

COLLEGE TO WELCOME 1,367 FRESHMEN

RUSHING CODE ALTERED

2 CHANGES MADE BY I. F. COUNCIL

Free Period Introduced In Restricted Week By Amendment

ONLY FIRST YEAR MEN AFFECTED BY ACTION

Fraternity Men, Rushees Must Maintain Silent Periods Between Systems

Two major changes in the 1933 rushing code, which goes into effect when members of fifty-four social fraternities entertain members of the class of 1937 at 5 o'clock today, were made by Interfraternity Council at a meeting Tuesday night.

A free period between 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock in the afternoon while the restricted rushing system is in effect was added to the code, while the word "non-fraternity" was stricken from the clause which reads "rushee shall be defined as any man in his first year at Penn State" with the added stipulation that the clause shall refer to first-year students.

Under the revised code for this year, two separate systems of rushing will be inaugurated. Regulated rushing will begin this afternoon and close at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

From then until the period ends—8 o'clock Friday night, September 29—unrestricted rushing will be carried on between 8 o'clock at morning and 10 o'clock at night. While the restricted rushing system is being enforced, dates will be permitted between 11:30 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon and from 5 until 10 o'clock at night.

To Pledge September 30. Between the first and second systems an absolute silent period between rushees and fraternity members will be enforced. A silent period will also be observed from the close of the rushing season until Saturday night, September 30.

Instead of reporting at the fraternity house of their choice for the Sunday noon meal as formerly, freshmen will receive their bids at the Student Union office on Saturday and present themselves at the fraternity of their choice in time to partake of the evening meal at 6 o'clock Saturday night.

Once Change In Jewish Code. A code governing the rushing activities of Jewish fraternities states that a silent period as previously defined shall begin at 5 o'clock Thursday, September 28 and shall continue until 7 o'clock, September 29.

The major change in the code involves a joint smoker which will be held at the Phi Epsilon Pi house at 7:30 o'clock Saturday, September 16. Last year all the Jewish houses held separate smokers.

DOCTOR, MRS. HETZEL RETURN

President and Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel returned late Tuesday night from a short vacation trip in the New England states. Much of Dr. Hetzel's time was spent in visiting friends at the University of New Hampshire, where he served as president for nine years.

'Collegian' To Issue 8-Page Supplement

Beginning with the issue of Thursday, September 28, the Collegian will distribute with every Thursday issue the Collegiate Digest, an eight-page, nationally circulated pictorial and news magazine covering events of importance, pictures of campus, student leaders and activities at colleges in all parts of the United States.

Higgins Seeks Center as 44 Men Start Grid Grind

Loss of Zawacki, Rich Leaves Lion Pivot Post With Only One Veteran For Position

Shakespeare was wrong. The center—not the play—is the thing as Head Coach Bob Higgins and forty-four Nittany gridmen work out daily on New Beaver practice field in anticipation of the Lion's forty-seventh season of football.

NEW TRACK COACH CHOSEN BY BOARD

Charles D. Werner, Assistant At Illinois, Will Fill Cartmell's Place

Charles D. "Chick" Werner, formerly of the University of Illinois coaching staff, was selected by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees on July 14 to succeed Nat J. Cartmell as track mentor for the Nittany Lion.

Bearing the official title of assistant professor of physical education, Penn State's new track coach was for several years in complete charge of the four-year course in track instruction at Illinois. Right hand man of Illinois coach, Harry Gill, since 1927, Coach Werner was acting head of the Illinois trackmen in the absence of Gill during the past season.

Recommended Unanimously. Holding world's records for the 60 and 60-yard hurdles and the 60- and 75-yard high hurdles, Werner was considered one of the greatest hurdlers in the history of the school. He graduated from the Illinois institution in 1926, in which year he was captain of the team.

Recommended unanimously by the thirteen members of the personnel committee of the Board of Athletic Control, the new coach's name was submitted for approval in preference to more than a half dozen other likely prospects for the position. The entire country was combed thoroughly for candidates by Director Hugo Bezdak, of the School of Physical Education and Athletics.

The new coach comes to Penn State with the recommendation of many sincere and well-known track enthusiasts. Among men endorsing the new mentor were Amos Alonzo Stagg, formerly of Chicago, and Charles Marrow '12, former Lion runner who is now coach of track at the university of Nebraska.

Werner went to the University of Illinois to study for his Ph.D. degree.

AUTHOR-LECTURER ADDED TO FACULTY

Joseph S. Roucek Appointed Visiting Professor of Sociology for 1933-34 School Term

Dr. Joseph S. Roucek, well-known author and lecturer on sociological problems, has accepted an appointment as visiting professor of sociology for the 1933-34 school term, according to Dr. Carl W. Hasek, head of the department of economics and sociology.

Dr. Roucek's appointment was made during the past summer, and in accepting the position here, he resigned from the faculty of the Centenary Junior College at Hackettstown, N. J. He formerly lectured at the University of Bucharest, in Roumania.

The visiting professor will conduct two courses in sociology, one dealing with urban problems and the other with population problems. Since his graduation from New York University, he has made a detailed study of the minority peoples and has written extensively on that subject.

Name Cards Needed For Freshman Week

Contrary to a statement published in the Student Handbook, freshmen will be required to wear regulation cards bearing name, home address, and preparatory school, before customs begin. Regulation name cards will be provided by the student government at registration today and must be worn at once according to John T. Ryan, president of the senior class.

BOND ISSUE PLANS REMAIN UNDECIDED

College Will Conduct Campaign To Educate Voters On State Amendment

College administration officials have not yet decided upon a definite course of action for Penn State in the campaign for the voters' approval of the $25,000,000 bond issue at the general election in November.

President Hetzel, who returned late Tuesday night from a short vacation trip to the New England states, said that no decision has been made, although a public campaign, planned to acquaint the voting public with the necessity of the passage of the bill, will be sponsored by the College during the coming months.

To Vote November 7. Such a campaign would not be as extensive as a similar one conducted in 1928, when the College sought approval of an $8,000,000 bond issue for the erection and improvement of buildings here to meet the increased demands of a large student body and public service and research facilities.

Carrying with it the appropriation of $3,708,000, providing for the operation and maintenance of the College during the 1933-35 biennium, a bill was passed by the House and the Senate and approved by the Governor on May 4 which will be subject to the decision of the public at the election on November 7.

PETROLEUM GRADUATES ALL RECEIVE POSITIONS

Code of Oil Industry Adopted Three Weeks Ago Held as Cause

Since the National Recovery Administration's code for the petroleum industry was adopted three weeks ago, all of the petroleum engineers who were graduated last June have received employment, according to word received by Dr. Chesleigh A. Bonine, head of the department of geology and petroleum engineering.

Most of the graduates have been placed through the cooperation of officials of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil association. However, since petroleum engineers are in great demand in the Oil City district, unemployment in this line has grown.

SACKETT SERVES AS JUDGE

Dean Robert L. Sackett, head of the School of Engineering, was one of the judges in the Fisher Brothers Craftsman Guild contest, which was held in Chicago recently.

11 HOURS OF DRILL CUT FROM R. O. T. C. COURSE FOR YEAR

Underclassmen Will Get More Theoretical Instruction In Other Subjects

TO HEAR INSTRUCTORS IN OTHER DEPARTMENTS

Smith, Hasek, Shigley Will Give Lectures to Freshmen During Semester

Eleven hours totalling three and two-thirds less weeks of routine drill—that is the net result of the new R. O. T. C. course of study as worked out by Lt. Col. Russell V. Venable, head of the department of military science and tactics.

This is the first move resulting from the recommendations of the Board of Trustees more than a year ago. Under the new plan, students will receive more theoretical instruction in related subjects as well as the regulation army drill. More changes will be added from year to year, according to Colonel Venable.

Hasek, Smith To Talk

The first innovation will be a lecture on military policy and history by members of the military department. Oscar P. Smith, assistant dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics, will deliver two lectures on the obligations of citizens.

The School of Liberal Arts will be represented by Dr. Carl W. Hasek, head of the department of economics and sociology, who will speak twice on some of the current international situations. Three more hours of the first-year students.

Shigley To Give Course

The sophomore curriculum will follow the same general lines, with more attention being paid to theoretical and practical instruction in military science and tactics. Among the new subjects offered to second-year men will be a short course in the care of animals and stable management by Prof. James F. Shigley, of the department of veterinary science. A lecture on military history will also be offered.

Junior and senior students will also find their hours of routine drill shortened, and several new courses including chemical warfare defense, anti-aircraft defense, and aerial photography reading added. Junior officers will receive less machine gun instruction this year, the time to go to tactical training.

Regular Officers Back. All of the officers stationed here last year have returned from duty at various Citizens Conservation Corps camps with the exception of Capt. Vinton L. James Jr., and Captain Earnest A. Higgins. Captain James is ill at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, while Captain Higgins is on a leave of absence, after which he will retire from active army service.

Captain George M. MacMullin of the infantry, who is now stationed at the Plattsburg Barracks, New York, has been ordered here to replace Captain Higgins.

Hetzel Will Extend Official Greeting at Convocation Tonight

Ninth Freshman Week Period Opens Today as Newest Class Begins Program of Orientation Activities

Penn State's official welcome to its new class of 1,367 freshmen will be extended by President Ralph D. Hetzel and members of Student Union at the annual freshman convocation in Schwab auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

The meeting will open the series of Freshman Week rallies to be conducted by the prominent student organizations.

KRUMBINE TO TALK AT CHAPEL SERVICE

Cleveland Pastor Will Address Members of Freshman Class On Sunday

Dr. Miles H. Krumbine, pastor of the Plymouth Church, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, Ohio, will address the Freshman Week chapel service in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. He will take as his subject the theme, "One Life Counts."

Originally, plans were for Hon. Franklin S. Edmunds, of Philadelphia, to address the special chapel for first year men. However, the Philadelphia address has been necessarily postponed until the opening chapel service of the regular College year next Sunday.

Speaker Is Pennsylvania Native. Born in Schaefferstown, the speaker attended Albright College at Myerstown, for two years, and then transferred to Gettysburg College, where he received his A. B. degree in 1911. He returned there and took his D. D. degree in 1925.

Following his graduation from Gettysburg College, Dr. Krumbine attended the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, where he was ordained to the ministry. His first pastorate was at the Grace Church at Altoona, where he remained until 1917.

The speaker then was called to the First Church, at Dayton, Ohio, where he remained eight years. The Parkside Church, at Buffalo, N. Y., was his next pastorate. He served as minister there for three years, from 1926 to 1929.

Has Addressed Many Students

Dr. Krumbine has remained at his present church since 1929, when he went there from Buffalo. He has been a speaker at several College chapel services, last speaking here in January last year. He is noted in church circles as the founder, in 1920, of the Summer School of Religious Education, in connection with his church.

Among the colleges and universities at which the chapel speaker has addressed gatherings are Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Iowa, Illinois, Mount Holyoke, and Smith. At college he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Among

DONALD F. DAY EDITS BELLEVUE PUBLICATION

Former 'Collegian' News Editor Takes Position as Weekly Head

With the inception of the North Harris News, weekly publication at Bellevue, Donald F. Day '33, former news editor of the COLLEGIAN, and associate editor of the Student Handbook assumed the position of editor of the new newspaper.

The first issue of the new paper, with Day heading the editorial staff and Emil G. Stankey, Carnegie Institute of Technology graduate in June, holding the position of business manager, was distributed August 31. Day holds a degree of Bachelor of Arts in journalism, while Stankey received the degree of Bachelor of Science in printing.

The News, an eight-page, six-column paper of slightly narrower than the standard size, will cover news events and advertising in Bellevue, Avalon, Ben Avon, Ben Avon Heights, Emsworth, West View, and Ross Township. In addition to his journalistic work during regular College sessions, Day was also editor of the Standard Collegian.

Stage Troupe To Give 'Up Pops The Devil'

Penn State. Thespians, Players Will Aid In Production

The first contribution of the year to the Student Loan fund will be made Saturday night when the University Players, a group of Penn State Thespians and Players of the past and present, will present the comedy, "Up Pops The Devil," in Schwab auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

The University Players played the summer season of the Elverhoj theatre, Milton-on-Hudson, N. Y., "Up Pops the Devil" being among their productions. The group is sponsoring a post-season performance here, with a percentage of the profits to go to the Student Loan fund.

J. Ewing "Sock" Kennedy '26 in the role of Boney heads the cast, which includes Lucretia P. Parker '33 as Polly Grison, Roy Nelson '27 as the Drunk, and Arthur C. Cunningham '34 as rick is portrayed by H. Grace Baer '34; while Kenneth Holdeman '31 takes the role of Gilbert Morell. Frances Armstrong, who is a Wellesley undergraduate of the class of 1934, is seen as Luella; Henry D. Porterfield '25 plays Mr. Platt; while George Spelvin fills the role of the Janitor, William F. Hartmann '33 will portray the Bootlegger.

Will Play Lead

H. GRACE BAER '34

Loan Fund To Receive Proceeds From Production

The plot of the story has to do with the young man who stayed home to do the housework, while his wife went out into the world to make the living. A theme of love in Greenwich Village helps to maintain the interest to the end.

If completed plans are successfully presented, Duke Morris and his Varsity Ten will furnish music for the production. As all seats will be reserved, tickets are on sale at the Student Union desk.

'Collegian' Changes Days of Publication

In the interest of timeliness of news as well as to insure more accurate circulation, the COLLEGIAN this year will be distributed Monday and Thursday evenings rather than Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Circulation will be by mail and carrier, as well as street and newsstand sale. Plans are for publishing and distributing the papers as early in the evening as facilities permit. In order to insure accuracy in distribution of the COLLEGIAN while permanent circulation lists are being made up, subscribers are requested to report all changes of address to the downtown office immediately, phone 292-W.
