

McANDREWS, NAPOLEON WIN

MATMEN GAIN 2 CROWNS

Ellstrom, Cole Gain Titles In Finals of Eastern Mat Tournay at New York City

Lehigh Captures Team Championship With 30 Points—Princeton Places Second, Penn State Takes Third

By BERNARD H. ROSENZWEIG '31

Penn State annexed two crowns in the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament this afternoon, when Bob Ellstrom defeated Richter, of Princeton, to gain the 118-pound title, while "King" Cole unexpectedly received a decision over Snowden, of Yale, to reach the top in the heavyweight division. Rosy Rosenberg, the Nittany Lions' other finalist, lost to Hurwitz, of Cornell, by a fall.

Lehigh, by amassing a total of thirty points reigns in Eastern intercollegiate wrestling, while Princeton took second honors with twenty-two points. The Nittany Lions clinched third place with eighteen points.

Dalling, Lehigh, defeated Valas, of Yale, to retain the 128-pound crown for the second successive year. The biggest upset of the afternoon came in the 155-pound class when Captain Hooker, of Princeton, conquered Lehigh's Ben Bishop, last year's champion, and national intercollegiate champion in the 145-pound weight.

Rosenberg Thrown

Princeton gained one other individual champion in the 145-pound class, when Gregory easily defeated Valas, of Yale. Hurwitz, of Cornell, was crowned 135 title-holder, when he threw Rosenberg, while Captain Pete Peck, Lehigh, defeated Lee, of Penn, to take the honors in the 165-pound weight. Ken Mann, Penn captain, easily dispatched Classen, Princetonian, to gain the 175-pound championship.

Bill Cramer took second place in the 145-pound class, when both Richardson, of Cornell, and Haase, Yale, defaulted to him in the elimination matches for placing. Rosenberg was forced down to third place in the 135 weight, while Swede Johnston took third in the 155-pound class, losing to Ben Bishop, to conclude the scoring for Coach Speidel's team.

COMBINED GROUPS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Women's Symphony Orchestra, Glee Club Will Present Concert At 3:30 Tomorrow

Two women's musical organizations will combine to present the fourth of the series of winter concerts in Schwab auditorium at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Women's Glee club and the Women's Symphony orchestra will feature the program.

Seven songs will be offered during the program by the Glee club, while the Symphony orchestra will interpret three works by well-known composers. Supplementing the Glee club offerings, the Women's Varsity Quartet will sing three songs.

Marion G. Blankenship '35, harpist, and Mary E. Kerr '36, pianist, will accompany the Glee club, while Rosamond W. Kaines '34, pianist, will accompany the Quartet. Other individual musicians who will supplement the program are William O. Barry '33, Martin J. Scheiman '36, Philip E. Turner '33, and John E. Ryan '34.

Prof. Willa C. Williamson, of the department of music, will direct the Glee club, and Prof. Hummel Fishburn, acting head of the department of music, will direct the Symphony orchestra. An offering taken at the concert will be contributed to the Student Loan fund.

10 MITMEN BOXED HERE LAST APRIL

Al Wertheimer, Featherweight Champion, Listed Among Veteran Entrants

Ten of the boxers who are entered in the tournament here this week-end, competed in the National Collegiate Boxing tourney and Olympic tryouts held here last April.

Only one of these ringmen, Al Wertheimer of Syracuse, succeeded in winning a national championship. Al won the featherweight crown after disposing of Boerner, Bucknell, in the preliminaries; Cleveland, of Army, in the semi-finals; and Tardugno, of Columbus, by a forfeit in the finals.

Moran Loses

Only one Penn State boxer entered in the intercollegiate fought in the national tourney here. Mike Zeleznock, Lion featherweight, was knocked out by Brees, of Kansas State, in the preliminaries.

"Tiger Joe" Moran, Syracuse's terror of the middleweights, met his superior here last April when he lost the decision to Flynn, Loyola of the South, in the finals. Moran had previously beaten Schrieker, of Pitt, and Pyne, of Catholic University, to advance to the final round.

Tony Balash, Syracuse light heavyweight, lost to Zemurray, of Tulane in the preliminary round. Collins, M. I. T.'s present entry in the 165-pound class, was defeated by Hawkins, West Virginia, in the first fight of the 175-pound division.

Three boxers on the present Army team appeared in the national tourney. Cleveland and Hagan took fourth places after winning in the preliminaries and then losing in the semi-finals, while Captain Joe Remus forfeited the heavyweight crown to Hill of Tulane, after injuring his hand in a semi-final victory over Gentry, of Virginia.

Captain Del Genio, Yale 145-pound entry, was the only one of the present welterweights to fight in the Olympic tryouts here. After winning in the preliminaries, he lost a decision to Al Lewis, Lion 145-pound N. C. A. A. champion.

5 Coaches Favor Unlimited Class, Decision by Referee

Army, Western Maryland, Penn State, M. I. T., Syracuse Mentors Endorse Return Of Heavyweight Bout

Five coaches who have entered boxers in the tournament here favor the retention of the heavyweight class in the ring lineup and the referee's decision for dual meets, a survey by the COLLEGIAN shows.

Coaches William J. Cavanaugh, of Army, Richard C. Harlow, of Western Maryland, Leo Houck, of Penn State, Thomas Rawson, of M. I. T., and Roy Simmons, of Syracuse, all believe that decision by a single referee is more satisfactory in the long run than one by three judges. They also believe that the action of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing association in reinstating the heavyweight class this season was a good step.

"When well matched, the heavyweight class is the most thrilling of the lot and no more liable to injury," Harlow said. "When not well matched, no boxing bout should be allowed to be placed on any college program," he added.

Simmons believes there should be no discrimination against the heavyweight, while Rawson considers it "a great benefit to a big man to learn boxing if taught with a lot of good footwork." Both Cavanaugh and Houck stress the point that heavyweight bouts are very popular, and

Intercollegiate Title Winners

JOHNNY NAPOLEON

JOHNNY McANDREWS

M'INERNEY ELECTED NEW E.I.B.A. HEAD

West Point Official Named as Eastern Ring President For 1933-1934

Lieut. J. E. B. McInerney, officer in charge of boxing at the United States Military Academy, was elected president of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing association at its meeting this morning. Lieutenant McInerney succeeds Richard C. Harlow, coach of the Western Maryland boxing team.

A discussion of the site for next year's tourney was the primary business of the association meeting. Although a selection was not definitely made, the tourney next year will probably be at Army, association officials have indicated.

A committee was appointed to study the by-laws of the boxing association thoroughly in order to eliminate out of date rules and reorganize the constitution to make it more effective. The association also proposed the organization of a coaches group, under which coaches may make recommendations for changes in the rules.

5 Coaches Favor Unlimited Class, Decision by Referee

Army, Western Maryland, Penn State, M. I. T., Syracuse Mentors Endorse Return Of Heavyweight Bout

Five coaches who have entered boxers in the tournament here favor the retention of the heavyweight class in the ring lineup and the referee's decision for dual meets, a survey by the COLLEGIAN shows.

Coaches William J. Cavanaugh, of Army, Richard C. Harlow, of Western Maryland, Leo Houck, of Penn State, Thomas Rawson, of M. I. T., and Roy Simmons, of Syracuse, all believe that decision by a single referee is more satisfactory in the long run than one by three judges. They also believe that the action of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing association in reinstating the heavyweight class this season was a good step.

"When well matched, the heavyweight class is the most thrilling of the lot and no more liable to injury," Harlow said. "When not well matched, no boxing bout should be allowed to be placed on any college program," he added.

Simmons believes there should be no discrimination against the heavyweight, while Rawson considers it "a great benefit to a big man to learn boxing if taught with a lot of good footwork." Both Cavanaugh and Houck stress the point that heavyweight bouts are very popular, and

Ringside Ramblings

Another boxing tournament . . . Rec hall presents a rather deserted appearance for the first bout . . . But the few there do plenty of cheering . . . Two technical kayos is a good start for any bout . . . And everyone wondered Wetherill whether McAndrews after looking at the M. I. T. lightweight hope . . . The press had its usual representation . . . Art Daley of the New York Times, John Webster for the Philadelphia Inquirer and Joe Cackley did duty for the Syracuse Herald . . . Alex Turnbull staged a great comeback . . . And Pontecarvo upsets Remus . . . Billy Cavanaugh, Army coach, cheers up Ledward . . . The gentleman in question rubs the side of his jaw . . . Yes, Mr. Ledward, Collins packs a punch . . . Remember the Hawkins bout last year . . .

Picked up around the ringside . . . Syracuse travelled down here in two cars usually the pullmans for a vaudeville troupe . . . The Orangemen can put on a pretty good act themselves . . . St. Patrick wouldn't have liked those Orange victories . . . But one Hillman remained true to his clan . . . None other than Dynamite Joe, who even wore an overcoat in place of his Orange bathrobe . . . Moran's boy admirer, one Jack Shayes, aged thirteen, was there . . . Jack even wore a Syracuse jersey and sat on the contestants bench when he wasn't fighting himself . . . He missed but few Moran fights . . . And he's never seen the big boy lose . . . With all that Syracuse rushing . . . Jack'll probably go to Colgate . . .

Mors pickups . . . Dick Rauch, ex-Lion football star, watching the meet with Dick Harlow . . . And planning a bird expedition with the Terror coach for Sunday . . . A lot of people arrived here in time to hear the results of the last semi-final bout . . . Burket, Syracuse bantamweight, had a lot of fun asking unsuspecting fans how they thought he'd make out against Napoleon . . .

More punches . . . And a much better crowd . . . Claines, one boy who seemed to enjoy a tough fight . . . Zeleznock gets a big hand . . . Wetherill climbs back into the ring . . . Al Blass confesses that he's known Wetherill for a good many years . . . But found out only this week that he's a boxer . . . Forgot something . . . They call Claines "Piccolo Pete" . . . There's almost a riot when Cleveland loses . . . Lt. McInerney was the object . . . But the slips showed Robbins ahead . . . Del Genio didn't carry his opponent . . . Two "toss the coin" fights in the welterweight class . . .

Hippo Gillard came out of retirement to act as a second . . . Moran gets a cheer as he is introduced . . . Malted gives up trying to introduce Slusser . . . They know who he is anyway," he says . . . Kaplan's brother gives him a kiss as his fight ends . . .

Syracuse Captures Second Consecutive Team Championship

Al Wertheimer Retains Featherweight Title To Clinch Orange Victory—Del Genio Takes 145-Pound Honors

By CHARLES A. MYERS '31

Two Penn State boxers, Captain Johnny McAndrews in the 135-pound class and Johnny Napoleon in the 115-pound class, won Eastern Intercollegiate boxing titles as Syracuse University decisively annexed the team championship in the finals here tonight.

Six other boxers from six colleges and universities in the East were presented with championship medals for winning final bouts in their respective classes in the tenth annual intercollegiate ring tournament.

In the opening bout of the night and probably the most exciting, Johnny Napoleon, Lion bantamweight, outpointed Ray Burket, furious Syracuse 115-pounder whom he defeated in a dual meet this year, to win a first place for Penn State. Johnny danced in and out, landing terrific right hooks and straight lefts to win the decision. He made Burket miss continuously and the Syracuse landed very few of the punches that knocked out Thomas of Yale yesterday.

McAndrews Scores Knockout Al Wertheimer, Syracuse featherweight champion, merely had to step into the ring and out again to claim his third consecutive 125-pound title. He won by a forfeit from Claines, of Army, who injured his finger in a semi-final victory over Rabinowitz, Dartmouth entry, last night.

Captain Johnny McAndrews successfully defended his 135-pound title against Jack Robbins, Syracuse lightweight, in the third bout of the finals. After flooring the Syracuse boxer for a nine count in the first round, McAndrews bounced a left hook on his jaw which resulted in a technical knockout in one minute and twenty-seven seconds after the opening gong.

Two hard-hitting boxers, Captain Del Genio of Yale and Hagan of Army mixed things up in the 145-pound championship display of clean boxing. In the first two rounds, both landed hard rights and lefts, Del Genio's left hooks to the mid-section and face being especially effective. Continuing his beautiful lefts, Del Genio outpointed the Cadet in the third round to gain the decision.

Another 1932 champion who retained his title tonight was Captain "Tiger Joe" Moran, Syracuse 155-pound terror. Moran floored Shinkle, of Army, for a nine count as the bell rang ending the first round, knocked him down once in the second round and then swung a powerful overhand right to the head which gave him a technical knockout after one minute and thirty-three seconds. The Cadet, however, rook Moran with hard rights several times.

In the 165-pound finals, Tony Balash, of Syracuse, and Andy Gorski, Western Maryland ringman traded blows. The second and third rounds went to Balash who won one of the closest decisions of the night.

Captain Bernie Kaplan, Western Maryland's savage 175-pounder, won the light-heavyweight title after he charged Ed Collins, M. I. T. finalist, with terrific rights. Collins also displayed the same hard right which knocked out Ledward, of Army in the semi-finals, but he fared the worse in an exchange of punches with Kaplan.

"Big Joe" Vavra, 220-pound Syracuse heavyweight, defeated Tom Pontecarvo, Western Maryland finalist, to give the Orange another individual title. Although Pontecarvo had outpointed Remus of Army in a sensational upset yesterday afternoon, he could not cope with the ruggedness of the Hillman.

Team Scoring

Syracuse	27
W. Maryland	12
Army	12
Penn State	11
Yale	6
M. I. T.	4
Dartmouth	0

Third Places

- 115-pound class—Thomas, Yale, automatically.
- 125-pound class—Rabinowitz, Dartmouth, forfeited to Zeleznock, Penn State.
- 135-pound class—Wetherill, M. I. T., forfeited to Cleveland, Army.
- 145-pound class—Turnbull, Penn State, forfeited to Carey, M. I. T.
- 155-pound class—Keyser, Western Maryland, defeated Kessler, Penn State, decision.
- 165-pound class—Slusser, Penn State, forfeited to Olson, Army.
- 175-pound class—Ledward, Army, forfeited to Negroni, Syracuse.
- Heavyweight class—Anderson, Penn State, forfeited to Remus, Army.

Semi-Finals

- 115-pound class—Burket, Syracuse, defeated Thomas, Yale, technical knockout in second.
- 125-pound class—Claines, Army, defeated Rabinowitz, Dartmouth, decision. Wertheimer, Syracuse, defeated Zeleznock, Penn State, decision.
- 135-pound class—McAndrews, Penn State, defeated Wetherill, M. I. T., technical knockout in second. Robbins, Syracuse, defeated Cleveland, Army, decision.
- 145-pound class—Del Genio, Yale, defeated Carey, M. I. T., decision. Hagan, Army, defeated Turnbull, Penn State, decision.
- 155-pound class—Moran, Syracuse, defeated Kessler, Penn State, technical knockout in second. Shinkle, Army, defeated Keyser, Western Maryland, decision.
- 165-pound class—Balash, Syracuse, defeated Olson, Army, decision. Gorski, Western Maryland, defeated Slusser, Penn State, decision.
- 175-pound class—Collins, M. I. T., defeated Ledward, Army, technical knockout in third. Kaplan, Western Maryland, defeated Negroni, Syracuse, decision.
- Heavyweight—Pontecarvo, Western Maryland, defeated Remus, Army, decision. Vavra, Syracuse, defeated Anderson, Penn State, technical knockout in first.

Tourney Champs

- 115-pound Class: Napoleon, Penn State
- 125-pound Class: Wertheimer, Syracuse
- 135-pound Class: McAndrews, Penn State
- 145-pound Class: Del Genio, Yale
- 155-pound Class: Moran, Syracuse
- 165-pound Class: Balash, Syracuse
- 175-pound Class: Kaplan, Western Maryland
- Heavyweight: Vavra, Syracuse