

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

Saturday we resume gridiron relations with Muhlenberg for the first time since 1920. Although the Allentown school is supposed to be one of the easier spots on this year's grid schedule the Mules are liable to put up a big kick against being too badly clawed by the Nittany Lions. After taking that shellacking at the hands of Fordham last week, the Mules are in the right frame of mind to battle the Lions to a standstill.

The fact that the Fordham Rams ran roughshod over Coach Johnny Utz's squad must not be taken that Captain Tommy Slusser and his mates will have an easy time in the contest Saturday. For Utz realized that his team didn't even stand the proverbial ghost of a chance against the New York School and used his shock troops throughout the entire contest, pointing to save his regulars for the game here.

But, except for an injury to King Cole, Coach Bob Higgins has his regular team intact and by the way they performed last Saturday, the Mules will have little chance of stopping the Lions from winning their second warm-up game of the season.

OUR OPPONENTS

Lehigh-Johns Hopkins

Despite its defeat at the hands of Columbia last Saturday, Lehigh with the best team in years is not anticipating much trouble with Johns Hopkins.

Columbia-Virginia

The Virginia game is considered as just another one of those "thirty point" contests by the Columbia eleven. Coach Lou Little has made no changes in his regular team and regards Saturday's contest as a scrimmage in preparation for the Princeton game next week.

Penn-Franklin and Marshall

Starting its deferred schedule Penn should have little trouble against F. and M. But Harvey Harmon is not pleased with the showing of his regulars in practice sessions and especially after Tuesday's exhibition, when the freshmen held the varsity to a scoreless tie, is likely to make some radical changes in the line-up before Saturday.

BOOTERS TO ENCOUNTER OWL SQUAD

Get Out and Yell!

Well, we've got a team! We don't have potential national champions, we don't have the greatest eleven that ever wore Blue and White, and we don't have a group of All-Americans. But we've got a team! Even the most calloused "corner coach" realized last Saturday that the line was charging harder than it had in many moons, that the backs were shifting than they've been since the halcyon days of Wilson, Killinger, and Light, that the old fight was present after being in hiding since the last Penn game.

We've got something else we haven't had in a long time. We've got a head cheerleader both spirited and capable. We've got a staff of yell men who spare no efforts to put their enthusiasm across. Jack and his boys vibrate the upraised morale in keeping with the New Deal for the revised Nittany Lion.

Now, all we need to make this one of the greatest football seasons State has ever known is for you in the stands to swing in line and yell as you've never yelled before. Cast off that pseudo-ecumenism, shake loose those inhibitions, and give vent to the surge of spirit that runs through you as the Nittany Lions roar down the field.

Get out there and — YELL! —AN ALUMNUS.

Aggressive Lions Will Face Temple in Initial Contest Here on Saturday

The Owl booter squad will play its first game Saturday, the second fiddle to "Pop" Warner's team. The regular members of last year's eleven, according to the Temple yearbook, were Coach Temple, New, but according to Coach H. B. Lippitt, who has been in charge of the team since last year, the squad will be made up of new players. The initial meet on Beaver Field at 12:30 will be a game of considerable interest.

A season without defeat will be the objective of Captain "Shokey" Edwards and his squad of Jeffers' veterans and newcomers. Moulded as the most aggressive team in years, the Lions will endeavor to duplicate their victory of 1931 the Nittany squad defeated Temple by scoring four goals, and holding the foreign invaders scoreless. In a combination that is bound to click, Bell will start as goal kicker.
