There's one day on which the home events on any group of sports schedules come to a climax. That day, as far as Penn State's spring sports are concerned, comes tomorrow when scheduled home engagements for four varsity teams and two freshman aggregations, together with the annual interscholastic track meet, make the Beaver athletic fields the busiest hive of activity they will be this spring. Representatives of thirty-two different institutions will be here for the competitive activities.

The keen interest displayed throughout the State in the interscholastic meet, even though it's a depression year, testifies to the fine reputation this annual Nittany event has secured.

Seeking to bowl over Syracuse to gain the first leg on the Triangular association trophy, the baseball team has probably the hardest task of the day on its hands. The team has been weakened by losses through injury and ineffectiveness and paired with this is the natural weakened morale occasioned by losing three games in a row. However, nothing should be more conducive for a return to form than returning to Beaver field, with the undeniable support of the bleachers.

Coach Joe Bedenk is making a wise move, we feel, in giving Al DeBonis the important starting assignment. Al showed plenty of his old form in his start against Yale. If he regains his old mastery, it will just about solve Nittany's hurling problems.

Thus and that... Larry Conover got a cheer from the harried crowd Monday night. Those Penn Relay wrist watches the trackmen are sporting. Don't forget to cast that A A ballot Monday. Dave Thomas and Jack Meyers, former team-mates on Dutch Heilmann's Lion quintet, opposed each other in one of those I M baseball games the other day. Leo Houck's middle name is Florian. Princeton gained another one-run victory Wednesday. Phil Moonves will not be able to take over his fielding duties before the end of the month, the hospital has notified Joe Bedenk. And who was it that said the Pitt meet tomorrow will be a dunaway?

LION NINE TO BEGIN DEFENSE OF TITLE

WILL FACE ORANGE TEAM TOMORROW

Al DeBonis Slated for Pitching Duty in First Association Contest of Season

By GEORGE A. SCOTT

It takes a champion to come back after defeat. Tomorrow afternoon Penn State's Triangular association baseball champions will take the field here against Syracuse University, determined to demonstrate that they are worthy title-holders—that they can come back after three losses in a row last week.

The Orange contest marks the first defense of their title by the Nittany Lion batsmen this year. Three more association games are in the schedule this month, two with Colgate and another with Syracuse at Syracuse, but on tomorrow's showing probably tests the Lion chances for their second title, for they must recover their stride immediately if victory is to come their way in the future.

Bedenk Shifts Lineup
With Phil Moonves lost to the team indefinitely as the result of an injury received at Princeton last week, Coach Joe Bedenk has been forced to shift his lineup considerably to fill the place made vacant in the outfield. Captain, George Hoopes has moved to Moonves' center field position and either Herm Gaumer or Harold Brewster will fill the right field berth.

A second change may send "Zev" Zawacki to first base in place of Marsh, although the chances are greatly in favor of the more experienced Marsh retaining his position, at least at the start. Zawacki's hitting power makes it difficult to keep him off the first nine and Bedenk this week gave him a trial at first base and found him fitting the new position in approved fashion.

Al DeBonis, who flings them from the right side, has been nominated for pitching duty against the Orange. The veteran showed plenty of stuff

YEARLING TOSSERS TO START SEASON

Untried Freshman Team Will Oppose Bellefonte Academy in First Game Here Tomorrow

With Bellefonte Academy as its opponent, an untried freshman baseball team will open its season on New Beaver field diamond at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow.

Although Coach Leo Houck has not decided on the final lineup, Seltzer will probably take the mound position with Woolbert behind the plate. Other pitchers, who may see action are Booker, Dydo, Monie, Van Aulen, and Wert, while Bohn will probably get in the game at the catcher's post.

Either Spangston or Rose will see service at the first sack, while second base will be held down by either Stocker or Boyd. Volk and Donovan are available for shortstop duty, and either Mikelonis, Bassett, or Daily will take the third base position.

Left fielders who will probably get in the game are Callahan and Chornock, while either Maybee or Lewellyn will get the call at center field. Williams or Johnson will see action at right field.

In his first start of the season against Yale last week despite the 11-to-1 defeat chalked up against him.

STICKMEN LEAVE FOR 2 CONTESTS

Will Meet Colgate Twelve Today. Syracuse Tomorrow on First Road Trip

Playing away from their lair on New Beaver field for the first time this year, Nittany Lion lacrossemen will attempt to batter down the Colgate Macon at Hamilton, N. Y., this afternoon, and the Syracuse Orange at Syracuse tomorrow.

With the Orangemen undoubtedly possessing the more formidable to elve of the two, Coach Ernie Paul expects to easily shake off the Macon attack to concentrate on the Syracuse fray. Practically the same lineup will be used for both games.

Orange Team Strong
Gwynn will start at goal for the Macon contest with McMillen and Day taking care of the points. At the attack positions, Coach Paul will use Smith, Captain Carlson and Crawford. However, Kielat and Antonson are making the trip and may see action at either of these positions. The center berth will be filled by Cramer while Edell and Croche will line up at the homes. Kane, Hensch and Moulthrop will start on the defense.

2 FRATERNITIES TO MEET IN HORSESHOE FINALS TONIGHT

Alpha Zeta will meet Kappa Delta Rho in the intramural horseshoe championship at the Recreation hall tonight.

The Alpha Zeta pitchers advanced to the finals by defeating Tau Kappa Epsilon Number One, while Tau Kappa Epsilon Number Two lost to Kappa Delta Rho in the semifinal.

S I M. SOCCER TEAMS WIN

Eight intramural soccer teams including Alpha Chi Rho, Alpha Gamma Rho, Delta Theta Sigma, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi Sigma Nu, and Sigma Phi Alpha, won their first games in the preliminary of the tournament last week, according to Harry E. Wilson, manager. Eight other teams have yet to play their first contests.
