DR. BOYD EDWARDS SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Mercersburg Academy Headmaster Delivers Talk on "Liberty" At Sunday Exercises

"To go always with the wind at your back is the philosophy of a tramp," declared Dr. Boyd Edwards, headmaster of Mercersburg academy in his chapel address on "Liberty" in the Schwab auditorium Sunday...

Emphasizing the fact that choosing the path of least resistance is not always conducive to a speedy and safe arrival at one's goal in life, Dr. Edwards used as analogies the kite, the airplane, and the yacht. Just as a boat "is not free with the wind at its back but must head into the storm if it is to make progress," so must America "face head on into the adverse winds if she is to emerge victorious," the speaker said...

Four factors influencing modern life, most are ignorance, self-indulgence, the challenge to sacrificial service, and the moral challenge, Dr. Edwards pointed out. If we are to continue to forge ahead "we must work off our moral fat," and the present crisis offers just such an opportunity, he added...

The headmaster also emphasized the fact that although people "are free to do what they want to, there is another kind of liberty which, when exercised, makes you desirable instead of despised."

TRUSTEE BOARD WILL MEET The executive committee of the Board of Trustees will hold a meeting at the College this Friday.

Lion Gridmen Bow To Harvard Eleven

Nittany Team Gives Crimson Stubborn Battle Before Losing, 46-to-13—Collins, Lohr Score Touchdowns

(By GEORGE A. SCOTT '34) Penn State teams are fighting teams—for references call John Harvard, Cambridge, Mass.

It was back in 1914 that the Crimson had its first taste of Lion fighting qualities. Another dose was administered in 1921, and Saturday the Nittany Lions of 1932, outweighed, already once defeated, and potentially the underdogs, outfought and outgained a powerful Harvard eleven, only to bow, 46-to-13, to the superior reserve strength mustered by the Crimson color-bearers...

Those men of State need not feel ashamed of their showing against Harvard. The score is no indication of the game, for it doesn't tell of the Lions' great first half play, of a desperate goal line stand in the second quarter, and of constant scoring threats that kept the Crimson on the alert from start to finish...

Scored 7 Touchdowns Harvard scored seven touchdowns, at least one in every quarter. Irad Hardy, burly Crimson tackle, sprinted sixty-seven yards in the first period to score after recovering Tommy Harpott's fumble in mid-air, Captain Carl Hageman snatched a long pass on the three-yard line to score the second touchdown, and Jack Crickard took another pass over the goal line for the third touchdown...

A blocked punt on the Lion twenty-nine-yard line put Harvard in scoring position in the third quarter, and Crickard again crossed the goal line for a touchdown. Messrs. Crickard, Grady, Whitney and Nevin combined to march eighty-two yards on six plays with Nevin registering the fifth score, another long forward pass put the ball on the State three-yard line early in the fourth quarter, and Barrett did the scoring, and the final touchdown came late in the game after an intercepted forward pass...

Lions Tie Score Seemingly all Harvard—but not quite. Captain "Spike" Collins and Bill Lohr were on the sending and receiving end of two forward passes that advanced the ball from the Lion twenty-yard line to Harvard's twenty-eight-yard mark, and Bill Lohr cut through left tackle for the remaining distance to score the first touchdown. Collins added the extra point, and the score stood at 7-to-7, with the second quarter hardly started...

Again in the fourth quarter Collins, Lohr and "Doc" Conn drove the ball to the Harvard three-yard line, and Collins delivered the second Lion touchdown...

Reserve strength counted heavily in the game. Harvard used thirty-five men in the sixty minutes of play while Coach Bob Higgins sent twenty-six of the twenty-seven men who made the trip into the fray...

Sigel on Bench Only Harry Sigel, sophomore half-back who is suffering from a charley-horse, missed action on the Blue and White side. Dick Woolbert, injured in the first quarter, went back into the game in the second period...

"King" Cole was put out of action permanently on the first play of the second half, Fred Kane and Earl Park were injured on the same play in the third quarter, and Harry Wanthouse "got his" in the same period. Cole, Kane, and Wanthouse received in-
