

SUMMER COLLEGIAN

Volume 16 No. 6

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1933

PRICE FIVE CENTS

INSTITUTE OF MUSIC TO OFFER CONCERT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

'The Trail-makers,' Written by Student Here, Included On Music Program

FINAL STUDENT 'SING' SET FOR MONDAY NIGHT

Symphony Orchestra Will Play Special Numbers at Assembly 'Sing'

The annual combined concert of all students of the Institute of Music Education will be presented at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, and the last of the regular weekly student assembly "sings" will be held at 7 o'clock on Monday night. Both will be held in Schwab auditorium under the direction of Prof. Richard W. Grant, director of the institute.

An original composition for chorus and orchestra, "The Trail-makers," written by Maxwell MacMichael, will feature Wednesday's concert. MacMichael, who is supervisor of music in the public schools of Perth Amboy, N. J., is studying music at the College this summer. He wrote the words and music, and prepared the orchestration for "The Trail-makers" as a project in the graduate course in original composition here.

125 To Participate
The Institute strives to give students an opportunity to have their work presented to a critical audience, Director Grant explained. "One of the major objects of the Institute is to open the way for creative work in these lines to musically mature students."

The 125 students of the Institute will all participate in Wednesday's concert either as members of the chorus or of the symphony orchestra. Another feature of the orchestra and choral program will be an incidental baritone solo "Reve Angelique" sung by James Woodside and accompanied by a violin obligato played by Leigh E. Wittell, supervisor of instrumental music in the Lancaster public schools.

Concerts Complimentary
The last student "sing" on Monday night will be featured by a program of college songs. Special numbers will be played by the symphony orchestra under the direction of Prof. Hummel Fishburn, of the music department.

Over a thousand students have been attending these Monday night assemblies each week since the beginning of the Summer Session. Both the assembly and the concert on Wednesday night are complimentary and the Institute of Music Education invites all students and faculty members to attend them.

HETZEL GETS POSITION AS AIDE TO GOVERNOR

Secures Position as Personal Secretary To Governor of Pennsylvania

Ralph D. Hetzel, jr., '33, has secured a position as personal secretary to Governor Pinchot. He assumed his new duties last Friday morning.

Although the exact nature of the work he will be required to execute is not as yet known, it is believed that he will have charge of the Governor's publicity, traveling with Mr. Pinchot, and writing newspaper articles and public speeches under his direction.

Hetzel, who was graduated from the College in June as valedictorian of his class, was active in extra-curricular activities while an undergraduate. He was editor of the Old Main Bell, managing editor of the COLLEGIAN, and a member of Lion's Paw, Purple Quill, Blue Key, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Next 'Collegian' Set for Sept. 14

The SUMMER COLLEGIAN will suspend publication for 1933 with the present issue. The PENN STATE COLLEGIAN, official winter session student newspaper which is issued semi-weekly, will resume publication on September 15, according to Frederick L. Taylor, business manager.

Summer Session students who desire to purchase back issues of the SUMMER COLLEGIAN may obtain them at the business office in the Nittany Printing building. Subscriptions to the winter session issue of the COLLEGIAN at $2.50 for the year will also be taken at the business office.

300 Superintendents Meet Here For Annual Conclave

Dr. Kelly Principal Speaker At 3-Day Session Of State Educators This Week

Approximately 300 school administrators attended the annual Superintendents' Conference which convened here Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday with the annual dinner Wednesday evening at the Nittany Lion Inn. Speakers included prominent educators throughout the country who presided over the three-day sessions and led the discussion groups.

Present attacks upon public school system, if successful, will be a disaster to civilization that will require generations to repair, Dr. D. J. Kelly, superintendent of Binghamton, N. Y., public schools, declared in his address Wednesday morning.

"Breakdowns have occurred in industry and finance which would not have come had those responsible followed the teachings imparted in our schools," Dr. Kelly said. "Now various groups are attempting to cover their own weaknesses by placing the blame on the public schools. Their attacks are highly-organized and well-financed; they are dastardly and dangerous; and, unless stopped, the result will be a disaster to civilization that will require generations to repair."

FRENCH MUSICALES SET FOR SATURDAY

Pittsburgh Artist, 2 Comedies Feature Program for Tomorrow

A program of musical numbers and short comedy-dramas will be held by the Institute of French Education for members of the institute and other interested students in the Little Theatre, Old Main, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

As the guest artist, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, of Pittsburgh, will sing several French songs. Mrs. Young has studied French music at the Fontainebleau Academy of Music in France. Besides accompanying Mrs. Young, Miss Pauline Barbe, a member of the faculty of the institute, will play several piano solos.

Blanchet To Appear
Two French farces, one played by faculty members of the institute, and the other, by students, will be included in tomorrow night's program.

In the play "Ma Belle-mere Nest Plus," the faculty members who will appear in the cast are Miss Dora Schatzberg, Miss Louise Chevalier, Prof. Albert Farmer, and Prof. Paul R. Blanchet.

"La France du Cuvier" which will be produced entirely by student members of the Institute, will open for parts in this play are Hollice A. Law, Charlotte Faust, and Lewis Latorro.

In one group of songs, Mrs. Young will sing selections from "Sampson and Delilah" by Saint-Saens, and from "Carmen" by Bizet, while in a second group she will include three negro spirituals, "Deep River," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Goin' to Shout."

Miss Barbe's piano solos will be compositions by Debussy and Roise.

FRIZZELL TO GIVE READING SUNDAY

Public Speaking Professor Will Read At 3 O'clock in Home Economics Building

Prof. John H. Frizzell, of the department of Public Speaking, will give a number of readings which he entitled "An Hour with Uncle Lisha," at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Room 110, Home Economics building.

The readings are taken from a book of character sketches by Rollin E. Robinson, and they depict the life in a small Vermont village long before the railroads were in use. The scene of the sketches is in Uncle Lisha's shop where the old-timers of the village got together every night to discuss current affairs.

STUDENTS TO GIVE MARIONETTE SHOW, PLAYS NEXT WEEK

Will Demonstrate Results of Class, Knowledge Gained With Performances

TO PRODUCE ALL SHOWS IN OLD MAIN THEATRE

Puppet Performances Set for Monday—2 Plays for Wednesday, Thursday

Students in the classes of marionette design and operation and play production will give a demonstration of their knowledge next week with special performances in their special fields. Two marionette programs will be presented on Monday while plays are scheduled for the Little Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

Eight playlets by the class in marionette design and operation will be presented on Monday afternoon and evening in the Little Theatre, at 3:30 and 8 o'clock. The course is being conducted by Prof. Arthur C. Cloetingh, head of the department of dramatics.

Tickets Distributed
The program will include the one-act plays of "Hansel and Gretel," "The Mysterious Clown," "Little Red Riding Hood," "The Three Wishes," "Lizzie the Acrobat," "The Three Bears," "Punch and Judy," and "The Eccentric Pianist."

The presentation of "Lizzie the Acrobat" will require twenty-two strings by which to operate the puppet on a rope and four people to manage them.

The marionettes have been costumed and will be operated by the members of the class, all scenery and lighting effects also being under their direction. The dialogue for the plays has been especially set up by the students.

2 Plays Planned
With at least two showings and possibly three, the class will present the program especially for children of faculty members in the afternoon and for faculty members and students in the evening. Tickets may be secured in Room 413, Old Main, with no charge of admission.

The second series of plays presented by the class in play production will be given in the Little Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 8 o'clock, under the general supervision of Darrell D. Larsen, instructor in English and Public Speaking, Franklin and Marshall College.

The program will include two selections, a one-act play by Estelle A. Brown, "A Woman of Character," and a two-act Spanish comedy, "The Women Have Their Way," by the Quintero brothers.

The students of the class have complete charge of the coaching and acting in the plays, and will be assisted by the class in Stage craft, also under the direction of Mr. Larsen. Admission will be by invitation.

A student in the mechanical engineering curriculum, MacNeill was a member of Theta Xi social fraternity. He was twenty-one years of age and the son of Robert MacNeill, a vice-president of the Integrity Trust company of Philadelphia.

TWENTY-FOURTH SUMMER SESSION THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

Official Announcements SATURDAY, AUGUST 5

8:00 A. M.—Broad Mountain Forest Tower-Greenwood Furnace Park Excursion. Leaves from front of Auditorium.

8:00 P. M.—French Institute Musicales and Drama. Little Theatre, Old Main.

3:00 P. M.—Recital, "An Hour with Uncle Lisha," by Prof. John H. Frizzell, Head of the Division of Public Speech. (Room 110 Home Economics Building.)

7:00 P. M.—Vesper Song Service. Address, "Driving Out Fear," by Dr. Paul S. Leinbach, Editor Church Messenger, Philadelphia. Auditorium.

MONDAY, AUGUST 7

3:00 P. M.—Play Shop. Marionette Performance. Matinee for children. Little Theatre, Old Main. Tickets can be secured in Room 413 Old Main.

7:00 P. M.—Student Assembly, Sing, and Orchestra Concert. Direction of Prof. R. W. Grant. Auditorium.

8:00 P. M.—Play Shop. Marionette Performance. Little Theatre, Old Main. Tickets can be secured in Room 413 Old Main.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 8

8:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. and 7:00 P. M. to 9:00 P. M.—Art Students' Exhibition Work in Art Education, Fine and Applied Art done during the Summer Session. Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor, Main Engineering Building.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 9

8:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. and 7:00 P. M. to 9:00 P. M.—Art Students' Exhibition. Work in Art Education, Fine and Applied Art done during the Summer Session. Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor, Main Engineering Building.

3:00 P. M.—Lecture, "Pirandello's 'If You Think You Are,'" by Prof. A. C. Cloetingh. Room 101 North Liberal Arts.

8:00 P. M.—Annual Combined Concert of the Institute of Music Education Chorus and Orchestra. Prof. R. W. Grant, Director. Auditorium.

221 Will Receive Degrees at Commencement Thursday Night

98 Students Scheduled for Advanced Degrees While 123 Others Will Get Bachelors' Certificates at Exercises

To Lecture Today

HASEK TO TALK AT 3 O'CLOCK TODAY

Acting L. A. Dean Will Discuss Russian Play in Lecture This Afternoon

Speaking on the subject "Andreev's 'Love of One's Neighbor,'" Dr. Carl W. Hasek, acting dean of the School of Liberal Arts and head of the department of economics and sociology, will give an open lecture in Room 101, North Liberal Arts building this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Something of the life and work of Andreev, noted Russian writer, will be discussed by the lecturer who will also read from the "Love of One's Neighbor," one of the best known of Andreev's one-act plays. The lecture is one of a series sponsored by the department of English literature.

Cloetingh To Speak
Dr. Hasek received his bachelor's degree from Lehigh University in 1911 and his master's from Harvard University in 1914. He was awarded his doctorate by Columbia University in 1925.

Following the resignation of Dr. O. Fred Boucek as head of the department of economics and sociology of the College in 1931, Dr. Hasek was made head of that department, and this spring was appointed acting dean of the Liberal Arts School during the absence of Dean Charles W. Stoddart, who is on leave of absence.

The lecturer has made a special study of the Russian literature and has frequently lectured on the work of Russian writers. During the 1932-33 winter session he presented readings from Russian writers as a part of the Fireside Reading series sponsored by the College library.

Concluding the lecture series sponsored by the English literature department, Prof. Arthur C. Cloetingh, head of dramatics at the College, will lecture on "Pirandello's 'If You Think You Are,'" in Room 101, North Liberal Arts building Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

TUESDAY ANNOUNCED AS DEADLINE FOR 'BELL'

Literary Magazine To Publish First Number in September

Tuesday has been set as the deadline for all manuscripts and copy for the September issue of the Old Main Bell, College literary and opinion magazine, according to an announcement by the editor.

All articles, features, stories, essays and verse should be submitted before that time to William M. Stegmeier, '34, editor, at the Sigma Nu house, or at Room 315, Old Main. In manuscripts are to be submitted late, arrangements should be made with the editor.

The Bell is planning to publish four issues during the coming year. The first number will be released on September 14, the first day of Freshman Week. Publication dates of subsequent issues will be announced in the September magazine.

FRATERNITY REPAIRS MADE

Reconstruction work on the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house, which was badly damaged by fire on July 4, was started this week. A new slate roof will be placed on the building and the part of the third floor which was damaged by fire and water will be rebuilt.

Mercury Jumps; College Swelters

Classes Like Ovens in Heat Wave

Ol' Man Weather has certainly been sending the mercury sky-ward during the past few days; as students having classes under the sweltering roofs of College buildings will readily testify.

Being in a particularly spiteful mood, he sent the ponderous fluid skyward Monday to the tune of 97 degrees Fahrenheit which proved to be the highest ascent of the fluid thus far this year, according to Prof. Clinton O. Cromer, College weather statistician.

The month of July produced an over-sufficiency of heat here; the average temperature of the month being 71.4 degrees which is 14 degrees above the normal means temperature of July. In all but four of the last eleven days of July, the maximum temperature varied between 92 and 97 degrees, while the normal means temperature was 83.1 degrees.

The rainfall of the month was made decidedly conspicuous by its absence. On only six days did enough rain fall to be measured. The total rainfall was 3.09 inches, which is .75 below the normal for July; the greater amount of this, two-and-one-half, falling on the afternoon and night of July 2.

ROUCEK PLACED ON FACULTY HERE

Named as Visiting Professor of Sociology for Coming Regular Session

Appointment of Dr. Joseph S. Roucek as visiting professor of sociology for the coming regular session was announced Wednesday by Dr. Carl W. Hasek, acting dean of the School of Liberal Arts and head of the department of economics and sociology.

Dr. Roucek, a graduate of New York University, has been a member of the Centenary Junior College faculty at Hackettstown, N. J., during the past year, and is well known as an author and lecturer on sociological problems. He formerly lectured at the University of Bucharest in Roumania.

The visiting professor, who will conduct courses in urban population at the College next year, has made a special study of the minority peoples, and has written extensively on the subject. His latest book, "Contemporary Roumania," has been received with much favorable comment.

Dr. Roucek has already presented a large collection of sociological papers and books, including his own writings, to the College library. A large part of the collection is in the Slav language.

ART WORK TO BE DISPLAYED ON WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY

An art exhibit of the outstanding works of Summer Session students will be on display Wednesday and Thursday in the third floor hallway of the Main Engineering building. The works will be on display in the daytime and evening.

It will include oil and water paintings, elementary and advanced drawings, and elementary and advanced design. There will also be figure sketching, pottery, modeling, and other working craft.

WARNOCK TAKES VACATION

Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock left with his family to visit relatives plans to spend four or five days attending the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, and will return on August 25.

Who's Dancing

Tonight Sigma Nu The Capitalians (Closed) Phi Kappa Psi and Omega Epsilon At Omega Epsilon Bill Batorf (Closed) Tomorrow Night Acaia Blue and Gold (Closed)

(Continued on page four)