'Mary' Most Favored Co-ed Nomenclature, New Directory Shows

That smooth-looking co-ed that you've been wanting to meet: Shout Mary and you have a one-to-five chance that she'll glance your way. At least, that's the "lay-of-the-land" for 1933-34 as indicated in the Student Directory, which was placed on sale this morning at the Registrar's office.

If she doesn't respond, try Elizabeth, Margaret, Dorothy, or Louise in that order! You will have an even chance of succeeding for someone in the majority of co-ed's names one or both of the preceding cognomens appear. One co-ed has the entire first three of the most prevalent names.

The Directory editors have adhered to the traditional policy of publishing only Campus 500 after the names of the women who live in sororities, but don't feel that the world is unliberal. A telephone directory of all fraternities on the campus distributed by a local business firm has included pay 'phone numbers.

The PILSENER of AMERICA

The character of Imported Pilsener Beer is due largely to its Basic Element—the famous Water of Pilsen. Scientists testify that the water from Scheidt's exclusive wells is so like the famous Water of Pilsen that they cannot tell them apart. And Scheidt's use only the most expensive malt and hops.
