

Penn State Collegian.

ESTABLISHED 1904

VOL. 28, No. 57

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 26, 1932

PRICE FIVE CENTS

COMPLETE CAMPUS COVERAGE

COLLEGE OFFICIALS TO VOTE ON EXTRA RECREATION HOUR

Board of Trustees Executives Set Friday as Date for Final Deliberations

DEFINITE PLAN NOT YET CHOSEN BY AUTHORITIES

Merchants Will Cooperate With Time Change Voluntarily, Town Council Says

An extra afternoon hour of recreation for students will be added to the College schedule by a plan to be considered at a meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees Friday.

Just how the extra hour will be added has not yet been determined, College authorities said. It is probable that either the clock will be moved one hour ahead and dinner hour set back or all classes will be moved back one hour.

Petition Presented

Student requests for moving the time schedule ahead one hour have been presented to College authorities in petition form. The petition has been unanimously sanctioned by Student Council, and is backed with the signatures of 638 students and faculty, including interfraternity council members, Student Council members, student board members, and thirty of the College Senate.

Prohibited by law from officially adopting a new time schedule, the Borough council at its meeting last week declared that any change would have to be "voluntary" on the part of the merchants and residents of the town. If the College should favor a change from standard time, there would be no action of the town council necessary to enable the borough citizens to cooperate, officials said.

Merchants Favor Proposal
Merchants of the town have already expressed their willingness to cooperate with any College action in the matter of changing the time schedule. Representative members of the faculty have also signified a favorable attitude toward a change by signing the petition.

Although a committee to formulate plans for a longer student recreational period had been appointed by the College administrative council some time ago, no immediate action was taken. The scheduling of fewer 4 o'clock classes was recommended by the committee as a possible solution to the problem.

MARQUARDT '32 CHOSEN FOR SPARKS FELLOWSHIP

Selected To Receive Annual Award Of $500 by Phi Kappa Phi

H. Louise Marquardt '32 has been named for the Dr. Edwin Erie Sparks Memorial fellowship established this year by Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, Cyrus V. D. Bissell, College scheduling officer and secretary of the Penn State chapter of the fraternity, announced yesterday.

The fellowship is one of three valued at $500 which will be awarded for the first time this year to students from colleges where Phi Kappa Phi is represented. Candidates were named by each of the forty-five chapters on the basis of their undergraduate records and promise of ability to carry on successfully independent research, and final selection was made by a central board of the national organization.

Recipients of the other two fellowships are Henry D. Bossert of Iowa State College and David E. Adelson of the University of Florida. The award was named in honor of Dr. Sparks, former president of the College, who also served as president-general and regent-general of Phi Kappa Phi.

RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Hugo Bezdok, director of the School of Physical Education, Dr. Elwood C. Davis, Alito R. Morrison, and John N. Rammacher of the physical education staff returned Friday from Philadelphia, where they attended a convention of the American Physical Education association. Six students in the curricula of physical education also attended the sessions.

5 of 6 Deans Advocate Artists Course Resumption Next Year

Favors Course Return

DEAN F. C. WHITMORE

HASEK TO TALK ON RUSSIA TOMORROW

Economist Will Address Open Phi Kappa Phi Meeting At 8:15 O'clock

Speaking on "Developments in Russia Since the Revolution," Dr. Carl W. Hasek, head of the department of economics and sociology, will address an open meeting in Schwab auditorium at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night. Sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, the lecture is held in connection with its annual initiation of new members. The fraternity recently changed its plan of selecting new members for scholastic ability alone.

Has Studied Russia
Dr. Hasek will discuss the causes and events of the Russian revolution, and will tell of accomplishments gained in that country under the "Five-year Plan." The economics professor has made a close study of Russian history.

The lecturer is acquainted with the languages of several European countries, and has studied problems of Russia from the viewpoints of various other nations. He will explain the relation of Russia to world problems, and the effect of developments in that country on the United States.

Dr. Hasek came to Penn State as a teacher of the Russian language. This was at the time of the revolution when economic conditions in Russia were more promising than now.

DR. CURRIER WILL GIVE FINAL LECTURE TODAY

To Address Comparative Literature Section on 'Asiatic Poetry'

Sponsored by the Penn State Christian association, a series of discussions was conducted by Dr. Raymond P. Currier, formerly of Judson College, Rangoon Burma yesterday and Sunday and will conclude this morning. In the concluding lecture of his series here, Dr. Currier will speak on Asiatic poetry before a comparative literature class at 8 o'clock.

HAVEN TO ADDRESS GROUP OF METALLURGY STUDENTS

Speaking on the construction of the Russian steel plant at Magnitogorsk, Russia, William P. Haven '09, vice-president of a Cleveland engineering plant, will address a meeting of the Metallurgical society May 9, according to Dr. David F. McFarland, head of the metallurgy department.

Mr. Haven recently returned from the Soviet republic where he supervised the erection of the first of the new furnaces at the Russian plant. He will exhibit a collection of photographs of various industrial stages.

FORESTERS CONDUCT SURVEY

Senior foresters are making a reconnaissance survey of a large tract of timberland in western Maryland, under the direction of the Maryland State Department of Forestry.

Whitmore Says College 'Duty-Bound' to Aid Cultural Plan

Artists courses should be brought back to the Penn State students next year, five of six deans agreed when interviewed Sunday regarding the feasibility of the College sponsoring the courses here again.

Of the six school heads, all believed that the concerts were extremely desirable and only one thought it impossible to conduct them the coming year because of the present depression. Regardless of the poor conditions now prevailing the others maintained the course was of sufficient significance to warrant its return here.

"Concerts are of the utmost importance in rounding out the vacant spots not covered by any particular course," said Dean Will Grant Chambers, of the School of Education. "It is during one's College life that one becomes interested and can develop a desire for and learn to understand art. For this reason the Penn State student must not be denied the chance to assimilate this necessary part of a well-rounded college education."

Since Penn State is not situated in a center of culture, according to Dean Frank C. Whitmore, of the School of Chemistry and Physics, the College is duty-bound to try to support a course of this type. However, precautions should be taken to insure a favorable showing on the part of the students.

"Reflection has been cast upon the artistic taste of the College students because of their unwillingness to give proper support to the Artists course in former years," stated Dean Edward Steadley, of the School of Mineral Industries. "It is the highest type of entertainment and I consider it a shame that a faculty of 500 and a student body of 5,000 should not support the project. If the students have

BELL TELEPHONE TO INSTALL DIALS

Proposed System Would Replace Present Organization by Early Next Year

Announcement that a dial telephone system would be installed in State College was made last week by the Bell Telephone company.

The new dial unit, which replaces the "central" office, will handle all local calls. Operators will still take care of toll calls, information, and live services.

I. M. DEBATING TEAMS REACH THIRD BRACKET OF TOURNAMENT

With the Delta Upsilon-Phi Epsilon Phi contest still pending, the intramural debating tournament reached the third round when the Penn State club met Phi Kappa Nu last night.

In the second round Phi Gamma Delta forfeited to Omega Epsilon and Phi Sigma Delta forfeited to Beta Sigma Rho. Opening the third round of the tourney, Alpha Zeta will meet Omega Epsilon.

NORRIS-MALMED, THESPIAN MIRTH PRODUCERS, TO PAIR FOR LAST TIME IN 'WE THE PEOPLE'

When Jim Norris '32 and Ed Malm '33 complete their parts as comedians in "We the People," 1932 Thespian show to be presented Saturday, May 14, they will end a comedy partnership that has existed since 1930, when they teamed together for their first Thespian production, "Dutchess in Dutch."

Co-eds To Nominate Officers Tomorrow

Nominations for officers of the four women's classes will be held in the MacAllister hall lobby from 8 until 5 o'clock tomorrow. Elections will take place next Wednesday.

47 WILL RECEIVE ACADEMIC PRIZES

Announcement of Fellowships, Awards Scheduled for Scholarship Day

Forty-seven awards to individual students, including three fellowships and twenty-four scholarships, will be announced at the annual Scholarship Day exercises May 7, Dr. William S. Dye jr., chairman of the committee on Academic Standards, stated Sunday.

Honor Society Council medals for high scholastic standing will be awarded to twenty-one sophomores and thirty freshmen, Dr. Dye said. The medals are provided through a gift of Henry D. Miles '89.

To Present White Medal

The John W. White medal, valued at $75, will be awarded to a member of the senior class outstanding in academic achievement. Two members of the student body who have attained the highest scholastic averages, regardless of class or course, will be awarded President Sparks medals at the exercises.

The three White fellowships of $600 each will be awarded to members of the graduating class for use in advanced study at Penn State or other institutions approved by the President of the College.

The Scholarship Day program will be held on the same week-end as Mothers' Day this year. Dr. Edwin C. Broome, superintendent of Philadelphia public schools, will be the principal speaker, while President Hetzel will preside at the exercises in Schwab auditorium.

EDUCATOR SPEAKS IN CHAPEL SUNDAY

Dr. Johnson, President of Howard University, Delivers Sermon On 'Social Problems'

"Social Problems and Personal Salvation" was the subject of the chapel address by Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard University, Washington, D. C., in Schwab auditorium Sunday morning.

"The country in which we live and the civilization to which we belong is confronted now more than ever with staggering social problems," Dr. Johnson said. "Men who can lead the world out of its present situation and who hold the interests of the people uppermost, can be developed only from the depths of religious convictions."

Citing Abraham Lincoln as the type of man who dares to blaze new paths, the chapel speaker declared that this was the kind of leadership needed to guide the country through present-day social problems.

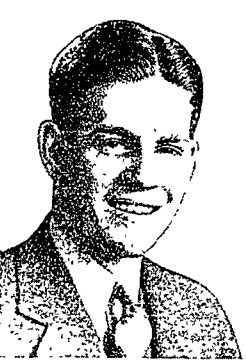

"Has the human race developed to its fullest extent or will it continue on its long journey?" Dr. Johnson asked. "All life and its problems of salvation depend entirely on this question of whether life is becoming stagnant or if it will continue to progress."

Shaeffer Opposes Wood in 1933 Presidential Race as Polls Open At 12:45 O'clock This Afternoon

Candidates for Senior Class Presidency

CHARLES W. SHAEFFER '33

JOHN A. WOOD '33

PLAYERS ANNOUNCE CAST FOR COMEDY

Will Present 'Bird in Hand' as Part of Mothers' Day Program May 7

"Casting of 'Bird in Hand,' three-act comedy drama by John Dinkwater to be given Saturday, May 7, by the Penn State Players as part of the Mothers' Day program, has been completed, according to Frank S. Neusbaum, of the department of English composition, who directs the play.

Reginald R. Keaton '32 is cast in the leading role of Thomas Greenleaf, with Barbara Vincent '31 taking the part of Alice Greenleaf, his wife. Elsie L. Sandberg '31 will portray the character of Joan Greenleaf, then daughter.

ENGINEER WILL OPEN NEW SERIES OF DIESEL LECTURES

Speaking on "Diesel Engine Combustion Phenomenon" W. J. Joachim, consulting engineer, will give the first of the new series of Diesel engine lectures presented under the auspices of the department of mechanical engineering in Room 107 Main Engineering building at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Joachim, now located at Philadelphia, formerly served as engineer in charge of Diesel engine work at Langley Field Va. He was later a designing engineer for the Westinghouse corporation.

INSTITUTE TO HOLD DISCUSSION OF TAXES

Civic Leaders Will Convene for Urban Problems Conclave Here July 26, 27, 28

With "Can Taxes Be Reduced?" as the problem for discussion, civic leaders throughout the State will gather in five round table groups to consider various phases of the question at the first annual Institute of Urban Problems here July 26, 27, and 28.

"Urban Taxation Problems" will be the theme of one section of this year's institute. Led by Dr. Leonard P. Fox, research director of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, the round table discussions will be centered around such questions as exemption from taxes, revenue sources other than taxes, bond issues, equitable assessments, and methods of collection.

Municipal budgeting problems will be the topic considered by another section of the institute, led by Major Philip Mathews, of the Pittsburgh Governmental Research bureau. Types of budgets, budgetary control and preparation, and methods and procedure will be some of the subdivisions to be discussed.

TO DISCUSS WATER PROBLEMS

Dr. W. L. Stevenson, chief engineer of the State Department of Health, will preside over the round table where water supply and sanitation problems will be considered. Attention will be focused on source, collection, purification, and distribution of water supplies, and on sewerage problems.

The child in the family and away from home, juvenile delinquency, and the relation of the school to child welfare will be some of the topics taken up at the round table discussion in charge of Miss Edith Everett, director of the White-Williams Foundation, Philadelphia.

The fifth section of the institute will investigate city manager plans under the direction of H. W. Dadds, chairman of the School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University.

FORENSIC TEAM MEETS PITTSBURGH DEBATERS

Keyes, Klapper Defend Affirmative In Last 1932 Argument

Closing the 1931-32 forensic season, Penn State affirmative team composed of Scott Keyes '33 and Samuel J. Klapper '33 engaged representative of the University of Pittsburgh in an Oregon style, no-decision debate on the centralization of industry question here Friday night.

In accordance with the Oregon plan, Klapper and David Sandler, of Pittsburgh, gave the opening constructive speeches. Cross-examinations and summations for each side were presented by Leonard Boleman for Pittsburgh and Keyes for Penn State.

Stressing the gravity of present conditions, the affirmative maintained that centralization of industry, operating through a central board, would remedy the situation.

First Floor Lounge of Old Main Chosen Voting Place

MATRICULATION CARDS NEEDED FOR BALLOTING

Baltus, Hines, Rathmell Enter Contest To Gain Junior Executive Post

With two weeks of campaigning reaching a peak yesterday, member class and Student Council elections polls will open in the first floor lounge of Old Main at 12:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Balloting will close at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon and open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Closing again at 5:15 o'clock, the voting will begin at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and continue until 12:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

With the lounge roped off to make aisles on both sides of the room, voters from three schools will pass through the left aisle and those from the other three schools will pass through the right aisle. In order to vote, students must present their second semester matriculation cards, which will be checked with the Deans' list of eligibles and punched to prevent voting again.

Individual desks will be provided in the lounge for marking ballots privately, and each school will have its own ballot box. Opportunity for voting a straight clique ticket is eliminated on this year's ballot, and congregating in Old Main will be barred.

In the race for next year's senior class officers, Charles W. Shaeffer will oppose John A. Wood for the 1933 presidency, while Milton I. Baldinger and Robert F. Newcomer will contest for the post of secretary. Willard P. Heustler and Orrin G. Meyers are competitors for the treasurer post.

Sophomore Candidates Listed
William D. Baltus, Philip F. Hines, and John N. Rathmell are the presidential contestants in the three-cornered junior class elections. Norris B. McFarlane, Glenn A. Ritchey, and William J. Suchors are nominees for the secretaryship. Willard P. Heustler and Orrin G. Meyers are competitors for the treasurer post.

In the sophomore balloting, Walter G. Benner jr. and Paul K. Hirsch will seek the office of president, with George L. Fischer jr. and John M. Stocker contesting for the secretary position. In the 1935 treasurer contest, Hudson H. Erisman will compete against James A. Hannah.

Three senior representatives to Student Council from the Agriculture School will be elected from a group composed of John A. Clarkson, John C. Feitig, Albert G. Hall, Casey F. Lorenzo, Homer H. Murtz, and George W. Wick-Lead. Candidates for the two senior Chemistry and Physics seats are James B. Gosne, Edwin G. Graeber, Clem E. Gritsvavage, and Peter P. Machung.

Edward P. Bahn and Donald R. Ernst are competitors for the single 1933 Education School position in the council. Four senior Engineering representatives will be elected from A. Albert Blass, William R. Dav jr., Raymond C. McClintock, Robert M. Maxwell, William H. Miller, and Max D.

'Collegian' To Issue Elections Special

Complete results of the men's class and Student Council elections which will be held this afternoon, tomorrow, and Thursday morning, will be published in a special edition of the COLLEGIAN Thursday night.

Members of the elections committee will compute the results immediately after the polls Thursday afternoon. The edition will be placed on street sale early Thursday night.

(Continued on page four)