

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

A visit to the Nittany Lion dressing room before a boxing meet reveals very little hustle and bustle. Staid veterans, already accustomed to many bouts, show only a mite of excitement. The newcomers to the team are on edge, wanting to make a good showing in their first fights. Leg Houck seems to realize that all his men are going in there to do their best, and let's his pep talk go with a curt "use your left."

Besides out-boxing the Bucknell team, the Blue and White ringmen plainly out-conditioned the Bisons. Mike Zeleznek found rough going with his opponent, but managed to gain an edge, while Mutt Kessler, fighting out of his regular class, ran across too much weight in the 175-pound class, and was escorted out of the ring on the waves of a T. NITTANY MATMEN DEFEAT COLUMBIA BY 15-13 SCORE

Meet Undecided Until 'King' Cole Wins Last Match

LIONS TO MEET W. & J. AT 4 O'CLOCK SATURDAY

Little Competition Anticipated From Prexies Who Have Defeated Panthers

By JOHN A. BRUTZMAN '33
The Nittany grapplers overcame the Columbia Lions in New York last night by a 15-to-13 score, but it was probably one of the closest meets that Coach "Cheerful" Charlie Speidel has ever squirmed through.

When "King" Cole's unlimited bout, the last match, was called, Columbia was one point ahead. The "King," however, proved that he has lost nothing that made him intercollegiate champion last year when he disposed of Fred Davenport with a time advantage of four minutes and twenty seconds.

Win 5 by Time Advantage
The Nittany matmen won five matches by time advantages, while the Columbia Lions scored two falls and a time advantage. Sam DiRito lost by a narrow margin of one minute, thirty-two seconds to Lustabader of Columbia in the 118-pound class to give the Columbia team the lead.

Eisenman tied the score when he secured a time advantage of a minute and fifty-five seconds over Chilvers in the 126-pound class. Penn State dropped back again when Kalajian threw Dick Waite in seven minutes and thirty-two seconds.

Cramer, Johnston Win
In the 155-pound class, Bill Cramer defeated Klinger with a time advantage of six minutes, nine seconds, and Howard Johnston disposed of Captain Johnson of Columbia with a time advantage of eight minutes, eighteen seconds.

Ed King, Columbia 175-pounder, threw Lou Kreizman in three minutes, forty-four seconds to put the New York team in the lead, and the stage was set for "King" Cole's win and the Nittany victory.

To Meet W. & J. Saturday
And now the Lions are looking for their second victory when they meet Washington and Jefferson in Recreation hall at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Last week, the Presidents defeated the Pitt Panthers' wrestling team by a 20-to-13 score.

It shouldn't be too tough a meet for the Nittany grapplers, however, as Coach Speidel is going to try a new combination to replace two of the men who dropped decisions to Columbia. "Wolfson," 118 pounds, will start against Knestrick, while Eisenman will wrestle Eassey in the 126-pound class.

Johnny Horvath will meet Jones in the 135-pound class. Because McQuowan, veteran W. & J. 145-pounder, is ineligible following the mid-semester examinations, Captain Rosenberg's opponent is still problematical.

Bill Cramer will attempt to continue his winning streak against Wilson in the 155-pound division. Probably one of the best matches will be between Howard Johnston, 165 pounds, and Ed Myers, flashy Prexy fullback last fall.

Lou Kreizman will have his hands full in the 175-pound class when he meets Captain Carl Bubenheim. "King" Cole should have little trouble with Tucker in the unlimited class.

From Tackling to Grappling

CARL BUBENHEIM

Two W. & J. football players have turned to wrestling and promise to furnish some of the Lions' toughest opposition Saturday night. Bubenheim is captaining the Presidents grapplers this year, appearing in the heavy-weight division. Myers, crack fullback, will wrestle in the 165-pound class. He lost only one bout last year.

TRACKMEN ENTER MORGANTOWN MEET

20 Athletes To Leave Tomorrow For Indoor Competition At West Virginia

By PHILIP W. FAIR '33

About eighteen or twenty track and field athletes will leave tomorrow for the winter indoor meet at West Virginia University at Morgantown. Although the trackmen are conceded but little chance of doing more than placing in several events, the trip is primarily designed to afford the runners some competition before the Intercollegiate at New York later in the season.

Although final selections will not be made until tonight, Coach "Chick" Werner has tentatively decided to take Van Keuren, Jackson, Johns, and Harry Sigel for the sprint relay isburg, and one with Navy are scheduled. Athletic authorities are attempting to card another team to tie in with the annual trip to Annapolis, Md.

Pennsylvania, appearing on New Beaver field for the first time, has been added to the Lion schedule for the first time since 1930, when they defeated the Blue and White nine in a double-header at Atlantic City.

Games scheduled for New Beaver field include Susquehanna, Muhlenberg, Temple, Western Maryland, Syracuse, Dickinson, Gettysburg, in addition to the Penn game. As the schedule now stands, the season will open here against the Crusaders the third week in April.

team, Cessna for the 70-yard dash, and George Harvey and Joe Alexander for the half-mile run.

To Choose 3 High Jumpers
In the high jump, three men will be chosen from O'Shea, Sayland, Smith, and Gardner for the trip, while Dick Sigel will put the shot. Sellers, varsity weight man, may also be considered. In the hurdle events, Vandermark, Van Keuren, and Jackson are likely choices.

Among the freshmen to make the trip will be Trimble, for the half-mile, and Oesterling, for the low hurdles. Rosenberger, dash-man, Downey, half-miler, and Crum and Simon, distance runners, also have an opportunity to make the grade this evening.

To be held on a cinder track at the field house at the West Virginia institution, the meet will bring the cindermen against some of the outstanding men in the East.

tempt to aid needy students," said Brandt, in commenting on the new arrangement. "I strongly approve the present system of non-subsidization in letter and spirit and would not favor any move that would set it aside."
Over twenty-five house presidents and caterers have been contacted so far by Brandt and Clark. These fraternity representatives were unanimous in their approval of the new idea, according to the sponsors.
