

Between the Lions with The Sports Editor

Before the Schmeling fight Tuesday night Steve Ifamas was just another heavyweight, supposedly cannon-fodder for the better men in that field. It took him just the short space of twelve rounds to prove to the boxing world that he is definitely in the upper rung of the heavyweights. He hung the kilobash on the German, and it now remains for Schmeling to keep his promise and return to his home country.

In his time Schmeling has been a ditch-digger, hod-carrier, and lion tamer in a circus. After the clawing he took at the hands of the former Nittany Lion, Der Max probably wishes he had stayed with the circus.

LION GRAPPLERS TO FACE CORNELL

Will Continue 21-Year Feud in Recreation Hall Saturday Afternoon at 2:30

By JOHN A. BRUTZMAN '35

The Lion and the Bear, two of collegiate jungleland's better-known denizens, will continue a feud of some twenty-one years' standing when the Big Red wrestling team from Cornell meets the Nittany grapplers at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Lion has just a slight edge to date, having won eleven times, while Cornell is credited with nine victories. One meet, in 1932, ended in a 14-to-14 tie. The Nittany matmen should make the margin of superiority one point greater Saturday, because the Cornell squad has found itself beset with scholastic difficulties.

Lightweights Undecided

The Big Red grapplers, in their first meet of the season, defeated Syracuse by a score of 21-to-13. Cornell won the first five matches, but Syracuse took the last three, these being the weights in which Cornell professors scored academic triumph.

Either Wolfson or DiRito will meet Nathan in the 115-pound class. Nathan threw Giglio of Syracuse in his first match for the year. Charlie Speidel will send either Bob Ellstrom or Eisenman against Trettor, 126-pounder, who has a time decision to his credit.

Captain Hurwitz, Cornell captain, will give Johnny Horvath or Dick Waite a stiff battle in the 135-pound class. Hurwitz had little trouble in winning his bout from Smith of Syracuse.

Captain "Rosy" Rosenberg will try to stretch his string of victories against Richardson in the 145-pound class. Richardson, in his only bout of the year, was awarded a time decision over Servis of Syracuse.

Bill Gramer should have little trouble with Shoemaker, Big Red 155-pounder, although Shoemaker threw Thomulkin in the Syracuse meet. Gramer disposed of Klinger, of Columbia, and Wilson, of Washington and Jefferson, without serious trouble.

"Red" Johnston, Nittany 165-pounder will meet Brownwell who dropped a time advantage in his first match of the season. Lou Kreizman, with a 500 average to date, will meet Keister, who was thrown in his Syracuse encounter.

If past performances mean anything, "King" Cole should have little trouble with Kroetts in the unlimited class. Kroetts lost to Hordines of Syracuse last week, and Hordines was defeated by the "King" last year.

GYMNASTIC MEET CANCELLED

Unable to complete the personnel of their team, the East Stroudsburg State Teacher's College authorities have cancelled the meet with the Penn State gymnasts, originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Recreation hall. In the other scheduled meet, Panzer College will entertain the Lion gym team at East Orange, N. J., on February 24.

Basketeers To Encounter Tartans, W. Virginia Away

McFarlane, Stocker, Henning, Thomas, Fletcher In Opening Line-up for Foreign Tilts

By JAMES H. WATSON JR. '35

Trouble, in large and effective quantities—that's what the Nittany basketeers are looking forward to as they prepare to meet Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh tomorrow night and West Virginia's mountain-men at Morgantown Saturday night.

The outcome of the week-end's battles will be hard to predict. The Scotsmen wandered down to Morgantown January 6 and strolled back home again with a 32-to-20 victory in their collective pocket. Carnegie and Pitt are the only teams which have beaten West Virginia. The Mountaineers, have won eight of ten meets, including a Bucknell match that ended 61-to-13.

All Three Teams in Pittsburgh

Coach Spike Leslie ought to have a pretty good idea of what he is to face Saturday night, as the Mountaineers will be playing Duquesne in Pittsburgh tomorrow night. The Lion's performance against Carnegie will also be a good indicator for the following night.

The Nittany starting line-up for both games is still questionable, but it is probable that Norrie McFarlane, Johnny Stocker, Curt Henning, Dave Thomas, and Jack Fletcher will step out on the floor first tomorrow night. The starters for Saturday's game will depend on tomorrow's performance.

Tartan Line-up Unsettled

The Tartan line-up hasn't been set as yet, while West Virginia, unless something drastic happens in the Duquesne battle, will start Jess Weiner, known for his floor executive ability.

Center for the Morgantown aggregation will be Joe Stydhar, claimed by the Mountaineers to be the best pivot man in the East. Guards will be Andy Mestrovic, a sophomore who has recently been added to the varsity there, and Lou Fidler, believed by Coach "Little Sleepy" Glenn to be his best floor shot.

The Nittanymen will leave for Pittsburgh tomorrow afternoon. At the moment, it seems that McFarlane, Stocker, Henning, Thomas, Fletcher, Blyler, Wittum, and Parks are the only men definitely assured of making the trip.

ANIAKCHAK

In 1931, Bernard Hubbard and three college students set out to explore the erupted Aniakchak crater, which the year previous Hubbard had predicted would vomit forth fire and ash to discolor the surrounding snow-covered country.

They pitched their tent within the crater and lived there for three weeks, journeying north each day to explore the havoc wrought by this titanic eruption. They skirted pits-filled with gases so poisonous that birds flying across them died instantly. They descended into still seething volcanoes and had their faces scorched and their extra heavy-soled shoes charred.

And here is the record of it!

the abc of pipe tobacco

The best tobacco for pipes comes from Kentucky... and it's called "White Burley"

WE use White Burley in making Granger Rough Cut. It comes from the Blue Grass region of Kentucky—ripe, mild leaf tobacco that just about tops them all for fragrance and flavor.

From the right place on the stalk we select the kind that's best for pipes. Then we make it into Granger by Wellman's Method and cut it up into big shaggy flakes.

White Burley tobacco—made the way old man Wellman taught us how to make it—that's Granger.

"Cut rough to smoke cool" is the way pipe smokers describe Granger—try it
