THEATRE TO SHOW FOREIGN PICTURES

Red Head, French Film, Will Open Annual Series of European Productions Here

With the possibility that two more may be added at a later date, a series of five representative motion pictures of foreign make will be shown at a local movie house beginning on Tuesday and Wednesday. Two of the films were produced in France, two in Russia, and one in Germany. All of the films have translations of the foreign subtitles, or running explanatory remarks by an interpreter.

"Red Head," a French film, will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday, while "Soviets on Parade," a Russian production, will be exhibited on February 20 and 21. On February 27 and 28, the German film, "Quick, King of the Clowns," will be featured.

"Volga Volga" will be shown on March 6 and 7, while "Sous les Toits de Paris" will be exhibited the following week. The former is a Russian film and the latter, a French production. The films are considered by experts to be the best representative films of the countries represented. The lead in "Red Head" is portrayed by Poil de Carotte, premier French actor, while Lillian Harvey, now working in American productions, is starred in the German film, which was made prior to her debut here.
