FERA JOBS GIVEN TO 360 STUDENTS DURING WEEK-END

Worthy Undergraduates Receive Aid From $5,400 Grant In Relief Group

PERSONS NOT IN SCHOOL TO GET FOURTH-OF-FUND

Work Will Continue Throughout Semester at $15 a Month, According to Plans

Three hundred and sixty students were put to work at various jobs about the campus over the week-end.

The money will be employed to aid students who might otherwise be forced to leave college because of insufficient funds.

By figures released by Superintendent George W. Ebert, local CWA and FERA administrator, 347 students were already working by Saturday noon.

Under these figures, forty-nine were employed in the School of Agriculture, sixty-seven in the School of Liberal Arts, sixty in the School of Education, sixty-five in the School of Engineering, and forty in the School of Chemistry and Physics.

Other schools employing fewer students are: School of Mineral Industries, eleven; School of Physical Education and Athletics, eleven.

Besides these, three jobs were found in the Registrar's office, three in the department of grounds and buildings, and five jobs each in the office of the Treasurer, alumni secretary, and public information bureau.

SHEARER TO GIVE SIXTH L. A. SPEECH

Political Science Professor To Talk On Government Regulation Tomorrow Night

Is government regulation a failure? Dr. Thomas E. Shearer, professor in the department of history and political science, will attempt to answer this question in the sixth Liberal Arts lecture in the Home Economics auditorium at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

In answering it, Dr. Shearer will review past attempts of government regulation in this country and evaluate them as to their success or failure.

Dr. Shearer is the author of several articles in law reviews and public utilities journals. He was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1927 and was admitted to the Iowa bar in 1929.

Dr. Shearer will endeavor to analyze government regulation and determine whether or not it is a desirable method. He will then give his reasons for believing that the present program of President Roosevelt will or will not be successful.

LEHIGH, TEMPLE, PENN STATE TO CONDUCT FORUM TONIGHT

Penn State, Lehigh, and Temple will be represented in an intercollegiate forum tonight at Bethlehem to consider the permanent adoption of the essential principle of the NRA by our government.

DR. DYKE TO ORGANIZE NOVEL DRAMA COURSE

Franklin and Marshall Professor Will Assist College Lecturers in Presentation Of Plays This Summer

Marking a distinct advancement over regular courses in drama, five professors of the School of Liberal Arts and one visiting professor will cooperate to present a course in the development of theatrical presentation at the coming summer session.

A series of weekly popular lectures by the various lecturers, combined with the presentation of scenes from plays illustrating various types of stage presentation and acting development under the general direction of Prof. Darrell Larsen, of Franklin and Marshall College, will be a part of the course.

Although a composite course in drama has been offered before by the department of English literature, this is the first time that a course designed particularly to illustrate dramatic presentation embracing the entire scope of drama of the world has been given.

Plays to be given at the evening performances include scenes from a Greek tragedy, and English mystery play, a French classical tragedy, Goethe's Faust, a masque, and a modern play which depends upon lighting effects for its presentation.

Dr. Dyke will lecture about English plays as they were given in the churches, on the streets and in the inns, in the Elizabethan and Restoration theatres.

Dr. Francis M. DuMont, head of the department of Romance languages, will supply material on the nature and form of the theatre during the French classical period, while the history of the German theatre will be given by Prof. George J. Wurfl, of the department of German.

"This course is a part of the experiments that the department of English literature has been making in the field of drama," Dr. Dyke explains.

"Besides, the course for this summer is, so far as we know, the first course of its kind offered by any college in this country," Dr. Dyke continues.

Dr. Dyke will be able to offer in conjunction with a series of plays like those given at the Malvern Festival in England.

Members of the freshman committee include Mary Frances Pomeroy, Miriam Ellowitz, Elizabeth K. Armstrong, Maria H. Weber, B. Lynette Pease, Lorrie N. Hoffman, Martha E. Strong, and Blary H. Good.

It was suggested that girls living near the telephones should not be forced to take phone duty. Permission to remain in the library after 9:00 o'clock on week nights was also asked.

These suggestions for reform will be submitted to the Women's Student Government Association.

Members of the Freshman committee include Mary Frances Pomeroy, Miriam Ellowitz, Elizabeth K. Armstrong, Maria H. Weber, B. Lynette Pease, Lorrie N. Hoffman, Martha E. Strong, and Blary H. Good.

Return of Waltz, Polka, Minuet Dancing Prophesied by Hopkins

The minuet, the polka, and more and more waltzes will be with us in just a few more years if the prophecy of Claude Hopkins, whose orchestra furnished rhythms for Soph Hop Friday night, is realized.

"The more classical forms of dancing are on their way back; bands everywhere are being asked to play more slow numbers than any time in the last few years. Waltzes are regaining their popularity every day," the band leader told an interviewer.

9 Universities Enter Mat Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament Slated Here for March 16, 17

Matches Last Held at Recreation Hall in '30; Cole, Ellstrom Will Defend Their Crowns in Heavyweight, 118-Pound Classes

Graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1928, the new trustee replaced last week by Gov. Gifford Pinchot to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Mrs. Clara C. Phillips, of Washington. Mr. Moore is Republican representative in the State House of Representatives from Washington County.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning, the undergraduates will hold their annual meeting. The yearly convocation of the officials of the association will follow at 11 o'clock.

The technical staff includes Edward R. Hoffman '34, stage manager; Bryson M. Filbert '36, assistant stage manager; Carl A. Richards '34, electrician; June B. Roberts '34, costumes; Elsie M. Douthett '35, properties; Katherine M. Gormas '35 and Robert L. Grun '35, advertising.

The names will probably be known later in the week, Stott said. The tournament alternates automatically among the various schools in the association, the meet last spring being held at Columbia. Penn State finished third, following Lehigh and Princeton.

LIBRARIANS MOVE BOUND MAGAZINES

Will Transfer All Files to Second Floor Rooms on Account of Crowded Conditions

With students supplied by the FERA, and due to the crowded conditions in the library, the bound magazine collection in Rooms I and J of the College Library is being transferred to rooms on the second floor, Willard P. Lewis, librarian, announced Saturday.

All of the bound magazine files, including the Reader's Guide and other magazine indices, as well as engineering, medical, educational and psychological journals are being moved to second floor rooms L, M, N, O, P, S, T, and U. Thus all reference work in current or bound magazines will be done on the second floor.

Twenty students are being employed in the task of moving the files. The change will be made as quickly as is convenient, with the indices to be moved last, Mr. Lewis said.

In connection with the employment of FERA students, the College Library will observe the following additional hours of opening for its branch libraries. The Chemistry library will be open from 1:30 to 5 and 7 to 10 o'clock Sunday. The Engineering reading rooms will be open from 2 to 6 and 7 to 10 o'clock Sunday, while the Mineral Industries library will be open from 7 to 10 o'clock Friday nights and from 1 to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoons.

STUDENT COMMITTEE NAMED TO HEAD M. I. OPEN HOUSE

Members of the student committee in charge of the open house of the School of Mineral Industries on March 21 were announced today by Dean Edward Steidle.

Moore Appointed as Trustee by Pinchot

Graded from Washington and Jefferson College in 1928, the new trustee replaced last week by Gov. Gifford Pinchot to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Mrs. Clara C. Phillips, of Washington.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning, the undergraduates will hold their annual meeting. The yearly convocation of the officials of the association will follow at 11 o'clock.

Various schools will attend this meeting until the association officials go into executive session. Tournay Site Alternates

The last wrestling tournament here was held in Recreation hall in 1930 when the Oklahoma Aggies won the national wrestling crown. The last Eastern Intercollegiate tournament here was in 1926.

The tournament alternates automatically among the various schools in the association, the meet last spring being held at Columbia. Penn State finished third, following Lehigh and Princeton.

Cole won the 118-pound and heavyweight titles respectively last year, and will defend their crowns in those divisions this year.

Referees for the matches have not yet been chosen, according to Stott. Managers of each team submit their choices for officials, and the referees are chosen from these preferences.

The names will probably be known later in the week, Stott said.

The technical staff includes Edward R. Hoffman '34, stage manager; Bryson M. Filbert '36, assistant stage manager; Carl A. Richards '34, electrician; June B. Roberts '34, costumes; Elsie M. Douthett '35, properties; Katherine M. Gormas '35 and Robert L. Grun '35, advertising.

Duke Morris will furnish the music for the Koed Kotillion to be held in the Armory Thursday night, March 15, Janice A. Colt '34, chairman of the dance committee, announced yesterday.

Green and white, in keeping with a St. Patrick's day color scheme, will be the decoration colors. An admission fee of twenty-five cents per couple or fifteen cents per person will be charged.

The chairman of committees for the dance are: decorations, Edith R. Cotton '35; refreshments, Dorothy A. Furlani '35; and program, Jeanne S. Kleckner '35.

The chairman of the clean-up committee is Elizabeth B. Shick '35 while Elsie M. Douthett '35 will serve as advertising manager.

"As Penn State is one of the few large eastern colleges at which I had not played, I was especially interested in seeing the crowd here tonight. It is certainly noticeably less 'jazzy' than many of the other college audiences for which my band has played," the orchestra leader concluded.
