COUNCIL DISCUSSES RUSHING CHANGES

Pre-Freshman Week Season for Pledging Advocated by Ralph B. Vance '34

With a view toward curtailing the rushing season for next year, a suggestion that rushing begin a week before Freshman Week was advanced by Ralph B. Vance '34 for consideration by Interfraternity Council last night. The proposal was one of four suggested for incorporation in the 1934 rushing code.

"If rushing season were to begin about the second week in September, the entire business would be cleared up before College opens," Vance said. "By beginning a week earlier the present rushing period would not have to be shortened to the extent that both fraternities and rushees would have inadequate opportunity to judge sufficiently."

Cites Advantages. "There are several advantages of the plan," Vance stated. "Contracts could be made during the summer months—letters sent out by Interfraternity Council. Although it would be an added expense to the fraternities at first, this would be counteracted by an extra week of revenue from the pledges," he said.

Following reports that wide-spread "mud-slinging" among fraternities developed during this year's rushing season, representatives to the Council discussed possible methods which might be embodied in the 1934 code to curb any recurrence. The suggestion included classing "mud-slinging" in the same category with other violations of the code and punishing infractions by the same penalties.

Other suggestions included making fraternities responsible for getting bid cards to rushees, and separating the restricted period with a "free period." Herman C. Brandt '34, Council president, was commended by the representatives for efficiency in distribution of bids to rushees.

Bernard H. Rosenzweig '34 was appointed as scholarship chairman for this year. Representatives delegated President Brandt to represent the Council at the National Undergraduate Interfraternity Council conference in Chicago October 13 and 14.

PRESIDENT HETZEL REITERATES FAITH IN SPORTS POLICY

Says No Subsidies, Scholarships Given To Students Here At Present Time

HOPES FOR CONTINUANCE OF ATHLETIC PROGRAM

Rival Institutions Affected by Enforcement of Ruling Passed Last Year

"No athletic scholarships are now in effect in this institution and no subsidies are now given to students because of athletic promise or athletic endeavor. It is my belief that this institution is living up not only to the letter of the regulations of the commission, but to the spirit of the regulations as well."

Thus has President Ralph D. Hetzel expressed the continuance of the athletic policy of the College in compliance with the resolution adopted by the commission of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools last year in reply to a query received by the administration last week.

Resolution Passed in November. At the annual meeting of the association held in November, 1932, a resolution expressing disapproval of the system of athletic scholarships in certain colleges was passed by the delegates at the conference.

Continuation of such a policy after September, 1933 according to an additional resolution passed at that time, would disqualify all such institutions of higher education of the Middle States Association of Colleges.

Defines Athletic Scholarships. Requesting that the president of each member college inform the association whether the institution was complying with the program, a letter was received by the administration officials Saturday. The president's answer was released on Monday.

Use of the term "athletic scholarship" designates any money payment or the equivalent granted to a student because of his athletic promise or athletic achievement according to an explanatory paragraph, which adds that no student who has athletic ability is by that fact excluded from receiving a scholarship if he is fully qualified otherwise.

Many of Penn State's athletic rivals will be included among the colleges affected by the enforcement of this resolution. The Middle States association embraces the states of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, and Pennsylvania and nearly all the colleges and universities in these states are included in the organization.

TRIBUNAL EXCUSES FIRST-YEAR MEN

Applicants Are Allowed Abated Customs as Judicial Body Holds First Meeting

Giving the new plan of procedure its first real trial, Student Tribunal at its first meeting last night excused twenty-three men from taking customs, abated those of three other applicants to one semester, and ruled that two others will take full customs for the remainder of the College year.

"Freshmen whose homes are State College must wear full customs at all times this year, whether in town or on the campus," C. Wilson Anderson '34, temporary Tribunal head declared, when asked to clear up several questionable points in the first year men's code. "Sweater coats are not acceptable as a substitute for either coats or jackets. When worn, they must be under either a coat or a regular leather jacket."

Referring to a recent paddling of freshman in Watts hall, Anderson said, "Freshmen should not submit to punishment meted out by a first-year court in any dormitory or boarding house. Student Tribunal is the only organization with power to judge violations of customs. Repetition of such an affair undertaken by officious upperclassmen will lead to punishment as well as trial of the freshmen before Tribunal."

In conclusion the Tribunal head pointed out that the rules referring to the doors by which first-year men may enter North and South Liberal Arts Buildings also apply in leaving the structures. He also noted that freshmen discovered walking on dirt paths about the campus will be punished.

Correction Made in Lion Ring Schedule

Lion boxers will oppose the University of Maryland at State College on March 3, and will not travel to Western Maryland for a meet there on that date as announced in the last issue of the COLLEGIAN.

The corrected schedule pending approval of the faculty committee on athletics stands as follows: February 3, Bucknell at home (tentative), February 10, Western Maryland at home, February 17 and 24, Navy and Syracuse away, March 3, University of Maryland at home, and March 10, Army, away.

Because the wrestling intercollegiate have already been scheduled for March 16 and 17, the boxing intercollegiate, if held here, will probably take place on the week-end of March 23 and 24.

The first of a series of annual reports dealing with the business affairs of Penn State activities for the year which closed June 30, has been released by the Interclass Budget system and the Student Union.

The statements included in the pamphlet are presented for the information of the students of the College, according to Neil N. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics. The report is available for student observation at the Student desk in Old Main.

Publications Tabulated. Included in the report is a balance sheet showing the income and expenditures of the entire budget system, and separate reports dealing with activities conducted by the four classes. Publications listed are La Vie, Old Main Bell, Beaver Field Pictorial, and the COLLEGIAN.

Assessments for the La Vie totaled $11,600, and the interest on savings and sales and delinquent dues set the income for the 1933 issue at $12,640. Printing and engraving provided the major items of expense, totalling $9,750.12, with compensations to the staff amounting to $750, while $221.23 was allotted for travel and $150 was refunded to the staff members.

'Collegian' Figures Listed. Refunds to irregular students, keys for the staff, telephone and telegraph office supplies and furniture were other items of expense on the report. With the expenditures totalling $11,306.71, a surplus for the year of $1,334 was shown.

Subscriptions and cash sales contributed $2,111.88 to the income of the COLLEGIAN, and $5,960.74 was realized from advertising, $877.17 remaining to be collected. Of that amount, $458.61 has been termed uncollectable because of bad accounts, reducing the total revenue to $8,933.23.

Advertising and miscellaneous items set the expenditures at $7,906.18, giving a net profit of $1,027.05.

Lions Will Open Grid Season With Lebanon Valley on Saturday

To Lead Gridmen

CAPTAIN TOM SLUSSER

A. A. TO HOLD FIRST PEP MASS MEETING

Students Will Meet in Schwab Auditorium at 7 O'clock Tomorrow Night

Continuing the practice established last year, the first student pep meeting will be held in Schwab auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the form of an all-College mass meeting under the direction of Thomas J. Harper '34, Athletic Association president.

The mass meeting, designed to arouse student enthusiasm for the opening football game of the season against Lebanon Valley Saturday, will consist of cheers and songs under the direction of Head Cheerleader John T. Davis '34. In addition, several short speeches will be given.

Bezek To Speak. Director Hugo Bezdek, of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, will be the main speaker of the program. Coach Bob Higgins will discuss the Lion football squad prospects for the 1933 season, and especially their chances against the Lebanon Valley team Saturday.

Thomas A. Slusser '34, football captain will also talk, after which John A. Clark III '34, football manager, will make a short address. The members of the squad, who will be seated on the stage, will also be introduced to the audience.

Following an annual custom, all freshmen are to report to Schwab auditorium at 1:30 o'clock Saturday. At that time, final cheer and song practice will be held, after which the first year, students will march to New Beaver field where they will occupy the East stands. Failure to attend this meeting will be a Tribunal offense for freshmen, according to Harper.

In asking for student support of tomorrow night's mass meeting, Harper said, the football team feels a lot better if they know that the student body is behind them. One of the best ways to show them that we are supporting them in their bid for a winning season is to have a big crowd out tomorrow night, he added.

JAMES WILL ADDRESS FIRST CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETING

With "The Present Status of Free Radicals, Ethyl, Methyl, etc. in Organic Chemistry," as his subject, William H. James, of the division of Organic Chemistry, will address the first meeting this year of the Pi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society, in Room 9, Chemistry annex at 7 o'clock Monday night.

The meeting, which will be open to students and faculty members as well as to all members of the fraternity, will be devoted to discussion of the field of organic chemistry, with special emphasis laid upon the work recently completed with free radical groups.

DR. CHAMPLIN WILL SPEAK

Dr. Carroll D. Champlin, professor of education, will speak on "Our Responsibilities in Cuba and Puerto Rico" at an open forum in the Hugh Beaver room in Old Main, at 4:10 o'clock Monday afternoon. The forum is the first of a series to be sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, this year.

Untried Linesmen May Start Game for Penn State

INJURIES TO SHOULDER KEEP WOOLBERT OUT

Anderson, Kreizman, Bedoski, Cole Complete List of Veterans To Start

Whether the Nittany Lion line can reach the heights of durability attained last season will be the big question as Captain Tommy Slusser and his mates open the 1933 gridiron season against Lebanon Valley on New Beaver field at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

With a possibility that four untried linesmen may start, the strength of the Lion forward wall it is a moot subject. And the fate of the Lion's unblemished record against the Flying Dutchman hangs in the balance.

Woelbert Out With Injury. Dick Woelbert, 220-pound regular right tackle, was injured early this week and Coach Bob Higgins is relying on Earl Park and Dave Sloan, both starting their first game in college circles, to fill the gap. Although Woelbert's injury—a shoulder separation—is not serious, he will be definitely out of the opening game.

For the third consecutive season, Captain Slusser will start at left end. Big "King" Cole will start the game at left tackle, Andy Anderson at center, and Lou Kreizman and Tony Bedoski, guards, complete the list of veterans of the line that showed such sterling qualities against Harvard, Temple, and Syracuse last year.

O'Hora to Call Signals. Just who will start at right end is a matter of conjecture. Both "Rosie" Rosenberg and "Buck" McKee are being considered by the Nittany mentor, but, with greater experience in his favor, it looks as if the former will get the nomination. McKee, however, with superior weight in his favor, will see plenty of service.

Coach Higgins is evidently satisfied that "Red" O'Hora, halfback with the freshman team last season, is the most able field general available as he will start at quarter. Dick Maurer, freshman quarterback last season, will watch the game open from the bench, but he and Al Mikelonis, tem-
