

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

With the signing of Glen Harmon as head coach of Lehigh football team for the next three years the Bethlehem institution has installed a complete Purdue system. The new mentor was backfield coach under Noble Kizer at Purdue this year, and plans to carry that system into effect at Lehigh. He will have as his assistants three former members of the coaching staff at Purdue.

Austie Tate, Lehigh coach this year, had views which conflicted considerably with those of his Purdue assistants, resulting in the most disastrous football season in years. The trouble was evidenced at the Lehigh game here when Tate received a telegram from one of his assistants advising him on the tactics he should use, only to ignore the advice. In making his resignation Tate thanked the students for standing by him as long as they did during such a complete flop of a football season.

Myron H. "Mike" Palm '24, one of the few nine-letter men ever to have been graduated by Penn State, is continuing his athletic prowess as coach of the Cincinnati Reds, one of the baby members of the national professional football league. Much of the credit for the sudden rise in fortunes of the Reds can be traced to Palm, according to sports writers.

Palm, while at Penn State, won three varsity letters each eligible year, in football, baseball, and track. As captain and centerfielder of the 1924 baseball team, he would run over to the track field between innings and throw the hammer, winning first places in a majority of the meets. Palm acted as quarterback of the gridiron team, and played with such stars as "Light Horse Harry" Wilson and "Dutch" Bedenk, present Lion baseball mentor and former all-American guard, who captained the 1924 eleven.

In addition to his athletic activities, Palm was president of the junior class, vice-president of the sophomore class, a member of Student Board, Student Tribunal, Student Council, Parmi Nous and Friars, honorary campus societies, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity.

50 ANSWER-CALL FOR COURT TEAM

5 Lettermen Back for Squad Working Out Nightly in Recreation Hall

By JAMES B. WATSON Jr. '33
With five lettermen, Captain Norrie MacFarlane, Dave Thomas, Curt Henning, Carl Wittum and Johnny Stocker ready for service, and a total of fifty candidates for court honors also working out nightly on the floor at Recreation hall, Penn State's basketball team is gradually building into definite form the machine that will be the Lion 1934 court team.

Passing drills, the bane of every courtman, exercises working towards ability to start and stop literally on a dime, and hours of foul shooting have so far been the work of the men who will represent the Blue and White this year. Coach Spike Leslie has been giving even the most experienced of his men such a training in fundamentals that they will, in his opinion, be in mid-season form when they step up against Susquehanna here on January 4.

Candidates Listed
Seniors competing for honors at the present time are, besides MacFarlane, Thomas, Henning, and Wittum, lettermen, and Blyer and Parks, who saw lots of service last year, Baldwin, Dill, Parker and Stevenson.

Johnny Stocker, letterman, and Jack Fletcher lead the junior candidates in minutes of game-play last year. In addition to these two men fourteen others are working out. They include Calahan, Cimbal, Cummings, Deakin, Donovan, Eakle, Fischer, Freeman, Gates, Gilliard, Harper, Miller, Russell, Seiler, and Sheffer.

Twenty-one sophomore candidates are working out nightly. The group includes Chamberlin, Douthett, Hancock, Henzi, Hertler, Knapp, Larson, and Loomis. Others are Magdeburg, Mearns, Riley, Schmidt, Scott, Sen-droff, J. L. Smith, Stokes, Stewart,

10 Ex-Lions Serve As Referees in 65 Battles This Fall

Ten Penn State graduates and former Lion gridmen officiated in sixty-five football games throughout the East this fall. Included in the list of major engagements were the Army-Navy, the Penn-Cornell, the Princeton-Yale, the Navy-Notre Dame, the Syracuse-Cornell, Navy-Pitt, Army-Yale, and the Princeton-Navy games.

Dex W. Very '13, all-American end, officiated in ten games, including the Penn-Cornell, the Princeton-Navy, and the Pitt-Navy traditional battles. E. W. Carson '12 also refereed ten games, with the Columbia-Cornell, Syracuse-Cornell, and the Bucknell-Temple. He and Very were on the officiating staff for the Pitt-W. and J. encounter.

E. E. Miller '14 officiated in two of the Eastern grid classics—the Army-Navy and the Princeton-Yale games.
Other Penn State graduates who refereed during the past season were: E. R. Hitchner '15, A. M. Barron '15, C. R. Beck '19, H. D. Robb '19, C. A. Brumbaugh '20, and A. H. Knabb '22.

MITMEN PREPARE FOR OPENING BOUT

Lion Boxers Will Meet Bucknell Ringmen Here February 3; Five Veterans Back

By JAMES B. BEATTY Jr. '33
Pistoning leather gloves smacking dully against the canvas surface of a suspended leather bag... the swift, whistling sound of jumping-ropes scraping rhythmically on the heavy mat... the short hiss of breaths accompanying the delivery of quick jabs... Lion ringmen have been adding these touches to the afternoon sound scheme at Recreation hall during the past two weeks.

With the opening meet of the boxing season slated for February 3, when Bucknell ringmen journey here, Coach Leo Houck is already busy grooming his men for the season's tilts. Five veteran glovemen are among candidates for the squad.

Intramural Winners Report
The veterans, in order of their weights include: Frank Nebel, 175-pound battler, Tommy Slusser, Lion leader who weighs in at 165, Mutt Kessler, 155, Ferrero, 135, and Mike Zeleznock, diminutive 125-pound mite. Alex Turnbull, 165, is also veteran material but may not be eligible for the entire season because of the eight-semester ruling.

Two juniors, Bob Watkins, who fights in the 135-pound class, and John Herasimchuk, who tips the scales at 115, have been showing possibilities in the practices. A number of last year's intramural winners are working hard for positions on the ring squad.

GLENNLAND SWIMMERS WILL MEET JOHNSTOWN

First Meet of Season Listed for 8 O'clock on Tuesday Night

Glennland A. C. swimmers will meet Johnstown A. C. in the first swimming meet of their season, and the first ever held in State College, at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night.

Coach R. Henderson Beatty '33 will enter Johnny Keech and Marty Hart in the 50-yard freestyle. Hart and Paul Johnson will swim the 100-yard freestyle. In the 220 freestyle Dick Geiger and Hen Dern are scheduled to compete. Geiger and Lou Hinman will enter the 150 backstroke, while in the 200 breaststroke there will be Gene Lesko and Bob Miller.

Coach Beatty is undecided on his relay team. He will have Johnson, Hart, Keech, Warder, Cresson, and for the team include Fred O'Neil, aspirant for 175-pound honors, Seely and Madison, who both fight best at about 145, Francis McAndrews who will probably enter the 125-pound class, and Creswell, who is in the 115-pound division.

'NAME THE FOUR MARX SISTERS!'

CAST YOUR EYES ENVIOSLY AT THE CHARMING PHOTOGRAPHS OF THESE DEVASTATING HOLLYWOOD DEBUTANTES—SELECT APPROPRIATE NAMES and Win Ticket Prizes!

First is a picture of the nimble tongued Groucho as he might have appeared were he a she. Look at those roly-bolly eyes, them hips, them there curves.

Now suggest a name for him—or rather her. But be sure it's funny, short, descriptive and staccato. Groucho himself, or herself as you prefer, suggests Hips or Busto.

Second—Chico is now a Chickie! No longer is he a he, but a she. Would you suggest Anastasia or Coccolino—Penelope or Heliotrope?

Next, a great big beautiful doll! A lovelier form human eyes have never witnessed! The third choice bit of femininity of the very odd and very mythical Four Marx Sisters, is the female counterpart of the fuzzy Harpo, who is not yet wired for sound.

Would you prefer Spittunia, Pizzazo or Strippo?

And number four, whoops my dear, what a charming bride. Should Zeppo now be Zingo?

IT'S ALL UP TO YOU. It's our idea but your names that will win this contest. Just write in your ideas of names for the four in the spaces provided and mail to the Contest Editor of the Collegian. First prize is five passes for the Cathaum, good any time. And the next ten best answers will receive a pass to see the FOUR MARX BROS. in "DUCK SOUP" at the Cathaum theatre next Monday and Tuesday, December 11-12.

Don't forget to fill in your name and address. And mail to the contest Editor of the Collegian by Friday of this week.
