COLLEGE ARRANGES FOR MOTHERS' DAY

Women Students Plan Events Tomorrow—Giles To Talk At Services Sunday

A Cwens breakfast, a tea given by women students, the annual May Day ceremonies tomorrow, and a special chapel service Sunday are a part of the program arranged for Penn State's celebration of Mothers' Day this week-end.

Opening the May Day festivities tomorrow, freshmen women will escort their mothers and their junior "big sisters" to a breakfast sponsored by Cwens, honorary sophomore women's activities society, on Holmes field at 7 o'clock. After the breakfast, Cwens will tap their new members for the coming year.

In the afternoon visiting mothers will be entertained at a tea given by Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, and women students in the second floor lounge of Old Main from 3 to 5 o'clock. The annual May fete will be held on Holmes field at 6:15 o'clock.

Giles To Speak

Speaking on the text, "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you," the Rev. W. Warren Giles, pastor of the First Reformed church, East Orange, N. J., will address the Mothers' Day chapel service in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Born in New York city in 1860, Dr. Giles studied at the Pennsylvania Military College at Chester and at the City College in New York. After attending Columbia Law School a few months, he decided to make the ministry his life work and entered Union Theological Seminary, where he was graduated in 1885.

Dr. Giles served as pastor of the Church of the Redeemer in Harlem and later accepted a pastorate in Summit, N. J. In 1907 he became pastor of the First Reformed church of East Orange.

JUNIOR CHEERLEADERS NAMED FOR NEXT YEAR

Committee Chooses Davies, Harper, Boyce As Assistants Tuesday

William H. Boyce '34, John T. Davies '31, and Warren S. Harper '31 were named junior assistant cheerleaders for next year at a meeting of the selection committee Tuesday night.

In accordance with the new code passed last year, the cheerleaders were named by a committee composed of Hugo Bezelok, of the School of Physical Education, Richard W. Grant, director of the department of music, Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, Robert A. Higgins, head football coach, Alfred E. Lewis, president of the Athletic association, and William B. McCarter, head cheerleader this year.

The new code also provides for the awarding of class numerals to the junior assistants, who were named this year from a group of sophomore candidates who have been training under senior cheerleaders for the past two weeks.

TO INSPECT R. O. T. C. UNIT

Major Frank E. Donney, U. S. Infantry, and Major Mason J. Young, Engineer corps, will inspect the College regiments and equipment on Monday.

STUDENTS TO VOTE ON A. A. PRESIDENT AT POLLS MONDAY

Candidates Include McAndrews, McMinn, Moser, Napoleon, Grimshaw, Brewster

DUNAWAY, KANE NAMED SECRETARIAL NOMINEES

Association Will Place Boxes in Principal Buildings for Annual Balloting

Students will go to the polls Monday to select the 1932-33 Athletic association president and secretary from a group of eight candidates. A proposed amendment to recognize fencing as an intercollegiate sport will also be submitted to student vote if the Athletic Board approves the action at its meeting tomorrow night.

Candidates for the presidency of the association are Jesse H. Brewster, John O. Grimshaw, John L. McAndrews, Edwin K. McMinn, Walter C. Moser, and John R. Napoleon. Wayland F. Dunaway and Fred E. Kane are nominees for the position of secretary.

Must Show Cards

Ballot boxes will be placed in the principal buildings of each of the six schools. Students must present their athletic cards in order to vote. The polls will be open from 8 until 3 o'clock.

The amendment, which may appear on the ballot, would award members of the fencing team a four and one-fourth inch letter T to make this award, students must authorize changes in the Athletic association constitution to recognize fencing as a regular intercollegiate sport. It is understood that if the change is made, no extra expense is to be incurred by the sport.

Majority Vote Needed

If a majority is not reached in Monday's balloting, a second election will be held Wednesday. In the second vote, all candidates except the two receiving the highest number of votes cast will be dropped from the ballot. Results of the first ballot will be published in Tuesday's issue of the COLLEGIAN so that students may know if a second election is necessary. An executive board, comprised of thirteen members and appointed by Alfred E. Lewis '32, president of the association, will have charge of the elections.

BLUE BAND PLANS CONCERT SUNDAY

Thompson Will Direct Presentation Of Initial Spring Program On Front Campus

The Blue Band will present its first Spring concert under the direction of Bandmaster Wilfred O. Thompson on the Campus in front of Old Main at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The program, which consists of seven classical and military compositions, will begin with "Invocation to Battle," by Wagner to be followed by the Allegro Moderato from Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

As the third number, the College Symphonic Band will play a selection of "The Chocolate Soldier," composed by Oscar Straus. Next will be given Adagio from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata." An oddity, "Stilus Trombone," by Lake, will feature the trombone section in a solo presentation.

Other compositions on the program include Puhari's "The Battle for Democracy," and "Semper Fidelis March," in commemoration of Sousa, the composer. A special arrangement of Taps by Major Thompson will conclude the recital.

Since this is the only recital of the Band scheduled before its Commencement concert, senior members of the organization will make their last appearance before the student body.

HAZELTON WILL SPEAK ON 'PRODUCTION PHASES' TODAY

Oscar M. Hazelton, owner of the Commercial Printing Company of Scranton will speak on "Production Phases" in Room 300 Mining Bldg at 4 o'clock this afternoon. PLAYERS TO OFFER DRAMA TOMORROW

Will Present 'Bird in Hand' as Feature of Mothers' Day Program

Offering comedy drama as the concluding feature of the Mothers' Day program tomorrow, the Penn State Players will present "Bird in Hand," the one-act play by John Dinkwater, in Schwab auditorium at 8:20 o'clock.

The Mothers' Day audience will be witness to a play in which the plot presents a conflict of ideas between older and modern generation. Portraying the older generation, Reginald R. Kearton '32 will take the part of Thomas Greenleaf while Elsie Sandberg '31, cast in the role of his daughter, will present the side of the younger generation.

Vincent Plays Lead

Kearton, whose part places him in the role of the leading character, will be making his last appearance in a Players production, as will Peter G. Meek '32, who portrays the part of Cyril Bevelley, a would-be author.

Baubia Vincent '33 is cast in the role of Kearton's wife while Ralph D. Hetzl '33, portraying the character of Ambrose Godolphin, a lawyer, and Burton Rowles '35, who takes the part of Mr. Blanquet, a sardine salesman, are other principal characters in the play. Robert C. Ayers '32, as Sir Robert Atwood, and Thomas M. Runnette '35 as Gerald, his son, complete the cast.

Musical interludes will be played by the Players Little Symphony orchestra, led by Donald A. Shelley '32. The play is under the direction of Frank S. Neusbaum, of the department of English composition.

UNIVERSITY PHYSICIANS WILL MEET TOMORROW

Directors To Consider Formation of State Organization Here

With the main purpose of discussing the advisability of organizing a Pennsylvania section of the American Student Health association, health directors at colleges throughout the State will meet here tomorrow at the request of Dr. Joseph P. Ritenour, director of the College Health service.
