

Tropical Hurricane Hits Champlins in Puerto Rico Home

Weathering a terrifying tropical hurricane which recently swept Puerto Rico was the experience of Dr. Carroll D. Champlin, professor of education, and family, according to a letter received by Dr. J. J. Osuna, of the University of Puerto Rico, who is exchanging his services with Dr. Champlin this semester.

Although the Osuna home in which the Champlins are staying was not damaged greatly, the walls of the garage were crushed, and the roof of the servants' home was ripped off. The walls of the residence were bombarded continually with hurtling branches and other objects picked up by the hurricane.

"For two hours I leaned against the door of our home with all my strength," Dr. Champlin wrote, "not knowing when the building would be swept away." Since the university was wrecked and classes suspended, Dr. Champlin aided in the work of reconstruction.

P. S. C. A. WILL ORGANIZE FRESHMAN COMMISSION

To Select 35 Most Promising Men In Activities, Ryan States

Thirty-five of the most promising freshmen will be organized into a freshmen commission of the Penn State Christian association, according to a plan announced by John E. Ryan '34, who is in charge of first-year work.

The commission will be composed of men who seem most likely to be leaders in activities and athletics during their college course. Fraternity presidents and scheduling officers will submit recommendations to the Christian association, and the commission will be chosen from this number by a series of interviews to begin the last of this week.

This plan has been used at the University of Pennsylvania for several years, according to Ryan. In the last graduating class there, 30 of the 35 selected as freshmen were prominent in activities at the close of their four years, he said.

TO ISSUE MINING MAGAZINE

The first issue of "Mineral Industries," published by the extension division of the School of Mineral Industries, was placed in the mail last week, according to Harry B. Northrup, director of extension work. The paper is edited by John T. Ryan '34.

NAPOLEONIC COACH EXHIBITED

Warnock Approves Fraternity Tutor Plan--Recommends Further Trial

With one fraternity here using the plan for the first time this year, the fraternity tutor idea received the approval Friday of Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock, who characterized it as "a very excellent plan which deserves further experimentation."

Under the arrangement which is being used at other colleges, a member of the fraternity who is a college graduate taking advanced work is furnished with room and board by the local chapter in return for tutorial assistance to pledges and brothers and advice in fraternity matters.

No disciplinary powers whatever are connected with the position, other than the power to enforce study hour in the house and to perform other duties of a scholarship chairman. In no sense does the tutor act as a proctor or overseer of the actions of the fraternity and its members.

"The main objective of the plan is to bring up the scholastic standing of the fraternity," explained Regis

Binder, a graduate scholar in mechanical engineering, who is the tutor for the local chapter of Phi Kappa. "The chief advantage lies in the fact that a graduate who has covered the work in a four-year college course is able to give valuable assistance to undergraduates."

William P. Kearney '33, president of the fraternity, said that up to this time experience has shown that pledges and upperclassmen tend to listen, more closely to the advice of the tutor, who has been recommended by the national fraternity, than they would to one of their own number. The plan will be continued next year if possible, he added.

Lafayette College at Easton inaugurated the plan last year, while a variation of the system has been used at the universities of Minnesota and Oklahoma for the past several years. Comments from Lafayette indicate that the plan has improved fraternity scholarship.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

BRING'EM BACK ALIVE
 "Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the vicious battle between the python and the tiger... in Frank Buck's thrilling motion picture, "Bring 'Em Back Alive," filmed from nature in the Malay jungle.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
 That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
 Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
