

Intramural Athletics To Begin This Month

4 New Sports Fields On Golf Course Completed

With final plans awaiting the first meeting of the Intramural council, the intramural sports competition among fraternities and other groups will probably begin a few weeks after College opens, according to Director Hugo Bezdek, of the School of Physical Education.

Intramural sports participants this year will have the use of four new fields located in the lower part of the College golf course. Each field is 360 feet long and 2,000 feet wide and can be used for any sport.

To Name Cup Winner

Last year's winner of the Bezdek Cup, offered annually to that organization which contributes most to the advancement of athletics at Penn State, will probably be announced at a mass meeting this fall. The exact date will be decided at the first meeting of the council.

Phi Kappa Sigma, with 496½ points, led the field at the end of the winter sports program. The announcement of the winner will follow the tally of points gained during the spring competition. Kappa Sigma won the trophy in 1931, the first year it was offered.

I. M. Sports Listed

Sports in which there will be intramural competition this fall include football, golf, cross country, soccer, lacrosse, horseshoes, and probably tennis. Touch football may be substituted for regulation football.

A senior student manager, who is responsible to the intramural director, a member of the School of Physical Education faculty, has general charge of the program. He is assisted by three student managers who have charge of fall, winter, and spring sports.

Manager Heads Council

The student manager is also chairman of the Intramural council, which is composed of nine members. In addition to the three assistant managers, other members include the Interfraternity council president, the Athletic association president, the editor of the COLLEGLIAN, the president of the Student council, and one non-fraternity representative.

Lettermen Barred

Eligibility rules allow any student to participate in intramural competition unless he has earned a letter or numerals in the sport he wishes to enter. In addition, he must receive the approval of the coach if he is on either the freshman or varsity squad in the sport in which he desires to enter into intramural competition.

R. Henderson Beatty '33 will serve as chairman of the Intramural council this year. Herbert E. Longenecker '33, Interfraternity council president, Walter C. Moser '33, Athletic association head, Robert E. Tschan '33, editor of the COLLEGLIAN, and John A. Wood '33, Student council president, will also serve on the council along with the one non-fraternity representative and three seasonal managers.

John R. Warner '33 will direct the fall intramural program, while James B. Goyne '33 will direct the winter sports. Albright S. Hoch '33 will manage spring intramurals, and Jesse H. Brewster '33 will serve as non-fraternity representative.

McMILLEN NAMED ON ALL-AMERICAN

Former Nittany Lacrosseman Selected For Brilliant Defense Playing At Point Position

William W. "Moon" McMillen '32 was recently selected for the 1932 All-American lacrosse team by Laurie D. Cox, editor of Spalding's Official Lacrosse Guide.

The former Nittany stickman was mentioned for his brilliant inside defense work at the point position. "Moon" played varsity lacrosse for Penn State for the last three years, throwing plenty of scares into the opposition's attack.

During the summer he wielded a stick for the Boston Shamrocks, a professional club. Ray F. Carlson '32, last year's captain, and John A. Gwyn '32, former Lion goalie, were also members of the club.

In addition to his defense work with the Nittany lacrosse team, McMillen played varsity football and was intramural heavyweight boxing champion two years ago.

STEVE HAMAS RECOVERING FROM OPERATION ON KNEE

Steve Hamas, former Nittany Lion athlete and now one of the ranking professional heavyweight boxers, is recovering from an operation on his knee this summer. The operation was necessitated by the recurrence of a knee injury received while a member of the Lion football team.

Hamas reversed the tables on Lee Ramage, Pacific Coast heavyweight who defeated him on a decision last spring by gaining a ten-round decision in a return bout this summer. Ramage was constantly on the defensive and was saved by the bell in the third round. Steve was awarded seven rounds, Ramage three.

REKERS '31 GAINS OLYMPIC POSITION

Enters 5,000-Meter Race for United States—Stoop, Lewis Lose In Boxing Trials

Paul Rekers '31 was Penn State's only representative in the Tenth Olympiad at Los Angeles this summer, wearing the colors of the United States in the 5,000 meter run.

The former Nittany Lion cross-country captain finished first in the sectional trials for the American Olympic team and placed among the first three in the final trials. He was unable to finish the Olympic race.

Al Lewis '32 and Dave Stoop '32, national collegiate boxing champions, made strong bids for berths on the American Olympic boxing team, but both were defeated in the trials. Doyless Hill, Tulane heavyweight who won a national collegiate title here last spring, was the only college rep-

LION BATSMEN WIN ASSOCIATION TITLE

Sweep Contests With Syracuse, Colgate to Gain Honors For 1932 Season

Penn State's baseball representatives gained a second leg on the Triangular Association trophy by registering a clean sweep in the four championship games played during the 1932 season.

Opening their Association competition with a 5-to-3 victory over Syracuse University on Beaver Field diamond, the Nittany Lion batsmen conquered Colgate University, 7-to-4, and Syracuse, 12-to-7, on the New York State invasion, and clinched the title by turning back Colgate in the final game of the series, 6-to-4.

Trophy Remains Here

The silver trophy, emblematic of the Association baseball championship, remains in the trophy case in Recreation Hall lobby for the second straight year as a result of the 1932 victories. The 1931 Lion baseball combination also emerged victorious in the three-way competition.

Offered for competition in 1930, the trophy became the possession of Colgate for the first year when the Maroon nine carried off the Association honors. The trophy will become the permanent possession of the institution placing first in the league for three years.

Colgate twice defeated Syracuse to finish in second place in the league standing, the Syracuse nine thus failing to account for an Association victory in 1932.

representative to gain a position on the team, that of an alternate for Fred Peary, San Francisco amateur who defeated him in the finals of the trials.

Dennis Flynn, national collegiate 160-pound champion who defeated Joe Moran of Syracuse in the finals here, was eliminated by a one-round knockout in his first fight in the try-outs.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE PILLAGE OF PARIS
"Nature in the Raw" — after the great French artist Luminis... inspired by the savage fierceness of untamed Norsemen in the ruthless capture of Paris — 845 A. D.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild—"so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the Lord will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
