

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

When the last ball has been fielded in next Saturday's baseball game between the Lions and Bucknell, another intercollegiate sports year will have faded into the dust for Penn State. In many ways, it has been an eventful year, one that has seen the Nittany Lion retain his supremacy at the top of most lines of sport.

Football, the major sport, produced little that was satisfactory in the matter of victories, but the fight of the team and the general spread among colleges of the athletic ideals we are sponsoring bore promise of better days in the immediate future.

Soccer, cross-country, boxing, and wrestling all had the consistently good seasons they have been experiencing during recent years. Basketball, although a majority of the games were lost, made a game comeback in student popularity and promises to regain its old prestige.

Among the spring sports, the baseball team is within grasp of its second straight triangular championship. Golf also had a good season although the records of the track, lacrosse, and tennis teams have been disappointing.

Incidentally, here's wishing the best of luck to all those Nittany Lions, singing their athletic swan songs next Monday. . . . We'll be seen't you . . .

BATSMEN WILL MEET COLGATE TOMORROW

Lions Conquer Temple For Fifth Straight Victory, 5-4

By GEORGE SCOTT '31

Penn State's varsity batsmen will be placed on the spot here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when they meet Colgate University in the final game of the 1932 Triangular association series.

At present the leaders of the association race, the Nittany Lions need only a victory against the Maroon tomorrow to clinch their second straight title. Colgate, beaten by the Lions in an eleven-inning game a week ago today, jumped back into the running with a 4-to-0 victory over Syracuse and can tie for the title by winning tomorrow's game.

Winn Stops Ovis

Temple University's diamond representatives bowed to the Bedenkmen in one of the fastest games played here this season Wednesday, an eighth inning rally giving the Lions a 5-to-4 decision. Bill Kasesak and Captain George Hoopes clouted homers, Brewster and Zawaeki had triples and Kasesak a double to aid in the run scoring.

Paul Winn went the route and except for a bad third inning had the Owl batters at his mercy. The little righthander allowed ten hits, but kept them well scattered and demonstrated that he'll be mighty valuable to the 1933 nine.

3 Teams Will Play Final Contests of Season Next Week

Three Lion sports teams will bring their schedules to a close in contests next week.

Following its return game with Bellefonte Academy at Bellefonte tomorrow afternoon, the freshman baseball nine will play its last game of the season on New Beaver field at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon when it meets Wyoming Seminary.

The Lion varsity baseball team will encounter Bucknell here at 2:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon in the last engagement of its fifteen-game 1932 card. The diamondmen have a record of seven games won and four lost with the Bucknell and tomorrow's game with Colgate here remaining on the schedule.

Penn State's lacrosse team will oppose an aggregation of alumni stars, including Skip Stahley, Western Maryland coach, on New Beaver field at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon. The team will be minus the services of Captain Ray Carlson, Bill McMillen and John Gwynn, who recently signed contracts to play with the Boston Shamrocks, a professional club.

3 I. M. FINALS TOMORROW
Finals in the intramural golf, tennis, and mushball tournaments will be held tomorrow afternoon.

GAME TO HONOR MCKUNE
In honor of Captain Ted McKune, a soccer game will be played on New Beaver field Monday afternoon.
