32. The possibility of a dark horse coming through this year is very great since no contestant shows an appreciable margin above the rest.

'Move-up' Ceremonies Will Include Dance

Barnhart Announces Prom Price of $5.50

Junior Prom admission price has been set at five and one-half dollars, Adam B. Barnhart '33, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday. A favor in the form of a combination cigarette and vanity case is included in the admission price. Contract for decorating Recreation hall will be let sometime this week-end, according to Barnhart. The Prom, scheduled for Friday, May 13, will feature I-sham Jones and his orchestra.

SIGMA DELTA CHI TO INSTALL GROUP

National Journalism Fraternity Will Initiate Alpha Beta Sigma on Sunday

Alpha Beta Sigma, local professional journalism fraternity, will become the third Pennsylvania chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, when the organization installs the local group here Sunday.

Twelve members of the University of Pittsburgh chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, headed by Robert C. Macchesney, president of the chapter and editor of the Pitt Weekly, will install Alpha Beta Sigma members at ceremonies in the Nittany Lion Inn at 3:30 o'clock.

Members Listed
Speakers at the dinner which will be held in the Inn at 6 o'clock include Frank M. Reck, of Detroit, editor of the American Boy magazine, Dean of Mer Arthur R. Warnock, and Hugh R. Riley '32, editor of the COLLEGIAN. Student members of Alpha Beta Sigma, who will be initiated into Sigma Delta Chi are John L. Carson '32, president, Hugo K. Fiear '32, Hugo E. Reck '32, Theodore A. Scull '32, W. Carroll Stephenson '32, W. Stewart Townsend '32, James W. Trullinger '32, Sidney H. Benjamin '33, Donald P. Day '34, W. Curtis Montz '34, Ralph C. Stenmetz '35, Richard A. Wall '35, and John C. Whitaker, graduate student.

William I. Mappel, head of the school of Journalism at Washington and Lee University, Fred Fuller Shedd, editor-in-chief of the Philadelphia Bulletin and honorary member of Sigma Delta Chi, Dean Charles W. Skelton, of the School of the Liberal Arts, Gus M. Stenmetz, editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph, and several other editors and publishers, associate members of Alpha Beta Sigma, will be guests at the dinner.

EVERETT ANNOUNCES DIESEL ENGINE TALKS

Remaining Speakers Named by Head Of Engineering Department

Names of speakers and dates for the four remaining lectures in the Diesel engine series to be given in Room 107, Main Engineering, Wednesday at 2 o'clock, were announced by Prof. Harold A. Everett, head of the department of mechanical engineering, yesterday.

W. F. Joachim, consulting engineer at Philadelphia, will speak on "Diesel Engine Combustion Phenomena" on April 27. "Ante Chambers for Diesel Engines" will be the subject of the May 1 lecture which will be given by H. D. Hill, vice-president and general manager of the Hill Diesel Engine company, Lansing, Mich.

F. N. Perry, of the United American Boiler Corporation, New York City, will discuss "Robert Bosch Fuel Injection Equipment for Diesel Engines" in the May 11 lecture. Two continued Professor Hartmann also explained how Gestalt is used in solving of perplexing problems in sociology, biology, language, metaphysics, and especially in physics in relation to the Einstein theory of relativity.

PLAN THEATRE TICKET SALE FOR STUDENT LOAN FUND

A sale of theatre tickets for the benefit of the Student Loan Fund will be conducted through the Dramatics, according to present plans. A percent of the receipts gained from the sale of the books of tickets, which will be good for anytime, will be turned over to the Student Loan Fund.

Tug-of-war Scheduled For Annual Rites Next Saturday

UPPERCLASS SOCIETIES TO TAP NEW MEMBERS

Speeches by Class Presidents Planned—Price of Lion Suits Lowered

A free all-College dance, a freshman tug-of-war, and the customary taping ceremonies are scheduled for the annual Move-up Day exercises next Saturday, according to plans announced yesterday by H. Aubrey Myers, senior class president.

Opening the rites at which all classes will advance one year, members of the two lower classes will meet for the traditional tug-of-war on Old Beaver field in the rear of the Chemistry amphitheatre at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The annual tussle will be conducted by William B. McCarter '32, head cheerleader.

To Present New Heads
Instead of continuing the custom of the custom in previous years, special exercises will be held on the Old Main terrace at 6 o'clock that night. At this time, taping of upperclassmen by the honor varsity campus societies will be held.

To complete the ceremonies in front of Old Main, Myers, the outgoing senior class president, will introduce the newly elected class heads. Brief speeches are also scheduled.

Lion Suits Ready
Open to members of all the classes, the Move-up Day dance is being arranged by David F. Young '32, who is in charge of the affair. Conducted on a plan similar to the Student Union functions this winter, the dance will be held in Recreation hall following the ceremonies in front of Old Main. Bill Bottorff's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

Members of the graduating class may procure their lion suits at any time at the Stark Brothers and Harper store, Myers has announced. The cost of the suits has been reduced to one dollar and a half, a price much lower than in former years.

HARTMANN GIVES FINAL L. A. TALK

Psychology Professor Ends Series Of Annual Lectures With Gestalt Definition

Concluding the Liberal Arts series this year, Prof. George W. Hartmann, of the psychology department, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Geometry of the Mind" last night.

Defining the keynote of Gestalt psychology that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts, Professor Hartmann said that Gestalt in its broadest outlines emphasizes the dominance of patterns or configurations in life as opposed to human experience, yesterday.

"The thesis that the human mind functions accordingly to wholes rather than to parts is supported by the discovery that psychologically simple reflexes merge from more intricate total movements and that losses in memory and learning ability after brain injury are independent of the site of disturbance but directly related to the magnitude of the injury," the speaker said.

"Protective coloration and camouflage is assimilated to this form of psychology," the psychology professor explained how Gestalt is used in solving of perplexing problems in sociology, biology, language, metaphysics, and especially in physics in relation to the Einstein theory of relativity.

BYL TO ATTEND DEBATE

Dr. William S. Dye jr., head of the English literature department, is in Philadelphia this week to attend the dedication of the Fitness Memorial Library tomorrow. The library is devoted to Shakespearean material and which will be good for anytime, will be turned over to the Student Loan Fund.