

26 PROMOTED, 3 POSITIONS ALTERED

7 Get Professorships, 8 Named Associates by Executive Committee Action

Twenty-six faculty members were promoted in rank and three were given new titles as a result of action taken by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees during the summer months.

Seven of the promotions in rank were from associate professor to professor, ten from assistant to associate professor, eight from instructor to assistant, and one from assistant to instructor.

Dr. Frink Promoted

Two of the changes in title were in the department of history, Dr. Wayland F. Dunaway being made professor of American history, and Dr. Francis J. Tschann professor of European history. Miss Margaret Brown was transferred from assistant professor of home economics extension to assistant professor of clothing extension.

Dr. Orrin Frink, Dr. Charles A. Rupp, and Dr. Charles G. Wagner, all of the department of mathematics, were granted promotions to professorships. Others who are now professors are Dr. George W. Hartmann, of the department of psychology, Prof. Freulick G. Merkle, of the department of agronomy, Dr. Willard W. Waller, of the department of economics and sociology, and Prof. Percival T. Ziegler, of the department of animal husbandry.

Fishburn Advanced

Those advanced to associate professorships include Russell D. Casselberry, of the zoology department, Gustav E. Cohen, of the department of chemistry, Hummel Fishburn, of the department of music, Miss Marion S. McDowell, of the home economics department, and C. O. Williams of the teacher training extension department. Others who were granted similar promotions are Haskell B. Curry and Isador M. Sheffer, of the department of mathematics, Burke M. Hermann, of the history department, Chauncey O. Ridenour, of the English literature department, and Palmer C. Weaver of the School of Education.

Advances to assistant professorships were granted to Miss Grace P. Bacon, of the nutrition extension department, Carl C. Wild, of the landscape extension department, Albert W. Hutchinson, of the department of chemistry, and Robert J. Carroll and Harry Vannatta, of the teacher-training extension department. Chester L. Wiseman, of the department of architecture, Thomas C. Benton, of the mathematics department, and Miss Marie Haidt, of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, received similar positions. Miss Florence Adolph was advanced from the post of assistant to that of instructor in the department of home economics.

DUFFY '30 CANDIDATE FOR ARCHITECTURE DOCTORATE

For the first time in College history a doctorate in the engineering curriculum will be awarded when J. Willard Duffy '30 completes his work towards the degree.

Duffy will serve as a graduate assistant in the department of architecture and will instruct freshmen in drawing. He received his master's degree last year, and is now seeking a doctorate in architecture.

Supports Placed Beneath Damaged Dairy Building

Contractor Expects To Consume 8 Weeks in Completing $60,000 Repair Project

Four of seven caissons are now being placed underneath the north wing of the Dairy building to repair the damage caused in July when the building was found to be undermined by two large caves.

These caissons, which are composed of a number of concentric steel shafts filled with concrete to form columns, are being placed on bed rock and steel arches will connect them to help support the building.

Plaster Cracks Noted
The complete project of bracing the building is expected to take at least eight weeks, according to the contractor, and will cost approximately $60,000. Last night the drilling to reach the bed-rock foundation had reached a twenty-four foot depth with

PALMERTON HIGH SCHOOL RATE AS HIGHEST HERE

Statistics Released by Registrar Hoffman List Abington Second

Palmerton, with an index rating of 9-12270 is the highest ranking high school sending students here during the last four years. This index number is made by comparing the relative rating of the students in their high school with their ratings here.

Other schools ranking high, according to William S. Hoffman, College Registrar, are Abington with 18-13457; Chester with 29-24559; Dormont with 27-24678; Doylestown with 10-23700; Germantown with 62-24596; and Milton with 7-13670. Other schools with extremely high ratings are Oakmont with 12-15500; Reading with 56-42670; Roxborough with 11-14590; and South Philadelphia with 14-14000.

Smaller high schools with higher ratings were not considered because of their small size, Registrar Hoffman said. Only high schools that have sent two or more freshmen a year were considered.
