

Plans for Bond Issue Campaign Completed

Alumni, Other Groups To Assist in Drive For $25,000,000

PARENTS TO COOPERATE WITH PUBLICITY DRIVE

Committee Will Try To Impress Graduates With Extreme Gravity of Position

Final plans for the organization of Penn State alumni and other interested groups to support the College in its drive to win the voters' approval of the $25,000,000 bond issue in the November elections were completed at various committee meetings held during the past week.

Threatened with the loss of thirty-three and one-third percent of its appropriation for the present biennium, or a total of 40 percent over the last biennium, the College has developed its organization through the alumni in each county, who will seek to educate the voter to the purpose of the proposed amendment.

Parents To Cooperate With a chairman appointed in each county of the State to supervise the drive, the College will contact every former student with a letter from the President urging the alumnus' cooperation. Both the letter and the supplementary statement which will accompany it were printed in the last issue of the COLLEGIAN.

In connection with the drive which is being instituted among the graduates, the Parents Association, at their yearly meeting held Saturday morning in the Schwab auditorium, voted to cast their lot with the alumni organization in each county to help win the approval of Amendment Number 8.

To Contact Extension Groups All county chairmen will meet in a conference within a short time for the purpose of outlining plans essential for the creation of a favorable sentiment in each county. With President Hetzel's letter and a personal canvass of each graduate, it is hoped to impress upon them the gravity of the College's position.

Those receiving the President's letter urging support and approval of Amendment Number 8 will be people connected with the extension service departments of Penn. State, including persons receiving agricultural experiment station bulletins, engineering extension news, and groups associated with the Mineral Industries and Chemistry and Physics Schools located here.

Appointment of a joint committee to work on publicity for Amendment Number 8 was made several weeks ago at a meeting of the presidents of the four most seriously affected educational institutions which was held at this College. The heads of University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, and Temple University met with Dr. Hetzel and decided upon a policy of cooperation among the four institutions.

Those composing the group are George A. Brakely and Charles J. Miel, vice-president and alumni secretary of the University of Pennsylvania; John W. Hallock and J. Steel Gow, alumni secretary and secretary to the chancellor at the University of Pittsburgh; M. F. Stauffer and Dr. John H. Frick, secretary of the university and president of the alumni association of Temple University; and Raymond H. Smith, comptroller, and Edward K. Hibshman, secretary of the alumni association at Penn State.

Addresses Meetings

PITT VAN DUSEN TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Union Theological Dean Chooses Religious Maturity Topic For Final Theme

Taking "Achieving Religious Maturity" as the topic of his final address before Penn State students and friends, Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, Dean of students at the Union Theological Seminary will speak before a mass meeting in Schwab auditorium at 7 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Van Dusen, who is best known at the many colleges at which he has spoken as "Pitt" Van Dusen, spoke at the annual Dad's Day chapel service in the auditorium yesterday morning, and "last night" spoke on "Forging a Reasonable Religious Philosophy," also in the auditorium.

Following his text, "The New Generation Faces a New Era," in chapel yesterday Dean Van Dusen pointed out that modern youth must look forward to the possibility of stepping into a period which with its millions of unemployed, its shattering of ideals, and its creation of general unrest and discontent will be worse than anything which the country has ever seen.

"We have just about reached the turn in the road," he stated, "which points downward to another 'dark age' through which we must pass in order to obtain a new interpretation of life. It is the task of the new generation to attain a keener interest in the undercurrents of human life, that a greater intelligence may be applied in helping the masses out of the muddle which they have fallen in as a result of the 'jazz age'."

"It will only be possible for youth to do anything towards pulling the world out of its messiness, and youth's efforts will be possible only with the help of religion, that vital force which has come to the aid of man grappling with problems and in difficult situations," Dr. Van Dusen concluded.

REEDE TO SPEAK WEDNESDAY

A. Harold Reece, instructor in economics, will speak on "Why a Social Problems Club?" at the first meeting of the Social Problems Club in Room 302, Old Main, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Student Committee To Bid For Cooperative Association Stock

Coincident with the trustees' sale of the property of the Penn State Cooperative association, a student committee has been formed which will attempt to bid in the entire stock at a nominal price. This bidding will include not only the 235 shares which were left in the store by students, but also the other property which was levied upon.

Under the proposed plan of the committee, the books will be bid in at an extremely low sum and returned to the owners without charge. The remainder of the defunct store's stock will be bid in at a nominal sum by the committee.

The committee then proposes to sell this stock and pay the Cooperative store's creditors with the proceeds. Any balance that would be remaining after these debts are paid will be turned over to the Student Loan Fund by the committee.

The student committee is basing this action on the fact that they believe that the goods were levied on through a legal technicality. The committee maintains that the store

MUHLBERG WINS ON PLACE KICK IN FOURTH QUARTER

Weiner's Boot Gives Allentown Team 3-0 Victory Over Nittany Ensemble

MULE'S PASS DEFENSE PROVES IMPREGNABLE

Air Attack Breaks Down When Muhlenberg's Secondary Smothers Lions

By FRED W. WRIGHT '35 Social decorum decrees that visitors shall be treated with all due respect and consideration—and the Lions proved no mean hosts on New Beaver field Saturday afternoon.

A thirty-eight yard placement kick by "Red" Weiner, Muhlenberg quarterback, in the middle of the last quarter flicked the cross-bar and bounded over for the Mule's first victory over the Blue and White by a 3-to-0 score before a Dad's Day crowd.

Lions Open Passing Attack Stunned by the realization that they were on the wrong end of the score, the Lions opened a whirlwind passing attack that just fell short of wiping out the Mules' lead by a last-minute touchdown margin. Al "Shorty" Mikelonis, Nittany field general who scintillated throughout the Lion's losing fight, and "Lefty" Knapp and Captain Tommy Slusser played the leading roles.

Standing on his own 23-yard line, Mikelonis heaved a thirty-five yard pass to Knapp, who was downed in his tracks on the Muhlenberg 32-yard line. Another pass, Mikelonis to Captain Slusser, brought the ball to the Mule 32-yard line.

Lion Drive Collapses "Barrel" Morrison, right halfback, pumped his way to the Mule 12-yard line for the third Lion first down in succession. But here the Lion attack—both on the ground and in the air—collapsed entirely as surging Blue and White Backs were stopped dead by the Mules' sterling forward wall.

Morrison attempted to skirt the Muhlenberg left flank, but only succeeded in carrying the ball on a horizontal line as the Red line men moved over with the play and picked off his interference one at a time. Borne back by the weight of hostile numbers, he was downed still twelve yards from the goal.

Finding the Red line impregnable, Mikelonis elected to try the air. Twice passes were tossed in attempts to score the touchdown that would have given the Lions, the game, but

College Clinic Organized To Treat Speech Defects

A regular College clinic for the treatment of speech defects is being organized by Herbert Koopp-Baker, instructor of public speaking. All students troubled with speech defects are urged to consult with Mr. Baker in the English composition building during his consultation hour between 10 and 11 o'clock each morning.

Mr. Baker recently attended the Pennsylvania state conference for the education of exceptional children. He delivered an address on the "Modern Concepts of Stutter Therapy."

Alumni Homecoming Committee To Meet

126 BARRED FROM OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

Excluded From Extra-Curricular Participation Because of Deficient Grades

One hundred twenty-six undergraduates have been declared ineligible for participation in certain extra-curricular activities, according to an announcement released last week by the office of the Dean of Men Arthur Warnock. Last year's list included 153 names.

This list was compiled on the basis of information in the office of the College registrar at the beginning of the semester. It is not likely to be subject to many changes. Only six women are included on the list.

Engineering School Lists 53 According to College rulings, eligibility for athletic teams is determined by action of the Senate committee on students. The Senate committee on student welfare decides if a deficient student may participate in musical and dramatic activities. The board of student publications decides the cases of ineligible students working on the publications.

All other cases of men students are decided by Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock, while Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray decides the cases of women students. Failure of six or more credit hours automatically places a student on the ineligible list.

With fifty-three on the list, the School of Engineering leads with the number of ineligible, followed by the School of Chemistry and Physics with nineteen, and the School of Agriculture with seventeen. The School of Education and School of Mineral Industries follow with fifteen and twelve respectively. The School of Liberal Arts lists eight; and while the Transition section lists two ineligible.

STUDENT TRIBUNAL WILL TRY SIX MEN

To Hold Second Regular Meeting Tomorrow Night—Anderson Will Act as Head

With six offenders listed to come under its jurisdiction, Student Tribunal will hold its second regular meeting in Room 318 Old Main at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, according to C. Wilson Anderson '34, temporary head of the judiciary.

Work on the new plan of procedure has been proceeding rapidly, and it is expected that the written constitution embodying all the changes in effect so far this year will be included in it when it is submitted for Student Council approval within the next two or three weeks.

In announcing the meeting tomorrow, Anderson reiterated his request for all members of the three upper classes to report all violations to any member of the Tribunal. Without the support of the student body, he pointed out, the hands of the judiciary are tied, as far as the actual enforcement of the customs rules is concerned.

So far this year, three men have been sentenced, all of whom will be wearing signs and other interesting apparel this week. Plans at the present time are for the regular meetings of the judiciary to be held every Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, and for all meetings to be held in the Honor Societies Room in Old Main.

P. S. C. A. PLANS FOR FRATERNITY PLEDGE DINNER ON SUNDAY

Will Attempt To Foster Better Acquaintanceship Among First-Year Men

JOHN E. RYAN NAMED COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

William Wood '15 Will Address Meeting of Freshmen in Nittany Lion Inn

In order to promote better acquaintance among pledges to fraternities, the first Penn State Interfraternity pledge dinner will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn Sunday night. Invitations to all first-year men pledged to fraternities will be sent out tomorrow morning, according to John E. Ryan '34, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The dinner, which will be under the sponsorship of the Penn State Christian Association with the cooperation of Interfraternity Council, will be addressed by William Wood '15, who is at present, football coach at Riverside School, as well as Christian Association secretary at the Columbia University School of Medicine.

Wood, who was president of the senior class, captain of the football team, a member of Student Board, Student Council, Student Tribunal and the Y. M. C. A. cabinet while here, was head football coach at Gettysburg College for several years after leaving here. His subject has not been announced. Other speakers on the program will include John T. Ryan '34, senior class president, and Herman C. Brandt '34, head of Interfraternity Council.

Pledges To Give Entertainment In addition to the speakers already scheduled, invitations to the dinner are being sent to President Ralph D. Hetzel, Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock, and several other faculty and administrative officers, who may say a few words.

Entertainment for the function is being arranged through the first-year men. Members of the pledge group will be requested to present short musical numbers, songs, or skits, with the program and arrangements completed in advance, according to Ryan. "The purpose of the smoker is primarily to get pledges better acquainted with men outside their own chapter," Ryan said last night. "It is really along the same lines as the 'freshman smokers' which are staged by some fraternities."

Seniors Form Committee The pledge dinner, which is a new institution here, has been an annual affair for many years at many colleges including the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Illinois, and Bucknell University.

The dinner this year is the result of plans made for several years by both the P. S. C. A. and the Interfraternity groups.

Thirteen seniors are members of the committee planning for the affair this year. John E. Ryan, is chairman of the group which includes William S. Bovard, Herman C. Brandt, John A. Cope, Carson W. Culp, Jacob C. Forney, Homer A. Manwaring and Charles A. Myers.

Other senior committeemen working on the program arrangements include Lawrence Rosner, Arthur G. Steinfeld, Ralph B. Vance, Edward W. Yorke, and Harry E. Warren. At the present time, plans are for a fee of fifty cents to be assessed each pledge attending the dinner. This fee will be paid either by the first-year man or in a lump sum by the fraternity, Ryan stated.

Tonight's meeting will be devoted primarily to a discussion of recent commemorative and special issues of United States stamps. In addition, organization of the society for this year will be discussed.

DEBATE CANDIDATES MEET WEDNESDAY

Will Discuss Plans for Coming Season at 7:30 O'clock in Room 405 Old Main

Plans for the debating season will be discussed at a meeting of candidates in Room 405 Old Main at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, Prof. John H. Frizzell, head of the division of public speaking, has announced.

Although the schedule has not been completed, Professor Frizzell has announced that the Oregon plan of debating will be used more extensively than in the past. Plans are also being made to try out a new type of intercollegiate speaking.

Plans Intramural Discussion

The system known as the Intercollegiate Forum, in which three or more colleges participate, was devised by Professor Williamson, of New York University. Dickinson and Juniata have agreed to cooperate in trying the new plan, and negotiations are being made to secure the cooperation of Allegheny and other schools.

Topics suggested for discussion this year include "Retention of the essential features of the N. R. A.," "Federal ownership and operation of banks," and "Adoption of socialized medicine by the State of Pennsylvania." Although the question has not been selected, candidates are urged to begin reading material dealing with the suggested topics.

Professor Frizzell plans to organize intramural groups for the discussion of campus interest, probably "Participation in activities." It is also planned to organize an interfraternity debating tournament if a sufficient number of groups are interested.

PLAYERS TO HOLD ACTORS' TRY-OUTS

Students Interested in Fall, Winter Productions Should Sign Up At Office Tomorrow

The Penn State Players will conduct actors' try-outs in preparation for further productions this fall and winter tomorrow and Wednesday nights. All students interested should sign up at the Players office, 413 Old Main, between 1:30 and 5 o'clock tomorrow.

Graduate and special students as well as all undergraduates are eligible for Players work, according to Prof. Arthur C. Cloetingh, director of Players. "These tryouts will offer an unusual opportunity for new material, because the number of veteran Players is small at present, and the production schedule has been increased," he declared.

The try-outs are being held for the casting of the Players' contribution to the combined show presented in conjunction with the Thespians and Glee Clubs on houseparty week-end November 10.

The Players and the Glee Club also plan to present a medieval nativity play in December. In addition, casts will be selected for two plays not yet announced which will go into rehearsal within the next few weeks.

Garners 620 Points to Capture Second All I. M. Cup

TRACK, SOCCER FIRSTS GAIN LEAD FOR WINNERS

Sigma Phi Epsilon Captures Second Place With 526—Kappa Sigma Third

For the second consecutive year Sigma Nu won possession of the Hugo Bezdek Trophy garnering a total of 620 points, nearly one hundred more than Sigma Phi Epsilon, second place winners, according to a report issued from the office of the School of Physical Education and Athletics.

The trophy is awarded each year to the "unit which contributed most to the advancement of athletics at Penn State." For the year 1930-1931, the first year it was given, the award was won by Kappa Sigma, and last year it was secured by Sigma Nu.

Gains in Spring Sports Sigma Phi Epsilon, runner-up this year, compiled 526 points, while Kappa Sigma, in fourth position last year, advanced to third place with 510 points. Chi Upsilon, Sigma Pi, and Phi Delta Theta finished in fourth, fifth, and sixth places respectively.

Sigma Nu's supremacy was gained in spring sports, by winning both the track and soccer championships. The largest point total was secured in the track competition by the trophy winners, who gained 114 points by winning the championship in that sport.

Sigma Phi Epsilon held the lead throughout the fall and winter seasons by winning both the football and volleyball titles. Sigma Pi, the third unit to win two championships, was victorious in the horseshoes and basketball tournaments.

Tied in Varsity Representation Phi Kappa Tau won the boxing championship, Eta secured the wrestling title, and Kappa Delta Rho was awarded the bowling title. The mushball tournament was won by the Common Club, while the Tape Breakers' Union, a non-fraternity unit, was victorious in the cross-country competition.

Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma were tied for first place in the points awarded for representation in varsity sports, while Beta Theta Pi won third place. Both lettermen and managers are included as the basis for this award.

In the major sports tournaments five points are awarded for each game won by a team, while two points are given for individual winners in wrestling and boxing. Each unit is awarded five points for entering a team in a tournament, and the winner of the tournament secures from twenty-five to one hundred points, depending upon the sport.

The failure of several of the units to submit reports of their activities last spring caused a delay compiling the point totals. J. Perry Morgan '34, intramural manager, explained. "Organization of this year's intramural board was necessary before the winner could be determined."
