

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

WANTED: A VICTORY

Whether Penn State's 1932 football season is to be salvaged, from a victory standpoint, will be largely decided when the Lions take the field against their inter-sectional opponents tomorrow.

A triumph over the Sewanee Tiger would be just the incentive the Lions need for that Temple game next week. Any team that is beaten a number of times in a row is bound to take on a "defeatist attitude"; the cure for such a mental state is nothing more than winning after a hard battle. And, from the looks of things, the Sewanee Tigers will give the Lions that hard battle tomorrow.

Only those who are not fully informed regard Sewanee as a "set-up." Coach Bob Higgins and his staff, who have been following the play of the Tigers throughout the campaign, have a very healthy respect for the Tigers. Their two victories and their feat in holding the strong South Carolina team (who downed Villanova) to a 7-to-3 victory stamps them as an eleven that is not only heavy but also fast and deceptive.

One thing is certain. If the Lions do emerge with that long-sought victory tomorrow, the Temple impressarios may feel well-assured that there is still something present in these Nittany mountains to menace their present undefeated record.

This and That

Tom Walsh, sports editor of the Colgate Maroon, thinks highly of Harry Sigel and Mel Morrison . . . He writes the following in his column "Sport Strolls" . . . "Sigel and Morrison, the Penn State backs that bore the brunt of the Nittany Lion attack against the Maroon, are both boys with potentialities . . . Both are sophomores and handle themselves with consummate ease on the gridiron . . . As far as we can recall, the forty-yard run-back of Ask's punt that the former staged Saturday was the most spectacular play pulled by any opposing individual against the Kermens this season" . . . Speaking for Harry and Mel, we'll reply, "Thanks, Tom—and keep your eye on these boys next year" . . .

GRIDMEN TO MEET SEWANEE

LINEUP REVAMPED FOR CONTEST HERE

ner system of play, a system that should be fairly familiar to the Lion gridgers, since they ran afoul the same formations at Colgate last week. A large portion of the Sewanee squad learned the Warner system two years ago under Harvey Harman, now head coach at the University of Pennsylvania, and the present coach, "Hoe" Clark, has continued the instruction in Warner formations.

Lions Outweighed
Presenting a veteran lineup, the visitors will outweigh the Nittany team fifteen pounds to a man, with an average weight of 179 pounds. The Lion forward wall with Berry at tackle averages 167 pounds to Sewanee's 187 while the backs will average 159 to 169 for Sewanee.

Captain Jack Morton, 190-pound tackle, and his running mate, Woodrow Castleberry, who tips the scales at 220 pounds, are ranked as the outstanding linemen on the Tennessee eleven, while Alex Wellford, a triple-threat back, and Fain Cravens, a light but speedy halfback, combine with Joe Gee, fullback, to carry the offensive burden for the Tigers.

FORESTER ELEVEN TO MEET PLEBES

Lion Yearlings Will Face Mont Alto Gridmen in Extra-Season Game Tomorrow

In an extra-season game scheduled only a week ago, the Nittany yearling grid team will clash with a fighting forester's eleven from Mont Alto on New Beaver field at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Although the Lion lineup is only tentative as yet, Coach Nels Walke will probably send quite a different array against the foresters tomorrow than the one that bowled over Bellefonte Academy Saturday.

Fry and Douglas are pretty sure bets for the ends, Copollo and O'Neil will probably start at the tackles, Levinson and Esterley may be seen at the guard positions and it is possible that O'Hara may start at center. Dyson, O'Hara, Peel, and Small will start in the backfield.

Cross-Blending

WHAT IS IT..and how does it improve cigarette taste?

YOU'VE heard how fruit of one variety has been crossed with fruit of another to produce a new and more pleasing flavor. The loganberry, for example, is a cross between the raspberry and the blackberry.

Chesterfield's Cross-Blend gets the same result—better taste—by a different method.

It welds together the different kinds of several varieties of tobacco. Many types of Bright tobacco, a great many types of Burley tobacco, and numerous grades of Turkish tobacco are all merged into one—Chesterfield tobacco.

This welding or Cross-Blending goes beyond ordinary blending or mixing tobaccos together. It actually makes every kind of tobacco in Chesterfield partake of the qualities of every other type.

It's the Cross-Blending of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos that gives Chesterfields a distinctive, better taste.

They are milder. They have a flavor and aroma which, we believe, you will like.
