PHI GAMMA DELTA REPAIRS FIRE LOSS

Blaze During Early Summer Session Totals $6,000 Damage—Student Overcome by Smoke

Extensive repairs are almost completed to replace the $6,000 damage done when the Phi Gamma Delta house was gutted by a blaze of unknown origin early during the Summer Session.

Trapped in a third floor room while fighting the flames, one member of the fraternity, Robert Harmon '35, was partially overcome by smoke, and was taken to the College hospital after being assisted from the building by firemen.

The blaze is believed to have started in the chapter room of the fraternity, which is situated in a rear wing of the third floor.

Members of the house removed furniture and valuables.

COLLEGE TO GREET FRESHMAN CLASS

at the mass meeting Monday night, John T. Ryan '34, senior class president, and Eva M. Blichfeldt '34, Women's Student Government association president, and other student government leaders will speak on topics explaining the system of government used here.

The special meetings will be closed on Tuesday night when the Athletic Association will conduct an athletic rally. Thomas J. Harper jr. '34, Athletic Association president, will preside at the rally and will present the football lettermen.

Counselors' Meeting Scheduled

Three counselors' meetings are scheduled for each of the twenty-four sections of the new class, while the class will assemble according to schools for instruction on methods of study.

To assist students in maintaining good physical condition during their college life, all first year men will be given a thorough physical examination by Dr. Joseph P. Ritenour, College physician. The examination will be given at the dispensary in the basement of Old Main, and the health record will be used as a guide in suggesting remedies for any physical defects which may prove injurious to the student.

To Hold Song Practices

Uniforms to be worn for R. O. T. C. courses will be issued during this week at regularly assigned periods from the storeroom in the basement of McAllister hall.

The period from 11 o'clock to 12 o'clock each morning will be set aside for song practice in the Auditorium.

The Freshman Week schedule also provides for two periods of library practice in charge of library assistants.

An opportunity to become acquainted with the College campus buildings and points of interest is offered by the P. S. C. A. in the form of campus tours.

The women's cabinet of the Christian association will entertain freshmen women at the Andy Lytle cabin Saturday afternoon.

Freshman Class Song

Through the courtesy of Prof. Richard W. Grant, head of the department of music, the COLLEGIAN presents the official song of the Class of 1937:

Talk about the solemn, solemn seniors, Talk about the jolly juniors too, Talk about the snooty, snooty sophomores Just listen while we sing this song to you;

CHORUS

If you take a one and nine, and add a three and seven, That's thirty-seven, that's thirty-seven; If you get that friendly feeling, down in your heart a' stealing That's thirty-seven, that's thirty-seven; Hello, the Lion cubs are roaring, Penn State our praises high are soaring, Oh Boy if you are happy, just full of pep and snappy, That's one nine three seven Nineteen thirty-seven, seven, seven

College Experts Slay Million Insects In Gruesome Norristown Massacre

"Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong." And a million insects can't be wronged. But they were, to the extent of losing their buggy, pesky, blood-thirsty lives. 'Twas during the recent "Norristown massacre."

Slightly over two weeks ago a three-acre area in Norristown was so infested with roaches, crickets, and waterbugs that the townspeople summoned several experts from the College as well as representatives of the State department of health and demanded wholesale slaughter of insect lives.

At that time the nests had invaded many residences and nearby industrial plants and were multiplying faster than they could be killed. The situation became so critical that several families abandoned their homes to the bugs.

"Millions for gasoline, but not one cent for insecticides!" shouted the harassed residents. The experts, spurred on by the "left wingers" of the incendiary bloc, decided that fire was the only solution.

Campus Bulletin

Additional sophomore editorial and business candidates for the COLLEGIAN are requested to attend a meeting to be held in Room 312 Old Main, at 7:00 o'clock tonight.

An open house, for all first year students will be held under the auspices of the P. S. C. A. at the Andy Lytle cabin in Shingletown Gap Sunday afternoon.

Graduate and transfer students will meet at the College library on Saturday, September 20 at 11 o'clock for instruction in the use of the library.

Students interested in a wood cutting excursion, to the Andy Lytle cabin Saturday afternoon should sign up at the Christian association office before Friday night.

Effective with the fall semester this year, the course in Library Science 1, a course in library reference work, will be an elective three-hour course, the College librarian has announced.

MacNIEL '36 DROWNS IN LAKE NEAR UTICA, N. Y. Fails To Reappear After Plunge During Swimming Party

MacNeil, who was known to be an average swimmer, had been diving into the lake while his two companions watched. After he had failed to come to the surface following a dive, they plunged in and began a search for him.

A student in mechanical engineering curriculum, MacNeil was a member of Theta Xi social fraternity. He was a resident of Philadelphia, where his father is a prominent bank president.
