

12 VARSITY TEAMS BATTLE FOR LIONS

Five Freshman Groups Compete For Yearlings—Baseball Team Secures Cup

Penn State is represented in the field of intercollegiate athletics by twelve varsity teams and five freshman teams, which each year meet college aggregations from all over the country.

Football, baseball, basketball, boxing, wrestling, lacrosse, track, cross-country, soccer, tennis, golf and gymnastics are the varsity teams, while the freshmen are represented by football, basketball, baseball, track and cross-country teams.

Last year the Lion teams had a mediocre season as a whole, and none gained an intercollegiate championship. The baseball team, however, won the Triangular Association cup, for which Penn State competes with Colgate and Syracuse, and turned in an undefeated home record.

Coach Nate Cartmell's track and cross-country teams maintained their usual brilliance. The cindermen went through the season undefeated, while the cross-country team won its meets with Pitt and Syracuse. At the Penn Relays at Philadelphia, Penn State's sprint medley relay team gained first place and the championship of America by turning in a time of 3 minutes, 28 3/5 seconds. The cross-country team placed third at the intercollegiate A. A. A. meet.

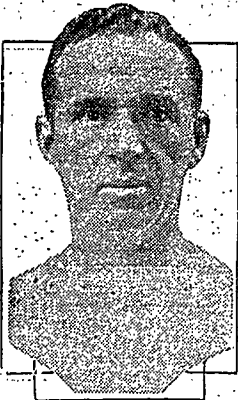

Gain 3 Titles

Penn State's soccer team, under the veteran tutelage of Coach Bill Jeffrey, also remained undefeated. Four victories and three ties constituted the record of the booters. During the last thirteen years, Penn State's soccer teams have had the best record of any team in the East. Four times in the last six years they have been undefeated.

This fall the usual difficult schedule awaits the Lion booters. The Lafayette, Syracuse and Army games will be played here, while Harvard, Springfield and Haverford will be met away.

With the boxing team placing second to Syracuse, three Lion boxers fought their way to intercollegiate championships last season. In addition, at the national collegiate boxing tournament and Olympic try-outs, which were held here last Spring, Captain Davey Stoop and Al Lewis gained national championships and the right to enter further Olympic trials.

Lion wrestlers won four of their six meets, tying one and losing one. The golfers won every match except the last which they dropped to Colgate. Although the basketball team annexed only six out of fifteen games, it closed the season with the first victory over Pitt in five years. With five lettermen returning a good season is in prospect.

Although football fortunes were not so good last fall, a lighter schedule this year makes a more successful season probable. The gridgers began practice September 6 for their first game here with Lebanon Valley on October 1. The Lions will oppose Waynesburg here the following week, and will meet Harvard at Cambridge, Massachusetts, on October 15.

The Alumni Homecoming battle with Syracuse is scheduled for October 22 here, and on October 29 the Lions will meet Colgate at Hamilton.

completes the same ends in the Engineering School. Although published by students who are elected annually, articles are frequently contributed to both magazines by faculty members.

LaVie, the Penn State yearbook, is published by a staff elected through competition in the junior year. In addition to covering the activities and events of the year, and giving a complete cross-section of campus activities, clubs, and organizations it presents the history of the class and records of class members. LaVie calls candidates in the sophomore year. Twelve men are selected to serve as junior editors, and this number is cut to six staff members to edit the book as seniors.

The Student Handbook, published under the auspices of the P. S. C. A., is a guide prepared primarily for the use of freshmen. It is an informational book.

New York. A new opponent, the University of the South, will be the Pennsylvania Day attraction on November 5, while a game with Temple at Philadelphia on November 12 will close the season.

Freshman football candidates will be called out soon after Freshman Week. Games will be played with Pitt freshmen, Bellefonte Academy, Kiski, and Wyoming Seminary. The freshman cross-country team will engage the Pitt yearlings and compete in the J. C. 4A. meet at New York City.

STATE RESTORES $1,000,000

After having cut over $1,000,000 from Penn State's biennial appropriation in May, the State legislature restored the whole amount at a special session this summer. The figure includes $995,392 for maintenance and $85,734 for building.

Art exhibits, sponsored throughout the year by the department of architecture, bring many outstanding collections here. The exhibition room is located on the third floor of the Main Engineering building.

1903-04 Freshman Handbook Reveals Early College Customs, Regulations

Eighteen freshman handbooks ranging from 1903-04 to the present time and preserved in the Penn State Christian Association headquarters in Old Main, cast an interesting light on college customs and conditions in days gone by.

In the earliest book of the collection, board for students is quoted at $2.50 a week, while room rent is rated $1.00. The statement, "Tuition is free in all courses," is inserted in a conspicuous place to further convince the student that his education may be received at a bargain.

In 1903 there were but eight social fraternities, the ancient volume reveals. "On Sunday the rooms are inspected by the Commandant at 9 a. m. At this time the student is to be in his room and in full uniform, excepting cap," is one of the College regulations explained to the incoming student.

The next handbook, 1904-05, presents the first systematic set of College customs. In this code of restrictions, the student is directed to leave all class rooms in the order of his class precedence. Freshmen were prohibited from going out after 9 o'clock unless accompanied by an upperclassman.

Another harsh regulation prevents freshmen from carrying a cane except in the event they defeat the sophomores in football. A list of the season's varsity scores reveal that Penn State defeated Pitt, 59-to-0 at Pittsburgh.

The handbook for the following year adds to the customs code a few restrictions which have survived down to this year. In the 1912-13 "bible" there are a series of stringent "don'ts" that prohibit freshmen from wearing cuffs on their trousers and warn the new students against any destruction of property on Halloween.

According to the list of customs, only members of the three upper classes were permitted to kick the football between halves of a varsity encounter. Green dinks for freshmen became a custom for the first time in 1912. Two years ago first year students appeared in blue and white dinks after nearly two decades of the green hats.
