Formal rushing for women's fraternities starts tonight when Phi Mu entertains from 6 to 8 o'clock. The Delta Gamma formal party follows from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

May Attend 3 Parties Formal parties given by Alpha Omicron Pi and Kappa Kappa Gamma will take place Monday night with Theta Phi Alpha and Alpha Chi Omega closing the rushing season with formal parties Tuesday night.

ORCHESTRA GROUP TO HOLD TRY-OUTS

Hummel Fishburn Will Lead Yearly Audition for Candidates of Symphonic Unit Monday

With Hummel Fishburn, assistant professor of music conducting the meeting, aspirants to fill vacancies in the College Symphonic orchestra will be selected during the yearly try-out to be held in Room 401 Old Main, at 7 o'clock Monday night.

All candidates will be given personal try-outs for places in the group by Fishburn who has been directing it for five years. During its existence, the orchestra has played classical numbers of first choice, among them being "Scheherazade Suite," "Unfinished Symphony" and "Danse Macabre."

P. S. C. A. PLANS TO WELCOME '37 AT ANDY LYTLE CABIN

To introduce members of the class of 1937 to outdoor facilities in the vicinity of State College, the Penn State Christian association will hold an open house at the Andy Lytle cabin Sunday afternoon. Both men and women students will be welcomed.

Loan Fund Receives $121.50 Contribution

Representing the first contribution this year, $121.50 was given to the Student Loan Fund by the University Players as a part of the proceeds from their show, "Up Pops the Devil."

CHANGES MADE IN SCHOOL SCHEDULES

Bissey Plans To Avoid Crowded Classes in Liberal Arts, Physical Education

Schedule changes in the upper Schools of Liberal Arts and Physical Education and Athletics will aid in eliminating crowded classroom conditions during the present semester, according to Cyrus V. D. Bissey, College scheduling officer.

In the School of Liberal Arts, Economic Geography 24 has been made a requirement and will supplant one of the other science courses. By this move it is hoped to relieve the crowded conditions of the botany and zoology laboratories.

Under the system used at the College, many changes are made every year in an attempt to clear up difficulties deriving from crowded classrooms and too large sections, which throw too much routine work upon the shoulders of any one professor or instructor.

Other changes will probably be made from time to time if it is deemed advisable in order to insure better training and less confusion.

W. P. S. C. WILL CONTINUE AS SHORT WAVE STATION ONLY

Unless the College receives an adequate appropriation to care for minor projects as well as the major items of expense, W.P.S.C. official radio station, will be closed this year, according to Herbert Koepf-Baker, of the public speaking division.

Freshman Names Bring Joy Untold To All the College Punsters Bold

With the Knell of registration sounded, scheduling Dunn, and everything Caum, the roster of 1937 stands Pat. With Pride as one of its Blessings, nothing can Deter it; it contains both Black and White, both a Heron and a Swan, one plain, ordinary Bird, a bit of Yellin, and, sad to mention, two Hellers...

Among the neophyte first monikers is one Rudie who has come into the valley along with a keen-eyed chap named Seymour, a doggy, but unsaintly lad, Bernard, a somewhat prophetic soul, Israel, a Cornelius, who ought to be swanky, and descendent of the gods, Junius. And there's a kid with a neatly plebian handle—just Ben.

FINANCIAL REPORT SHOWS $22,000 IN CLASS TREASURIES

Interclass Budget Committee Submits Accounts for 1932-33 Term

'LA VIE' FUNDS COMPOSE LARGE PART OF SURPLUS

Total of $6,626 Collected From Students in Form of Class Dues

A surplus of $22,037.27 for the school year which ended June 30 has been shown in the annual report of the Interclass Budget Committee submitted by Neil M. Fleming, chairman of the Interclass Finance Committee.

The major part of this balance is held in account for the 1934, 1935, and 1933 La Vie issues. A total of $11,910.40 was collected for the La Vie account last year, while a balance of $24,949.53 was carried over from the 1931-32 term.

Other receipts were collected in general class dues in the amount of $6,626.97, and from class dances, $5,556.17. With the total of receipts for the year amounting to $29,133.45, additional sources of income were the sale of caps and gowns, commencement invitations, announcements, programs, Lion suits, blazers, and freshmen dinks.

Expenditures Total $32,000 Expenditures for the year totaled $32,045.71, with the main item of expense being incurred by the La Vie. Totals of $1,525.00 were spent for interclass sports, $1,436.00 for the band, $6,319.86 for class dances, $2,351.70 for caps and gowns and $1,556.37 for the Student Union.

The senior class has a balance of $10,665.28, the junior class has $6,227.55, and the sophomore class has $3,401.23. Since La Vie fees are paid each year, a large portion of the surplus of those three classes is being held for the publication of the year-book.

Before commencement the class of 1933 voted to establish a permanent class fund with the balance of $1,739.54 which remained at the end of the four years. The members of the class of 1932 divided their surplus giving $1,150.00 to the Loan fund, and setting aside the remainder, $1,578.15, as a permanent class fund.

Classes Suffer Losses A deficit of $10.19 was reported in the sale of invitations and programs by the class of 1933, while the class also lost $5.64 in the sale of Lion suits last spring. Senior Ball was conducted with a surplus of $55.99, while the La Vie account showed a balance of $1,334.00.

The class of 1934 suffered a financial loss of $20.78 in the sale of blazers, but a surplus of $26.41 was returned from the Junior Prom. Soph Incurred the only deficit in the 1935 class account, with $318.59 being lost on the dance, while a total of $180.40 was realized from the sale of freshmen caps.

Items included in the report for which there was no income showed expenditures in the amount of $121.97 for Senior Week, $197.00 for proclama-tions and $61.22 for Stunt Night.

Among the more heroic of the university tyros are such courageous people as Knight, a calm and unexcitable member of the great green gathering, Kuhl, and a quick-moving, ubiquitous person in Himoff. There is also a goal-eying, anticipatory fellow by the name of Grad, and a crystallized, solidified, diamond-like individual called Haarde.

One outstanding deficiency mars the nomenclature escutcheon of the freshman class. Of the twenty-one names which begin with the consonant, 'P', there is not a single one which, alphabetically or euphonically, remotely resembles the word, 'Fun'.

Approves Code

HERMAN C. BRANDT '34

RUSHING CHAIRMEN TO MEET SUNDAY

Fraternity Representatives Will Hear Dengler, Young Lead Informal Discussion

Presidents and rushing chairmen of fraternity houses operating under the Interfraternity Council rushing code will meet either at Pi Kappa Alpha or Beta Theta Pi fraternity house at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to Edward W. Yorke '34, Interfraternity Council rushing chairman.

Dr. Robert E. Dengler, of the department of classical languages, and Prof. William R. Young, of the department of English composition, will make informal addresses and lead in discussions. The meeting is being called to insure a complete understanding of the various provisions of the code.

Silent Period Begins Saturday The restricted rushing system will close at 10 o'clock Saturday night. A period will begin with the completion of the dinner engagement and continue until 8 o'clock Monday morning. During the interval no communication or association of any kind is permitted under the code.

"Well satisfied" is the way Herman C. Brandt '34, Interfraternity Council president, expressed his opinion concerning the approval with which the liberal code for this year is being accepted. Only one complaint has been received thus far and that was easily rectified to the satisfaction of the parties concerned, he said.

Practically the same arrangements as governed bidding last year will be enforced this year. Fraternities will be charged a fee of five cents for each official bid card over the allotted twenty-five, according to A. Homer Man-waring '34, secretary-treasurer of the council.

COLLEGE MAKES BOND ISSUE PLANS

President Hetzel Expected To Visit Harrisburg for Discussion of Penn State's Campaign

Definite plans for furthering the college's campaign for the passage of the $25,000,000 bond issue approved by the Pennsylvania legislature at the last session have been made by the administration officials, Adrian O. Morse, secretary to the President, announced yesterday.

President Ralph D. Hetzel is expected to go to Harrisburg in the near future to discuss the co-ordination of Penn State's campaign with that of the State and other institutions affected by the issue.

Broadly, the drive will be in the nature of an educational program to acquaint the voting public with the disposal of the money. Under terms of the act, $20,000,000 will pay for the running expenses of relief agencies already established in the commonwealth.

MRS. SEAMANS RESIGNS POST Mrs. SEAMANS, Seamans has resigned her position as head of the work of the Y. W. C. A., it has been announced. She will, however, continue to assist the officers of the organization until someone is selected to fill her place.

Registration Figure Reaches 4,116 Mark

Hoffman Expects Total for First Semester To Fall Below 4,800 Number Set By Students Last Year

By the close of yesterday's registration in the Recreation hall, a total of 4,116 students had officially enrolled for the coming semester; Registrar William S. Hoffman announced after a tabulation had been made.

Although a considerable number of students are expected to register before the end of the week and the Mont Alto report has not yet reached the College, the total enrollment of the College will be under the 4,800 gross of last year, the College registrar continued.

CHAPEL AUDIENCE TO HEAR EDMONDS

National Tax Association Head Will Address First Regular Service of Year Sunday

With "Deals and Ideals," as his subject, Doctor Franklin S. Edmonds, of Philadelphia, will address the first chapel service of the regular College term in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. Edmonds is best known professionally as president of the National Tax association.

Following his graduation from the University of Pennsylvania with degrees of master of arts and bachelor of philosophy, the young lawyer accepted an Andrew D. White fellowship at Cornell, where he studied until 1895, receiving his bachelor of laws degree there.

Taught History at High School Immediately following his graduation from the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Edmonds accepted a position as assistant secretary of the American society for the Extension of University teaching. This he held for a year, and then went to the Central High School, in Philadelphia, where he served first as instructor in history, afterwards as professor of political science.

In 1904 the chapel speaker left the teaching profession, following six years at Swarthmore College as professor of law. Since then he has specialized in the study and application of taxes, and the problems involved by taxes to modern life. It is as a result of his interest in this field that the Philadelphia has held the post with the National Tax association which represents all workers in the field of tax problems.

During the years 1921, 1923, and 1925, Dr. Edmonds was a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives. From 1924 to 1927 he held the post of chairman of the Pennsylvania Tax Commission. Among his writings are "A Century's Progress in Education," "The Life of Ulysses S. Grant," "Reciprocity in State Inheritance Taxation."

NEW EXTENSION SERVICE CENTERS ESTABLISHED

Six Additional Classes Created in Petroleum, Natural Gas Field

Because of the increasing demands for extension service, six additional class centers in the field of petroleum and natural gas instruction have been created in the oil producing regions of the State this year, according to Harry B. Northrup, director of the Mineral Industries extension.

Last year eleven classes in petroleum and natural gas subjects were offered in Bradford and Oil City. The cities which will be served by the opening of six additional centers include Pittsburgh, Butler, Lawrenceville, Brays, Wellsboro, Washington, and Waynesburg.

Rex W. Woods, who was appointed to the staff of the extension service last semester, will act as field representative, according to Director Northrup. He will supervise this division of the work.

WILL SAIL ON OIL TANKER

Peter G. Meek '32, has secured a position on an oil freighter bound for China, India, and South Africa. He plans to sail on October 8. As an undergraduate here, Meek was active in dramatic work. Last week he played one of the leading roles in the University Players' production, "Up Pops the Devil."

PSYCHOLOGISTS PRESENT PAPERS AT CONVENTION

Faculty Members Attend Annual Association Meeting in Chicago

Presenting papers on psychology, four members of the department of educational psychology attended the forty-first annual meeting of the American Psychological association, at the University of Chicago, last week.

Dr. Bruce V. Moore, professor of psychology, attended with Dr. George W. Hartmann, professor of education, who read "The Facilitating Effect of Strong General Illumination Upon the Discrimination of Pitch and Intensity Differences."

Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, assistant professor of education, had for his subject "The Implication of Tests of Introversion-Extroversion and Neurotic," while William M. Lepley of the department of psychology, read "Some New Data on the Nature and Function of Remote Excitatory Tendencies."

HETZEL TO GREET FACULTY

President and Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel will hold their annual reception for the members of the College faculty in Old Main Thursday, October 19, it was announced today at the office of the president.
