RYAN ELECTED SENIOR PRESIDENT

CLASSES ADVANCE AT MOVE-UP DAY RITES TOMORROW

Newly-Elected Group Officers Will Speak at Exercises On Front Campus

SENIOR WEEK TO OPEN WITH CHAPEL SERVICE

Innovation Includes Planting of Ivy, Closed Dance, Class Meeting, Songfest

All classes will advance one year in College standing at the annual Move-up Day exercises to be held in front of Old Main at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

At that time, President Ralph D. Hetzel will address the student body. Newly-elected class officers will be installed and will make short speeches.

Senior Week to Open Sunday Senior Week, an innovation at Penn State, will open with the regular Sunday chapel service, at which Rev. William E. Kroll '17 will speak on "In Favor of the Idealist."

Monday night, the ceremony of the planting of the ivy will be revived in front of Old Main. This is one of the oldest traditions at Penn State, being run continuously until 1898.

Another innovation, a senior songfest, will be held on the front steps of Old Main at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. The singing will be under the direction of Prof. Hummel Fishburn, acting head of the music department.

Wednesday night, the senior class will hold its last meeting in the Chemistry amphitheatre at 8 o'clock. At that time, they will act on the disposition of the balance remaining in the class treasury.

The activities will come to a close Thursday night with a dance open to seniors only. Two campus bands will furnish music for the function, which will be held either in Recreation hall or the Armory, according to tentative plans.

COLLEGE TO DANCE AT PROM TONIGHT

Junior Function Will Feature Ben Bernie With 'All His Lads' of Radio Fame

Concluding the major formal dances of the current College year, the class of '34 will play host to the other three classes at the Junior Prom featuring the music of Ben Bernie, "Old Maestro" of popular orchestra fame, in Recreation hall from 9 until 2 o'clock tonight.

Ben Bernie with "all his lads" is closely associated with the College Inn of the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, his "home" location, where he broadcasts regularly over a nation-wide radio network. He is noted for his informal chatter which he intersperses with dry, subtly clever humor.

Announce Chaperons Chaperons at the affair will be Dean and Mrs. Arthur R. Warnock and Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray, while patrons include Mr. and Mrs. Harney W. Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Dahle, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Boring, and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Harper, Herman C. Brandt '34, Prom chairman, announced yesterday.

As part of the program a medley of numbers taken from theme songs in the Thespian show "Old King Cole" and specially arranged by Frank F. (Duke) Morris '31, will be played as a feature of the prom, according to Brandt.

Final arrangements for the affair will be made today when the decoration scheme is completed in Recreation hall. Every effort will be made to place booths as advantageously as possible as previously planned in an effort to do away with those flanking the entrance-way, Brandt stated.

MEMBERS OF PLAYERS TO HOLD DINNER DANCE

Dramatists Will Wear Costumes of Characters 'Done' on Stage

Members of the Penn State Players will hold a buffet-dinner dance at Centre Hills Country club at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. To add dramatic atmosphere to the affair, the members of the organization will wear costumes of characters that they have "done" on the stage.

Arrangements for the dance are under the direction of a general committee, with Benjamin L. Wise '33 as chairman. Other members of the committee are Reba M. Michener '33, Clayton R. Page '34, and Paul K. Hirsch '35.

COLLEGE INFIRMARY ADMITS 5 PATIENTS; DISCHARGES 2

Five patients were admitted to the College infirmary since Monday, while two were discharged. Melvin Smith '35 was released Monday and Wilson O. Hill '35, who was admitted Monday for beritosis, was discharged Wednesday.

Bernice Miller '36 was admitted Monday suffering with la grippe; Thomas D. Faust '34, for observation for scarlet fever, William O'Brien '36, for asthma, were admitted Tuesday, while Mark K. Miller '35 was admitted Wednesday for la grippe.

SCHOLARSHIP DAY PLANS FOR NEXT SATURDAY LISTED

10 Upperclassmen Will Receive Evan Pugh, Honor Society Awards, Fellowships

SCHOLASTIC HONORARIES TO RECOGNIZE LEADERS

Kappa Gamma Psi Will Present Concerts at Opening of Annual Ceremony

Featuring an address by President Ralph D. Hetzel in conjunction with the presentation of awards for scholastic attainment and the announcement of elections to campus academic honoraries, the yearly Scholarship Day exercises will be observed May 13, according to Prof. William S. Dye Jr., chairman of the scholarship committee.

The first awards for the recently established Evan Pugh Scholarships will be made at the exercises. Five seniors and five juniors will receive this award. The Honor Society Council will present gold medals to each senior Evan Pugh scholar, while silver medals will be presented to the junior scholars by the council.

Three presentations of individual awards will be made at the scholarship ceremony. The John W. White medal will be awarded to the senior student ranking highest in all-around attainment, while the Sparks Memorial medal will be presented to the two students who have achieved the highest grade-point averages during either one of the past two semesters.

In addition, three John W. White fellowship awards will be presented as part of the program. Among the campus honoraries to announce newly-elected members during the exercises will be Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman scholastic honorary societies.

To Honor Faculty Men The local chapter of Phi Eta Sigma will present gold medals to the two members of the faculty who have done the most outstanding research work in social sciences and natural sciences during the current academic year.

Present plans for the program include a musical program by the orchestra of Kappa Gamma Psi, national honorary musical fraternity. The orchestra will present several concert arrangements at the opening of the program and between award presentations.

GERMAN TRIP CALLED OFF

Because of the present political situation in Germany, plans for the proposed trip to the University of Munich by a group of Penn State students this summer have been temporarily abandoned, Harold W. Weigel, of the Romance languages department, has announced. Full credit would have been given to the students for the work completed at the University.

THESPIANS TO END SEASON TOMORROW

Will Give 'Old King' Cole' for Second Time This Year in Schwab Auditorium

With their second presentation of "Old King Cole," musical comedy, the Penn State Thespians will close their annual season before a Junior Prom audience in Schwab auditorium tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

H. Grace Baer '34, and Ralph E. Vance '34, will again enact the juvenile lead roles, while M. Dorothy Johnston '34, Edwin S. Malmsted '33, and William B. Edwards '35 will play the comedy roles.

Show To Include Specialties Mahlon L. Heist '33, Richard C. Schlaack '34, Margaret S. Giffin '35, and Helen E. Taylor '35 complete the cast of principals. The show will feature two dancing specialties, a trio, and a tap team.

All original scenery and costumes will be used in the show. "Travelers" curtain, designed and painted by David H. Porterfield '24, will be displayed as the motif around which the show is built.

"As Time Hurries On," sung by Baer and Vance, "Won't You Be My Valentine," featured by Johnston and Malmsted, "Give a Guy a Kiss," sung by Edwards, "It's All Ballyhoo," and "I Wonder Where He Can Be" are some of the musical numbers of the performance.

WOMEN DEBATERS WILL ORATE HERE

Scheduled to Engage West Virginia On 'War Debt Cancellation' in Home Economics Unit

E. Lesta Reese '34 and Anna L. Miksch '34 will argue the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That All Intergovernmental War Debts Should Be Cancelled," when they meet the women's team from the University of West Virginia in the Home Economics auditorium at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The undefeated negative team will complete the women's debating season when Margaret E. Barnard '34 and Elsie M. Doulthett '35 uphold the negative side of the war debt question at West Virginia next Saturday. E. Marion Tomlinson '35 and Jeanne S. Kleckner '35, of the women's negative team, returned last week from an Easter debate trip on which they won two debates and participated in two no-decision contests.

After a no-decision debate with the women's affirmative team at Ohio Wesleyan, the Penn State team defeated the men's team from the University of Heidelberg by an audience decision.

I. F. COUNCIL WILL CONDUCT ELECTION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Election of officers for next year in the Interfraternity Council will be held Wednesday night, according to Herbert E. Longenecker '33, president. Nominations for the officers rest with the executive committee of the Council.

A president, secretary-treasurer, and two senior members on the executive committee will be elected.

Stocker, Pruitt Win 1935, 1936 Contests

Moore, Mikelonis, Bertolette Named Treasurers As Brubaker, Brown, Bohren Gain Positions of Secretary

John T. Ryan, Campus, was elected senior class president for next year when he polled 338 votes, defeating Norris B. McFarlane, Locust Lane, with 295 tallies, who became vice-president.

John M. Stocker, Campus, won the 1935 class presidency when he received 302 votes to defeat Vernon D. Platt, Locust Lane, with 274, and Willard D. Moyer, Independent, with 174; while J. Briggs Pruitt, Campus, secured 361 votes as compared with 344 cast for Harold B. Stevens, Locust Lane, to gain leadership of the sophomore class for next year.

NEW NATATORIUM TO OPEN TONIGHT

Junior Prom-Goers May Attend Formal Inauguration of Large Indoor Pool

With accommodations for 530 students, the new indoor swimming pool on the corner of Beaver avenue and Pugh street will open at 7 o'clock tonight, according to the manager of the pool. The natatorium will be open for inspection from 1 to 6 o'clock this afternoon.

Consistent with the pool schedule of mixed swimming on Fridays, the plant will be open after the Junior Prom has been concluded, the buckers have announced. Beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning, mixed swimming will also be held on Sundays, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays.

To Offer Swimming Courses The pool will be open to women only on Tuesdays from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock at night and on Thursdays from 6 until 11 o'clock at night. Men will use the pool Tuesdays from 6 to 11 o'clock at night and on Thursdays from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock at night.

Individual tutoring in swimming will be offered to patrons at special periods. Courses in life-saving will also be offered by an authorized instructor. Larger than any other indoor swimming pool in the State, the plant has a capacity of 150,000 gallons of water and is equipped with twenty under-water lights and seven sun lamps.

To care adequately for the eight-hour changes in the water, four filters, in accordance with the State sanitation code, have been installed as part of the equipment. Bacteriological tests of the water will be made each week.

PROFESSORS TO ATTEND HISTORIANS' CONCLAVE

Dunaway, Martin Will Aid Program Of Newly-Formed Association

Dr. Wayland F. Dunaway and Dr. Asa E. Martin, of the department of history, will attend the opening meetings of the newly-formed Pennsylvania Historical association to be held at Lehigh University this afternoon and tomorrow.

The association was formed here last September by members of the faculties of Pennsylvania colleges and universities. Permanent organization of the association will be effected at the meeting this week-end, and a constitution will be adopted.

Dr. Dunaway is a member of the committee on constitutions and has also been named to the committee on publications, which will make arrangements for an official association paper. Dr. Martin is serving on the committee on arrangements and the committee on nominations.

BLUE BLAZERS GO ON SALE

Blue blazers trimmed with white piping may be obtained at the same price as the white blazer now on sale, according to Grant A. Colton '31, chairman of the blazer committee.

BLUE BAND TO PLAY MAY 13

As a part of the Mothers Day exercises May 13, the Blue Band will give a concert in front of Old Main at 2 o'clock.

KROLL '17 TO TALK IN CHAPEL SUNDAY

Will Address Audience on "In Favor Of the Idealist"—Visited Here Last Year

Speaking on "In Favor of the Idealist," Rev. William E. Kroll '17, will address the chapel audience in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Rev. Kroll is pastor of the Arlington Avenue Presbyterian church, East Orange, N. J.

While at Penn State the speaker was class historian, associate editor of the COLLEGIAN, associate editor of the 1917 Le Vir, a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, and a Phi Delta Theta. Following his graduation he enlisted in the Infantry for the remainder of the World War.

After leaving the army the New Jersey minister taught school for a short time, and then accepted the position as head of the student Y. M. C. A. at Wesleyan University. Three years of graduate work at the Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University followed, after which he went to Holyoke, Mass., as assistant minister at the Presbyterian church there.

After two years at Holyoke, Rev. Kroll traveled for the National Student Council of the Y. M. C. A. for two seasons, before beginning his present work in East Orange.
