

WRESTLERS FACE SYRACUSE HERE; TRACKMEN ENTER IC-4A GAMES

Tomorrow's Meet To Close Home Season for Matmen

Captain Lorenzo Will Grapple McKean, Orange Leader, in Last Appearance Before Recreation Hall Audience

By BERNARD H. ROSENZWEIG '31

Once more a Spidel-coached wrestling team will take to the mats in its last meet with a record of no defeats for the season as its goal. Only the Syracuse grapplers, meeting the Lions in Recreation hall at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, stand in the way of a perfect season.

On the eve of the Orange match we're inclined to expect the young Nittany team to come through with flying colors. By way of statistics so far this season two of the four sophomore regulars, and two of the three juniors remain undefeated, while two of the other regulars have each lost one extra-periods match.

Only one senior will be grappling in his finale in Rec hall tomorrow afternoon. Captain Mike Lorenzo, "Cheerful" Charlie's hope for the 165-pound class intercollegiate championship, will make his last bow against a foe worthy of his steel, Captain Herb McKean, the best Orange in the Syracuse crate.

Ellstrom To Start

Mike lost a close battle to Cornell's conqueror, Bancroft last week, but tomorrow he'll be unbeatable. Right now it looks as though Bob Ellstrom will do battle in his original weight, and supplant Di Rito as the 118-pounder. Either Lion should hold his own against Stuart Knight, a newcomer for the Orange.

If Ellstrom wrestles in the 118-pound class, the bantamweight berth will go to either Eisenman or Clay Cramer. The latter sophomore has been showing up well all season but has not broken into the lineup mainly through inability to make the weight. Ted Barry, a fast Syracusean, lost to Ellstrom last year, but should present plenty of opposition to his Lion opponent tomorrow.

Rosy Rosenberg bids fair to finish his season undefeated, with Mike Lavigne slated as the Orange 135-pound representative. Defeated only once in collegiate dual meet competition last year by the Navy's Captain, Goodman, Rosy has had little trouble in any of his bouts this year. The peppy Lion, however, will have to deal with a "mountain of strength" in Lavigne.

Cole Meets Hordines

In the 145-pound class Bill Cramer, Spidel's classy sophomore, also undefeated, will meet Sammy Servis, a clever and tricky Syracusean, who should give Bill plenty of trouble. In Servis, Cramer will meet a wrestler schooled in the use of rides and scissors.

It is in the heavier weights, though, that the Nittany grapplers will have the hardest competition. Howie Johnston stacks up against Johnny Doerr, Orange 155-pounder, who pulled a surprise last week by pinning Cox, of Michigan State, for Syracuse's only victory.

Lou Kreizman, the Lion lightweight strong man, will attempt to keep his record clean when he meets Dave Haight, a strong, but also very fast, Orangeman. "King" Cole meets Syracuse's experienced 220-pounder, Johnny Hardines, who came within a hair of beating Michigan State's famous Olin Leopard last week.

JUNIOR WOMEN WIN CLASS BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeating the sophomore women's team by a score of 36-10, the juniors won the inter-class basketball championship Saturday afternoon.

The freshmen, sophomores, and juniors entered the first round tied for first place. Playing off the first game of the finals, the freshmen lost to the juniors, who in turn defeated the sophomores in the last game of the tournament.

Lions To Oppose West Point Squad In Second Contest—Lineup Remains Unchanged

Literally jumping from the frying pan into the fire, Nittany Lion gymnasts will journey to West Point tomorrow where they are scheduled to oppose the Cadet representatives in the second and concluding meet of the season on the Lion program.

In Army, the Waikoe-coached team will be facing a team which defeated Temple University, 44-10-10, Springfield College, 50-10-4, and M. I. T., 44-10-10 in previous dual meets this season. Temple handed the Lions a 38-10-16 setback in Recreation hall Saturday.

Walke has announced that the same lineup which performed against Temple Saturday will again represent the College in tomorrow's events. Captain Marty Hesch, Pete Lektrick, Don Masters, Ed Hoffman, Chuck Horstick, and Bill Thompson will compose the Lion combination.

Captain Hesch, Lektrick, and Masters, who scored against Temple Saturday, are the best Nittany bets for points against the Cadets. Army last year hung up a 53-10-1 triumph over the Lion representatives in a dual meet.

COMMISSIONER WILL TALK AT FISHERMEN'S BANQUET

With O. M. Diebler, State commissioner of fisheries, as the principal speaker, the second annual "Fishermen's Banquet" will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn on March 24, according to an announcement made Tuesday.

One of the features of the dinner will be a discussion of a "Fisherman's Paradise" as related to Spring Creek in Bellefonte. The dinner is held under the auspices of the State College conservation committee.

THROUGH OTHER EYES

There is an old saying that we learn something new every day. What new bits of information that may have seeped through our brain (don't laugh) on five of the days last week we can't remember, but of the other two we not only remember but we were greatly surprised at the information. The first surprise came, I think, on Wednesday. On that day I read a notice that appeared in one of the daily papers dated and marked as being released in Philadelphia. In this article the president of Temple University said that Temple had not in the past, and would not in the future grant athletic scholarships. He said that it was purely sportsmanship and the love of competition which brought good athletes to the Philadelphia institution.

Now the statement may be all right in referring to the future, but somehow it doesn't click with the present and the past. My dear Watson, could you please explain to me how a certain boy from my home town, who was a star athlete in the high school there, could matriculate at the Owl institution with very little money and spend four years there without working? Of course he played on the football team but that is beside the question. As Shakespeare so aptly put it in the tragedy of Hamlet: "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark."

It seemed as if I had no sooner read this and thought about it and tried to rationalize my thoughts to agree with those of the head of the Temple University when I picked up the following day's paper and on the same page and in the same column I read, imagine my surprise, a similar statement regarding the University of Pittsburgh. Now please don't regard me as a reformer and a gossip, but you see these things sort of puzzled me and I just wanted to get them straight. Now the story—said that

Pitt had formed a committee which would handle all applications for student aid. And from now on athletes would not be discriminated for or against. And by doing this they said they would now be able to come under the recommendations of the Middle Atlantic association, or something like that, which at the last meeting decided to abolish all athletic scholarships.

Now the statement of Pitt's lets the administration out all right; so next the head of the Athletic association was interviewed and he said that athletic scholarships—as such—had not existed for the past couple of years and would not exist in the future. That "as such" clause is what gets me. Just what is meant? It is similar to the "due process" clause of the fourteenth amendment which took over forty years of judicial revue to finally decide its meaning. Since this cannot come under any court case, it may go years before it is defined as we poor plebeians will have to wait many years until we finally know. But before I let the subject go, I would like to ask one question: If they are not athletic scholarships, what are they called?

Let anyone should have misinterpreted my ramblings I hope no one thinks that I disagree or do not believe the information given out by our neighboring institution. Far be it from me to doubt the word of those more learned than I, but I happen to be of an inquisitive nature and thought that some of the readers should straighten me out.—Joe Bronson, Carnegie Tech Tartan.

Injury, Sickness Force Nittany Coach To Abandon Plans For Relay Team

By JAMES M. SHEEN '31

Climaxing a period of mid-winter training on the board track, six Lion trackmen will enter the annual IC-4A games in New York City tomorrow.

The Nittany runners don't concede themselves much of a chance in running up many points against some of the stiffest competition in the East tomorrow. Last year a Lion two-mile relay team succeeded in capturing fifth place to score the team's lone point.

King To Compete

Until this week Coach Nate Cartmell had planned to enter a two-mile relay team, when injuries and sickness of two members of the quartet, curtailed his plans. An injured bone in Captain Dunaway's foot will prevent him from taking his accustomed place as anchor man on the relay team, while the sickness of George Harvey, sophomore distance runner, further hindered plans for a team.

Charlie King, captain of the cross country team this year, will stack up against some of the best distance men of eastern college teams in the two-mile run. Originally selected to run on the relay team, George Hughes and Roy Siesky have been named to enter the mile run.

Coach Cartmell has not definitely decided on which sprinter he will enter in the seventy-yard dash. A trio of runners, Ed Flennekin, Les Yohe, and "Van" Van Keuren, have been finishing nearly in dead heats in the seventy-yard time trials during the past two weeks. The Nittany mentor will probably enter both Harry Hill and Jackson in the seventy-yard high hurdles. The two Lion high hurdlers have also been crossing the finish line together in elimination runs during the past three weeks, causing the Nittany track coach to enter both timber-toppers in the meet.
