Will Make Complete Canvass of All Students—Separate Faculty Campaign

CONTRIBUTIONS VITAL TO ASSOCIATION'S PROGRAM

Undergraduate Donations Used For Features Sponsored By Organization

With a $4,400 goal set to be raised through student and faculty contributions, the annual Penn State Christian association finance drive will begin with a "kick-off" dinner for over 300 division leaders and sectional workers at the Nittany Lion Inn at 6 o'clock tonight.

Albert E. Diem '35 is chairman of the men's division of the student drive, which is pledged to raise $2,600 while Dorothy E. Mergenthaler '34, as chairman of the women's committee, will superintend the canvass for $600.

Membership Fee $2.50

Funds received from students will be devoted exclusively to the services and program features of the association while salaries and general overhead expenses are provided for by contributions from the College, faculty members, parents, alumni, and friends.

Contributions will be in either cash or in pledges to be collected with second semester registration fees this year. With a contribution of two dollars and a half or more goes a formal membership card in the local association.

300 Solicitors To Work

Included among the speakers scheduled for the first part of next are Dr. James Gordon Gilkie, Springfield, Mass., pastor, Dr. A. Bruce Curry, nationally known college speaker who is professor of systematic theology at the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and Rev. Howard Thurman.

Every student and faculty member will be solicited to support the P. S. C. A. this year. Students unable to contribute immediately will be urged to sign pledge cards, which will enable them to give their active support, and at the same time to pay either later this semester, or at the beginning of next.

ALPHA ZETA CAPTURES I. F. C. DECORATION CUP

Featuring an agricultural theme, the Alpha Zeta fraternity won the annual decoration contest held Alumni Day. Sigma Tau Phi won first mention in the contest and Phi Sigma Kappa won second mention.

The lawn of the Alpha Zeta house was the basis of the decoration scheme. A coral fence surrounded the entire lawn in which were an old collegiate model "T" Ford, a buggy, two calves, chickens, sheep, and a dog.

Aerial Attack Gives Lions 33-0 Victory Over Lehigh In Homecoming Day Fray

Captain Slusser Tallies Twice by Pass Route As Knapp, Morrison, Maurer Score 6-Pointers—Gain 457 Yards

Roaring as of old, the Nittany Lion eleven decisively routed Lehigh's Engineers under a 33-to-0 deluge on New Beaver field Saturday afternoon before an Alumni Homecoming Day crowd.

An entirely new passing combination—"Red" O'Hara to Captain Tommy Slusser—alone accounted for enough points to give the new Lions their first victory over a major opponent in a regularly scheduled game since 1930, when Coop French and Captain "Yutz" Dietrich teamed up for an after-the-whistle touchdown against Lafayette.

750 ALUMNI SIGN COLLEGE REGISTER

One Member of '82 Represents Class Here—Wray Chosen Athletic Chairman

With the official registration of alumni set at 750, one hundred more than last year's figures, more than 1,000 graduates took part in the fourth annual Homecoming Day activities Saturday.

Robert M. Foster '82 was the only member of the oldest class to register, while Blanche P. Miller '85, J. S. Weller '89, and J. Franklin Shields '92 were the only representatives of their classes.

President Ralph D. Hetzel outlined the provisions of Amendment Number 8 and stressed its importance to the College at the meeting of the Alumni Council.

Members of the class of 1909 held a breakfast yesterday morning. Plans for their twenty-fifth reunion this spring were discussed.

MORE PITS FOUND UNDERMINING DAIRY

Necessitates Making of Several Additional Diggings Under Southwest Wing

Discovery of several new cavities underneath the southwestern end of the Dairy building last Friday made it necessary that additional excavations be made there in addition to the work being carried on where the original caverns were discovered under the northern wing.

These cavities are about ten feet under the surface of the ground and are small holes caused by the settling of the soil, according to the contractor. Before the work on the building is completed, an opening will be made through the ground floor in the middle of the structure in order to place caissons there.

To Install Caissons

Caissons are now being installed and, if additional cavities are not discovered, the entire work on the building should be completed in two weeks. Laborers have been working in two shifts since the first underground caverns were discovered there in July.

Although the cost of the entire repair work has been estimated by the contractor at over $50,000, the actual damage to the building itself is negligible, according to George W. Ebert, superintendent of grounds and buildings.

9 GRADUATE STUDENTS SEEK MASTER'S DEGREES IN M. E.

Nine graduate students have enrolled here for their master's degree in mechanical engineering. It was announced recently by Prof. Harold A. Everett, head of the mechanical engineering department. Their advanced work will be concerned chiefly with studies of Diesel engines.

The students and their previous college affiliation are S. Besinger and S. G. Nordinger, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; T. Hetzel, of Technische Hochschule, Munich, Germany; G. Keller, of Lehigh University; and George W. Bixler, John R. Boyer, Thearon G. Stoudt, and Louis A. Nichols, of Penn State.

300 Freshmen Hear Hetzel, Wood At Interfraternity Pledge Dinner

Marked by a note of enthusiastic responsibility, Penn State's first Interfraternity Pledge Dinner was held at the Nittany Lion Inn last night. Over 300 pledges of over forty social fraternities attended the affair, heard among the speakers President Ralph D. Hetzel, and Bill Wood '16.

"At the beginning of life for four years in a fraternity, it is fitting that we take stock of not only what we are, but of our potentialities," Dr. Hetzel pointed out. "Only by a review of the more serious things that confront us may we become truly worthy of the title, 'gentleman and a scholar'."

William "Bill" Wood '16, who is football coach at Riverdale Academy, as well as Counselor to Students at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University Medical Center, New York City, addressed the neophytes as the feature of the affair. In his talk, which was punctuated with flashes of real humor as he told of incidents concerning the undergraduate lives of men who are now Penn State traditions, he pointed out objectives which should be the goal for fraternity pledges here and everywhere. Prolonged applause and a rousing "short yell STATE" greeted the genial speaker at the close of his talk.

Immediately following the serving of the last course, several of the pledges started a "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here" and "Sweet Adeline" which was immediately taken up by a large section of the hall. Jack Davies '34, head cheerleader, then led the pledges in College songs, as well as "Down by the Old Mill Stream," and "Row, Row, Row, Your Boat."

HETZEL TO SPEAK ON AMENDMENT 8 AT TOWN MEETING

Borough Leaders Plan Meeting Sponsored by Clubs Here To Support Issue

BUSINESSMEN ORGANIZE TO PROMOTE SUPPORT

Merchants Will Lose Volume Of Business on Failure Of State Act 8

Explanation of the outstanding features of the $25,000,000 bond issue will be given by President Ralph D. Hetzel at an open meeting to be held in the State College high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night.

Planned by leaders in the borough as an effort in the support of Amendment Number 8, the local Civic association, Women's club, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, and Commerce club will sponsor the meeting. Guy Z. Stover has been named as head of the committee on arrangements.

Citizens To Organize

Realizing the serious plight the College will face if the appropriation is slashed as a result of the failure of Amendment Number 8, and the resulting effect upon the trade and student support of the borough, the business people and merchants of State College are organizing in an attempt to secure the passage of the amendment.

President Hetzel also explained Amendment Number 8 at a meeting of the alumni held in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. He urged alumni support in their home communities and stressed the importance of its passage upon the future of the College.

Citizens Foresee Crisis

If the College is forced to drop approximately 1,000 students because of curtailed appropriations, many fraternity and boarding houses in the borough will suffer as a result of the reduced numbers, one administration official has explained. Such procedure would possibly force some fraternities into bankruptcy, it was added.

Aside from the loss of men from fraternity and boarding houses, the local merchants will lose an unestimated volume of business, citizens believe. As the borough of State College is entirely dependent upon student and College expenditures for subsistence, the sudden loss of one-quarter of their student market would cause a serious financial crisis.

A signed letter from Dr. Hetzel and a circular fully explaining the particulars and need for the bond issue will be sent to the alumni throughout the State, starting this week. The circulars have just been received from the printers.

ONE ADMITTED TO INFIRMARY

Miss Harriet Brakeman '35 was admitted to the College infirmary yesterday. Claire Lichty '35, Noble Greaves '36, and William C. Wilson '36 were discharged last week.

Will Talk Thursday

In conjunction with the drive for the passage of Amendment Number 8, President Hetzel will address a meeting of State College citizens in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night.

ALUMNI, MEMBERS ROBBED OF $405 IN 6 FRATERNITIES

Sigma Nu House Reports Theft Of Nearly $160—Delta Chi Loses $90

POLICE ASK STUDENTS TO REPORT SUSPECTS

Finger Prints Taken in Theta Nu Epsilon Will Present Definite Clues

Active members and visiting alumni in six fraternities were robbed of approximately $405 early yesterday morning. This is the eighth outbreak of fraternity robberies which have occurred here during the past three years.

Houses which reported the thefts to Chief of Police Albert E. Yougel were Delta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Theta Nu Epsilon, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Pi. Although the exact hours during which the robberies occurred were not known, Chief Yougel believes that they were committed between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Sigma Nu fraternity house reported the greatest losses with about $160 missing, while Delta Chi lost nearly $90. A theft of about $85 was reported by Lambda Chi Alpha, while Sigma Pi reported approximately $75 stolen. The Theta Nu Epsilon fraternity members were robbed of about $55, and Pi Kappa Phi nearly $40.

Fingerprints of several alleged robbers were taken by the police in Theta Nu Epsilon which present definite clues upon which to work. It is the opinion of Chief Yougel that the crimes were perpetrated by at least two individuals, because of reports which have come from various sources.

Police Ask Cooperation

"Local police want the cooperation of every student in apprehending the culprit responsible for the crimes," Yougel stated this morning. Heretofore, several suspicious persons have been reported too late to get any results.

A suspect, it is believed, was seen in a hall of the Delta Chi fraternity house yesterday morning about 5 o'clock. He appeared about twenty-five years of age, weighing nearly 145 pounds, with a medium complexion. He wore a soft felt hat, dark topcoat, and dark tweed suit.
