Co-ed Debate Teams Journey 1800 Miles For 8 Engagements

Women's debating teams traveled 1,800 miles to speak in eight contests before 3,000 people this season, according to Clayton H. Schug, instructor in public speaking and women's debating coach. Virginia I. Dummire '34 headed the list of six co-ed orators by speaking in four contests. Sarah A. Ferrer '33, Ruth H. Niebel '33, and Gertrude Tu- lin '34 each participated in three debates, while Marie G. Mahoney '34 appeared in two.

When the women's team debated Seth Low Junior College of Columbia University, it was the first time that Penn State women debaters participated in a contest with a men's team. Other colleges which the co-eds debated were Skidmore College, New York State Teachers College, William and Mary College, University of Pittsburgh, and Ursinus College. One extension contest was held at Montoursville.

3 Alumni To Seek Legislative Posts In Fall Elections

Three Penn State graduates will be candidates for positions in the State Legislature at the primaries in November, one seeking a seat in the Senate, and the other two in the House of Representatives.

Miles B. Horst, president of the class of 1914, and now Secretary of the Pennsylvania Agriculture council, will seek the post of representative from Lebanon county, while Earl E. Hewitt '15 will be a candidate for the House from Indiana county. Joseph S. Ziensenheim '15 will seek the senatorial position from the Erie district.

Three former Penn State students are now members of the Legislature. Joseph Armstrong '28 holds a seat in the Senate from Allegheny county, while Richard S. Quigley '06, Clinton county, and Richard Williamson '03, of the Huntingdon-Blair district, are also Senate members.

Meadville Youth Places First In Journalistic Contest For High Schools

William E. Graffam, high school reporter for the Meadville Tribune-Herald, won first place in the second annual high school page contest held here under the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, according to an announcement made by the judges, Wednesday.

Arthur T. Reeves of the Aliquippa Gazette received second place, while Frances J. Biddle of the Huntingdon Daily News was named as the third winner. The successful contestants were awarded prizes amounting to seventy-five dollars.

Articles written by high school senior reporters throughout the State, were submitted by thirty-eight daily papers which are members of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, and contain columns written regularly by high school student contributors.

Over two hundred reporter contestants were considered in the contest. The news stories which were clipped from the daily newspapers were sent here and judged by a group selected from men prominent in journalistic work in the State.

The judges for the contest were, C. M. Morrison, editor of the Philadelphia Ledger, Floyd Chalfant, publisher of the Waynesboro Record, Clifford A. Shaw, city editor of the Clearfield Progress, Charles M. Meredith, publisher of the Quakertown Free Press, and Prof. Franklin C. Banner of the journalism department.

Students Keep Same Positions as in Preparatory Schools, Hoffman Finds

Penn State students usually remain in the same relative positions in their College classes as they occupied in preparatory school, according to a report of groups of students in the class of 1932 just issued by William S. Hoffman, College registrar.

Selecting five groups of twenty-four students each from the freshman class in 1928, on the basis of their high school standing, the registrar compiled records of each group through six semesters.

Only three out of the twenty-four students from the fifth-fifth had attained senior standing at the end of three years, while sixteen out of the twenty-four from the first-fifth were in their proper class and one had graduated at the end of three years. Thirteen from the second-fifth, ten from the third-fifth, and ten from the fourth-fifth stayed in College. Just one third of the students from the fifth-fifth were in College continuously for three years as compared with three fourths of the first-fifth who remained in College straight through these years. Nineteen of the twenty-four from the first-fifth were in College at the end of the six semesters, while there remained only ten of the twenty-four from the lowest fifth.

At the end of six semesters the average of those remaining from the high school first-fifth group was in the third-tenth of their College class, the second-fifth group average was the fifth-tenth, and third-fifth was the sixth-tenth, and fourth-fifth was the seventh-tenth, and the average of the lowest fifth group was in the eighth-tenth.

XZESPIO (born with wings) EXHIBIT A. MERCURY EXHIBIT B. PEGASUS

In the best families (or any others for that matter) that doesn't happen nowadays. Hence the United States Air Corps offers some attractive inducements to you college students for whom it has built a $10,000,000 institution at San Antonio, Texas, where they teach you to fly and while you are learning:

- Pay you a salary of $75.00 per month.
Pay your living expenses.
Supply you (free, of course) with snappy, tailor-made, sky blue uniforms.
Grant you the social and military privileges of potential officers.
Pay your traveling expenses from your home to the new field at San Antonio.

700 men are taken in each year. The course requires a year to complete and includes over 200 hours of solo flying. Those who stay the full year are commissioned as Lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve.

If you don't like the training you may resign at any time. For example:

Should you stay three months and then resign you will receive $225.00 cash, your round trip expenses from your home to San Antonio, and about 50 hours of solo flying.

The service and associations of the Air Corps gives its members a very real distinction and a very noticeable breadth and poise. If you have applied and are ready to go, we have compiled information and tips giving you inside angles and dope that will be invaluable when you arrive at the field. If you haven't applied yet, then by all means get our information. We tell you the entrance procedure and certain twists that make your getting in easier and quicker. The information written by men who have been through the school covers all points from beginning to end that you are interested in knowing. This information cannot be obtained elsewhere; it is complete. Nothing else to buy. The price is $1.00 or sent C. O. D. if you desire.
